This is not a "modernization project"; it is an unauthorized demolition and redevelopment project. Modernization could have been done to the existing, historic structure. Since that's no longer an option, I suggest rebuilding the former East Wing as it was to preserve restore historic significance while "modernizing" it according to current building codes. The structure that the Administration wants to erect is a monstrosity and totally out of proportion to the White House.

I strongly oppose the spending on the proposed East Wing "Ballroom". I, personally, was appalled when I saw the demolition of the East wing, without any warning, proper planning, or approvals granted from stakeholders. I think that it is important that the government maintains and enforces consistent procedures when National resources that belong to the people of the United States are to be modified, especially in invasive and dramatic ways. I hope that a decision is made to stop this, and restore the East wing. And I think that the people of the United States SHOULD NOT HAVE TO PAY for the destruction OR the restoration of this National resource. I believe that those that damaged/destroyed it should be held financially responsible to repair it. Thank you for your time and consideration on this matter.

The United States of America were founded on principles of restraint and conservative values in direct opposition to the excesses and arrogant disregard for the needs and interests of the common man. In that spirit the architectural values of The White House have always reflected that restraint.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I strongly oppose the $300 million being spent on this project at a time when there are far more urgent national priorities and critical infrastructure needs demanding attention. National parks, public welfare systems, disaster resilience, and community investments across this country require funding. Choosing to allocate this level of taxpayer money to this effort reflects misplaced priorities.

This building does not belong to any single individual or administration — it belongs to the American people. It is part of our shared national heritage. Decisions of this magnitude must reflect stewardship, transparency, and respect for the public trust.

There are established legal processes, permitting requirements, and design review standards specifically created to protect our national buildings and historic assets. Those safeguards exist for a reason. They were not properly followed here. Ignoring these procedures undermines accountability and weakens the very systems designed to preserve and protect public property.

No one is above the law. Allowing this project to proceed without consequence for bypassing required authorization and review would set a dangerous precedent. I call for the immediate cancellation of this project and for the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored in accordance with its former design — through lawful, transparent, and properly reviewed processes.

Public resources deserve public accountability.

The destruction of the east wing of the White House w/o oversight is a travesty. Were the historic objects contained cataloged and stored properly? Additionally, the ballroom that is currently planned is an abomination. It's ugly, oversized, and absolutely doesn't fit with the historic character of the rest of the WH. This project should be put on indefinite hold until an administration is elected that can restore and/or upgrade the east wing in a legal way that follows financial and review procedures that this administration routinely ignores. I actually cried when I saw it destroyed.--it's like our history was being torn down too. It was bulldozed without permits, It needs to be rebuilt to its former historical glory and significance. A large off-balanced ballroom on one side of the White House will be gaudy and dwarf the building--it's not something most people would consider for a renovation for their own houses.

It was an outrageous act by a man hell bent on glorifying himself rather than considering the needs and desires of the people.
The notion that a giant ballroom should be built is preposterous. The people must be engaged through a thoughtful process to first determine what is needed and after that, the form should follow the function.

The White House stands as both a home and an institution — a physical expression of democracy, continuity, and humility in public service. Every renovation, from Theodore Roosevelt's modernization to Truman's reconstruction, has served practical or safety-related purposes. None were intended to glorify a particular president. The building belongs to the nation, not to whoever temporarily occupies it.
A "Trump ballroom" would twist that legacy. It would commercialize the presidency, literally turning the people's house into a gilded stage for private galas, political favors, and self-promotion. Beyond the aesthetic absurdity, the ethical implications are staggering. Every fixture and furnishing in the White House must reflect the republic's dignity, not one person's brand or vanity project.

Hello,
I oppose the razing and now the rebuilding of the east wing without oversight by the national trust for historic preservation.

The building of this historic annex needs to follow guidance from the NTHP as to it's scale and style honoring the original structure that was irrationally torn down. Anything that diverges from recommendations and guidance from the NTHP is unacceptable.

The White House is a building for the people not for one individual president. The funding for the project should not but used to curry favor with the person in office. It is important the building continues to represent an unbiased and true simple design that does not refer or reflect one person over another.

Again- I insist that this nee annex have a smart and respectful scale in comparison to the rest of the building. That it honors the guidance of the national trust for historic preservation.

This project which impacts the legacy of America, of why DC was designed the way it was, is a vanity project. It was done without permit, review, or approval. The east wing was destroyed without any consideration for preservation of any historical architectural items. The project at this scale should be stopped. In restoring the east wing, a ballroom could be accommodated on a much smaller scale. Any addition to rebuild the east wing, should not over shadow the true symbolism of the White House abd should keep the design in balance

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The fact that this administration razed the East Wing of the White House without consulting or going through the proper channels is appalling and incredibly frustrating! They are treating this project as if it were a renovation of a private home, rather than one of the most historic buildings in America, and not to mention, it belongs to the people! They had no right or legal standing to do this! Years of history and national treasures turned into a pile of rubble! They should not be allowed to demolish public property without public consent! Please let them know that the people are disgusted at their continued abuses of power. First they ruined Jackie Kennedy's Rose Garden, then the East Wing…he slapped his name on another man's memorial and then shut it down…where does it stop????

US is celebrating 250 years of history this year, while destroying their actual history. USA is a young country - 250 years is a very short span of time for a country. It should be that much more important to preserve that history and historical buildings, not demolish parts of them. White House is one of the most recognizable building in the world and I will never understand why the current occupant decided to demolish part of it or why he was even allowed to do that. No one that actually cares about the history of one's country would ever willingly choose to buldozer it. East Wing needs to be rebuild to its original version and the destruction of it should be a criminal matter. I also don't understand why the public comment is happening AFTER destruction took place. This should have been prevented from the beginning. Also, the current occupant of the White House should be forced to pay for the rebuilding of the East Wing. The company that was hired to destroy it should also be prosecuted and charged for restoration costs. A strong message needs to be sent to businesses that think they can help Trump in destroying any historical properties. That part is especially important now that Trump is talking about renovating the Kennedy Center.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The grandiose ballroom proposed by Donald Trump undermines the architectural integrity of the White House, whose neoclassical aesthetic depends on proportion, restraint, and historical continuity.

A grand, ostentatious addition disrupts that balance and damages the building's authenticity as a carefully preserved national landmark. It replaces principled preservation with spectacle, imposing Trump's gold obsession onto a structure whose dignity rests on elegance, not gilded excess.

The U.S. Commission of Fine Arts and the National Capital Planning Commission must draw a firm line and reject any proposal that trades the White House's historic integrity for ostentatious spectacle.

Destroying the EAST WING is destroying a little bit of each of us. Our hgistory is not some kind of vague interpretation...or opinion. Our history is our legacy and our heritatge. It is something we all share. The EAST WING was part of the very bedrock of who we are and how we define ourselves. No! to the ballroom. Too many Americans are suffering right now with high costs and insurmountable bills, so that hundreds of millions for this monstrocity are literally a slap in the face of our citzenship.

There's no reason this project should move forward as proposed. At a minimum the project needs to go through a formal public analysis in which alternatives, including rebuilding the historic East Wing as it was before the illegal destruction, should be considered. All power the NCPC has to require a proper process should be used to ensure this project does the house of the people justice.

I am deeply saddened by the shocking demolition of the East Wing of the White House. So much of our history has been lost by that destructive action. The White House is the People's House and the destruction of the East Wing without the consent of the American people should be seen as a crime. I am strongly against building the Ball Room Trump wants. It is a vanity project for a man who never wants to leave. Any project to replace the East Wing should create spaces for doing the work of government and if they do build a gathering space (I do understand the need for larger events) it should make sense in the context of the location and be planned by people doing it for love of country not love of money. I am appalled at how Trump is trying to guild the White House to make it resemble a royal palace. Please stand against this awful unamerican vanity project.

That was the polite boilerplate, this is fury. The White House is the People's House. It is not a tennement to be scraped to the dirt and rebuilt as a gold-washed pantheon to the highest bidder. Gone is the history. Gone is the craftmanship. Gone is the sense of proportion and modesty that generations of Presidents have held. That president razed century old memorial trees for mulch, he smashed history to inflate his ego. The White House and grounds were held in trust and this president has violated both that and the law by his actions. Not only should any further "work" on all federally controlled properties be stopped, but that man should be forced to pay for the restoration, down to the trees, out of his own pocket.

The United States has been founded on he principal of rule by the people. We elect officials to carry out the Constitution for the betterment of all people. The official residence, therefore is the People’s House. It is not a palace of kings and emperors. It should be adequate and secure enough for official business and proper Constitutional exercise of authority. It does not need yo be glamorous. It should not flaunt wealth. I oppose this project. It should be terminated without delay.

To whom it may concern,

It is with a heavy heart as a citizen of the United States I watched in dismay the destruction of the East Wing of the White House. My wish is all work be stopped and the building be restored to its original state and architecture. I do not approve of this project nor the $300 million contribution from unknown sources.

Sincerely,

I strongly oppose the expenditure of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without proper authorization, required permits, or an appropriate design review process. This is not a modernization effort—it is the wholesale destruction of a significant piece of American history.

I call for this project to be immediately canceled and for the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored to its original design. No individual or entity is above the law. Allowing this project to proceed without holding accountable those who violated legal requirements would undermine the rule of law and disrespect the millions of Americans who abide by it.

I do not approve of $300M being spent on a ballroom that was not approved, permitted or put before the National Historical Preservation Committee. The president had no approval to demolish the East Wing for the purpose of building a ballroom that would be almost twice the size of the White House. I respectfully request that the East Wing be rebuilt to restore the White House as it was before the unauthorized demolition.

I have memories of visiting the White House as a 12 year old. The images of the building are indelibly imprinted on my mind. More importantly, the proportionality of the structure symbolizes the Founders' proportional plan for our American democratic republic. No one person or governmental branch should be allowed to unilaterally alter this all-American symbol without oversight. Hasty, uninformed changes do not serve the public and in fact, are in service only to the whims of the individual. The people deserve and in fact, demand representative oversight for this and all other planned alterations of or introductions of public structures in the Peoples' Capitol. Thank you.

This project as currently planned is entirely too big for the location, overpowering The White House. The current process is chaotic and hidden from the American people. I agree with the statement from the AIA: “ We recommended a project governed by the highest standards of design excellence: a qualifications-based selection of the architect, alignment with historic-preservation standards, full transparency in funding and procurement, proportionality of design to the existing complex, and collaboration with expert practitioners to safeguard longevity and public value.”

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion. Additionally I urge the Planning Commission to trace and secure all the furniture ad artifacts that were contained in the East Wing. If they have been "stolen" by people who work at the White House, they must be returned under penalty of law. If they have already been sold then I urge the thief be required to pay recompense as well as punitive damages.

I am a registered architect who has worked on many projects that include additions to historic buildings. It is always of utmost importance that I consider the criteria that make each existing part of the project culturally, aesthetically and technologically special. How the addition fits in with the existing structure is important as well which means that the scale of its new addition is important.

The proposed ballroom addition that will take the place of the former East Wing is an abomination. It appears to be dropped into its site from another planet: too large, too gaudy and turning its back on what makes the white house special in its site as the centerpiece, literally and figuratively. This project must not be allowed to proceed. I suggest that the original East Wing be rebuilt as before or replaced with a more sensitively scaled and considered addition.

As an American citizen I am writing to demand that fixing the East Wing of the White House immediately be turned over to appropriate supervision like The Historic Trust and a fully non-partisan group of experts.

This is the creation of a historic structure, there should be no rush and the design and decisions done with wisdom and humility. A giant gaudy ballroom is not functional for our country's primary needs and is not representative of American values.

It was destroyed with no oversight, no planning and with impunity, let's pause and return to the correct process and rebuild a useful and stately wing that has the multiple uses that were enjoyed by prior first families and white house visitors from all over the world - the first ladies' office, the movie theater, beautiful architecture with the long sunny indoor hall, and plan for the future with other spaces.

I am appalled at what was done, let's make it right.

I was shocked with the demolishing of the East Wing without permission. The amazing history of part of " The Peoples House" just lay in rubble based on 1 man's whim. It felt like a huge violation. I understand that renovations to all parts of the Whitehouse are ongoing, and expensive, but the should and have been carefully planned out. The demolishing of the East Wing, violates our history should be rebuilt to it's former historical style. Thank you.

I would like to add that DJT has no love for this country, the things that make it great, its history, and clearly its future. His choices remind me of what a small child would do with power and everyone with even a speck of influence should be working to keep this individual in check and accountable.

As a preservation architect involved with local and regional buildings of historic significance, I respectfully submit that the East Wing of the Whitehouse be restored as faithfully as possible to its configuration before it was unlawfully demolished. Any additional space or functions must be accomplished in a way that respects and affirms the historic structure.

I regularly submit to, and have previously served on, boards of historic and architectural review in order to endeavor to respect the integrity of historic buildings and historic districts.

The current administration has violated its oath of office to defend and uphold the constitution and to faithfully execute the law. It must not be rewarded with post facto approval of lawlessness.

I oppose any redesign of the East Wing of the White House. The current inhabitants of our White House demolished this historic building without authorization, safety standards adherence, or consideration of what this building meant to the people of the United States of America. I would prefer that it sits there-as is-until another President is elected who will honor our traditions, follow the rules and the law, and act with decorum and respect for our 250 year history. It will remind the world that we are dealing with unprofessional, petty, impetuous leaders who are unable to handle their emotions appropriately to lead a nation. Only after they have been vanquished from office must we rebuild-to the exact replica of what was there before. Like the Twin Towers, let the absence of the East Wing remind us all of the dangers brought to our homeland from within.

The east wing was torn down before any of the proper avenues were persued before making changes to a historic building. Instead I think the east wing should be rebuilt to its prior design. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures -- that means the president is a temporary tenant is limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is in clear violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not just undertaken on a whim by the current president who again had no legal standing to do so.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I strongly object to the current East Wing "Modernization" plans and proposed construction. The demolition of the existing East Wing--carried out under cover and without authorization--exemplifies very aspect of this project. From a ballroom to an "event center", this is a travesty of what the White House means to the people and government of America. As it currently stands, this is no more than a vanity project not in keeping with the architecture of the White House or the values of the people. The dubious and opaque financing, with escalating costs and no apparent oversight, should be enough to stop this project. More importantly is the total lack.of architectural approval or oversight. The current design reflects the imperial and authoritarian vision of one man; dwarfs and belittles the elegant statement of democratic ideals that the White House has always conveyed to the world. It reflects no proportional usage need. Stop this misguided vanity project NOW. If a ballroom facility is needed it must be reviewed and approved by UNBIASED commissions. The original design of the East Wing must be restored or at bare minimum incorporated into any new design. Any ballroom structure must reflect the design ideals of the White House and be in direct proportion. Stop this architectural an moral travesty now!

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project and the building of a ballroom at the White House. The unilateral razing of the East Wing is a crime in itself. I was always told the White House was the People's House. A ballroom is a naturally exclusionary place for the wealthy and connected to gain access and has nothing to do with the people. I am sure "the people" are not invited. The White House is a very nice house the people of the US give to their employee, the President, for his or her use while they are working at their job serving the entire country. Formal ballrooms are for kings and queens and rich people who go in for that sort of thing. The President of our democracy is just a temporary position and does not confer upon one the right to raze and build important public structures with the stroke of a pen. The fact that it is being paid for with outride donations is equally outrageous and wrong. Private individuals and companies with business before the government cannot be currying favor with the US president by "sponsoring" public buildings that rightly are the purview of the American people. The fact that this is even being considered is so wrong. I can only imagine the outrage if a democratic president had just decided to take a wrecking ball to the East Wing on his own whim.

Please review the desecration of the White House East Wing and restrict any further demolition until an investigation on the matter of which it was carried out. Once that investigation is completed then if there are legitimate donors to assist with constructing (including the cost of demolition) the East wing back to its former glory. Taxpayers should not be paying for said demolition and reconstruction of the East Wing!
Plus a consideration could be made to incorporate the Kennedy Rose Garden for an addition to the East Wing area !
Thank you.

Do I dare say that in an overall slap happy demolition of such grace? I do. And whatever anyone can do to restore any shred of elegance and again, beauty, would be crucial for continuing our historic heritage. If not leave it desolate and empty-we’ll wait.

I oppose the East Wing modernization project funding.
The destruction of the East wing was a shocking display of “break things first, ask questions later” - akin to crashing your Toyota Camry and asking for an Escalade replacement,

Not only were the actions illegal and should not be rewarded with “build whatever you want”, but just the phrase “modernization” strikes me as wrong. The White House is a building of historical significance and the understated beauty of the East Wing is in complete disregard in the new project.

Rebuild the East Wing in its original intent. We should not spend 300m of the people's money on this embarrassing homage to fundraising.

I am still perplexed and dumbfounded as to how Trump was alllowed to demolish the East Wing in the first place, much less build an ostentatious ballroom as a monument to himself. He is a tenant of the People's house, not the owner. And now, in typical Trump fashion, he doesn't have the true funding to follow through on his narcissistic plan, just as many of his past failed real estate plans unfolded Moving forward, the plan should be to restore it to its 2024 state at his expense. Additionally the Rose Garden should be replanted. Any court in the nation would side with the landlord and that is We The People. Not the ungrateful tenant living there for free.

This isn't a modernization project and must be cancelled. Razing the entire East Wing was a complete affront to law-abiding citizens. I may live far from DC in Minnesota, but my thoughts and my energy are often directed to DC. I teach history and current events and I work very hard to manage my federal tax payments. Two significant reasons why I oppose this plan.

Allowing this plan, is a complete disregard to the people's house and the history attached to it. What happened to the contents and all that made up the East Wing? The East Wing must be restored to its original structure and decorum with modern mechanics.

Perhaps not much of public funds is planned to be spent on this project, but that is wrong, too. It is an historic, public building, a national historic landmark. Protocol should be followed in the management and upkeep of it. No single president should have the power to raze and rebuild any part of it at will.

Put a stop to gross demolition of American history, a building that belongs to our nation and no one person, and use public funds to rebuild it to its original form with modern mechanics.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The razing of the east wing without proper permits, planning or congressional approval is appalling. Please permanently block this from moving forward and enact the proper procedure to restore the east wing, this attempt to attack the people's home and erase the proud history within should not be allowed. In addition, these illegal actions should have consequences.

Is it to be a venue for UFC or cage fights?Are there to be pop concerts and Turning Point USA rallies? Its potential uses are beneath the decorum of the people's house. This monstrous building is supposedly funded by private individuals basically paying bribes to the current administration. The funding is not transparent and no one seems to know where they are. As a natural born American citizen and tax payer, I am opposed to any Capitol improvement projects that detract from the grandeur of the historic White House. The East Wing modernization project plans, as proposed and rendered by President Trump, do exactly that; they overshadow the existing White House facade and focus attention on the proposed ballroom.
I am appalled at the destruction of the East Wing with no input from the planning commission or the American public. I am in favor of abandoning plans for the construction of a ballroom, a monument to a twice-indicted felon, in lieu of restoring the East Wing in a design that duplicates the original structure as closely as possible.

Thank you

The unauthorized demolition of the East Wing was a criminal theft from the American people. It robbed us of history, tradition, architecture, and significant piece of our collective story at the peoples' house. This gaudy ballroom has no place in the White House complex nor in downtown Washington. The project must be stopped and the perpetrator behind it must be required to restore the East Wing out of his own personal funds. No president should be allowed to get away with this reckless and dangerous behavior.

The idea that any one person could knock down a portion of the People's House is abhorrent and that a ballroom would be built is a spit in the face to all Americans who are suffering from current economic policies. I suggest downsizing the current plans to the original footprint of the east wing and designating it as a public meeting place where the people of this country could actually meet at scheduled times with currently serving Whitehouse officials, state representatives and all those creating policy for us. Perhaps a lottery for groups or individuals wishing to address public policy could be instituted. It's time we had a clearer say in the direction our country is headed.

To destroy a part of it for a vanity project of a man who has already altered many of the places on the grounds Americans treasure is insulting to us all. It would be nice if the East Wing hadn't been torn down without authorization, but it's too late for that.

The new East Wing of the White House needs to be a wing of the White House. This means that it must be both smaller and shorter than the White House. It must not visually overwhelm lthe White House. It needs to be built to match the aesthetics of the White House, and with the sensibility of what the government and country wants, not what one particular occupant of the White House likes. This means not gilding everything in gold leaf, real or fake.

It is also super important that none of the money used to build the new East Wing is taken in the form of a bribe to the current Oval Office occupant.

Please do not let this “modernization project” go through. The demolition of the East Wing was done without notice, and without authorization. It is a National Historic building, and yet this destruction has been done! We the people do not want or need a massive ballroom that is bigger than what remains of the White House itself! It is a vanity project that serves no real purpose in advancing our American values or the aesthetic values of the White House. We are appalled that this has happened, and we object to any plans to move forward on a ballroom. We would much rather see the East Wing restored, and our history preserved. Those who did this must be held accountable, and they are planning other such lawless construction in the DC area, including a giant arch near Arlington Cemetery. It is not in keeping with who we are, or what America stands for. We are not Las Vegas East! Thank you for your consideration of the peoples’ comments.

This wreckage of the people's house without proper planning or authorization is an affront to all Americans.

This must not stand. You need to send a message that the corruption of accepting bribes to fund this ridiculous ballroom,which was not desired by anyone other than the occupant of the white house, is not a precedent that you are willing to allow. Rewarding the lawlessness, recklessness, and depravity of this action flies against every norm. The beloved East Wing should be restored.

Feel free to use any of my commentary that I submitted earlier today as a starting point!

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $400M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

I'm also asking that Donald Trump be charged with restoring the property at his own expense or out of his pension.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

It is devastating to see the demolition of the East Wing of the White House. It should be restored to its former glory instead of building a huge ballroom totally out of balance with the current structure. How did this even happen? I served on a local state park board and we could not even plant a seed of grass without going through lengthy state approvals. This is not OK.

It is a travesty that Trump razed the east wing of the white house for a ballroom. There is nothing positive for America to come out of creating a ballroom where there were once offices for the first lady and historic and antique objects, and a visitor entrance. If you proceed with this project you should know that it will make Americans very angry. Procedures for review were not followed, so the whole project is criminal, essentially. Like everything else Trump does. And--a ballroom? For his wealthy friends? Where they will pretend that they haven't destroyed millions of lives??!?!??!

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

It is a national symbol, and as such, any alterations must be made in a thougtful manner. Certainly the construction of a ballroom that dwarfs the original structure is inappropriate both architecturally and symbolically. At the very least, significant effort is required to make this addition both compatible with and subordinate to the original structure both on the exterior and interior. Thank you.

The demolition of the East Wing on the White House, the People's House, was illegal, horrifying and senseless. No one wanted this done. history. The blatant disregard of decades of protocol and regulation of constructional changes to a national monument and historic treasure is an insult to every law abiding citizen. How could this have happened? Reconstruction faithful to the east wing's former size, shape and historic architecture and decor must be done at the expense of those who destroyed it. If a ballroom is to be built, it should be done at a different site and faithful to current architectural renderings of other capital buildings. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history, gaudy, and the plan does not match the historic integrity of the rest of the property. It was razed with complete disregard for history and safety precautions for the presence of asbestos, lead, and other toxic materials. In its haste to avoid public comment or scrutiny and force through Trump's "grand palace," we have lost an irrecoverable piece of American history and wasted taxpayer money. Worse, there is still zero evidence that the "donations" collected for building the ballroom ever existed and didn't just directly enrich the President. I want this project canceled, the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, and an investigation into those alleged "donated" funds which should go toward the cost of restoring the White House and Trump should be held financially responsible for any remaining expenses to restore the building. Contrary to what the White House Administration stated- a ballroom was not wanted and needed by Americans. It was so upsetting to see the wrecking ball destroy the East Wing.

No one should be above following the law- The project must be halted and the East Wing returned to its former design. Thank you for allowing public comment on the destruction of the East Wing of the White House. I write in opposition to the unlawful and irreverent way in which this historic building has been razed without authorization, permitting or public notice. I recommend that the White House and this Administration be required to follow rules just like every homeowner is required when they want to make renovations to their home. How can I teach my children that laws must be followed if the President/Commander-in-Chief refuses to do so, and does so both publicly and without remorse.
The East Wing of the White House should be rebuilt to preserve its original glory, not as a tribute to one man's ego, but rather a tribute to ALL Americans - who own the building. I also object to private funding for a public building without specific Congressional authorization. Bypassing Congressional approval violates our deeply held Constitutional foundation of the separation of powers, which is one of the core pillars of our democracy.
Respectfully,
Rita Radostitz

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. This is not a project "for the people by the people." This is a project about the ego of one man. This is not about modernization. It is about a garish display of abuse of power. I want not only for this project to be canceled, but also the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. I oppose the large project that Trump has planned. Firstly, the proportions are all wrong in relation to the White House. Second, are large facilities such as what has been planned really needed frequently enough to justify the cost? Granted, he says private funds are being used to erect it, but there will be maintenance, cleaning, heating and air conditioning needed for upkeep going forward. That will be the taxpayers burden.

Americans don't need or want palaces. That's what we fought against 250 years ago. Please don't let this project proceed. Rebuild something tasteful and in the esthetic of the original East Wing and White House.

To all Commissioners concerned;

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

Sincerely,
Claire Hartley

NCPC File Number: 8733
I'm a citizen of the U.S., a retired federal employee, someone who has visited Washington, D.C. to work in federal buildings and as a tourist and plans to do so again, and I am a daughter of parents who led groups of 8th graders to Washington, D.C. for many decades. My parents and I have experienced the awe that the architecture of our nation's capitol city inspires both directly and through watching young people have this experience. I believe that that the classic proportions within the design of each building and monument as well as the proportions among them are key to providing that inspiration and the realization that we are a part of a country that is thoughtful and does great things through careful, collaborative planning and perseverance.
I am greatly concerned about comments that this administration has made as to the proposed size and proportions for the East Wing of the White House, and I was profoundly disturbed by the demolition of the East Wing without proper consultation (e.g. Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) and the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA)) or a publicly-vetted, approved plan for replacing the demolished East Wing with a new one. As the NCPC reviews the East House Modernization Project, I urge the reviewers to carefully consider how the public will see and experience the modernization project from surrounding public spaces and from viewpoints used in photography and videography. The external size and proportions of the East Wing must be in balance with both the central structure of the White House and the West Wing. The East and West Wings must be subordinate to the central structure of the White House and the classical “golden ratio” of human design indicates that the ratio of the dimensions of the wings to the central structure should be approximately 1:1.618, i.e., the wings must each appear smaller than the central structure. In addition, the dimensions and features of the new East Wing itself should follow the golden ratio. Finally, the external views of the new East Wing should be in harmony with those of the West Wing.
Thank you for the opportunity to comment in this stage of the approval process. I look forward to seeing actual plans and scale drawings of the public views from multiple representative vantage points in the future.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Sir or Madame,

I strongly oppose the continuation of the East Wing Modernization Project.

There are processes and procedures that everyone - even the President of the United States - needs to follow when making changes to Historical structures. There was no consultation or approval from the National Capital Planning Commission, and the funding for this project was ''sourced'' from individuals and companies - which strongly implies an intention to curry favors from the President.

Every aspect of this project was poorly thought out, poorly initiated and - as most of the President's projects - intended to make submission to his 'vision' inescapable simply by the speed with which he is willing to disregard rules he finds inconvenient.

I would like this project STOPPED.
The original East Wing structure needs to be replaced - NOT 'improved' according to the President's standards.
Repayment for the reconstruction should come from the President personally, not thrust upon taxpayers.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my opinion.

Sincerely,

Susan Botcharova

The White House east wing should be restored to the way it was. Destruction of the east wing made the White House look asymmetrical and ugly. IF the ballroom can be built with private funds, and without destroying the previous look of the White House, then ballroom construction should continue. Those 2 caveats are important, using private money and not impinging on the appearance of the White House as it was before the ballroom project began.

My proposal would be to reconstruct the East Wing to match its original layout and design while adding modernization. If a ballroom is to be constructed, it should be done so as to minimize any architectural visualization to the original main White House structure. IT SHOULD NOT DWARF THE EXISTING STRUCTURE. If a 90k layout is unavoidable, perhaps it can be constructed partially underground as to not appear to be an add on to an already beautiful structure in our nation's history.

To Whom It May Concern,

I am submitting this comment regarding the proposed expansion of the East Wing of the White House. This project must proceed in full compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) to ensure the protection of environmental quality and the preservation of the site's historic integrity.

In accordance with NEPA, a comprehensive Environmental Assessment (EA) or Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) should be conducted to evaluate all potential impacts, including noise, traffic, air quality, and the preservation of existing landscaped areas. This review must also address cumulative impacts in relation to other federal construction activities.

Pursuant to Section 106 of the NHPA, the project should undergo formal consultation with the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation and relevant preservation authorities. The design must adhere to the established neoclassical architectural style of the White House, ensuring that materials, proportions, and detailing remain consistent with the original design intent and do not diminish the building's historic character.

The planning process should include transparent public engagement at all stages, with timely disclosure of findings and opportunities for substantive public input before final approval.

Thank you for your attention to these requirements. I expect the project to be executed with the highest standards of environmental compliance and historic preservation.

Sincerely,
JuliAnn Nisevich

Please do not allow this atrocity to go forward. I lived in Northen Virginia for 33 years and each time I arrived in Washington, DC, I got chills seeing the beautiful Whitehouse. This project represents this horrific administration and their disdain for the rule of law. And it will be yet another project that the billionaires fund so that they can continue to pillage off of our beautiful country. I beg you not to let this evil empire get away with destroying the people's house.

I want this project stopped. It's a project that was initiated without following any rules regulations or processes to preserve this historical building. This "modernization" is an attempt to destroy history and create a building project to funnel resources and power to a select few billionaires and one person's insatiable need for aggrandisement. This is project has nothing to do with or for the American people, which is a direct confrontation to the time honored value of this historic building being the people's house. Stop this project now.

The proposed ballroom is not a good use of taxpayer dollars to improve the functioning of the White House but the vanity project of one man. The East Wing should be rebuilt as it was to support office staff and a space to welcome the American people into the People's House. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The White House is the People's House. It is not the personal property of any President. Tearing down the East Wing was a travesty, and appears to be a vanity project that will cater to wealthy donors, not to The People of the United States. The current proposed building is a monstrosity that has nothing to do with We The People, and most of us will never see the inside of it other than on TV. I strenuously object to the building of a huge ballroom to serve the ego of the current resident of the White House and his wealthy friends. Any addition/change to the White House should very clearly be of, for, and by The People. Given the ballooning national debt, we don't need any more foolish expenditures. The claim that it will be paid for with "donations" is unsubstantiated. To "update" or "modernize" is reasonable (though not really a substantiated need). I think the East Wing should be rebuilt on the same footprint, in the same dimensions, as it was. Thank you for considering my opinion as a citizen and voter.

Our historic buildings are not for one person to decide to demolish. The East Wing of the White House was not on any proper list for changes or destruction. It needs to be restored. As a member of my local historic landmark preservation society I am appalled by the unprovoked and illegal destruction of America's White House. As a landlord, I would hold any tenant financially responsible for all damages incurred during tenancy, as well as immediate eviction. Mr. Trump should be held to these same standards.
The East Wing of property belonging to this nation should be fully restored with provisions to update specific and restricted to energy efficiency and the application of materials proven to both replicate and enhance durability.
Sincerely,

I absolutely oppose this $300 million project. Period.

It was started without proper authorization, without the required permits, and without appropriate design review. That alone should stop everything. You don't get to bulldoze history first and ask questions later.

Let's call this what it is this is not "modernization." This is the complete razing of American history. You don't erase legacy and call it progress. You don't tear down something meaningful and dress it up as improvement.

And let's talk about the money. $300 million of public funds. Taxpayer dollars. Our dollars. If this project bypassed legal procedures, then someone ignored the law. And no one I don't care who you are is above the law.

To allow this to continue without accountability would be a slap in the face to every law-abiding citizen in this country.

Stop the project.
Review the permits.
Hold people accountable.
Restore the East Wing to its original design.

We cannot preach integrity and then look the other way when rules are broken. Preservation matters. Process matters. Accountability matters.

History deserves respect and so do the American people.

I am writing to oppose the East Wing Modernization Project and the proposal to build a very large and useless ballroom. The White House belongs to the American people and is a sacred property. Tearing down the original east wing was an illegal action and desecrated this historic building. This beautiful building is a symbol of our history and our freedom. What is it for. Surely not as a tribute to our history. Building a ballroom for periodic state dinners? Fundraisers with fees going into the Presidents pocket? weddings for hire? State sponsored Wrestling events? This large ballroom a waste of time, money and my taxpayer dollars. Plus I cannot believe that all funds will come from private sources nor will the accounting of this project be honest. I believe that those that tore it down did not have the right to do so, and therefore it should be rebuilt to original standards and size, and paid for by those that did not have any right to touch my building without properly following the law. Thank you.

I am vehemently against the razing of the historic East Wing of the people's White House by the current president. It was done without review or preservation of the contents with a plan to build a ballroom funded by big tech billionaires in the name of a twice impeached, criminally indicted man who is steadily destroying every institution of the US government. I think that the East Wing should be restored as it was before this egomaniacal man took a literal wrecking ball and destroyed a part of US history, all in the name of slapping his own name on yet another formerly great American institution.

Demolition and new construction must have proper approvals and permits. It is the "House of the People", not the mansion of one person and the approval for any changes must be made by the people's National Trust. I am writing as I am concerned about the ballroom addition to the White House. The White House is an iconic symbol of America and my fear is that the size and scale of this project will dwarf the original portion of the structure. Also, considering we have seen terrorist attacks target iconic buildings, does it even makes sense to have a large gathering space attached to the President's residence? Wouldn't it make more sense to have such a space off site and bring one person (the President) to the throngs of people vs. bringing throngs of people to the President's residence? I do realize that it already is a very public space, but increasing capacity of event size to me just feels extra security vulnerability. I feel like it would better suite the needs of both the integrity of the White House and the needs for a larger event space to have a large public event space built nearby, but not attached to the White House. Not to say events can't continue to occur at the White House, but keep the invite list modest and exclusive. And rebuild a modern version of the East Wing to accommodate functions of the White House and return balance and scale to this iconic national treasure.

I respectfully oppose the proposed expansion of the East Wing at the White House. Even if privately funded, the White House is not a private property — it is a historic national symbol that belongs to the American people.

Major structural additions to such an iconic and historically significant building should be approached with extraordinary caution and broad public transparency. Private funding does not eliminate concerns about precedent, historical preservation, or the long-term impact on the character and integrity of the building.

The White House represents continuity, restraint, and respect for tradition. Any expansion should meet an exceptionally high standard of necessity and public consensus. I urge decision-makers to carefully reconsider whether this project truly serves the institution and the country as a whole.

The continuation of this project would be an insult to the White House itself, to US history, to law-abiding citizens. It was started without any of the proper authorizations, permits, public discussion or debate. The budget is sketchy and the funding sources are unethical and opaque. The proposed plans are untenable and ugly. It is not a renovation or improvement, it is an illegal razing of a national monument to assuage one man's ego. I beg you to put a stop to this shameful and lawless abomination and restore the East Wing.

If I tore down my house in the dead of night and embarked upon a complete rebuild without seeking the proper authorization... I would be fined into bankruptcy. And I don't own a house that is a historical monument! Nobody should be above the law, not even the president. Please, do the right thing. Put an end to this destruction.

The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its former design with only necessary updates for codes and appropriate ADA needs.

No one, including a bully, is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Please do not approve this project and further destruction of our historic treasures.

I find the demolition of the East Wing reprehensible. No President should be allowed to destroy federal public property without permission of Congress or a vote from "We the People". President Trump should be fined and held accountable for this historically unlawful action. His actions are a stain on our country, democracy and his presidency.

The East wing of the White House is an historic landmark and part of the legacy of this country. As the people's house, it should only be changed under careful scrutiny in keeping with historical tradition. A tasteless ballroom that only satisfies the current occupant should not be allowed. Keep the flavor and style that represents the time it was built.

Modernization? Would you "modernize" the Washington Monument? The Lincoln Memorial? What Trump is doing is not "modernization." He is trying to erase any history that does not have his name attached to it.

Do not humor this sociopathic egomaniac. Make him rebuild it exactly the way it was. Teach him that he does not own the White House, We, the people, do.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, public accountability, and adherence to the rules for preservation of national historic sites.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project. It should be restored to its former design and be historically accurate.

the proposed East Wing addition is an abomination. It should not be designed to dwarf the White House structure. Its footprint should be smaller and the height lower. This "ballroom" wing will not be hosting 700-1000 person gatherings on a regular basis, so the design a structure that accommodates those numbers is ridiculous. (the old east wing should never have been torn down in the first place, one of the silly reasons being that women's heels sunk into the lawn in the tent set ups)

Dear National Capital Planning Commission,

I am writing to express my thoughts on the proposed 90,000-square-foot ballroom addition to the White House. This iconic building, a National Historic Landmark and a cherished part of our national heritage, deserves careful consideration before any significant alterations are made.

As stewards of our historic landmarks, the public should have a genuine opportunity to contribute to decisions that affect such nationally significant places. The White House, owned by the American people and the residence of our presidents since 1800, must be preserved in a manner that reflects its historical importance.

The requirement for review by the NCPC and the Commission of Fine Arts, along with compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act and congressional approval, underscores the need for transparency and public input in this process. While I understand the need for expanded event space, the proposed ballroom's size raises concerns about compatibility with the historic scale and design of the White House. At 90,000 square feet, it would surpass the footprint of the existing 55,000-square-foot Executive Residence. Any additions to historic properties should be subordinate to the original structure and maintain its integrity.

I urge the commissioners to prioritize public feedback in this process. As Carol Quillen wisely stated, the American people deserve "an opportunity to provide comment and shape the project." I encourage all stakeholders to consider the long-term implications of this addition and ensure that it respects the historic context of this important landmark.

Thank you for considering my comments. I look forward to seeing how public input will shape this project.

Sincerely,

Ken Estes, Jr.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits, without effort to conserve its materials and history, and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Sirs:

What Donald Trump is doing to the East Wing is an abomination and un-American. The White House is not his property to with what he likes to satisfy his personal whims and 5th grade ego. It is an historic landmark that is the property of the American people. What is even more disturbing is that the wing was demolished under cloak of darkness before anyone made any attempt to stop it. When I put up a new fence in my yard I have to jump through any number of hoops with my Town before I can do anything. Permits have to be obtained; public comment is undertaken. Where in God's name were the checks and balances in this case? Why was our brain-dead subhuman President allowed to wreak havoc with government property and a National treasure without any input from Congress and other regulatory bodies? What's next? Idiot Donald removing the Washington Monument for his idiotic Arch De Triumph ripoff as a monument to himself? Checks and balances have to be ensured. Laws have to be abided by. Traditions must be upheld.

The East Wing modernization project is an abomination. While I realize the damage is already done with respect to the destruction, the people's house should be preserved in accordance with the building's history and longstanding norms. We don't need a ballroom. We don't want a ballroom. We surely don't want one that is larger than the rest of the building and detracts from the importance of the center. Our current president wants to put his brand on everything he can manage so that he will never be forgotten. Tearing down the existing East Wing to build a huge ballroom named after him is an egregious affront to US citizens to whom the historical site belongs.

He did not go through proper channels to get permission to even approve the "concept". Now there is an eyesore, a glaring and ugly "concept" if his selfishness and huge ego. This glaring, wild affront to our senses must be stopped and rectified in the proper way. The public demands accountability. The grifting of our nation must be stopped COLD.

I whole heartedly OPPOSE a new ballroom at the White House. Trump demolished history, without consent or prior proper permits, on a whim. That is not his house, it belongs to the people of the USA. Trump will only live there for 3 more years. The history in the part of the building he obliterated can never be restored. But, we can fight to preserve what is left of the people's White House.

I am horrified at this devastation. I remained shocked and disturbed that the building was knocked down in the manner that it happened.

In my 32 years of public service, I built or renovated public libraries in local communities. The challenges, the hurdles, the complications of the processes were vast in scale due to them being public projects on public land with public funds.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

I oppose the building of an unnecessary ballroom at the White House. This project should never have been initiated. Any construction at this site should be to restore the original East Wing.

Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this. And we can help.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Anara Guard's comment on this is beautiful. She gave me permission to post it here, if anyone wants to use her language.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I object to this modernization project that has been undertaken without proper historic and environmental consideration. My father was an architect in DC for many years and he worked with the DC Zoning commission, the DC Preservation office, and renovated and restored many historic buildings. Projects must go through a process- there cannot just be demolition and rebuilding of whatever one person/ firm decides they want to build- especially with historic public buildings such as the White House (the People's house). This is a travesty- the way that this project was started is shameful and not legal. This has to go through the proper channels and have input from community, DC zoning, and historical input. The demolition has heartbreakingly occurred but the project must now be put under proper examination and consideration.

I wish it had never been started but now that the historic building is gone, I would hope that it might be restored as closely as possible to its original state. No one asked for this remodel. Destroyed years of our country's history. Pretty sure the whole this is another embezzlement scheme by our president and his cronies. No one should have enough money to override the will of the people. To try and erase history. The White House belongs to the people of this nation not the current renter.

Please consider the history of this building and all it means to this nation. To let wanton destruction with no proper procedures or planning.

Sincerely,

Katherine Brzozowski

I am writing to express my deep opposition to the permanent replacement of the East Wing of the White House with a large ballroom structure.

The East Wing was not simply office space. It was part of the architectural and historical fabric of the White House complex — a structure that belongs to the American people, not to any administration or private donor. Its demolition represents a profound loss of historic continuity.

Now that the original structure has been removed, the responsibility of the National Capital Planning Commission is even greater. The path forward should prioritize rebuilding the East Wing in a manner that restores its original exterior form, scale, and architectural character.

Modern structural upgrades and security improvements may be necessary. But modernization does not require aesthetic erasure. A faithful exterior reconstruction that preserves the historic appearance of the White House complex would honor both safety needs and national heritage.

I respectfully urge the Commission to:

Reject any design that permanently alters the traditional scale and architectural harmony of the White House grounds.

Require reconstruction that restores the East Wing's historic exterior character.

Ensure full compliance with preservation laws and transparent review procedures.

Recognize that this site is a national symbol, not a canvas for stylistic reinvention.

The White House is held in trust for generations past, present, and future. Stewardship demands restoration, not transformation.

Respectfully submitted,
Shane Thans

Stepping on the prescribed legal process, evading transparency for a vanity project is outrageous.
The project should be halted and appropriately changed to restore the building design. The space will be modern (new construction) and historically sound.
These structures are held in the public trust.
And hands off the old executive office building.

The current East Wing Modernization project represents a critical failure of the Section 106 process (36 CFR Part 800). As a former historic preservationist, I am deeply concerned by the lack of transparency in the "Avoidance" and "Minimization" phases of this review. The administration has failed to provide a rigorous, public-facing analysis of non-destructive alternatives that could achieve modern functional requirements without the irreversible loss of historic fabric. This is not just a modernization; it is a procedural atrocity that bypasses the legal requirements for federal stewardship of a National Historic Landmark.

II. Failure of Requirements Gathering and Design Leadership

From my current perspective as a Research and Design Director, this project demonstrates a fundamental failure in requirements gathering. "Modernization" is being used as a blanket justification for structural demolition rather than being treated as a complex design challenge within existing historic constraints.

* Neglect of Constraints: High-functioning environments should be architected to work with the affordances of the original structure.

* False Dichotomy: The agency has presented a false choice between "modern utility" and "preservation," ignoring the possibility of surgical, non-invasive technological integration.

III. Demonstration of Historical Neglect

By prioritizing the convenience of the present administration over the long-term integrity of the White House, this project sets a dangerous precedent for all Grade I equivalent resources.

* Loss of Character-Defining Features: The removal of original masonry and the alteration of the East Wing's spatial narrative constitutes a permanent "Adverse Effect" that has not been adequately mitigated.

* Stewardship Violation: The White House is the "People's House," and the current "demolition of history" ignores the public's right to an authentic, preserved historical resource.

IV. Conclusion and Request for Action

I formally request that the reviewing bodies issue a Finding of Adverse Effect. I urge the Commission to halt further structural interventions until a full Historic Structure Report (HSR) and a transparent Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) are established to ensure that the remaining historical integrity of the Executive Mansion is not further compromised.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and Park owned by the American people and which has housed presidents since 1800. Each president is a temporary tenant, not the property's owner, and is bound by law and public trust.

The unauthorized demolition of the historic East Wing—without review, permits, or Congressional oversight—violates both the law and the trust of the American people, who were denied any chance to comment on what should have been a proposal, not a unilateral act. This is not a modernization project but rather a destruction of American history.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require that the East Wing be rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is NOT the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I am writing concerning the planned White House East Wing "Modernization" Project. As I'm sure you already know, all such building projects are legally required to undergo a federal review process. This has clearly not been the case so far, as Pres. Trump ordered the demolition of the White House East Wing without any approval process. Such projects in Washington, D.C. are required by law to be reviewed by the NCPC and the Commission of Fine Arts, to comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), and to receive congressional approval. These safeguards exist to ensure transparency, accountability, and meaningful public input. None of this has been the case. Before even one brick is laid in the construction of whatever will end up replacing the demolished East Wing, as tax-paying citizen I demand oversight by congress and the above-mentioned agencies. It is a known fact that Pres. Trump and his administration are fond of ignoring congressional oversight, court orders, the constitution and so on. We must not let this continue to happen. The White House is the People's House, not the personal property or project of any single president or administration.

I am writing to express my firm opposition to the East Wing Modernization project and to call for its immediate cancellation. It is deeply concerning to me that this initiative, which has already involved an allocation of $300 million, was initiated without the proper authorization, necessary permits, or the appropriate design review process.
This project, far from being a modernization, represents a wholesale destruction of an important piece of American history. The East Wing, in its current form, is a symbol of our nation's architectural heritage, and any attempt to erase its historic design would be an irreparable loss.
It is critical that we preserve and restore the East Wing to its original design, ensuring that future generations can appreciate the architectural legacy it represents. Furthermore, allowing this project to continue without penalizing those responsible for bypassing the necessary legal and regulatory steps would set a dangerous precedent. No individual or entity should be above the law, and to allow this project to move forward without consequence would be an affront to the principles of justice and accountability that form the bedrock of our society.
I urge you to take immediate action to halt this project and direct efforts towards the restoration of the East Wing. The integrity of our nation's history and the rule of law must remain paramount in all decision-making processes.

Please note: This ballroom, if built, will be widely known as the EPSTEIN BALLROOM.

My heart breaks over the destruction of the East wing. While I fully understand that spaces need to be updated or modernized and a ballroom is necessary, the willful razing of the People's House is devastating. There are protocols in place that should have been followed. To allow the reconstruction to continue with no accountability would be to reward the blatant disrespect and disregard for the rules in place for updates. Where are the art pieces? Where is the furniture? What accounting took place of the artifacts that were housed in the East wing? Please demand this accounting. Please do not disregard the disrespect rendered to the East wing. Please demand an accounting. Please do not reward this destruction. Thank you.

Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this. And we can help.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Anara Guard's comment on this is beautiful. She gave me permission to post it here, if anyone wants to use her language.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.
The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

I am against further construction of a ballroom for the East Wing. I oppose $300 million being spent on an unapproved and unauthorized project. This is a public building that serves the people of the USA, not a random building for rich people, the surveillance toys of the current administration , and foreign guests. Private citizens cannot even perform a minute fraction of the magnitude for a project on their own homes without local permits, authorizations, and payment of fees. The history and future of our country is affected by this unauthorized demolition. Those who broke the law on this project need to be penalized, along with a cease and desist order on the work being done. The NCPC needs to decide how to restore a functional space for the work of our country. Thank you for attending to these matters.

We do not need a gigantic ballroom which will not just be huge and dwarf the rest of the White House, but which will cost an inordinate amount of money - seemingly to be supplied by people seeking influence rather than helping the people of our country. There has not been any due process or seeking of input until now. Meanwhile, the old structures have been demolished, without permission. These buildings are meant to reflect the ideals of "We the People." Gilded palaces do not do so. It is for a reason that we have the White House, not the White Palace. We have presidents, not royalty. We are our government involves representatives, not aristocracy. Congress meets in the "Peoples' House." No one ever asked if "We the People," wanted a gilded, massive ballroom. I for one, do not want what has been proposed by the current incumbent.

I oppose spending 300 million on this project and am heartbroken that the wing and rooms that our forefathers have used was destroyed. He did not gt the authorization to tear down OUR history and rebuild, not modernize, the East Wing. This should be rebuilt as close to the original design as possible. No one is above the law and to not be penalized is a slap in the face to everyone through the years who sacrificed their lives for our great nation. Do the right thing before this so called modernization project snowballs to the next and the next.

I strongly oppose the East Wing modernization project and the allocation of $300 million toward it. This initiative was launched without proper authorization, required permits, or an appropriate design review process. Rather than preserving or thoughtfully updating the structure, the current plan effectively erases an important piece of American architectural heritage.

I am calling for the immediate cancellation of this project and for the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored to its original design. The rule of law must apply equally to all parties. Allowing this project to proceed without accountability for those who bypassed legal requirements would undermine public trust and disregard the standards that govern responsible development.

Re: Opposition to the East Wing Modernization Project (Proposed White House State Ballroom) — Demand for Project Cancellation

To the Commissioners of the National Capital Planning Commission:
I write to you not as a partisan, but as an American who believes no individual — regardless of title or office — is above the law when it comes to the stewardship of our shared national heritage. What has been done to the East Wing of the White House is not modernization. It is the unlawful, unilateral destruction of an irreplaceable piece of American history, carried out without your approval, without Congressional authorization, and in open defiance of the processes your Commission exists to enforce.

I demand that this project be stopped. I demand that the responsible parties pay for the restoration of what was destroyed.

A Historic Structure Was Demolished Without a Permit
The East Wing of the White House stood for over 150 years. It housed the offices of First Ladies, wartime shelters used during World War II, and a Presidential Emergency Operations Center constructed to protect the Commander-in-Chief. In a matter of days in October 2025, excavators reduced it to rubble — before a single set of construction plans had been submitted to this Commission for review.

Federal law is not ambiguous on this point. The law explicitly holds that "a building or structure shall not be erected on any reservation, park, or public grounds of the Federal Government in the District of Columbia without express authority of Congress." No such authority was sought. No such authority was granted. The National Trust for Historic Preservation publicly called on the administration to freeze demolition and comply with legally required public review processes. That plea was ignored.

The administration's legal argument — that this Commission's authority applies only to "vertical construction" and not to demolition — is, as a former NCPC chairman of nearly a decade stated plainly, simply false. "If there's to be demolition, that's part of the project. The demolition element is inherent in the overall project. Demo is not separated from construction. It's part of it." To accept the administration's interpretation would be to invite any future administration to demolish any federally protected structure and then claim that the law applies only once they begin building something new. That is not oversight. That is a loophole that swallows the rule entirely.

The Commission of Fine Arts — the independent body established by Congress in 1910 to provide expert oversight on exactly this type of project — never reviewed these plans. Instead, all six of its members were fired and replaced with individuals described by a White House official as "more aligned with Mr. Trump's policies." This is not how a constitutional republic treats its own laws and institutions.

The Scale of This Project Is an Affront to the Character of the White House

The White House itself is approximately 55,000 square feet. The proposed ballroom is 90,000 square feet — larger than the building it is meant to serve. At its proposed length, the new East Wing would stretch roughly a city block, longer than the existing West Wing and more than half the length of the adjacent Treasury Building. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has warned directly that this addition "will overwhelm the White House itself" and "may permanently disrupt the carefully balanced classical design of the White House with its two smaller, and lower, East and West Wings."

The stated rationale — that the East Room's capacity of 200 guests is insufficient — demands scrutiny. When was the last time a sitting president needed to host a seated dinner for 999 people? President Biden hosted six state dinners, four of them outdoors using tents, a solution that generations of administrations have employed without demolishing historic structures. According to the project's own environmental assessment, options considered would have preserved the East Wing entirely and placed a new event space to the south of the existing complex. Those options were rejected.

What replaced them is a ballroom — with crystal chandeliers, gilded Corinthian columns, and gold-accented finishes — whose estimated cost has already ballooned from $200 million to $300 million, then to $400 million, since it was announced in July 2025. The President has spoken openly about wanting future presidential inaugurations held in this space. This is not a facility built with the dignity of the nation in mind. It is a venue built to the personal specifications of one man, on public land, with the historic record of this country reduced to rubble in the process.

The Funding Arrangement Raises Serious Corruption Concerns

The project is described as privately funded, but that description conceals more than it reveals. The administration has refused to disclose how much any individual donor contributed. What is known is that the donor list includes sports team owners, technology companies, media companies, and billionaires with active business interests before this administration. Senate ranking members have described the arrangement plainly: "The solicitation and acceptance of private funding for this project presents a profound risk of pay-to-play corruption. By substituting transparent, appropriated federal funds with opaque private donations, you permit" influence that the public cannot see, and Congress cannot audit.

Even the fundraising trust itself is reportedly collecting millions in fees from the ballroom fundraising effort. At the same time, its board is stacked with business leaders who stand to benefit from favorable treatment. This is not philanthropy. This is a structure that allows wealthy interests to purchase proximity to the President of the United States under the cover of a construction project, on the grounds of the people's house.

This Commission Must Act — Not Defer

It has been reported that some within this Commission believe approval is "a foregone conclusion." I reject that characterization as a capitulation to political pressure, not a legal or ethical judgment. The NCPC was created precisely to ensure that no single individual — not a developer, not a president — can reshape the federal landscape of the capital city without independent, expert, public review. That mandate does not evaporate because the person requesting approval holds the highest office in the land.

At least one commissioner has already stated publicly that the National Park Service "has been shut out of the most important planning decisions regarding the ballroom." Multiple commissioners have reportedly expressed private reservations but fear retaliation. That fear is itself an indictment of how this project has been conducted. An oversight body that approves a project out of fear has ceased to be an oversight body.

My Demand
I ask this Commission to do three things:
First, reject the ballroom project in its current form. It was conceived in defiance of the law, executed before required approvals were obtained, and designed at a scale incompatible with the historic character of the White House complex.

Second, require that the East Wing of the White House — a structure demolished without lawful authority — be fully rebuilt and restored. The American people did not authorize its destruction, and the American people should not bear the cost of its reconstruction.

Third, require that the costs of demolition, remediation, and reconstruction be borne by those who authorized and carried out the unlawful destruction of a historic federal structure, not by the public treasury.

The White House does not belong to any president. It belongs to the American people, and to every generation of Americans who will come after us. What was destroyed cannot be returned. But this Commission still has the power to prevent further damage — and to insist that the law means something, even when the person breaking it occupies the Oval Office.

I implore you to exercise that power.

I oppose rewarding people who demolished the East Wing without permission from the people or their representatives by allowing a pet vanity project to proceed. I think nothing should be allowed to be done but to protect what is present now until after this presidency ends, and then non-patisan groups, with public commentary, can work together on a new plan for whatever will happen to rebuild the East Wing or create a new addition helpful to the American people, future presidents and their families, and shared goals.

“Modernization Project”??? This is a travesty of obscene dimensions. The East Wing was a useful and proportionate part of the history of the White House. The proposd ballroom reeks of precisely the elitist, monument obsessed, and performative fascism that this administration is enamored of. If built it will remain as a monument to corrupt politicians and the death of American representative Democracy long after we are all dead. Is that what America stands for? I certainly hope not.

I wish to express the sadness and revulsion at the destruction of the East Wing without the prior authorization, studies, and procedures required. While the White House's history in this country is a troubled one with its connections to slavery, civil strife, war, and being home to myriad anti-working class policies, it remains the People's House. Afflicted though that house may be with its history, rodents, and its need for repair, it stands as a metaphor for the complexities of being an American citizen. The White House is often one of the first things people picture in their minds when they think "America". It's an enduring international symbol of what humans can accomplish and how they might flourish.

The destruction of the East Wing is an attempt to erase parts of our shared history and to renovate and reconstruct an alternative history and mythology. The proposed ballroom not only insults the shared American identity and our collective memory, but it will in no way benefit the people who made the White House possible in the first place. The ballroom will not be a center for healing, intellectual dialogue, repairing relationships or to celebrate human flourishing. It will be nothing more than a monument to one man's ego, avarice, and addiction to decadence and authoritarianism.

Make no mistake, President Trump is not building a ballroom; he is building a throne room.

It appears that the East Wing of the White House was demolished, at the whim of Trump without consultation or approval by appropriate authorities. He is notorious for not paying his contractors and I fear we, the people, will be paying to rectify the situation.
As a citizen, I'd like to see the wing restored as it previously was. When he leaves, or is thrown out of office, I'd like all traces of his work erased. I'd like no vestiges of this dictator to remain as a reminder of the chaos he has created in this great democracy.
Restoring the East Wing will be a boost to the moral of the country...a reminder that democracy will prevail against those that seek to destroy it.
Thank You

As a homeowner and law abiding citizen, I am disturbed by the approach of this project. I must obtain permits to make even minor changes like windows to my house but the whole wing of the White House was torn down without approval or study? There seems to be no study of safety concerns done for this project. I would think that a look at the historical nature of this building would be warranted if homeowners across the country have to get approval from historical commissions for the residences that they actually own. This sets a terrible example for the nation and allows one regime to make decisions on what is supposed to be the people's house.

To the Members of the Planning Commission,
I am writing to urge the Commission to halt any further funding or approvals related to the East Wing Modernization Project. The recent demolition of the East Wing of the White House — carried out without proper authorization, public transparency, or adherence to established federal preservation requirements — represents a serious breach of trust and procedure. This was not simply a structural alteration; it was the destruction of a historically significant component of The People's House.

Before any additional federal funds are allocated, the public deserves a full and formal accounting of how this demolition was permitted to occur, who authorized it, and why long\u8209 -standing federal preservation, review, and oversight processes were bypassed. Proceeding with funding under these circumstances would signal that compliance with federal law, historical stewardship, and public accountability are optional rather than essential obligations.

In addition to halting funding, I respectfully request that the Commission require the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored to its original design. Full restoration is necessary to preserve the architectural integrity of the White House and to honor the historical continuity that Americans expect from their national institutions.

I urge the Commission to pause all funding and approvals until a complete investigation is conducted and a clear plan for full restoration is established. Our history — and the public's trust in federal stewardship — demands nothing less.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

The East Wing needs to be restored to its former structure and design, immediately. The historic structure was torn down without the proper and required approvals, permits, or review process. Those responsible need to be held accountable and should have to rebuild and restore the East Wing using their own funds.

I vehemently oppose allowing this ballroom project to continue. It is an affront to the history of the White House, the history of this nation, and the rule of law. Furthermore, the envisioned ballroom, with its massive size, will overshadow the rest of the White House structure, forever altering the look and significance of our nation's most symbolic and iconic building.

Letting this project proceed is a slap in the face to all Americans, especially those who founded and built this nation.

I am writing to express serious concern regarding the destruction of the East Wing of the White House.

As a designated historic landmark, any significant alteration to the building requires proper review and approval under federal historic preservation laws and established oversight processes. Unilateral demolition or substantial modification without adherence to these legal requirements would raise significant legal and constitutional concerns.

If changes were undertaken outside of required approvals, the East Wing should be rebuilt to match the original architectural specifications in full compliance with historic preservation standards. Moreover, if private corporations offered to fund related projects, restoration costs should not fall on American taxpayers.

Preserving the integrity of our nation's historic landmarks is not a partisan issue—it is a matter of respecting the rule of law and safeguarding our shared heritage.

I urge immediate transparency regarding the authorization process and a commitment to full restoration consistent with historic preservation requirements.

The East Wing did not need to be modernized. The East Wing should never have been touched without the proper review, planning and agreement of the public.

The East Wing should be restored to its original design.

Trump destroyed a huge piece of American history illegally and should have to fund the restoration.

The razing of the East Wing was done without any prior permits or authorizations. It does not belong to any one President, but to the people of the United States. It is a historic landmark. The East Wing should be rebuilt with the historical architectural details. No ballroom should be added to the White House grounds at this time.

I was horrified at Donald J Trump's having the East Wing demolished. He had no business destroying history on a whim without getting the proper approval and permits. There is no need for a giant ballroom when other venues in the D.C. area could serve the same purpose. The "Peoples' House" should be built back the way it was. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Supposedly, this project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

While parts of the Peoples House also known as the White House probably need to be modernized, tearing down the East Wing was not the right way. The wing needs to be rebuilt and the size should not be larger, be out of scale or distract from the overall design of the entire building. Restoring it would be ideal, but with internal modernizations.

Any changes to Federal buildings, grounds, gardens need to be approved by historical scholars. No President should have the right to put a permanent building designed by himself. These areas are part of our American history and need to be preserved and cultivated carefully. I oppose demolishing the East Wing of the White House to build a ballroom. To me it is a needless expense and an affront to good taste. It has survived for 250 years without a ballroom and can easily survive another 250 more. I find this particularly galling because this needless ostentation is happening at a time when many average citizens struggle to meet basic needs
If Trump feels the need to hold a ball, there are several DC hotels that can suffice.

Thank you for your time.

As an historian, I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a "modernization project" but rather a complete razing of American history & replaced it with the fantasy project of a high end real estate developer. It is appropriate for a private estate, but not for the "people's house" that projects historical dignity to the public. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I have had the unique opportunity to visit the White House and my heart aches for the loss of history and the destruction done without due process and planning. I do not support spending $300 million to add a ballroom that has not gone through proper planning and permitting. One of the things that struck me on my tour was the American value of ingenuity and thrift of minimalism and adapting to make current structures work. There was a beautiful adaptation of each administration that could be seen. It built a story. I am angered and saddened that much of this has been torn off and lost in favor of an unplanned garish ballroom. Please do not allow that monstrosity to be built and hold Mr. Trump responsible to fix the damage caused.

Greetings,

My name is Sara Campbell and I am a project manager for a hospital doing primarily modernization projects. There is no scenario where this is a modernization project. This is destruction of historical property without the input of the owners.

I actually agree that there is a need for a larger space for state dinners, but destroying the East Wing for a golf club ballroom is not the solution. The rebuilding is this wing needs to be done with a proper OAC process with designs presented to us, the owners, before anything is built. Otherwise the administration needs to rebuild the wing as it was not charging taxpayers.

Also can there be a public disclosure of what happened to the contents of the wing and were any of the historical materials saved or was it all just bulldozed for ego?

Respectfully,
Sara Campbell, PMP

Hello, Planning Team.
Thank you for this opportunity to comment.
We, the People, All of Us This Time, are the rightful owners of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC. As such, it is fitting and proper to weigh in on the future of this property and its structures, a right that does not belong to the current tenant, whose occupancy is due to expire in January 2029.
However, since the illegal demolition of the East Wing calls for a plan to replace it, if it were up to me, I would propose that a mini nature preserve be "built" in its stead. You could call it the successor to the Rose Garden, another demolition of beauty that is now replaced by concrete.
That said, under no circumstances do I approve of a structure being built that dwarfs the original contours of the White House proper.
I trust that you will do the right thing by our beloved Executive Mansion.
Many thanks.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

Hi,

Please do not approve any plans for a ballroom that only serves as a vanity project for Trump and not as an enhancement of the People's House.

The East Wing was the heart of The White House that welcomed all people. Future plans should be for restoration of at least the previous functionality of the East Wing, preferably with a similar esthetic.

Please do not allow further destruction to this landmark.

I believe that projects need to & must follow the rules for environmental review & public comment before beginning. In this case, that did not happen. But, this project should be stopped until those rules can be done.
The White House is an historic building that even more needs to follow these rules. It is one that belongs to the people of the USA -- not to any one person, not even a president. Yes, as a citizen, the president is allowed to provide input -- but not to take away the input of everyone else.
At this time, the historic East Wing is gone. It needs to be restored [& not paid for by the citizens -- who did not cause this -- but the person who illegally had it torn down & anyone he can get to contribute to that funding]. It needs to be compatible with the rest of the building & what it was.
It needs to be restored so it is compatible with the rest of the White House & compatible to what it was before. Needed upgrades to electrical. lighting, insulation, handicapped access & the like [to bring up to current standards] should be done -- but not to change the style just to make one person happy. And, they also need to follow required review procedures.
Excess adornments, such as gold plating being added to existing areas should also be removed. They are just gaudy, IMO.
Huge ballrooms are NOT needed at the White House. An area for small events could be OK; but for large events there already are many other locations in the DC area that could be used -- & that have better parking for those who attend, which is not available near the White House at this time.
Public comment may decide that some appearance issues should be done. [I am not recommending any appearance changes from what the White House was before the East Wing was demolished. But, I am just one person & my opinion should count when the comments are submitted.]
Pres Trump needs to be told by Congress that US laws apply to him also. If he wants changes to anything, he can propose changes that then would need to follow rules for review before they could be passed & enacted.

I'm opposed to the tearing down of the East Wing and the loss of this historic part of the White House. It was done without the proper review, without the proper permits etc at the whim of one man. Even the President should be subject to the law. I am not alone in being outraged at this misuse of money.

It is bad enough that the lovely Rose Garden was paved over to make a patio and that the tasteful White House has been turned over to a golden mess of decor.

Not only was the existing structure torn down illegally, the proposed ballroom would overshadow our White House. It does not fit the aesthetic of the White House. It is not needed; large functions have accommodated for over a century. In fact the design is poorly planned and poorly conceived. The price tag has ballooned.
The sketches show a gaudy design not worthy of the people's house.

I want the East Wing be rebuilt to its former scale and former appearance inside and out. This never should have happened. Don't let the tearing down make this a fait accompli— which is what was intended.

The White House can only be altered with proper review and approval. Tearing down a section following the unilateral approval of the president does not accord with our nation of laws. Authorizing the new ballroom as a reward for this action only rewards this action.

The East Wing of the White House was illegally destroyed by a would-be dictator who believes he is above all laws and regulations. That such an historic building was destroyed at this maniac's whim is incredibly sad and should be a criminal act. What we can have him do now is to build a ballroom in a replica of the East Wing with the same footprint, size and character of the wonderful building which he destroyed. (Let us not forget this so-called president lied publicly to the citizen-owners of said building, stating that it would not be destroyed, only renovated!) The inside of this replica can include a small-size ballroom in the character of the historic building's age and architecture. No marble and fake or real gold doodads, please! Do not let the precedent stand that this can be attempted again by him or anyone else.
Also, please protect the Kennedy Center before he attempts to do the same to this very different treasure of a building!
Sincerely, a loyal, patriotic American citizen,
Susan Torres

As an American living and working in New Zealand, I want to say that seeing the demolition of the East Wing, an addition built to recognize, aide, and serve the First Ladies or partners of the President of the United States, has been both shocking and saddening even from this distance.

The People of the United States have been given no voice through this committee to approve the remodel of the historic People´s House. All protocols and procedures were as steamrolled as the East Wing itself.

The White House has always been a symbolic dwelling place. Children and people of all ages have been thrilled to visit and learn about its history. The East Wing, a place of productive and admirable work, has been destroyed and can only be remembered through photographs or stories of visits and visits.

More shocking is that the East Wing is planned to be replaced with a ¨party palace¨ for no other reason than to impress others. Whatever the cost, it would be ill-spent, no matter how it is gained because a ¨party palace¨ is a very poor symbol in these deeply troubling times.

One of the endearing attributes of America to the world has always been the gratitude and modesty of those who live and work in the White House and desire to serve their country to the best of their ability rather than put on a show.

Thank you for your consideration and the worthwhile work you do.

EDIT OF PREVIOUS TWO COMMENTS, SUBMITTED YESTERDAY (2/16/26)
SORRY ... THIRD TIME'S A CHARM!

I urge the commission to halt the construction of this monstrosity as soon as possible so the reconstruction of the East Wing, AS IT WAS, can be accomplished. The White House belongs to the people of the United States, NOT to the individual who currently (and temporarily) occupies it. I have walked in the halls and within the walls of the White House East Wing; to think of their destruction on the whim of one person makes me profoundly sad.

The unthinkable destruction of the East Wing was done because one person wants a glorious 400 MILLION DOLLAR ballroom to entertain his MAGA sycophants. As is usual, he is thinking solely of himself. The White House does not need a 400 MILLION DOLLAR ballroom and the people of the United States do not want one. They want their house to be put back the way it was, in proper proportion to the main structure. As to his claims that this ill-planned project would be paid for by "donations", I do not believe it. Somehow, somewhere, funds for it will come out of the pockets of taxpayers. I absolutely have no desire to have my tax dollars go toward ANY project that the current occupant wishes to build to glorify himself.

This has been such a colossal waste of time, money, and resources. It has scarred the beautiful landscape at the White House. It has been one more thing to bring unneeded stress to the American people. One person has been responsible for this and you know exactly who it is.

Please stop this project so that the reconstruction of the East Wing will be accomplished with proper oversight, permitting and consideration of historical context.

NO 90,000 SQ FT ADDITION and NO BALLROOM!

Sincerely,
Lori Neilson

I oppose and am appalled by the unauthorized demolition of the White House's east wing. This was the destruction not only of a building but of the "people's history." It is a squandering of money--whether it comes from donors, where it can be considered bribes to the president, or whether it comes from the taxpayers.

I want this abomination not only canceled, but the East Wing must be rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is not a palace. It is not a tsar's residence. The National Trust oversees this building because it belongs to us, the people, not to any president. I know that taste is subjective, but we all know what it is to be modest. A ballroom that dwarfs the White House is not modest, and I would say it is tasteless and tacky. It sends a signal, perhaps accurately, that the United States government and all of its officials are for sale. While this may be true, I'd rather continue to think that we can change that, and a building is just too concrete a symbol that the ultra-rich are running things. Please stop the East Wing Modernization Project and restore the East Wing to its former size and uses. The Trump family can pay for the restoration, not the taxpayers. Thank you.

I find the proposal of an outrageous ballroom nothing but grandiose dreams of a wanna be monarch. The East Wing was destroyed without consultation, permits or plans. This is a temporary residence for the President, and it is "The People's House." This is not a remodel, it's a fever dream of narcissistic proportions...along with a dramatic arch, renaming a living memorial after oneself, and wanting a bridge and a Nobel Prize. I want the East Wing rebuilt and restored.
I would like the donated money returned to the billionaire donors as it is unreasonable to expect the donations wouldn't be influential. However, I suspect the donations have been pocketed by a certain entity who is considered"above the law."

Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The White House isn't merely the residence of the President of the U.S. It is a National Historic Landmark and National Park, property of the the people of the United States and the official presidential residence since 1800. The occupant at any point in history does not own or have authority to alter the White House or its contents except for minimal changes in style or display that must be reversible. Any current president is only a temporary tenant limited to what he or she can change by the law and respect for all of the citizens of the nation.
The recent demolition of the historic East Wing without any review, permits, or Congressional oversight was done clearly in violation of the law. It is also a violation of the trust of the people. There was no time or means provided for public comment on what law and custom dictated be only a proposal and not a blatantly unauthorized illegal destructive act done without prior approval transparency, or adequate warning.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require restoration of the East Wing to a state as near to its historically approved design and size as possible. Any new construction on the site of the demolished wing must be faithful to the original style, structure, and size of the original East Wing of the nation's executive mansion.

This is a scandal and a scam being perpetrated on the American people. If the National Capital Planning Commission is to claim any legitimacy as an independent government agency, with subject matter expertise and fidelity to steward the public's financial resources and our nation's history, you must halt this spectacle at once, issue fines, and refuse to permit further actions to damage the White House or advance the megalomaniacal delusions of its current occupant and his sycophants.

The mission of your agency is "to preserve and enhance the extraordinary historical, cultural, and natural resources and federal assets of the National Capital Region to support the needs of the federal government and enrich the lives of the region's visitors, workers, and residents." It is apparent that your agency has failed to preserve the extraordinary historical...resource of the East Wing of the White House because you were apparently not consulted, notified, or asked to review any plans whatsoever before wanton destruction began. The region's visitors, workers, and residents are under assault by people who are literally and figuratively attempting to dismantle our constitutional democracy and representative form of government. HOLD THE LINE. Do not approve any further actions in this mad and wasteful project. Issue fines, and DO NOT GIVE IN to narcissists, bullies, and cretins.

Esteemed Members of the National Capital Planning Commission:

I ask you to hold the Trump Administration accountable for its unauthorized partial demolition of the existing East Wing of the White House and to require it to cease construction of the privately-funded East Wing Modernization Project until and unless it successfully undergoes the rigorous design review and permit-granting processes required prior to altering an architectural landmark of such singular importance to our nation's history and identity.

I do not oppose architectural modifications to the White House or other historic public buildings. However, I do share the specific concerns expressed by the National Trust for Historic Preservation in its October 21, 2025 letter regarding the Trump Administration's proposed construction of this White House ballroom:

"While the National Trust acknowledges the utility of a larger meeting space at the White House, we are deeply concerned that the massing and height of the proposed new construction will overwhelm the White House itself—it is 55,000 square feet—and may also permanently disrupt the carefully balanced classical design of the White House with its two smaller, and lower, East and West Wings. The federally recognized Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation offer clear guidance for construction projects affecting historic properties. The Standards provide that new additions should not destroy the historic fabric of the property and that the new work should be compatible with existing massing, size, scale, and architectural features.
Owned by the American people, the White House was designed by Irish architect James Hoban, whose winning proposal was selected by President George Washington. The building respects Georgian and neoclassical principles. It is a National Historic Landmark, a National Park, and a globally recognized symbol of our nation's ideals."

The Trump administration has claimed without evidence that its so-called West Wing Modernization project will not compromise the architectural integrity of the White House. Furthermore, it has embarked on this project as if its private funding sources rendered it immune to oversight from Congress, the NCPC, or other institutions of the federal government.

The demolition of the East Wing and proposed construction of a 90,000 square foot ballroom in its place does not constitute the only instance in which the Trump administration has acted to obfuscate American history and subvert the norms of federal government that undergird our democracy. At this juncture, I ask that you require the Trump administration to redirect ballroom project funds to the rebuilding and restoration of the East Wing to its former design under the direction of non-partisan historic preservationists and cancel any further building until you deem that restoration complete. To allow this project to proceed without penalizing those who have broken the law would be an affront to all law abiding Americans and future generations.

Respectfully,

Analisa Taylor, PhD

I object to the Trump destruction of the East Wing with no permission granted from the proper channels or communication with the owners of the White House, The American people. The money he has solicited is part of his ongoing selling of access to billionaires, not for the benefit of the citizens of our country. Its a bunker not a ballroom and we want no part of it. Its a painful metaphor for his destruction of our democracy and it must be rebuilt with modern modifications that make sense for the future. Thank you for your efforts to rein in this destructive decision and return it to a respectful and historical building that it was.
Sincerely,
Wynne Cook

This building is a historical landmark/monument & should not be disturbed for 1 persons pleasure I don't approve of all the gold he's put in either

It is troubling that the People's house was razed without public input and support. The East Wing and the gardens represented long American traditions and should have been given more care and consideration. I would like to see opportunity for the American people to have more input into what happens in this space. Those who are responsible should also be held to account for any violations.

Re: The East Wing and the "East Wing Modernization Project".

Far from a modernization project, we've seen the outright demolition of "the heart of the White House" which was, absolutely, a slap across the faces of law-abiding Americans who treasure our history and traditions.

Without a word to anyone charged with the preservation of our heritage, and after telling the public that his "ballroom" would not impact our White House, Mr. Trump went ahead and bulldozed. Where—and for that matter—if the contents were preserved and stored, no one knows.

I oppose the spending of $300 million (or whatever amount is stated today) on this project. It was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled. I want the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. As the 'People's House,' the White House must prioritize historical stewardship over personal aesthetic shifts. I advocate for the restoration of the East Wing's original exterior dimensions and architectural style.

Modernization should be strictly limited to essential infrastructure: security enhancements, updated telecommunications, and universal ADA accessibility. All modifications must adhere to established protocols for historically sensitive landmarks.

Furthermore, the proposed ballroom expansion should be rejected; the resulting traffic congestion would negatively impact the surrounding historic district including Lafayette Square and Pennsylvania Avenue pedestrian access. Any need for expanded event space should be met by utilizing existing venues elsewhere in the city.

Personally, I am overall opposed to the ballroom. However, if there must be one:
1. Size. The size should be proportional to the size of the White House. When people see this complex it shouldn't "slap you in the face" because of its size.
2. Style. This is The Peoples House, and the style should reflect the people, this country, and what makes us unique and special to our citizens. It should be elegant, softly beautiful, and make a subtle but at the same time strong statement. It shouldn't be gaudy or look like a pretend historical European structure. It doesn't need to glitter. It should blend with and complement the White House. While one style will never please everyone it should please the average American more than billionaires.
3. Name. Again, this is The Peoples House and the name should reflect that.
4. Miscellaneous. Bathroom designs need to reflect women's needs. This includes quantity, size, asthetics.
5. Future. The design and style of whatever is agreed to now needs to also consider the future and what needs and changes might become evident at that time. It should support growth and change.
6. Cost. This ballroom is part of The People's House. It isn't supposed to be "bought" by private individuals or businesses. Perhaps it should be delayed until the budget can come through other means. The people of the United States should be able to feel proud and invested in whatever is or isn't built, and some of that comes from our investment in the future.
7. Summary. We may be stuck with building something due to current circumstances, but in the end I deserve the right to be proud of this structure, of it's design and functionality, of how it reflects on our country. I deserve the opportunity to support this build. I deserve the right to think of it as belonging to The People.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to let you know what I think regarding this.
Respectfully,
Kathy Walton

I am deeply concerned that significant changes affecting the White House East Wing reportedly occurred without transparent public review or adherence to the normal planning and preservation protocols expected for a historic national site. Decisions affecting nationally significant properties should follow established processes and allow public input before irreversible actions occur. I urge the Commission to ensure that any damage or alteration be fully reviewed and, where feasible, restored to preserve the historic character of the site. Accountability and transparency are essential so that public trust—and public resources—are respected.

The White House complex is part of our shared national heritage, and changes to such historic structures should involve clear public process and preservation oversight. Historic national sites do not belong to any single administration; they belong to the people of the United States of America.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. Frankly, the demolition of the East Wing was done without authorization and against the wishes of many Americans. I can't imagine being a tenant in any house and ordering demolition without the permission of the building owner! As for a ballroom…with all the large hotels in the Washington DC area, this would be seldom used and a burden on the taxpayers for maintenance and upkeep.

In my opinion the East Wing should be replaced, with appropriate modernizations, to its original form and function. And, in all candor, the bill for this project should be paid by Donald Trump from his PERSONAL WEALTH so it will not burden the American people.

The East wing of the white house should never have been demolished without appropriate approval by the agencies with that authority. I find the idea of a ballroom or bunker or any "modernization" requested by the current administration to be unnecessary and a ridiculously tone deaf waste of taxpayer money. Please restore the East Wing and make the administration pay for it with their donated funds.

Dear NCPC,

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Thank you,
Cora Nally

This is not a "Modernization" project but rather a complete razing of the East Wing and American history! The East Wing must be rebuilt and restored to its former design. NO ONE is above the law to take it upon themself to destroy what belongs to the American people without our say-so. Those who broke the law and permit this project to go ahead should be penalized to the full extent of the law as it is a slap in the face to all Americans.

I oppose this plan which changes the look of the nationally owned White House. There were no enviromental studies done, no public opinion asked, nor were we the taxpayers asked about how we felt about spending that ridiculous amount of money on a project that more disfigures one of our nationally recognized buildings, that's been a home for our President and their families to use for over 200 years. We have so many other seriously pressing issues in our society at this moment that need funding that it's almost a sacrilege to spend it on something so frivolous. Please turn down the appropriation of any funding for this project or reduce the amount of federal monies used to a reasonable amount, we most certainly need a golden gilded ballroom for any reason. Thank you for listening to one of the thousands of "We the People".

The tearing down of the East Wing of the White House, which belongs to the people was incredibly disrespectful to the people as well as offensive and illegal. We demand a prosecution of the law, along with an accounting of historical objects lost inside and the consequences the law decides, such as the rebuilding of the East Wing at the cost to the perpetrators. It's extremely unlikely that the perpetrators will admit error far less issue an apology, but the consequences and punishment should be proportionate to the crime and not a slap on the wrist to an administration that feels it can do anything with impunity.

To completely bypass the Congress and the people and with little planning and oversight. This massive ballroom will overpower the rest of the people's house in Washington DC. First, the proposed addition is a grave concern because the executive branch broke the law by beginning construction without filing plans with the National Capital Planning Commission, by not seeking an environmental assessment of the project, and by declining to seek authorisation from Congress.

Second, the proposed addition appears to significantly extend into the landscape south of the existing East Wing. This impacts not only the layout and configuration of the buildings, but also the surrounding landscape that is equally important to the historic character of the White House and the President's Park (including Lafayette Park and the Ellipse). As such, any changes to the White House grounds should be carefully deliberated and involve appropriate landscape experts.

Third, the proposed 90, 000-sq-ft ballroom would dwarf the main White House, at nearly double the size. Additional, it is unclear how it will impact other architectural details of mansion.

Finally, without Congressional oversight and the guidance of exports in history and architecture, the proposed ballroom threatens the historical, political, and architectural integrity of the White House, possibly even resulting in authoritarian monumentalism, a result that would buttress individual egos eroding the mansion symbolism as The People's House.

The Executive branch must obtain approval from congress for making major changes to public property. The current administration has already gone too far in completely destroying the east wing. In addition, the offending White House occupant should be prosecuted for breaking the law. He mist be accountable to the people of the United States, whose historic property he has wantonly destroyed.

The White House stands as a visual representation of our nation's identity. When its legacy is dismantled without transparency or lawful process, it mirrors the broader instability and division many Americans feel today.
The decision to spend $300 million on a project undertaken without proper authorization, permitting, or design oversight is deeply concerning. What is being described as modernization is, in reality, the erasure of American history.
This project should be halted immediately, and the East Wing restored to its former design and historical character.
Accountability matters.
Restoration matters.
To unify and move forward, we must recommit to preserving both our civic and physical institutions and return our nation to a foundation grounded in respect for history, law, and shared purpose.
History is watching.

I can hardly believe that this president was allowed to have part of our national heritage razed to the ground with no review of plans. There were no plans to review in the first place!
This president never has understood that he is a public servant who resides in the White House at the pleasure of the People. The People are Sovereign, yet he treats the White House as if it were his own property, and not ours. The East Wing should be rebuilt as it was, with minimal changes as might be needed for some small modernizations, designed and executed by a third party unaffiliated with the president, paid for out of this president's personal accounts, with damages in lieu of prison time to be assessed by an independent judicial committee, and paid into the Treasury of the United States.

This project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. Even here it is being called a "modernization project" when it was rather a complete razing of American history which was apparently carried out without consideration of which functions (e.g., security facilities) would be destroyed in the process and required in the interim. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. It would set a dangerous precedent for future administrations both in regards to the wanton destruction of public property without due process and the insidious influence of private donations to buy influence and attention. If any private funds are used in this project, they should come from those responsible for the destruction, but only to fund construction underseen by independent architects and engineers who can ensure that the new building follows all safety and construction protocols.

Sincerely,
Ellen Yutzy Glebe

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion. In addition, the party responsible for authoring this demolition must be held accountable for the cost of reconstruction.

This should NEVER have been started. And my fear is they'll get 1/2 way done and demand taxpayer dollars to finish it. I'd much rather have the history that was in the east wing than a new bunker and a gold plated (bleh) room to honor a president who has done more damage to our history, infrastructure, and democracy. PLEASE stop this lunatic and his hairbrained project!

How can this just happen without any sort of checks and balances? How can a building just be destroyed unilaterally? What company was hired? Who made the contract? I live in a historic Eduardian house, and if I destroyed it to build a grotesque monument to myself and my own vanity, I would face consequences, I'm not even sure what they would be but there would be something. Why am I held to a higher standard than the President of the United States? If this is how it's going to be, can we just be truthful about it? There are laws for all of us to follow and obey, and there is a class of people, including but not limited to the President, who do not even have any laws to follow, who are never held accountable, and who can do whatever they want without consequences. The building was not his to destroy; it is ours, all of ours. We the people.

The preservation of our history is paramount to understanding what the United States is. Our museums, our National Parks and our structures all tell the story of America. Its important that it is cared for, cherished and carefully managed.
Therefore, I wish to state that I oppose the construction of a $300 million, 90 thousand square foot ballroom that was initiated without the proper reviews, permits and authorization that is required by law. This project should be stopped immediately and the finds that were donated used to restore the East Wing of the White House to its original appearance.
The White House belong to the People of the United States, not the temporary occupant each President is. It is the Peoples House.
Not only should this project NOT go forward but those who violated our laws and defiled our history should be prosecuted.
Thank you.

I oppose the spending of any money on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history that makes me ill every time I think about it the destruction of the East Wing. I cried when it was pulled down with complete disregard for the storied history of the building. I remember my first and only tour of the East Wing during a high school trip to Washington DC and the awe I felt when I first walked in. I'm not alone in this despair. The White House, including the East Wing, belongs to all Americans, not the person who occupies the office of the president. I want the modernization project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former glory. No one is above the law, especially not politicians, and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding, patriotic Americans.

The White House is the people's house, owned by the American people, NOT the president. As a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, it belongs to the public and is maintained and protected by the public. The president is only a temporary resident. one allowed to occupy the space at the will of the people in order to SERVE the people.

The recent destruction of the historic East Wing, without review, permits, or authorization--and without Congressional approval or public consent--not only violated the law; it violated the people's trust. Its reckless demolition to, of all things, build a massive privately-funded ballroom, erases an important portion of our history and disrespects the democracy it symbolizes.

I implore the National Capital Planning Commission reject the President's plans for a new, huge White House ballroom. The President's lawless actions--from razing the East Wing without review or permits or adherence to historic preservation laws, to ethically questionable, if not corrupt, quid pro quo private fundraising--must not be permitted to stand. No one is above the law!

Additionally I strongly urge the NCPC to rebuild and restore the East Wing to its original historic design. At minimum, any new construction on the demolition site should be required to match the style of the original structure of the Executive Residence, including being subordinate in size. Further, any reconstruction or new construction should be PUBLICLY funded through Congressional appropriations to ensure the White House remains owned by the people. Barring Congressional appropriation for reconstruction, the land should remain vacant until such time as Congress approves funding AND (re)construction has been fully vetted and authorized through appropriate legal processes.

Moreover, given the potential public health and safety risks related to the unauthorized demolition, the NCPC must mitigate any remaining health and safety risks at the site and ensure that workers and DC residents are compensated for any health issues that arise from this illegal action on the part of the administration.

Restore the people's house for the people, and re-establish the White House as a National Historic Landmark (in its entirety) and as a symbol of democracy and public good.

If a historical property owned by the citizens of the IS, it should be throughly vetted before any demolition begins. The existing building should have been throughly documented. The architect should be vetted before any work begins. Then the addition should designed to match the scale of the existing historical building and not overwhelm it. Please do not allow the prosed project to proceed.

The White House is the house of the people of these United States. Any significant changes should be planned, discussed, and debated They should not be begun lightly or without proper regard to the tradition of public input in public projects and with respect to the rich history of the White House itself, and the historic role it has played in our country.
Seriously, for many of us, it would be impossible to add on a room to our houses in the city without a lengthy approval and permitting process. Seeing the hasty destruction of the East Wing feels reckless and a personal project rather than a project of the people.
Traditionally, many of the First Lady's efforts would find their home in the East Wing, and this important role should not be forgotten.
Please, let's stop the destruction and have a public conversation about what the goals are, how to accommodate its previous role, and whether or not the new features are really necessary and warranted.
Let's make sure the home of the people is representing our citizenry in the best possible way.

I believe the White House East Wing should be rebuilt to the exact specifications that it was prior to the unlawful destruction of it. All furnishings that were in it prior to the unlawful demolition need to be returned to their original locations.
The White House, both the East and West Wing as well as the grounds belong to the American people. None of it belongs to any president, current, past or future. It is government housing that is provided by the American people. It is and will always be THE AMERICAN PEOPLES HOUSE.
DJT wrongfully decided that he wanted himself a newer, larger ballroom instead of the East Wing. He did not ask his bosses, the American people, for permission. He asked no one for permission. He acted like an unruly tenant and violated the rules in his lease.
The majority of Americans want their East Wing rebuilt. We do not want new, bigger ballrooms. DJT needs to remember that the White House is NOT his home. It is his TEMPORARY, PART TIME residence.
PLEASE, do not allow him to change anything else about the PEOPLES HOUSE.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I strongly oppose the ballroom design, which is excessive and unnecessary and simply being done to fulfill the egotistical desires of one person. It was initiated without the proper permits, authorization or design review. It is not a modernization, it is a gutting of what was formerly “the people’s house”, which is now becoming an outlandish and garish copy of some autocrat’s palace. I would prefer that the East Wing be rebuilt to its former elegant design, which complements the rest of the White House architecture, with the bill paid solely by Donald J. I oppose this project as no reviews or permissions were granted before Trump decided to tear down the East Wing for his ridiculously outsized golden ballroom. The White House is the People's House and not his to desecrate. It needs to return to the state it was before Trump made changes and he and all companies involved need to be fined for illegally caused damage AND pay to have it restored. It is a National Historic building and needs to be protected. The Rose Garden should be restored too!

I strongly oppose the spending of $300 million+ on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. The White House belongs to the people of the United States, not the current resident. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law, and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The WH belongs to the American people, not to a president to do with as he pleases. The current occupant tore down the East Wing without legally required authorization. There should be no ballroom or other "modernization". It should be rebuilt exactly as it was before he had it demolished.

To tear down American history and replace it with a gaudy hangout for the ultra-wealthy, let alone to spend $300 million and break any number of laws in doing so, is a slap in the face of every American. I demand the ballroom project be halted and the East Wing restored as closely as possible to its previous state.

I'm deeply concerned about the East Wing "Modernization" Trump ballroom project. The White House is one of our nation's most important historic landmarks, owned by all Americans and a symbol of our democratic traditions. Major changes like this should not proceed without transparent review, full compliance with federal preservation laws, and meaningful public input before irreversible demolition occurs. The East Wing should have never been demolished and those responsible should be held accountable to the fullest extent of the law.

The demolition of the historic East Wing and construction of a much larger, privately funded ballroom raises serious concerns about bypassing established review processes meant to protect national heritage and ensure accountability to the public. I urge the Commission to require full historic and environmental reviews, enforce compliance with NEPA and the Commission of Fine Arts and National Capital Planning Commission standards, and ensure that future decisions uphold the integrity and legacy of the People's House rather than expanding it without broad public consensus.

If this project is allowed to continue as is, what's to stop the Lincoln Memorial or the Washington Monument from being toppled? We have guardrails for a reason, they must be respected.

I oppose the East Wing White House demolition without the President and his team following the proper approvals and the spending of at least $400 million dollars to complete the project. (First it was $200, then Oct. 2025 it was $300 and finally Dec. 2025 was $400 million.)
And the “donations” used to fund it are just forms of bribes. The American people did not ask for this ballroom!

Trump is out of control. This is the people’s house, not his. He is erasing our history and the wing needs to be restored to its original specs. Sadly, it will never be the same.

And the Kennedy Center…remove his name and do not allow the gaudy arch he is pushing to come to fruition. Can’t believe the historic Rose Garden was allowed to be paved over either.

There are so many more important issues that need to be addressed. Please stop this ballroom construction!

Thank you.

I stand in firm and unequivocal opposition to this unlawful $300 million — and now reportedly $400 million — demolition and replacement of the White House East Wing, a 123-year-old national landmark that belonged not to any president, but to the American people. This project was carried out in defiance of legally mandated review processes: it proceeded without approval from the National Capital Planning Commission, without review by the Commission of Fine Arts, without a public comment period, and without required congressional authorization. That is not modernization — it is the willful destruction of shared American history and heritage, compounded by deliberate contempt for the law.

This project must be stopped, and those responsible for bypassing federal preservation law must be held fully accountable. The National Historic Preservation Act exists precisely to prevent decisions of this magnitude from being made unilaterally and in secret. As the National Trust for Historic Preservation has rightly argued: no president — none — has the legal authority to demolish portions of the White House without any review whatsoever. The law is not optional for the powerful. To allow this project to proceed without consequence would set a dangerous precedent that those in positions of authority are exempt from the legal obligations that every other American institution must honor.

I demand the immediate halt of all construction activity, full compliance with all required federal review and public comment processes, and the restoration of the East Wing to its original historic design. The American people deserve accountability, transparency, and respect for the rule of law — not a fait accompli built on rubble.

Tearing down the East Wing of the People's House was an absolutely abomination. A President has the honor of living in the People's House, and not the right to tear any part of it down. "Modernization" was a false pretense and despicable false pretense and should not have been even started without the appropriate permissions, approvals and approval of Congres..

Building a gigantic ballroom using massive "donations" is simply a major grift operation to curry favor and "favors" with the current occupant of the White House, and a gigantic ballroom that far exceeds the size of the White House is absolutely vulgar and should NOT have been initiated without the approval of Congress and all other appropriate permission.

I kindly ask that you review the requests of the citizens to stop this project. Sadly, the desecration of the People's Wing has already proven to be a failure.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. NO ONE IS ABOVE THE LAW.

Our country has strived to follow the democratic principles that it was founded on. We have not always been successful but it has been the goal of many, many citizens, leaders & Presidents. There is little evidence of that in this current POTUS's plan. Follow the rules. Be a leader that we can be proud of.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion

The tearing down of the East Wing is a travesty, especially since it was done with no adequate review by any of the entities that are delegated to oversee such projects.
Rebuilding the entire wing exactly as it was is the only solution to retain the history of the entire building. Yes, it's fine to update the electrical, plumbing. HVAC, etc. However, the rest of the construction needs to reestablish the historic ambience that has been destroyed.
The project needs to be overseen by experts in American history, architecture, and decor. Both my husband and I worked in professional positions at the Smithsonian Institution, and we know that experts in historical reconstruction need to oversee this project.
Thank you for correcting this infringement on one of our most important shrines.

Our President and minions have become complete barbarians in their assault our own history. Rule by decree (executive orders) to bypass normal procedures of project approval. Now we have an opportunity to comment, months after the East Wing was bulldozed? Who will follow the funding to insure not a dime of taxpayer money is used? What procedures for competitive bidding are being followed? This is a multi million dollar vanity project! A ballroom that will be larger than what remains of the White House. This is simply a dog marking his territory!

I submit this comment as a citizen and co-owner of the White House — a National Historic Landmark held in trust for all Americans — to object to the East Wing Modernization Project as currently conceived, and to demand conditions if construction proceeds.

The Demolition Was Institutional Vandalism

President Trump authorized the destruction of an 80-year-old historically significant structure without public notice, without congressional authorization, and without legally required reviews. The public was not notified. We were not asked. The administration demolished first and sought permission later — a brazen inversion of the rule of law that governs every other federally significant building in America.

The Process Was Deliberately Undermined

Rather than comply with established review requirements, the administration packed the NCPC and Commission of Fine Arts with political loyalists lacking expertise in architecture or historic preservation. This is not good-faith compliance. It is regulatory capture in plain sight.

The Scale Is Wrong

At 89,000 square feet, the proposed addition is 60% larger than the White House mansion itself, which is 55,000 square feet. A structure that dwarfs the People's House does not complement it — it overwhelms it. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has said so directly, and they are right.

The Inspiration Is Wrong

This project began as Trump's 15-year ambition to build something resembling the gilded spaces of his private clubs. Mar-a-Lago is a private resort. The White House is a democratic institution. They are not the same, and they must not look the same.

The Funding Raises Serious Ethical Concerns

The project cost has ballooned from $200 million to $400 million. Private donors include Apple, Amazon, Google, Microsoft, Meta, Lockheed Martin, and other corporations with billions in federal contracts and regulatory exposure. The appearance of purchased access to the White House cannot be dismissed.

IF THIS PROJECT PROCEEDS, THE NCPC MUST IMPOSE THESE CONDITIONS:

The new structure must be smaller than the 55,000-square-foot White House mansion in footprint, height, and visual mass. The President's house must remain the dominant structure on its own grounds.

The design must reflect the Federal neoclassical architecture of the White House — the same restrained classical vocabulary, white palette, and dignified proportions established by James Hoban's original design. It must read as a respectful companion, not a monument to personal ego.

There must be no ostentatious ornamentation. No gilded interiors, no gold fixtures, no Mar-a-Lago aesthetic. The finish standard must be that of the White House State Rooms — historically informed and publicly appropriate.

Full public design review must occur before vertical construction begins. The American people were shut out of the demolition decision. They must have genuine input on what rises in its place.

The White House belongs to all Americans — not to any president, not to any donor, and not to a developer's private vision of grandeur. The NCPC has both the authority and the obligation to ensure that whatever is built here honors that truth.

I heartily oppose the replace of the East Wing that is underway. Even though public funds are not being spent on it, we know that all dealings with President Trump are transactional. In other words, any of those who donated to this project expect to be compensated with political favors. Those favors may be far more costly than any monetary transaction. They involve selling our government to the highest bidder. Also, given this president's penchant for all things gaudily gold, the affront to the historic integrity is not acceptable.
Please put an end to this boondoggle and demand that the East Wing be restored to its original elegance.

I am an Oregon filmmaker who moved and restored EIGHT 100-year-old Victorians, a Gothic Italianate, and a 4-square American because they are so important to save as inimitable works of Art; and because they hold so much HISTORY! The first one my Mom was born in, built by my Great Uncle in 1890, and the new owners were going to burn it down. I just went to save a tiny piece of it for my Mom- and then they gave me the whole house for $1.00 USD. It will last another 100 years, because it was made with clear old growth wood for it's balloon frame, had wood floors, 12" x 12" solid wood beams underneath, and was lovingly and painstakingly finished with flair and beauty including gorgeous ornate window pulls. You cannot move a modern house. It isn't built well enough.

The permits to move them and restore them were mind-boggling! It just does not seem fair that someone can burn or tear down any of these houses, let alone without a permit! It feels like some sort of violation of our past. But to tear down part of the WHITE HOUSE? Are you kidding me? Just like I reveled in learning about these old houses and the craftsmanship it took to build them, and how well they are treasured now- this hearing will go down in infamy if it choses to allow this violation of the White House, our country's pride and joy.

This project was initiated with no oversight or official input from Congress. It should not have been allowed and it should be halted. The modernization is about updating the previous underground bunker to sequester the President (the ballroom crap is just distraction). While government security is important, allowing the current tyrant to act with impunity on this means the possibility of a secret bunker that not even congress may have access to. I don’t want a dictator to have a bunker. Without oversight this is not security, it is dangerous. Congress must stop this project.

Dear Capital Planning Commission,

I write to comment on the East Wing Modernization project.

I oppose the idea of building a $400 million ballroom. It would have limited use for the funds invested. In specific, the ballroom would not be used for perhaps 90% of the time.

Instead, I ask for a 2-story working space which would be used daily. The top floor would restore the offices for the First Lady. The first floor would be a public space to showcase America's leadership in democratic ideals, helping other nations, and arts and culture. It could be branded to show America will lead the world for the next 250 years. I would agree to any building design which matches the architecture of the West Wing and White House.

I appreciate the opportunity to comment.

I oppose the spending of $300 million (or any other amount not authorized by Congress) to create a huge ballroom (whose plans were not submitted for appropriate approvals) in lieu of the prior configuration of the East Wing where guests and school groups were welcomed to « the people's house ». First Ladies who actually lived in the White House and took their responsibilities seriously had offices convenient to the president's Oval Office. No wrecking ball should have been used without prior appropriate submission of envisioned « renovations » a term used cavalierly when one acknowledges the scope of the envisioned changes. This is an unnecessary, wasteful vanity project that does not serve the American people. Please do not permit this project to continue.

Dear Madame/Sir-
I am a licensed architect and engineer. I have worked in building design - much of it for the GSA, the National Parks, and other federal agencies - for 34 years.

I understand the carefully regulated review and approval processes put in place to protect our heritage of culturally significant buildings and places. This heritage is our birthright, and the government is obligated to protect these buildings and places on behalf of the US citizenry.

I categorically oppose this project, which was initiated without the legally mandated permits, authorization or design review. This is in NO way a "modernization" project but instead a complete obliteration of our history and heritage. I demand the immediate cancellation of this project and the rebuilding of the East Wing in is former state.

I would never dream of undertaking a professional design and construction project for a private entity and - especially- for a public agency without moving through all the required permits, approvals and reviews. Nor would I be allowed to do so. The perpetrators of this project are no different. And they are NOT above the law.

Cancel it now.

Thank you.

John Breshears

This must end NOW and any money earned (bribes anyway) can pay for rising health insurance costs for those in need!

Hello.
I am writing to confirm my stern objection to this project. The "East Wing Modernization Project" will dwarf what remains of the original White House. I object paying any of my tax dollars to finance it, even though Mr.Trump has said it will be paid for by his supporters. I do not believe him.

There is no possible need for a ballroom of this exagerrated size unless Mr. Trump starts inviting the general public as guests, which I seriously doubt.

I resent strongly the illegal manner in which he ordered the demolition of the original East Wing, without requesting permission and performing the demolition without warning, thus making it impossible to prevent. Mr. Trump does not obey our laws and makes a mockery of being a law abiding citizen.

I thank you for this opportunity to express my opinion.

Cordially,
Jeanette Phillips

Rebuild the original East Wing, because it should have never been torn down. The White House belongs to the people, not the temporary resident. I also believe that Donald Trump should be made to pay to rebuild it since he tore it down without the approval of Congress.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The demolition of the East Wing of the People's House was done carelessly and with no regard for the history contained in its hallways. Further destruction must be stopped and efforts to rebuild halted until a review can be done and approval sought by Congress. The current occupant is nothing more than a renter. Changes made while inhabiting the People's House should be required to be reviewed by both historians and preservationists. Determination of additions, renovations, and/or expansion of the footprint of the White House should not be left to a failed developer with no taste.

I strongly object to the building of this ballroom. I feel the destruction was done to the East wing in an unlawful way without consideration by Congress or Historical and Preservation committees in Washington DC. No President should have the power to tear down a significant historical part of the White House whose design was asymmetrical to the West Wing without any oversight. This is the People's House and doesn't belong to one man regardless of who is paying for the project. The design for it is not a modernization project but an ego filled slap in the face to the American Public. The East Wing should be rebuilt in the same exterior design and any security needs for the President can be modernized at that time. Any ballroom built for use by the President and future Presidents with outside funding should be done on other government property. As far as the name....Congress needs to pass a law that ensures any President can not put his own name on any federal buildings while serving as President. It's an abuse of power.

Please stop construction of the grotesque ballroom Mr. Trump has illegally ordered into existence. A ballroom befitting a royal palace has no place in the Executive Mansion. Such a project is counter to the businesslike decorum and simplicity required of the residence of the American Chief Executive. I intensely oppose the destruction of the East Wing and the construction of an unnecessary "Ballroom" in its place. It has been clear from the beginning that this gaudy waste was an attempt at further self-aggrandizement by President Trump and of no benefit to The People of The United States of America. I would also like to know if the hundreds of millions of dollars claimed to have been pledged or donated to the project were actually given and if so, to whom and where the money is now? If it disappeared into the private funds of the president, I demand he be prosecuted for this embezzlement.
The current president is not above the law and did not have permission or authorization to destroy one of our cherished buildings representative of the history of our great nation. I demand that the ballroom plans be cancelled and the East Wing be fully reconstructed EXACTLY as it was before this offense to our nation took place. And I demand that president Donald Trump pay for this full reconstruction out of his personal funds. Please take whatever action is necessary to return the East Wing to its important place in our history and make sure that Donald Trump pays for the damage and repair.

When I saw that President Trump had ok’d tearing down the East Wing of the White House, I thought of when I was able to see the very special home of our presidents when I was in eighth grade.
Our teacher had done a beautiful job of teaching us about the three branches of government and how they held each other in checks and balance.
And now, some fifty years later, it pains me to see the White House violated just as the systems of checks and balances is being violated.
Please hold President Trump accountable for tearing down a part of the White House. Please hold him accountable for doing so without respecting any process in place.

Both my twelve-year-old self and my 62-year-old self want to see the White House restored using the 300 million dollars of donations by wealthy Trump supporters.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

There isn't a need for a ballroom, as events of that size, including ballroom dancing (?) are not frequent enough to warrant a dedicated space. There is enough real estate nearby in DC to create a ballroom or similar to be used by any Presidential Administration.

While the East Wing is restored to its historic design and size, please also return the Rose Garden to its previous botanical footprint, rather than a paved outdoor food court.

Thank you for taking on this battle on the behalf of the American people.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be

To those it may concern,
I'm thankful you are looking at this matter of the destruction of a part of the White House that the President says will be a New luxurious Ball Room. Who wants this? Who wants the cold trim? Only President Trump?
This is obviously an afront to move fort with destruction before seeking some input from the Congress/the People. The American public has no desire for this.
There are so many needs in the USA that involve the personal needs of people. I want funds assigned to those rather than this unasked for project.
Let us redo it back to what it was. Making it strong and historic as possible.
Thank you,
Paula M Smith

The sitting president has no right to destroy the East Wing. It was a national treasure. It needs to be restored to as close as possible to its original configuration and his family needs to get billed for the work. There is no way we need a ballroom, especially one that’s 3 to 4 times the size of the White House itself. We have pediatric cancer research being cut, and as a pediatric oncology nurse I just want to know if I should be telling the kids we can't afford to research a cure for them because our president needs to stroke his ego by building something no one cares about.

While acknowledging that additional ballroom space may be desirable it cannot be allowed to occur in violation of the legal requirements for authorization, permitting and design review. The present design at 90,000 sq ft dwarfs the existing building footprint. Any addition to a historic property of this significance should be conducted through a transparent expert driven process that follows the law and provides the required public accountability.

Thank you for your consideration.

I am stunned that the destruction of the East Wing of the White House (the People's house) can occur without any questions, application for a permit or any approvals other than Mr. Trump wanting to do it. I mean every citizen would have to apply and receive a building permit to proceed or face penalty. He doesn't even own the building he destroyed and planned to erect a gigantic building on the people's property not his. This project should be shut down and a bi-partisan commission should be established to determine how to move forward with restoration.

I've visited the East Wing twice, and I'm PISSED that the president has destroyed it. This is no renovation--it's a self-aggrandization project. He's demolishing U.S. history and building a temple to himself.

Cancel this project. Stop its funding. Rebuild the East Wing as it was. I don't suppose Trump, given his job-related immunity, will ever really face responsibility, but at least we can stop him from ruining the People's House and feeding his bottomless ego.

The East Wing demolition was as horrific to see as it was illegal, without proper permits or approvals. I think I speak for many Americans who want accountability for this lawless demolition of an historically-significant building. I want the East Wing to be built back, EXACTLY as it was. There is no justification for this complete disregard for the historical significance of this beautiful building. Anything less than complete restoration, would be a travesty. I also demand that Trump personally pay for the restoration out of his own pocket since he is responsible for this desecration. Taxpayers should never pay for the whims of a tyrannical president who sees himself above the law.

What has happened to the East Wing is right in line with both of Trump's terms as President: wanton destruction, driven by greed, with no thought for decorum or the rule of law, and absolutely no concrete plan for a solution.

"One doesn't work for effects, and one doesn't set up in the artist business. One studies and learns and works and thinks to develop oneself as an intelligent, sensitive, and aware human being: and out of the always-increasing resources of intelligence, sensitivity, and awareness, the human being makes music."
-Leonard Bernstein, April 1967

Kitsch comes to mind when viewing the guiding aesthetic slathered over The Executive Mansion thus far. The 'Ballroom' as rendered is a monstrosity; A Mausoleum of poor taste.

Kitsch is fake art, expressing fake emotions, whose purpose is to deceive folks into thinking they feel something deep and serious. The gaudy gilding of the Oval Office to a comical level is one thing. To birth a ballroom of such magnitude is another;
a mind bending horror of sickening Kitsch.

All changes like this should co through proper channels to consider the history of the building and how to properly honor that in how any changes are made; both in how the process is followed and then what the scope of the change is. No change taken should overwhelm the purpose of the building and its mission in the first place, that is always primary. The White House is so much more than a place to have epic balls, there had been a ballroom and there was no need for a more elaborate one given the size of our Executive Mansion and way that things are organized here. This is something that can always be elsewhere. Destroying things without clearance or a plan was without need or excuse; especially as the underground facilities had been renovated recently.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The extremely distressing demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight and without any account for the important historical objects that kept there, is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This is to submit my objections to continuing with the building of a ballroom or any other structure without formalized submittal of plans to appropriate authorities. These plans must include design and government funding of any structure(s). This includes a "new" East Wing if decided upon.
Any funds donated towards destruction of the East wing and Con struction of a ballroom should be applied towards the final, formally app roved project. If congressional involvement is legally required that avenue should be pursued.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project as it is currently proposed. While investment and improvement can be positive, this project raises serious concerns regarding cost, priorities, transparency, and long-term impact.

First, the financial burden appears disproportionate to the demonstrated need. In a time when resources are limited and many core services require attention, committing substantial funds to this project risks diverting money from more urgent community priorities.

Second, the justification for the scope of modernization has not been clearly established. It is not evident that the proposed upgrades are essential rather than cosmetic or aspirational. Major capital projects should be driven by necessity, safety, and measurable public benefit — not by aesthetics or expansion alone.

Third, there has been insufficient opportunity for meaningful public input. Projects of this magnitude deserve robust community engagement, clear cost projections, contingency planning, and transparent communication about trade-offs.

Finally, large modernization efforts often bring unforeseen cost overruns, disruptions, and long-term maintenance obligations. Before proceeding, decision-makers should carefully consider whether a scaled-down renovation or phased approach could address critical needs without incurring unnecessary expense.

For these reasons, I urge reconsideration of the East Wing Modernization Project in its current form and encourage a more transparent, fiscally responsible, and community-centered alternative

This should be paid for with Donald J Trump's personal money, as he is the one that illegally authorized its destruction. Thank you for this opportunity for comment.

It is not a modernization project but a vanity project that erases our American history and heritage. The White House is the people's house. It does not belong to any president, and any proposed changes must go through proper channels and must follow the law. This project has done neither. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. I was horrified to see the East Wing of the White House destroyed without any regard for the rules and regulations that determine how, and when, White House changes are permitted. (I'm also appalled at many other changes that have occurred with this administration. The gold embellishments are gaudy. I'm particularly appalled with the personal opinions applied to plaques, and placed beneath the pictures of past presidents. That is so weird!)
I'm not a fan of the plans for a golden ballroom either. I don't care who is paying for it, because they will be paid back with more favors that personally benefit them. I think this administration continually makes decisions that they have no right to make. It's like laws and rules don't have any meaning to them. I also think they should be made to pay for fixing the problem that they created. Why should taxpayers have to pay to fix this problem that they willfully perpetuated.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Please rebuild the East Wing in a similar style and size to the rest of the White House with only necessary upgrades.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom with very questionable funding sources, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns. 300 million dollars is entirely too much for what seems to be a vanity project for the current administration.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

This plan is outrageous. The Trump administration claims they are saving money and yet they demolition the East Wing, a part of our collective history, without permission. They claim the ballroom will be paid for by big tech. That is a payoff, if it were to happen. But as it turns out, like Mexico paying for his rediculous wall, there is none but taxpayer dollars. Not only do I not want his name enshrined on our public property but the massiveness of the structure diminishes the historical, iconic nature of the values it should continue to represent. I do not agree with Trump's representation and the diminishment of the country values, norms and traditions. There has been no consideration of the people in how they want the People's Home represented. The White House and surrounding areas are not Trump property for him to play with. This should stop now.

The current proposal for the east wing replacement should be subject to a standard review before going forward. The existing east wing was torn down without proper permits, proper funding, or proper oversight. The tear down appears to have been illegal, and a major overstep on the part of the people who directed it. The finances for the project should not in any way, be privately funded, as the opportunity for corruption and conflict of interest is high under a private funding scenario. It is not clear that a new structure was needed or warranted, but now that improper demolition has occurred, the design and scale of the new structure should not equal or overshadow the scale of the White House itself. A hierarchy of entrance design should promote the White House proper as the primary structure. There should be no naming of the structure of any kind that associates it with any individual. To be clear, the people's house has been usurped by an authoritarian who has acted unilaterally, inappropriately, and apparently illegally. The person who illegally directed the demolition of the east wing should face criminal charges. No one person may decide to tear down the White House. It is equivalent to a terrorist bombing the building.

Please do not let this ballroom construction take place! This will be a huge mistake.

The construction of an enormous ballroom is a complete waste of taxpayer money and absolutely out of touch with reality. A ballroom to serve future presidents with lavish parties is the opposite of what the American people want. We expect our leaders to conserve our tax money. This will be a true example of waste and abuse. No President has ever needed it and no President should ever expect such exorbitant opulence. Money should be spent on things that everyday Americans need and can take advantage of.

This ballroom will cost millions every year just in catering alone! How will this look to the average single mom working to feed her children, or the combat veteran with no roof over his head?

In addition, even if the cost of the current construction is covered by donors or businesses, those funds will dry up eventually and the American people will cover the costs to furnish and maintain it for generations to come. This is not for the American people, it is for the President and those in power to enjoy while the rest of us pay for them to live the "lifestyle of the rich and famous". The construction of this ballroom only serves to show how the government is out of touch with everyday Americans. When future Presidents use the ballroom, it will only cause division in our country as people from the opposing party look on it with disgust and outrage.

Please end this travesty!

-Jason

Firstly, I don't actually oppose renovations, per se, or some projects that beautify the grounds or, for instance, put in toilets or whatever. I do object to "modernization." Why does the White House have to be modernized? It's a historical site. If modernization is the goal, why haven't new presidents just ripped the whole thing down every 4-8 years and built some kind of, I don't know, tower of glass? A bubble in the air? A space pod? Modernization is not the point of the White House. Secondly, I don't support the building of a ballroom that, face it, we all know I will never be invited to because I don't have enough pay to play, even though theoretically it's my house too. Thanks for the space to express my opinion. -LS

Please cancel the “East Wing Modernization” project and return the White House (aka The People’s House) to its former state.

At a time when hundreds of millions of dollars could be used to fund health care, education or honestly just about anything else, why are we spending money on something that didn’t need to be altered and that did not go through proper channels? Do you remember Trump saying originally that the construction was just going to be adjacent to the east wing? That is not at all what happened.

At minimum, please show our government, our country and the world that we don't completely let our president run amok and expect him to follow the rules. I would rather the project were cancelled all together but at least if he did things the right way, I wouldn't be so frustrated.

Dear Sir/Madam:

I oppose this illegal tear down of the East Wing. No one was advised about this in advance, no one voted on it and it was not legally approved. DJT is trying to leave his mark on the nation by putting his name on everything he can and by illegally building a ballroom. It costs too much money for his vanity projects. Not only that, but the ballroom would dwarf the White House. I'm completely against it. We, the American people, are STRUGGLING! We have more important items which need to be addressed and he's not doing it as the President. I can't wait to vote him out. I hope they erase all things Trump when he's voted out. Cathie Tomlinson

Like many American schoolchildren if the last sixty years, my first visit to Washington DC with my immigrant parents, naturaluzed years before I was born, awed and inspired me. It led me to study American Government at an Ivy League school, inspired me to be active in local and national politics. The gathering of tours in the East Wing allowed us to revel in the human side of those honorable men who served our nation as presidents through dark, challenging and uplifting eras.
I oppose the illegal destruction of our dignified history. Today, the only women who lived in the White House as adults were our first ladies, where their historical and admirable work were enabled in their East Wing offices. The installation of the proposed massive structure, not focused on the task of serious work of the presidency, not designed with thoughtful review and consideration were ruptured with bulldozers. We were assured not a taxpayer dollar would be spent. But our property was destroyed. Whether the destruction came as a result of terrorism or ego, the building should be restored to its former elegance and function. We should consider the restoration of France's treasured Notre Dame cathedral as the proper way to revere our history.
This was no accidental fire. The president who believes his executive authority has no bounds but his own morality, whose administration defies judicial orders cannot be allowed to tear down our symbols, or our democracy to build gawdy reception halls for the connected and privileged.
I oppose this project and call for the restoration of an appropriately sized wing to continue to welcome our students hoping to experience the history made in the adjoining house of the people.

I object to allowing Trump to have anything to do with the rebuilding of the East Wing. Not any unnecessary ballroom meant to dwarf the Whitehouse with of course Trumps in gold! I don't believe Trump will actually pay for the building with donations and he never intended to. But Trump lies to the public on a regular basis. Since undoubtedly Trump plans to stick the cost on tax payers, it certainly shouldn't be any design

Trump approves.

The East Wing should have never been torn down for a ridiculous vanity project the current occupant of the white house initiated. The White House is a historical structure and there were no reviews or plan approvals made before it was destroyed. The White House is the people's house, and now has been damaged without review or consent. This "project" is all about keeping the mentally failing occupant busy while his team of ghouls ruin our country. Please rebuild the East Wing as it was before. There is no need for the degrading of our people's house, and no need for the extravagant and gaudy "ballroom" with the underground bunker.

I am writing to express my firm opposition to the project currently labeled as the 'East Wing Modernization Project.' In its current state, this project cannot be considered a 'modernization'; rather, it represents a complete razing of American history. The demolition of the East Wing was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design reviews, and without following the legally mandated channels required for changes to our nation's most historic residence.

I oppose the spending of hundreds of millions of dollars—with recent estimates reaching $400 million—on a project that bypasses federal oversight and public input. I demand that this project be canceled immediately and that the East Wing be rebuilt and restored to its former historic design. The preservation of our national heritage should never be sacrificed for architectural vanity. No one is above the law, and to permit this project to proceed without penalizing those who broke the law to initiate it is an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Commissioners,

Razing the history of America for a vanity project funded by bribes is the very antithesis of what our Founders strove for. Kings galavant through palaces, Presidents provide governance and guidance to WE THE PEOPLE. While there is no way to halt the destruction of the East Wing, there is time to pause and begin the proper process to make changes to the home of the American People with respect for history and respect for the future. All work on this project should flow through well-established planning, review, and permitting processes. Anything less is not only a dereliction of duty but an insult to ALL Americans who respect our values, institutions, and traditions.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Despite any wishes, restoration clearly isn't likely, so at a minimum this project should go through a more fulsome and transparent concept/planning process. Maybe something in concept, building, and final outcome that doesn't encourage grift and plundering the public coffers or venal marketing of merchandise.

Hi -

Please restore the East Wing to the state it was in on October 19, 2025--before it was maliciously destroyed without National Capital Planning Commission approval.

Furthermore, Clark Construction Group, LLC, of McLean, Virginia, should be investigated for the demolition of government property without proper authorization.

This project was done without the proper authorization. Even if taxpayer funds are not going towards this, there are many more important things that rich donors could pay for that would actually help the American people, such as fixing roads and improving schools. The ballroom does not do anything to improve the lives of average Americans and during a time when people are struggling financially it is in extremely poor taste to build this ballroom.

I firmly oppose the creation of a ballroom where the East Wing of the White House once stood.

For decades, the iconic silhouette has been a symbol of the United States and the government created by our Founding Fathers. The current administration demolished an important part of our history without proper permission or permits -and no one stopped them. Allowing this new project to proceed will change the White House from a symbol of our democracy with its system of checks and balances, to a symbol of when our leadership let us down and gave in to authoritarian rule.

Instead of a ballroom that no one needs and no one asked for, we need to rebuild the East Wing, restore the White House, and send a clear message to the President and the rest of the world that no one is above the law.

I oppose this project, whether built with public funds or private donations. The East Wing was razed without the proper authorization, permits, or a design review. From the publicly released architectural renderings, I find the proposed ballroom to be tacky and hideous. If built as designed, the White House, once known as the "peoples' house," will resemble instead the garish palace of a tinpot dictator. The demolition of the East Wing was nothing less than the illegal destruction of government property. As a result, we lost an essential piece of American history, leaving us with nothing but an ugly patch of dirt. The ballroom project should be canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. To allow this ballroom to be built would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This is an effort to erase history .
Under normal procedures, this project would (should have been submitted with complete plans to the appropriate architectural authorities (Planning department and appropriate historical board) (not a committee hand chosen by the building's destroyer) and have them approve the plans BEFORE any work (or demolishment of the current structure) proceeds. This process obviously did not happen.
Any new structure should be not allowed until the normal process happens and any structure built without these safeguards should be red-tagged or demolished.

Please preserve what’s left of the White House and prevent the construction of a monstrously sized ballroom. Theodore Roosevelt is turning in his grave. Abigail Adams could hang laundry from the entire Continental Army in that ballroom. It is completely out of proportion with the rest of the White House.

The East Wing has been the location to meet Gold Star families in a quiet location. A ballroom, echoing, is not the same. While school children might be able to gather in a ballroom to start tours, it is not appropriate for Gold Star families. This is a huge loss for our country.

And yes, I am a descendant of Veterans, with Gold Star family members.

The east wing needs to be put back to its original design in keeping with its historical status. Having it torn down to build a ballroom is absolutely abhorrent. This is part of the peoples' house and nothing was reviewed or put through the proper channels before it was torn down illegally. Something like this cannot happen again. And we need to fix this immediately.

Proceeding in the destruction of American history and destroying a portion of the people's house without following proper procedures and permitting is an affront to all Americans. No one in our country is above the law and proper punishment should be meted out to those who have broken the rules. The East Wing should be restored at the sole and total expense of the offending party or parties.

To whom it concerns,
I strongly oppose the project as it has not met the merits or processes needed to meet the National Historic Registry guidelines. It is an affront to the established review and permit processes that every president has abided by since the inception of the NPS, NHR, and the preservation society.
The price tag is also suspicious as it already exceeded the proposed amount of 260 million and raised to 300+ at the time of this posting. The other reason I oppose is that a cherished monument the house of the people known as the White House has been marred and irrevocably altered without outle consent. The current occupant did not make this ballroom choice for the masses, he made it for himself and has not chosen to alay fears and concerns and instead boasts like he intends never to leave which is another concern yet not directly a concern to this particular problem.
Please rescind and stop all efforts to change the white house footprint and demand the white house current administration submit actual plans, actual bids, and all other necessary paperwork to ensure it meets the established process and requirements. Otherwise suspend the project indefinitely and order the White House be repaired and restored to its original footprint.

Thank you for your time.

The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

It was heart-breaking and shocking to see the demolition of the historic East Wing! As it happened without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight, it is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Sincerely,

The White House belongs to the American people. Its residents are temporary guests, expected to maintain the property's original condition, not to make radical changes without permission, not to take a wrecking ball and demolish one-third of the structure. I want the building restored--made whole--and those involved in the destruction held accountable.

From what I have read the East Wing has been overdue for repairs for many years. I think the remodel and the ballroom will be a wonderful addition to our beautiful White House. I thank President Trump and all of the donors who are contributing to this project. I will probably never get to travel to Washington, D.C., but I am looking forward to seeing photographs and/or videos of the finished addition. I know it will represent our nation well and be used for many, many years to come.

Tearing down any part of the White House should never have happened - just like all the other recent destruction in this country. The White House belongs to all of its citizens, not any temporary leader. We should have the final say about what happens to it. It is our history and our present and our future. It wasn't meant to be a stainless steel sideshow. Please restore it to its former design and glory - or at least keep any uncaring hands from destroying it. They are trying to destroy this country - its land, its resources, its national parks, its tradition of freedoms, its sense of decency, its promise to all whether high or low. Please don't let them destroy our symbols too.

I do not want $300 million to be spent on this project. What I do want is for the East Wing to be rebuilt with modernization as needed to restore it to its previous design, with permits and authorization as any other person in this country would be expected to have. No one is above the law, not even the man currently in the White House. I believe he and the companies who tore down a historical building without permits, who would have KNOWN they needed permission, should all be punished for this act of destruction of our American history.

I am writing to express my deep anger and frustration with the development of the east modernization project.

The White House is a historical building, that is not owned by the president. There are proper permits and procedures that work, violated or flat out, ignored in the rush to tear down the building. As someone who does construction work, I find this incredibly frustrating if I did that, I would be probably bankrupt by the time that I was done paying off the violations and fees.

Is strongly encourage this project to be canceled. And like any other violation, I believe that the funds raised already for the project, should go to rebuilding the torn down building exactly as it was to begin with.

The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Sincerly,
Shannon K. Johnson

The U.S. White House is one of the revered structures of our country, and belongs to not one individual, but to the people of the United States. It should be returned to its former symmetry with the East Wing echoing the design of the West Wing, and the beautiful visitors' entrance at the West Wing. I believe the West Wing also included a lovely ballroom which has always provided sufficient for Presidential functions in the past, and there is no reason for additional construction to be added to the White House to take away from its appearance.

strongly oppose the demolition of the East Wing of the White House and its replacement with an expansive, ornamental ballroom.

The White House has long reflected constitutional restraint and civic purpose. Converting a utilitarian, historic wing into a grand display space shifts the character of the People’s House from functional governance to personal spectacle. That is not a neutral architectural choice — it is a symbolic one.

Equally troubling is the reported demolition prior to full preservation review and public oversight. Constitutional government depends on process and guardrails, especially when altering National Historic Landmarks held in trust for the American people.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to exercise strict oversight over all remaining work and ensure that future actions honor both preservation law and the civic dignity of this institution.

I put a small concrete patio in my backyard last year. To get it done, I had to have the village come out, see the plans, see my yard, take pictures, and before concrete was poured come out again to approve the framing, drainage, etc.. To think that the entire east wing of the people's house, the White House, can be torn down and an unnecessary ballroom be built is ludicrous, and needs to be stopped. We have three branches of government, and checks and balances, and NO ONE is above the law. We don't need a ballroom, or want a ballroom, and the historic east wing needs to be restored to the way it was. This should NOT be paid for with taxpayer money, but with the money of whomever decided to ruin it without permission. If I had put in the patio without permission, I personally would have paid a fine.

Please do everything allowed by law to stop or delay Trump's vanity project at the White House until the present administration agrees to abide by public process and appropriate agency oversight, review and collaboration. The illegal East Wing demolition shows a blatant disrespect for the government itself and its existing protocols.

There are so few instances of accountability for this rogue regime to the principles of public service, separation of powers, and constitutional law. Let this project be an example where a democratic government and its damaged institutions can still hold in check the unbounded hunger for power of a would-be autocrat.

The White House belongs to the people of the United States, not any of its temporary residents put there by the voters.

Above all, the White House is the House of the People. The East Wing should be rebuilt to the same size it was before, in the same architectural style, and certainly not named after the sitting president. Only a very insecure man would need it to be named after himself. Naming it after him would be a tell-tell sign of just how utterly insecure he is, and I'm sure he wouldn't want everyone to think that about him.

I am submitting this formal public comment in strong opposition to the proposed $300 million expenditure on this project. Based on available information, the project appears to have been initiated without proper authorization, required permits, or appropriate design and historical review. Such a significant undertaking should never proceed outside established legal and regulatory processes.

This proposal does not represent a modernization effort but rather the complete destruction of an important piece of American history. The East Wing holds architectural and historical significance that should be preserved, not erased. Public funds should not be used to support a project that disregards legal requirements, transparency, and historic preservation standards.

I respectfully request that this project be immediately halted and canceled pending a full and transparent review of its authorization, permitting, environmental compliance, and design approval process. Furthermore, I urge decision-makers to pursue the rebuilding and restoration of the East Wing to its original design and historical character.

No individual, agency, or contractor should be above the law. Allowing this project to proceed without accountability for any failure to follow proper procedures would undermine public trust and set a troubling precedent for future projects. Our shared history and public resources deserve responsible stewardship, lawful process, and full transparency.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit this comment and for your careful consideration of the concerns raised.

Respectfully,

The Jacobsons

Each President and his/her family has the privilege of living there -- they are tenants. The White House belongs to the American people and the National Capital Planning Commission is the steward. Not only should the ballroom be cancelled, let's charge the President and his family for the cost of reconstructing it ... especially as have personally made exhorbitant amounts of money ... personal gain and abuse of the office.

To allow the project to go forward would reward the illegal and immoral actions taken so far. The East Wing needs to be restored to its previous footprint and usage. Anything less is an insult to the American People.

The White House does not belong to any standing president. It belongs to the Country. I am unalterably opposed to the remodeling and rebuilding of any part of the White House including the current East Wing project.
I urge the President to reconsider this project and to order that the project be halted and the East Wing be restored to its historic design.
At the same time I urge Congress to act unanimously to oversee the East Wing project and any other projects under consideration.

The fact that the East Wing of the White House, the people's house, was demolished without warning or review is a travesty and symbolic of the distain that the current occupants have for our nation, our traditions, and our laws. The East Wing was a part of our history that has now been irreparably lost. There is no need for the proposed ballroom, so large that it will dwarf and unbalance the official residence, yet another temple to one man's ego and arrogance. I demand that the ballroom project be stopped and that the best architects and engineers be engaged to determine how the damage can be repaired and the White House restored to glory.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Thank you for your efforts to restore a small bit of dignity to the White House.

I visited the White House several years ago with my family and am glad we got to see the East Wing before it was illegally torn down by the current president. It's appalling to me that he was able to do that without approval. I strongly oppose the addition of a 90,000 square foot ballroom that would be nearly twice the size of the White House. It doesn't matter who pays for it - we don't need it. And even if taxpayers don't pay for it, we will be paying for the maintenance of it and for all the events that are held there. There are many other things we can do with that money. NO BALLROOM!!!

I strongly oppose the demolition of the East Wing of the White House and the construction of a massive ballroom. The White House is neither a hotel nor a resort, and it does not need a ballroom! It is "The People's House," owned by our Government, not by the current occupant, and it is maintained by our tax dollars.

The approximately $300 million price tag is being funded by billionaires intent on currying favor with the current Administration, which is highly unethical. Furthermore, the project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project, but rather the arrogant desecration of OUR collective property and history.

I want this project canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design and function. Given that this project was undertaken in violation of the law, it must not be allowed to continue. No one is above the law, and those who broke the law must suffer consequences.

Construction of a ballroom must be halted immediately, and the East Wing of OUR White House must be rebuilt.

We do not need a ballroom! Trump destroyed American history that our founding fathers worked hard to build and preserve. Yes, it was slaves who started building it; but it shows the history of this country. President's only occupy the house that is owned by the citizens of this great country of ours.

With the destruction of the east wing, he took down beautiful old trees that were planted by our former President's. He destroyed the great craftsmen ship of the building, along with spreading asbestos to those that work there and into the community.

No ballroom that is suppose to be funded by billionaires, that does not make it the people house any longer.

Stop the building of the ballroom!

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

Dear NCPC:

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the East Wing Modernization Project.

As a history buff, a fan of historic architecture and a taxpayer I am offended by everything about this project. I have read that Trump broke the law when he demolished the East Wing of the White House under cover of darkness and without authorization. Are you suing him? If not, you should. The White House, including the East Wing, belongs (belonged?) to all of us as Americans. This is not Trump's private property to rape and cheapen.

The proposed ballroom must not be built. Instead, the East Wing should be recreated. The new ball room plans that I have seen are worthy of Albert Speer: poorly done and an assault on good taste and proportion for the site and the personification of fascist architecture.

This travesty must not be built and if it is, a future administration must tear it down.

Sincerely, Tim Blevins

I am appalled at the unauthorized destruction of the East Wing. I do not believe the nation needs an enormous ballroom, and if we did, this was certainly the wrong way to go about it.

The President must be made to realize that this is not one of his properties. The people of the United States have a prior, future, and altogether stronger claim to it.

The National Capital Planning Commission has the heavy responsibility of protecting our national heritage, preserving it for future generations. There were guardrails in place against this vandalism, and there must be consequences when those guardrails are ignored.

Please require the restoration of the East Wings to its original dimensions and character. If appropriate and within your purview, also take whatever additional legal actions you can to demonstrate that such unilateral and ill-considered actions will not be tolerated in the future.

We have no king, and the White House is our house, not the President's palace.

There is a formal public process for making significant changes to the peoples property. This administration has no respect for the peoples property or for the laws of the land. It seems that if there is a law governing an action, this administration plays dumb and/or chooses to violate it at will. I am saddened by the willful destruction of the East wing without so much as a question to citizens of the once great USA. I do not consider building a "ballroom" spattered with gold for the use of this President and his weathy donors to be “modernization,” “necessary,” or even particularly American.

The White House does not belong to the President, who had an obligation to go through the NCPC before razing and erasing this part of American history. Not one penny should go towards this purported ballroom; no money, time or effort should go towards anything but the restoration of the East Wing to its former design and purpose. Modernization can take place, of course—I’m sure building codes have changed since it was originally constructed—but it needs to be restored to its former, rightful state, and not made into another tawdry, garish trophy at the hands of someone who has become rather infamous for not asking before taking destructive liberties with that which does not belong to him.

The administration did not for a moment consider getting the proper authorization for this heinous destruction. No public design review was ever floated, and as far as I know, not one permit was obtained before his frivolous, self-focused orders were carried out. This was conduct unbecoming of a President, or for that matter, any public official whatsoever. To allow this ridiculous “ballroom” travesty to continue unchecked would be an affront to every law-aiding American, and to allow what has already taken place without some sort of penalty for breaking the law is equally offensive to those who uphold American law, long-established tradition, and the gravity of the office that is so capriciously occupied at the moment.

This project should be cancelled and the destruction of the East Wing documented, investigated, and prosecuted. Having private (?) funding doesn’t mean you get to break the law and destroy public property and waste government (i.e., taxpayer) resources.
A non-partisan commission should be appointed to study what space the future occupants of the White House actually need--which is surely not a grandiose ballroom. Once that has been determined, let the commission propose a new design that reproduces the old East Wing on the outside and provides useful, updated space for the presidential or vice-presidential or first lady's staff on the inside.
Until such time as a responsible non-partisan group has submitted a practical plan that you can approve, let the space remain unfinished in remembrance of the wounds that the Trump regime has inflicted on the nation, its people, and the world.

While there have been many thoughtful renovations and upgrades to the White House over the years, never once has there been an act of deliberate, Illegal destruction like this.

The actions taken by this administration bypassed legal procedures meant to preserve our national heritage. This is The People's house, not a private residence. It has up untill now, been seen as something precious, a symbol, a treasured piece of history.

The wing should be rebuilt, using the original exterior footprint. The interior can be reconfigured to meet modern needs, but should be decorated in a dignified manner.

The money supposedly donated to create that unnecessary ballroom, should be used for the restoration. It should NOT come out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

Please block any further dessicrations, both to the White House itself and other buildings of historical significance. It's shameful that the laws are being ignored.

As a final note, it is my understanding that the contractors hired to do the demolition have not been paid. If they have not been paid, the person who gave the order should be held responsible for paying in full. (And I do not mean the lackey who made the phone call.)

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits, and without Congressional oversight is a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the Trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I strongly oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. As a civil engineer working on land development projects, I would be laughed out of any city office in America (and probably fined and penalized) for attempting what this administration did - allowing a contractor to demolish a historic building with no process or oversight, no approved plans, no review. This is absolutely not a modernization project, it's a complete demolition of a key piece of American history. I am one of many people in America who wants this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, meeting current codes and regulations as all other land development projects in America are required to follow. No one is above the law, and to allow this project to go ahead, without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans, companies, and giver bodies that take part in development projects nationwide. This is not a political issue it's a practical one. Please, listen to the people, and follow the law, setting a better example than has been set for this project to date.

As a citizen of the United States, I feel an obligation to speak out against what has happened to the East Wing of our White House (the People's House). The damage that has been done illegally and with only phantom promises of backing funds for a ballroom is beyond horrifying. I believe that the East Wing should be restored to its former beauty at the expense of the man who with no legal authority caused this damage: namely Donald J. Trump. No one should be above the law, but consistently he has acted as if he can ride roughshod over every rule and law that he has come across.

Greetings,

I am writing out of concern about the recent East Wing project. The thoughtless destruction of this building before proper planning and adequate comment demonstrated disrespect for the tradition of the White House as the People's House, treating it more like the private mansion of an aspiring King.

While I have no objection in-principle to an appropriate meeting place for future Presidents to host visiting leaders from other countries, I don't think that this building should dwarf the existing White House. It should be designed in line with the existing architecture of the White House, connecting with its history.

Further, when the time comes to fund it, we, the American people, should be responsible for its construction. It should not be funded by extortion or bribery from wealthy benefactors who seek favor (or to avoid punishment from a vindictive President).

Please consider pausing this project to do it properly, in line with American history and the tradition of this building's title as the People's House.

thank you,
Ram

I object to this project in its entirety for several reasons. First, it has been carried forward without the proper permits, reviews, or surveys, including public input for a publicly owned building. Second, part of the history of the White House has been erased without consideration for its importance. Third it is not at all clear that a large ballroom is needed at this site, especially as a substitute for what was already there. Fourth the ‘‘modernization‘‘ is being handled on a private basis without the expertise of historians or designers who serve the common good. I want the wing restored in its entirety to its former state. I also want an accounting for what happened to all the historic items that were removed from it.

The East Wing "modernization" project reeks of graft from the beginning. The demolition of the East Wing - without any permits, proper authorization, or design reviews is unconscionable. It would be appalling even if it was a much less important public building - but to raze the East Wing of the White House without proper authorization is untenable!

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, even if it is from "private" donations, because these are more bribes than donations and that also reeks of graft.

This project must be canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its design prior to destruction. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law is setting an incredibly dangerous precedent.

Sincerely,
Melinda Bell

Before anyone spends any of the alleged donors alleged dollars to build His ballroom, the illegal damage must be rebuilt with Trump funds. Also, the source of the funds used to destroy and haul away the rubble must be identified, and paid back to taxpayer-funded accounts, assuming that they were plundered.
Environmental damage to the dump site must be rectified, also with Trump private funding.

I oppose the wreckage of the East Wing of the White House. This project was not initiated with the proper authorization, permits, or design review. Rather the President seems to have perceived a need that was not real. He destroyed a place of national significance on a whim; attempting to erase American history. I want this project completely stopped. I want the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design and glory. No person or administration is above the law. Those who broke the law by proceeding without proper authorization should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Please respect the desires of all law-abiding Americans who were content with the East Wing as it existed. Please restore East Wing.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. Houses with far less significant historical context are not allowed to be altered. The president is an occupant, a temporary tenant, of the People's House. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. Americans across the country are struggling and a gilded ballroom is an affront to We the People.

On a personal note I am heartbroken that such an important part of American history was illegally destroyed on the whim of a president with no regard for either history or legal processes.

I'm writing to oppose the $300 million demolition of the East Wing. This project was never properly authorized — no permits, no design review, no public process. Calling it "modernization" doesn't change what it actually is: tearing down a piece of American history.
This needs to be canceled, and the East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its original design. The law applies to everyone, and letting this slide without consequence sends a clear message that it doesn't. That's not acceptable.

The White House is a monument to the values of the American people as a whole, and their vision of honorable leadership. The imperialistic opportunism of one tenant must never be allowed to overshadow that rich history, or to squander the resources that ordinary people trust will be used to make every American life better.

To the members of the National Capital Planning Commission:

Greetings to you from the Centennial State! It is an honor to have the opportunity to provide input on this important project, especially in this year of the 250th anniversary of the United States and 150th birthday of my home state of Colorado. I am a member of the Jefferson County Historical Commission here and work as a professional historian and preservation consultant. I was the first to be professionally certified in historic preservation in Colorado, by the University of Colorado Denver, with a particular emphasis in architectural history. In 2023 I was awarded the Historic Preservation Medal by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, and am myself a descendant of persons who fought in the Revolutionary War and pioneered the American West. The White House is a landmark of the highest historical significance to me and to the country and it is with deep reverence to the history and future it represents that I provide these thoughts to you today.

Your proposed ballroom design strikes me as a beautiful one. I myself would’ve recommended it use this type of reimagining and rearranging of various elements of the Executive Residence, with certain differences so never to be confused with original construction and be architecture of its own time too. It is likewise imperative that neither this nor anything else upon the White House grounds ever dominate or contest the Executive Residence in height or as the focal point because the Executive Residence is what people around the world commonly consider to be the White House. It is not just the home of the President; it is the physical embodiment of the Presidency itself. If it is subordinated, so might seem the President. Therefore it is best for new creations like this be made to compliment and enhance the original. While it is important for the White House to be historically preserved well, it is also important for it to be able to function with vitality, so it may most effectively continue in its historic use, and thereby be preserved well in spirit as well as in body.

The Executive Residence emphasizes verticality in its architectural nature, especially its iconic south portico side, therefore it is well that the Ballroom emphasize the horizontal in nature and be spread out. I would've recommended its use of Corinthian columns and pilasters as the White House draws upon the Classical Greek and Roman orders of these columns, and while the Doric and Tuscan might've looked too plain (and therefore shoddy), the Executive Residence uses Ionic, and Corinthian is the next highest order. I would've also made them fluted in contrast to the smooth of the Executive Residence. Below the main level I'd suggest making the pilasters of an inferior order, as Roman design uses an ascending order for its columns (Doric-Ionic-Corinthian), though one might consider a plainer Corinthian version for these. I recommend the use of stone below the main level, like the Executive Residence does, though where the original uses rough faced stone trimmed with smooth faced stone I'd encourage reversing these in the Ballroom, possibly beveling the smooth stone for added effect. I also recommend its grand staircases utilize stone up to the railing cap, as it not only would look beautiful but I have seen this used very effectively in design including in my hometown of Golden, Colorado's historic Territorial Capital.

I'd suggest for the exterior sconce lighting, since classical design never really envisioned such things, one might consider something symbolic. I'd suggest making these a variant of the design of the torch of the Statue of Liberty. Torchlight would've been common in the White House's early years (or in antiquity), and it could make for great symbolism here. However, such a design cannot be too plain, for you don't want to inadvertently evoke the torches the British used upon the White House! Yet reimagined, even in lantern form of design, can also evoke something else, elegant, orderly, symbolic that the flames might've burned the White House but they could not consume it. No matter what I definitely encourage the use of complimentary accent lighting, direct and indirect, inside and out, here and everywhere else at the White House, for this can really enhance a historic place in ways one might not even imagine! Even places as old as St. Peter's Basilica and the monuments of ancient Egypt are enhanced well by it.

Fine and fun little touches around a place, Easter eggs if you will, can help make a place architecturally special. For instance, if actual gold is to be used architecturally, use gold from each state of the union that produces it. Likewise for marble (including Colorado's own that Washington has already used so beautifully), and other materials. A ballroom is meant to be a showplace; let this one be a showplace of America. One can also place neat representations from throughout American history, and being a ballroom even our history of such occasions, especially at the White House. In a way it's too bad the Greek pediment of the north portico doesn't have statuary representation within it that tells a story like the Parthenon did, and it would architecturally upstage the Executive Residence to do so here, but there may be opportunities to do so elsewhere in the building, inside or out. One could use mosaics, I've thought of stained glass, and artistic clear glass also can.

Looking upon the grounds, the plans seem in conflict whether the driveway lines upon approach to the Executive Residence are to be maintained or edged inward by the elements of the Ballroom structure. I'd encourage maintaining these lines to the extent possible; anything that looks improvised might seem ad hoc, shoddy or lacking quality; anything that makes a lesser impression also can reflect upon the Presidency. One can maintain them through landscaping if not in practical use, though it is significant to consider what sightlines one sees along the driveway upon approach as well, whether one's view of the White House stays on point or becomes distracted.

One thing folks don't so often think of is what various photo angles visitors are going to use all around here, and some may not be what come to mind right away. I'd encourage paying good attention to the staircases because groups of people are going to want their pictures taken upon them, or the President descending in company of other world leaders, and countless additional possibilities. Many will view, and take their photos with, the view from the interior towards the Executive Residence. Movies will be showing this from many angles. From within the ballroom one must be attentive to its camera angles for viewing, recording, lighting, as if it's a professional convention center or arena. Yet because they are in proximity and on the same level, and because it could be quite special to be able to do so, I myself would enable the East Room and Ballroom to be able to be used in tandem. In that respect I'd encourage the Ballroom draw to an extent upon the East Room in its feel and decor, not as a copy but to compliment and enhance each other.

A last small but fun idea, if one might ever like, is folks might like to consider installing an organ inside the ballroom. My own mother is an organist and I have been immersed in the instrument all my life, and have seen firsthand how they can enhance a public space for many different kinds of events, from churches to arenas to public event halls. It can be beautiful, offer a varied or unique experience, and even come up with music fast in a pinch when other options just aren't available! Quality electronic instruments can be acquired at reasonable cost and take up smaller space than one realizes, and can be concealed beneath and rise to a stage. It might seem peculiar to bring up such an idea now, though it's likely best at this part of the planning stage if one needed to take special measures to include one!

I hope these ideas are of use to you! The White House is a powerful, important, beautiful and historic place. It is America, and it is important that it present America well. I wish you and the President the best in your endeavors and am happy to talk further should you ever like.

The demolition at the White House was a travesty and a betrayal to all the citizens of our country. The White House is not the personal property of Trump. His blatant disregard for standards and norms is completely unacceptable. No other president has seen a need for a gigantic monstrosity of a ballroom. The rendering I've seen is so completely off scale as to make the White House look strange. The classic design and a sense of symmetry should be restored. The frankly gaudy addition of multiple gold decorations in the interior needs to go. His destruction of the rose garden was another bad move. Mr. Trump is free to decorate Mar A Lago anyway he pleases but he should keep his hands off our White House.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I am writing this statement in opposition of spending $300 million on the White House East Wing Ballroom. This project was initiated by our current president and his administration without any authorization, proper permits in place, or design approval. The ballroom is nothing more than a vanity project that will allow the president to brag and boast about what he has done for the country. The project needs to be canceled and the former wing should be rebuilt out of President Trump's pocket, not the American taxpayers. This president has continually done whatever he wants on a whim without regard for our country's checks and balances, courts, historic registries, or even our Constitution. He is not above the law, nor is he a king or God. He should be held at the same standard as everyone else and there should be retribution for his selfish actions. The White House is his TEMPORARY home, it is not his property to modernize or update and he should not be touching anything inside or outside of the property without proper permission and approval.

I vehemently oppose the spending of millions of dollars on a gaudy ballroom in place of the historic East Wing of our White House. I understand this project was initiated and the East Wing demolished without the proper authorization or permits. I sincerely hope this project is canceled. So much of our history of our White House has been destroyed but the East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its former design as much is possible. The individuals that broke the laws, and accepted private money, including the US President, should be penalized and fined to the fullest extent of the law. I believe that we are still a law abiding country and those who violate our laws must be held accountable. To continue this horrible project is an affront to those of us still believe in justice and good taste.

I was shocked to see images of our nation's White House being destroyed without proper consent of the American people using the processes our government has put in place to preserve the historical significance of this building and others that we all pay taxes to maintain. The White House and the East Wing should be restored to it's previous state honoring the architectural integrity of its original design. Any cost associated with restoration must be charged to the individuals and firms that broke the laws and codes for changing this building without permission. I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to exert full authority in pursuing legal recourse on this issue for this restoration process.

In summary, do NOT change the East Wing from its original design until it is restored to its previous condition and grandeur at which time, any entity wishing to modernize the East Wing should be directed to follow the process all such projects and their organizations follow to make changes to the American People's property.

First and foremost, any modifications done to the East Wing did not comply with policy and procedure. Destruction of the East Wing was a sacrilegious undertaking by a crazed individual. It is quite apparent that absolutely no thought or consideration went into this maniacal project. Mr. Trump is attempting to erase our country's history across America and even more so at "OUR CAPITOL"! By tearing down the East Wing, he has eliminated any semblance of the history of that wing of the White House, its memories, decor and significance to the people. Mr. Trump's idea of decor is opulent, gaudy gold with a hint of bordello. The continuation of this project should not be allowed and Mr. Trump needs to provide valid documentation that the costs of this destruction of the East Wing were indeed paid by his wealthy supporters. Thank you.

Respectfully,
Donna L. Guillemette

I am a U. S. citizen and tax payer. This project is misnamed, because the East Wing of the White House was demolished on orders from the President, who did not have the authority to wreck a part of the people's house. There was no review or permits or plans submitted. The White House exists to provide a home for the President and his or her family, a plectrum to meet and receive foreign dignitaries, and a place for the President to have an office to direct the work of the administrative cabinet. Demolishing a working part of the structure to replace it with a Ballroom that has not been planned or approved seems selfish and frivolous. And for the President to claim that it will be paid for with private donations to him suggests the worst kind of grift, or pay for play scheme. Because this so called modernization has not been reviewed or sanctioned, and especially because the need for a giant ballroom that dwarfs the rest of the structure has not been established, I am opposed to this project. It should not be approved as submitted. It needs to be stopped and plans must be made to restore the former East wing to function as a working section of the White House.

Why is the illegal tear-down of the East Wing/People's House being called a "renovation"? Why was allowd to happen? It was an illegal demolition! And the wasteful use of 300 million dollars to construct a hideous garish tasteless ballroom for fascists is also a crime.

We need everyone who is supposed to check this kind of criminal activity to stop sitting on their hands, and to immediately apply the full force of the law to prosecute those who allowed this illegal demolition to be committed. They need to immediately demand full payment for restoration of what was destroyed, and full compensation for all the historic art and architecture destroyed. Fines need to be levied agaimst all parties complicit for destruction of irreparable national properties.

It is simply outrageous that the whims of a madman have allowed to go unchecked. Restore the People's House immediately.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, NO MATTER WHO PROVIDED THE MONEY, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a razing of American history to serve the egomanic currently IN the position of president and with no thought to the broader and longer term interests of history or the country. The ballroom will dwarf and unbalance the elegant White House - the House of the People - and violates every rule and guideline of preserving the history we are so proud of. The House of Lincoln, of Roosevelt, of Reagan and of Obama. A house where every hallway contains echoes of history. I want this project canceled immediately, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, regardless of who is funding it or how much it costs. The funds promised to BUILD it can be repurposed to UNDO the damage. I strongly object to the East Wing project as currently proposed, as it fails to meet the criteria for historic preservation and modernization. The project circumvents Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act by proceeding without a transparent design review. The East Wing should be consistent with the architecture of the rest of the White House rather than towering over the original, central building. National Preservation and Trust procedures should be followed to recreate the East Wing to have modest improvements, including updated electrical and safety items, in keeping with the proportions of the White House proper. The cost of such restoration should be born by the person(s) who authorized the destruction, not by the taxpayers.
I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.
The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration.

To whom it may concern,

I vehemently oppose the proposed $300 million ballroom construction on the grounds of the White House. This project is a waste of funds, regardless of the source, which have been reported to be private donations. This is the People's House yet this project was put forth without following any of the proper procedures. Where are the permits? Where was the design review? Who is authorizing this? The demolition of the East Wing has already been a devastating loss to a beautiful historic site. Do not ruin it further by building an unnecessary, distasteful, and overly aggrandizing ballroom in its place. It's an embarrassment to the American people. The 90,000 square feet of space that are to become a ballroom could be something much more meaningful to the country. I believe the East Wing should be brought back. Reconstruct a visitor's entrance and social office, as well as the Office of the First Lady of the United States. Those offices have much more meaning to the nation than a ballroom that will largely go un-used and do nothing for the common American citizen.

Thank you for your time.

What is happening to the White House and the East Wing under Donald Trump is deeply troubling. The White House is not a private residence or a personal brand platform — it is a historic institution that belongs to the American people. Every president serves as a temporary steward of that space, not its owner.
When changes are made that prioritize personal image, political messaging, or self-promotion over tradition, preservation, and respect for institutional norms, it undermines the symbolic integrity of the presidency itself. The East Wing, traditionally associated with ceremonial functions and the First Lady's initiatives, represents continuity and public service — not partisan spectacle.
The White House should reflect unity, stability, and democratic values. It is meant to be preserved, respected, and maintained in a way that honors history and the American people — not reshaped to serve individual ego or political grievance.
Regardless of party affiliation, Americans should expect their president to treat the White House as a shared national trust, not a personal stage.

Over the past 40 years I have owned and restored ten historic homes & commercial buildings. Everyone understands they are a priceless part of a city's infrastructure - and never should be demolished! They may have temporary stewards who come and go (like President Trump), but ownership belongs to the people - past and future.

The White House has always been the people's house. It is not, and has never been, the vanity project of a singular President, nor their own wants or desires. Beyond tearing down the East Wing - an unimaginable historic loss - there are policies and procedures in place that have been completely ignored. This egregious abuse of office, one of many, should be stopped immediately until public input, along with the proper channels, can be followed.

I believe that the scale of the East Wing Addition in not appropriate in context to the White House Residence. By choosing to set the cornice line equal to the Residence, the designer is diminishing the significance of the Residence. And from many view angles, the proposed East Wing massively dwarfs the Residence. I do not believe that this is an appropriate design choice and that the height and apparent scale of the proposed addition should be reduced.

Aside from the question of scale, I find that the proposed addition is thoughtfully detailed and responds appropriately to the existing architecture and site.

It is part of the history of the US that The White House is “the People’s house”, a symbol of our democracy. The President resides there solely during the term in office. Because it is such a visible and important symbol of history, any major change must have been subjected to a comprehensive review, with a scrutinized plan for construction. The sudden and total demolition of the East Wing by the current resident of this historic building was done without care or compliance with procedure and protocol and must be condemned and remediated for complete restoration to its historic condition. Like so many others, I am outraged and disgusted by the lack of accountability for this destruction and I implore you to determine it must be restored. Thank you.

I'm absolutely opposed to the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. Rather than a modernization project, it is a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, now, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. This is the people's house. NO ONE is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I oppose any changes to the East wing of our White House, unless it is to force Donald Trump to spend his own money to repair every inch of what his administration ripped down. There was no national conversation about these changes to our White House, no laws followed, no environmental impact reports done, prior to the destruction of our national treasure. Please do not allow any changes made to the East wing of the White House, except to order Trump to fix what he has broken! Thank you!

To Whom it May Concern:

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project. The phrase "Modernization Project" is a misnomer. The East Wing was wrongfully and unconstitutionally demolished. The president had no authority to do this, no permits, no design review, nor any other protocols. It was a complete razing of American history and a breathtaking act of executive overreach. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design at the president's own expense, by Congressional and/or court order if necessary. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. Thank you.

This is no "modernization" project. It's a vanity project that was not properly authorized. The East Wing of the White House has been destroyed. Now it's just a massive hole in the ground with a gaping maw in the side of the White House. The People's House. Our House. Destroyed without our consent. It must be rebuilt according to its original design. And those responsible should be made to pay the cost.

This project was initiated without following the law. The East Wing was being torn down without the proper paperwork, permits, or design plan was submitted let alone approved. The project needs to be canceled, and the East Wing needs to be restored to its original historical self. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law, and an affront to the people of this country and common decency. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion. Additionally, I would urge a complete inventory of every item that was in the East Wing and its current whereabouts.

Commissioners,
I am writing to oppose the ballroom proposed for the East Wing if the White House. This project dwarfs the original building and its price tag is enormous. The history of the East Wing is being obliterated to appease one man. This is not a project that is either needed or wanted by the American people. Please require the restoration of the East Wing to its former self. Breaking the law should not be rewarded and our history should be preserved.

I finished my MS in Historic Preservation in 1996, and have used that knowledge to place buildings on the National Register. I was horrified when I saw the demolition beginning and couldn't believe it wasn't being stopped. All past administrations have gone through the proper channels when building an addition to one of D.C.'s historic buildings. This regime bulldozed history without a thought of history; it is a travesty. This cannot go forward.

I absolutely oppose the spending of $300 million (which would probably end up being more!) on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. this project needs to be canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

this. And we can help.

Any additions to the White House need to reflect the current architecture and that it is the people's house, not a palace for a king. It should not be more ornate than the Capitol building. No gold accents, limit the varieties of marble to match what is already there (Georgian marble, I believe). Everything needs to be ADA accessible with modern wiring and safety standards, but should match the aesthetic of the White House before President Trump took office. No part of this building should serve as a monument to any person or party. And put a rose garden back in.

First, it was irresponsible and illegal of the current administration to do irreversible damage to the East Wing before seeking comments. That is not President Trump's personal real-estate to demolish as he sees fit. There should be repercussions for breaking the law. It's bizarre that it even needs to be said.

IF a ballroom is required for formal White House events, which I am not convinced is true, it should be in keeping with the esthetics and proportions of the current building. Under no circumstances should the proposed ballroom mirror the gilded vomit the President wanted in the Oval Office. It should be timeless and tasteful.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

The White House belongs to the People of the United States. The demolition was conducted on the instruction of a rogue President who overstepped his authority, deliberately and blatantly disregarding the protocols put in place to protect The People's House. His actions have destroyed irreparably an important piece of our nation's legacy and history. His plan to build an extravagant unnecessary gaudy ballroom, in the face of such financial suffering of the citizens of this country is tone deaf and little more than an exercise of arrogance and self aggrandizement. It must be stopped. He must be stopped. The appropriate professionals, historians, and contractors must be consulted and permitted to carry forward with any plans for reparations for what has been done.

It is really upsetting to me that the East Wing with so much history and where I have actually stood has been taken down for President Trump's big, huge ballroom! It appears that the ballroom will dwarf the actual White House and overpower it in appearance. It is supposed to be filled with gold which is not representative of the American people. And the public whose money will more than likely have to go into it to pay for it will never be allowed to step into it. That is true even though he says that it is being paid for by donors. Remember, Mexico was supposed to pay for the "wall"! He acts as if the entire White House belongs to him! iI does not and instead belongs to the people of this country. He thinks nothing of spending our taxpayer money to do what he wants when it is simply not his! He never gets anyone or any group's opinion to see whether anyone else wants the same. Part of the reason that he is doing this is so that it can have his name on it! He keeps on spending millions of the public's monies on these kinds of projects! In the meantime, we have people in this nation who are going hungry, don't have shelter and won't have any kind of health care because he has taken away their ability to pay for it. He doesn't care in the least about taking care of the people and about preventing disasters for them because he has raised prices by putting arbitrary tariffs on so many countries. He keeps saying that the countries pay the tariffs, but that is not true! He should have learned that at Wharton Business School! We people in this nation pay the price of the tariffs. He got Qatar to give him a plane for "free" that we taxpayers will foot the bill for to retrofit it. It probably won't be ready for use until he is out of office, and then he will take it with him. All of that money will have been spent for the necessary security apparatus, and then it will have to be taken out to be used as his private plane! His priorities are totally screwed up! We need that entire White House complex to be representative of the American people and not the few who have all of the wealth!

Please reign in this lawless destruction of the PEOPLE'S house! I strongly oppose the pay-to-play donations by billionaires to fund the $300 million estimated construction costs on a ballroom built upon the demolished east wing of the White House. This project -- especially the rushed demolition of the East Wing took place without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. This is a vanity project for the current inhabitant who believes he is above the law, and certainly above the little people,(I mean citizens) whom he believes are no more than peasants in his kingdom. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without abiding to proper protocols and existing laws is to rubber stamp the idea that historic preservation no longer matters and any future president could simply tear down the entire white house to "modernize it" in favor of whatever architectural style that person deems appropriate and preferable.

Please do the right thing and reign in the lawless actions of the out-of-control megalomaniac who is the embodiment of the bully in the china shop.

Thank you,

I strongly object to the building of the new ballroom. I agree the required authorization to alter an historic building was bypassed, along with the proper permits, which are reason alone to stop the construction of the new ballroom and whatever is planned for beneath it. In addition, it's an abomination and an affront to the "People's House" to deface the Federal Style building with garish and inappropriate additions and adornments that detract from its historical design. Further, Donald Trump should have to pay for the cost of restoring the White House to its original design and size.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because it changes the character of a national historic site that belongs to the people of the United States. Major changes to this structure should take place through the required process of transparent review, not unilateral action. Demolition should not have begun until there was a full and transparent review of the proposed renovations and a careful accounting of historic preservation guidelines and plans.

Further, this $300M project, whose cost has already expanded several times since the East Wing was demolished, is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration. This private funding creates, at the very least, the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust. One can easily imagine that donors to the ballroom might expect ready access to the sitting administration.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.
The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park. It is owned by the American people. The current president at any given time does not own the WH. The president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits or Congressional oversight is a clear violation of the law. The American people were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size.

I believe strongly that all renovations on government buildings follow the procedures and rules for approval prior to the demolition of any type. The fact that the East Wing modernization project is to be privately funded does not change the fact that appropriate procedures were not followed nor submitted to the NCPC for approval. I would not want any "modernization projects" started on other government buildings, monuments, or public buildings without approval from the NCPC.

I am against the East Wing Modernization because for one thing it will overwhelm the rest of the White House. Secondly, if that much money can be donated or come from some other accounts, it needs to go to better use than building a 90,000 ft.^{2} ballroom.
I also believe Trump doesn't think he's going to ever need to leave the White House. There's no reason for him to try to continually have parties there.
Far too many Americans are having a hard time just getting by from day today there's no reason for a ballroom!

I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.

No one is above the law, and permitting this project to proceed without penalizing those who broke it would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

No one but the President wants this. No one. Period. No one has been asking for it for a hundred years. No one. What was done to the people's house is not just shameful, it is a disgrace to America and our history. It must be stopped. The White House East Wing must be rebuilt to its former state. Those responsible for this MUST be held accountable.

What has been done to the once-glorious White House East Wing is a travesty! The demolition was illegal! The White House belongs to the U.S. American people. As such, U.S. citizens should have a say in any future construction. I thank the National Capital Planning Commission for honoring its extremely important duty and for taking every measure to safeguard this national treasure. I demand that the East Wing be re-constructed to its former grandeur - to how it was prior to the illegal and unnecessary demolition. I also demand a formal inquiry be launched to determine the whereabouts of all the furnishings, artwork, and other artifacts that were inside the East Wing at the time of its demolition. I also request that, should any of these furnishings, artwork and other artifacts be located, they be safeguarded by the National Capital Planning Commission and / or archived in a safe place until such a time as they can be returned to the East Wing.

Thank you again to the National Capital Planning Commission for doing your job.

The ballroom project is a vanity project and was started with no oversight. It should have followed the same process other building renovations previously did. The White House belongs to the people of the United States, not the president. Based on how the former East Wing was razed without approvals, you cannot trust this administration to continue with this project. Rebuild the East Wing, add a larger banquet room if absolutely necessary, but skip the gaudy memorial to Donald Trump.

To whom it may concern,

The recent unauthorized renovation of the East Wing under Donald Trump's direction represents not only a blatant disregard for preservation protocol, but also a direct assault on the very mission your organization was founded to uphold: the protection of America's irreplaceable architectural legacy. It is imperative the Trust demand that Mr. Trump personally bear the full cost of restoring the East Wing to its historical integrity — a responsibility arising squarely from his decision to circumvent proper review channels.

The East Wing is not a private asset to be altered at whim; it is a living piece of national history. Every molding, fixture, and design element is bound by federal preservation standards precisely to prevent impulsive alterations that erase cultural memory. By proceeding without approval, Mr. Trump not only destroyed the trust embedded in those channels but willfully usurped the authority of heritage stewards. Such disregard mocks the countless preservationists who fight, often thanklessly, to maintain these symbols of our shared past.

Furthermore, using taxpayer funds to correct damage resulting from personal vanity would set a catastrophic precedent — rewarding recklessness at public expense. The individual responsible for unauthorized changes must finance their reversal. Anything less telegraphs that wealth or celebrity grants immunity from heritage law. Accountability is the cornerstone of preservation ethics; restoration on the taxpayer's dime would be a betrayal of that principle.

The National Trust has repeatedly demonstrated its independence in the face of political pressure. Now is the moment to reaffirm that legacy. Require Mr. Trump to underwrite the restoration completely and transparently, supervised by certified preservation experts. Let this serve as both remedy and deterrent, ensuring that no future occupant — regardless of title — treats our nation's architectural treasures as a stage set for ego.

America's historic sites are the physical chapters of our democracy. To allow them to be rewritten or erased through arrogance would be to concede that history itself can be bought. The Trust must not permit such vandalism to stand unchallenged.

Respectfully,
Clinton Michael
Roseburg, Oregon

No president should skirt the law and destroy historical landmarks, but this president did. Now he has proposed a gargantuan addition that is out of scale with the rest of The People's House. And it does not properly blend with the remaining historical structure. The project must be stopped. Then proper historical architects brought in to redraw the plan to proper scale and style to restore what once was. This large a ballroom is wholly unnecessary and must be stopped. The destruction of the East Wing of the White House, with supposed plans to replace it with something that has now grown into an at least $300 million project to construct an unneeded ballroom that will never be of benefit to the majority of tax-paying Americans, was done without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this unnecessary project. Though the project supposedly may be funded by “private donors”, this essentially just provides an opportunity for said donors to bribe President Trump or others in the current government to give them favorable treatment in some way (quite possibly benefiting them financially beyond what they donate). I want the project cancelled. The East Wing should be rebuilt according to its former design, which is in keeping with the remainder of the White House and its surroundings. No one is above the law. Those who broke the law to cause this project to be initiated should be penalized, possibly including requirements to pay fines sufficient to cover the costs of repairing the damage caused. I absolutely oppose this so-called "modernization project." The East Wing has been demolished. The only way to "modernize" it is to rebuild it completely, to original specs, with perhaps added structural integrity and security. The project being planned by the current administration is a vanity gold-leaf ballroom that would dwarf the actual White House and serve as nothing more than a grotesque monument to the current occupant.

The White House is not a private residence. It is a national historic landmark that we, the people ALLOW a person to work and reside in for four years by electing him or her as president. We do not have kings. No individual can legally alter "the people's house" in any significant way, let alone destroy one of two major wings - the one that served as the public's entrance, FOTUS's administrative annex, and emergency shelter and command center.

I hereby demand that any considered renovation and funding be subject to all legally required steps necessary for approval or disapproval. This would involve but not necessarily be limited to oversight by Congress, the National Archives, and whatever national historic preservation agencies control the White House and all of its associated land and properties.

I am sickened by this administration's reckless and cavalier attitude toward our sacred history and landmarks. As a taxpayer, I absolutely do not want any of my money going toward the proposed East Wing Modernization Project. Rather, I want ALL planned demolition, construction, and rehabilitation projects proposed by this administration to be halted immediately. (That includes his ridiculous "arc de Trump" and "renovations" to the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.)

Instead, I propose that the East Wing be rebuilt and restored to its former glory. Furthermore, if laws were broken when it was demolished without prior approval by appropriate governing bodies, then those who violated the law should be at the very least removed from office and at most prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Those people and agencies who have the authority to stand up to autocracy must do so. We, the people have the voices, but you, those who represent us, have the power to act on our behalf. Please use the power we gave you and stop this rogue administration from destroying any more of our history. Thank you, and good luck.

The White House is the people's house, not the president's. It represents US dignity and has always been treated with respect. It must continue to be respected not destroyed.
I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I oppose the destruction of the East Wing of the White House in order to construct an overpriced unpermitted ballroom that will likely never come to fruition. The cost of the destruction and current construction / demolition of this part of the White House is highly concerning and should not have been allowed to happen without consultation with historical agencies and communities. More should be explained about what happened to the belongings that were once housed in the East Wing and ensuring they are not in a certain bathroom in Florida or something.

Dear Commissioners,
The East Wing destruction occurred at the direction of Donald Trump. Despite being president, he acted outside of established protocol and regulations to destroy the People's House in a manner not seen since the British attack of 1812. This was not for needed repairs or updates, but so Trump could feel like a king. This action is illegal and immoral. Please seal off the destroyed area and rebuild only when Trump can no longer be involved.
Sincerely,
Elizabeth Slowik Sinkevics

Donald J Trump has turned part of the White House, the Oval Office, into a golden replica of a whorehouse waiting room, we, the people, did not deserve to have another part of our heritage and history, the East Wing, summarily destroyed by this man. He cannot be allowed to replace the East Wing with another glittering obscenity that will be a direct affront to the entire nation.

The destruction of history is appalling. Every touch to the White House - the People's House - has been done with the consent of the representatives of the people & has sought to elevate & enhance the beauty & elegance of the space. The current president in his mania for self branding has followed none of these practices & standards. Money has been wasted. Please seek to redeem it by a return to those standards, as soon as possible.

The total destruction of the East Wing of the White House affected me deeply. It felt as though I were watching the jets smash into the World Trade Center on 9/11. As though this were the end of America.
The White House is The People's House--OUR house. That this president decided--without consulting US or anyone for that matter--before tearing it down in front of our eyes was shocking! That nobody could stop him was even more shocking and frightening: if he could do that to Our House, what else could he do?
I do not want his massive, $400 M golden ballroom constructed over what was the East Wing. The drawings are atrocious. It dwarfs the rest of the White House--OUR HOUSE. Already beautiful trees and the Rose Garden are gone. I do not want him to continue with this vanity project.
I would like HIM to pay to have the East Wing rebuilt with the same footprint, providing a visual balance for the White House. If he wants the interior reconfigured for a ballroom, then that could be considered--but nothing else should be done per his orders until and unless The White House Historical Society and the NCPC and the National Park Service and an architectural review board approves the plans.
Thank you for opening up your review to The People. I appreciate very much what you are doing and wish you strength and courage.
Regards,
Pamela Houston

When I saw the footage of the demolition of the East Wing of The White House, I felt sick to my stomach. I felt like I had been punched. I am not being dramatic when I say that the destruction seen on television was horrific.

Tearing down such an important part of such an important building is shocking. Not going through any proper procedures is also shocking. This is a huge loss.

The need for such a large ballroom is certainly not a need. In no way is this project one that makes sense.

The plans for this ballroom have grown already and will ruin the integrity of the White House. The size alone makes the White House appear smaller. It ruins the silhouette of the White House. It looks like it doesn't belong. It is just a giant add on.

Please make sure this project does not move forward. Please make sure that The White House's East Wing is restored.

Thank you for listening…and, please help!

This project is an affront to “We the People.” The White House is part of our collective history as a nation and there are processes in place before changes are to be made. We must not let anyone do what they want and assume permission later. The current occupant needs to know that he cannot unilaterally make these decisions - auctioning off shares for a new ballroom to the highest bidder. These are not the ideals upon which our country was founded. In the name of tradition and not destroying things that aren’t yours, please stop the insanity of essentially giving permission when it’s done. Additionally since the demolition was completed without permission full restoration should be funded by those who made these poor decisions, not the taxpayer.

I vehemently oppose this project, which began with the illicit destruction of a beloved historic building belonging to the American public, without notice or approval or even review. There has to be accountability; people can't just bulldoze priceless architectural artifacts on a whim and then be rewarded with carte blanche. No one asked for this ostentatious and unnecessary ballroom. I would rather see $300 million used to help average Americans. We can never recover the original East Wing thanks to the president's audacious belief in his own infallibility, but it would set a terrible precedent to allow this project to proceed as planned.

I object to the East Wing Modernization Project for several reasons, which I enumerate below.

1.) It was done without consultation with the relevant agencies, both public and private, having an interest in the historic architecture in the District of Columbia.

2.) Funding sources for this effort have not been publicly voted upon.

3.) No evidence has been provided to substantiate claims of unsuitability of the previously existing East Wing.

I trust the work will cease until all three of these items are satisfied.

As a tax paying American citizen, I oppose this $300 million dollar project which has been initiated without the proper authorization, permits or design review. It is not a modernization project. If it were, the East Wing would still be intact and plans submitted for the improvement of the existing wing. Instead, the wing was torn down completely without approval from the National Capital Planning Commission or the National

I want to see this project cancelled entirely, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, with honest improvements to the structure, not vainglorious golden ballrooms. I have my Masters degree in Interior Design with a concentration in Historic Preservation from Virginia Tech. For the life of me, I can not understand how any of the demolition of the East Wing was allowed since not ONE of the proper channels nor paperwork was filed for this project. There was no feasibility study completed either. I was blown away that the National Trust for Historic Preservation or several of the other Historic Preservation groups within Washington DC did not file any emergency lawsuit to halt this demolition until the courts could rule on the legality of this Historic building, the People's House or White House, was being removed without ANY of the proper chain of command or permits being filed with the organization that is responsible for this structure!

I really do not care who is paying for this "new ballroom". This is not this President's decision to make! He does not own this structure, the country owns it! He is merely a temporary resident, and his opinions and wants should be treated accordingly.

I am completely in agreement with Ms. Guard's comment on this matter: “ I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. I oppose the project and vehemently oppose taxpayers money going toward it. The East Wing destruction happened illegally without required permitting and without public input and the only thing that should happen in this space is that the President should out of his personal assets pay to restore what he destroyed. It is not a modernization project it is an autocratic power grab and tribute to his ego.

I submit these comments as a private citizen. While I currently serve in elected office as a city councilor, these views are my own and do not represent the City or its governing body.

As both a citizen and long-time public servant — including decades of service in uniform and in local government — I believe each generation serves as a temporary steward of the nation’s most significant public places. The White House is not simply a functional complex; it is the People's House — a symbol that belongs to the American public rather than to any temporary occupants — and its physical form reflects continuity, stability, and shared national identity across administrations and eras.

Because of that significance, actions that result in the removal or destruction of historically recognizable portions of the White House should never occur without robust public engagement, appropriate permitting, and clear legal authority. In this instance, no meaningful opportunity for public input was provided before decisions affecting the East Wing's historic character were made. Decisions involving nationally significant landmarks should be grounded in transparent processes that reinforce public trust and demonstrate that preservation values have been fully considered alongside modern functional needs.

I am concerned that the loss of the East Wing's historic character represents a departure from those principles. Modernization and security needs are legitimate considerations, but they should be pursued in ways that respect historic context and architectural continuity rather than replace it.

I also oppose the expenditure of substantial taxpayer resources — reportedly in the range of $300 million — to advance a design that alters the historic character of the site, particularly if accountability for prior actions has not been clearly established. Even if private fundraising or donor support is proposed, the long-term maintenance, operations, and stewardship of any new construction will ultimately remain a public responsibility for generations to come. Funding source alone does not resolve concerns related to historic preservation, design compatibility, or long-term public cost.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Commission to pause further advancement of the current design, step back to allow for robust public engagement, and ensure that any future path forward reflects meaningful consultation with the American public and appropriate advice and consent from Congress. A thoughtful reset in process would help restore public confidence and allow consideration of alternatives that better preserve the East Wing's historic character and continuity.

I further urge that the East Wing be rebuilt or restored in a manner that reflects its former design and historical accuracy. Restoration would affirm a commitment to stewardship, accountability, and continuity, demonstrating that modernization can occur without erasing elements that hold enduring meaning for generations of Americans.

How we care for the People's House communicates how seriously we value history, institutions, and the public's role in shaping both. Future generations should inherit a White House that reflects continuity of purpose as well as continuity of design — a place where necessary evolution occurs thoughtfully, transparently, and with respect for legacy.

Respectfully submitted,

Joe Seconder

An over done gilded ballroom is not needed. The White House is not a palace, it represents that our government is

While I understand his fear that the bunker in which he might need to cower, should there be an uprising against his tyranny, is not to his design specifications, I abhor the casualness by which he flouted federal law, demolishing irreplaceable national history. To permit this construction to go ahead would ignore the seriousness of his actions, and give the baby his new toy after he has already taken a sledgehammer to someone else's - for the White House is NOT his to do with as he pleases. I am writing to express my strong opposition to the spending of $300 million dollars to replace the former East Wing of the White House with a new ballroom.
The White House should not be transformed into an event venue as it is an important symbol of our nation's history, democratic traditions, and institutional continuity. Each wing of the building reflects decades of architectural evolution and historical significance. Altering its structure in such a fundamental way risks diminishing its integrity as a national landmark and a treasured piece of American heritage.

The East Wing in particular had long served important functional and ceremonial roles. Despite the cost, the architectural history of the East Wing needs to be authentically restored.
The White House belongs to the American people, and any significant structural change should have been approached with the utmost respect for our traditions, the building's legacy, our laws and transparency. I respectfully urge decision-makers to put an end to the destruction of a piece of our history and prioritize preservation over expansion.
Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law and a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal. While sitting presidents have historically renovated and improved the White House, it has been with purpose. This is a 300 million dollar ego trip started by destroying without a final plan. Outrageous.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. As former First Lady Michelle Obama said, the White House is the people's house, and I agree. The president, in service to the country, lives at the White House for a limited time. This ballroom project, and the demolition of decades worth of history, was done without the people's input, and especially without the proper due process.

I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I oppose this project. Any change to the White House should be carefully reviewed by historians, architects, and the public. The destruction of the prior structure without these controls taints this project profoundly. The White House does not exist to serve the whim of the President.

The appropriate steps now for this project are to 1. Stabilize the structure; 2. Stop any further work. 3. Initiate a new project with Congressional approval that begins with publicly-ageed goals, structure, and timeline, to define an appropriate way to recover our national treasure from this UTTER DEBACLE. Next there should be a criminal investigation of the officials who approved and abetted the destruction of the original building.

Without public input from the populace or from historic preservation committees as required by law. The president is not above the law, and he should not be allowed to proceed with this oversized and inappropriate remaking g of our beloved East Wing. Just reconstruct it as it once was.

I find the idea of a ballroom disgusting, and the expenditure outrageous while most people are living paycheck to paycheck. I know that anything Trump builds will not be architecturally in line with the rest of the white house. I am horrified, that the original east wing was already ripped down, before this project was appropriately approved. This is like watching the lead up to the French revolution in real time.

I oppose the annexing, building, and construction of the ballroom on the former site and other adjacent grounds known as the former East Wing of the White House. No proper building permits were obtained prior to the sudden, unannounced razing of this historic US East Wing, a building which was part of the White House, an historic landmark of the American People. Furthermore, since the current President did not conduct due diligence in obtaining permits to change the East Wing, but claimed to have donations to cover the costs of said ballroom construction, it is suggested he use his own private funds to restore the construction of the East Wing to its historic parameters. His monies should be encumbered and construction should begin immediately with said permits and the cooperation of historical society and building experts.

This is not a project that should be undertaken. It should be stopped in its tracks. No construction should take place until a plan is approved through the established process by people who have all the information and will consider public comments on the project.

The destruction of the East Wing is distressing, as it was done outside the established process, and the building of a ballroom to seat 1000 people would be a travesty. President Trump is a tenant, not an owner of the White House, the PEOPLE's House. President Trump should be presented with a bill specifying a firm payment deadline for all destruction to date. Plus, he should be presented with a bill to fill the site, level it, and seed it with grass seed so the scar of the demolition is minimized and further trauma to the nation is prevented.

I do not think there should be a ballroom at all. It is not the site for a declasse megastructure to soothe someone's ego. I'm sure future First Ladies would like to have an office to use. Perhaps they will have a voice in what could be built for their use without being outlandish, outrageous, or ugly, as the current plans are.

Thank you so much for the opportunity to comment. It is a shame that the public couldn't provide input before the historic East Wing was destroyed.

“The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I oppose the spending any money on the ballroom vanity project known as the "East Wing Modernization Project."

This was initiated without proper authorization, permits, or design review on historic land. How arrogant that anyone would do something on historic land without proper permission. Just ignorant. And, arrogant.

The east wing demolition is not a modernization project. It is a complete destruction of American history. It does not go unnoticed by me that it is the destruction of the space important to First Ladies. To women.

This project should be canceled immediately. The east wing must be restored to its former design.

No one is above the law including a president and his billionaire friends. Presidents should be leaders and role models. What sort of a role model is someone who destroys an historic property?

Rather, this is the complete destruction of the East Wing of the White House (THE PEOPLE'S HOUSE). This is so sad… We were not asked, and we had no say so. We cannot go back and undo what has been done. We understand that the ballroom was small, but to build something in that location that is larger than the actual White House is just ghastly and obnoxious!
This is OUR house-WE The People. Where does it stop? What will be next? I am not going to list all of the locations that the current president feels he needs to put his name on and trademark. I don't care if it has been privately funded. And what if when he's out of office we find that the funding is not there? Again, we cannot undo what has been done, but we can stop it from moving forward before it becomes an even larger nightmare. We need all of our elected officials to find their moral courage and their back bones again. If you stand together, you cannot be taken down. The majority of America is not happy and you need to stand up for us again. Thank you for listening to my concerns.

Growing up in Washington DC and northern Virginia, I have a storehouse of memories - as a child watching my Dad perform with the US Navy Band during summer concerts at the base of the Capitol steps, parades, inaugurations as well as touring with out of town relatives wishing to take tours of the White House. The Washington of the late 40's through the late 60's which I knew is a far cry from 2026. The razing of the East Wing saddens me. But the way in which it was demolished without recognition of its history and no attempt to even consider running the idea through the proper channels in the first place angers me greatly. This project should be stopped. The wing should be reconstructed using those "private donations" not taxpayer monies. This country does not need a grand ballroom (or a copycat Arch of Triumph for that matter) that will be the exclusive use of billionaires while 99% of Americans figure out how to buy groceries vs medications.

To the National Capital Planning Commission: The destruction of the East Wing was illegal, initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I like the proposed Ballroom. I like its security element. I like the size and that it will appear to be part of not apart from the White House. I like that there will be a place for dignitaries and other to celebrate with bathrooms close by. I hope there will be 3x’s more stalls for women wearing fluffy dresses than men wearing suits.

I'm so disappointed at the delay in stopping the demolition. But here we are. Please stop the ballroom. The white House is not a resort, a golf club, a convention center or a hotel - it does not need a ballroom that dwarfs the main part of the house. It does not need such a large space to entertain the mega rich who are trying to buy the office. Please don't allow this project to continue. It is the People's house, not a DC version of Mara Lago.

To the Commission:

Watching the destruction of Jackie Kennedy's Rose Garden, and the lawn covered in concrete, and then the promise that the East Wing would not be touched...and then they bulldozed it before our eyes...I have never been so sick at the lack of respect for our historical buildings, our HISTORY! There is no reason on earth for a BALLROOM twice the size of the original White House. No reason for the expense. He had no legal right to destroy it, and the East Wing needs to be rebuilt EXACTLY AS IT WAS before. We, the people, are being robbed of our tax dollars right and left, and getting NOTHING for it. PLEASE STOP THE DESECRATION OF OUR MONUMENTS AND BUILDINGS!

Sincerely,

It has been said that a large room is needed for White House events, and without the ballroom, events must be held under tents on the lawn. If that is indeed a valid reason (which I am not in a position to judge), it seems there is no need to rush this project. I am deeply grieved by the destruction of the East Wing without public comment. I would like whatever replaces it to be balanced with the rest of the building and as modest in scope as possible. We should not have a palace. We should have a house. The addition should avoid the trappings of royalty and recognize the democratic nature of our country.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The White House has never belonged to the elected President, but instead it belongs to We The People !!! It is a resident for their use only !!! Please stop this waste of money and put an end to the construction of an unneeded ballroom. And have the current President pay for the rebuild of the West Wing to its former glory like it was before he ordered it demolished without following requirements to do so. As a law abiding American citizen I find it outrageous that the current occupant of the White House has had the East Wing demolished and hauled away to a trash heap as if he were the owner of a piece of private real estate.

The rule of law, if it is to mean anything, must find an adequate and appropriate remedy to this crime. At a minimum, the project must be halted until the damages can be completely analyzed and proposals for restoration properly solicited. Then an appropriate fine or other penalty can be determined and imposed.

Only then should any proposal for remodeling or substantial revision of the White House be entertained by the proper authorities. In the meantime, the wreckage should stand as a monument to the State of our Union under the lawless rule of a delusional autocrat who has not been checked or balanced by the independent branches of our government.

The CASE
- In 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Order 6166, transferring "public buildings and public parks of the National Capital" to the Department of the Interior and National Park Service. (NPS)
- Roosevelt's intent was clear: to protect the White House and other national landmarks from the "wrecking ball" of short-term politics.
-While later administrations narrowed this interpretation, treating the White House Residence as a "special case," this carve out has never been tested in Court.

The PROBLEM
- Recent demolition of the East Wing and redesign of the Rose Garden demonstrate how unchecked presidential authority can erase history.
- Without judicial clarity, presidents may continue to redesign or demolish parts of the White House and add monuments like the Arch according to personal taste, undermining its role as a shared national heritage.

The DEMAND
1. Judicial Review of Executive Order 6166 to determine whether the White House residence is legally under NPS stewardship and if so the proceedings to build an oversize ballroom larger than the residence is unlawful and adjustments need to be made.
2. Congressional hearings to investigate recent demolitions, future monuments and ensure accountability.
3. Legislation explicitly placing the White House under NPS authority, closing the loophole that allows unilateral presidential redesign.
4. Public transparency in all future renovations, with binding oversight by preservation experts.

Finally, The White House belongs to the people. It must be preserved with reverence, not redesigned at the whim of any occupant. Roosevelt's vision should be honored; the law must be clarified to protect one of the nation's most iconic buildings and the District of Columbia.

This goes beyond modernization—it represents the dismantling of an important historical structure. The project should be stopped, and the East Wing returned to its original design. The White House has been such an iconic symbol of this country. What the president is proposing with this gigantic ballroom does not fit the iconic nature of our beautiful White House. If the American people had been asked about this, I am absolutely convinced it would've been a resounding no. The East wing does not belong to this president or any other. They occupy it for a period of time. It has been a symbol along with the rest of the White House, to the American public. The giant ballroom will dwarf the main portion of the White House that has symbolized the history of our nation. Losing the iconic east wing was bad enough. This is the people's house. This does not belong to one person or one family or one administration. The people of America want our gracious and historic Eastwing back.

Please, I and everyone that I know, ask you to please keep our White House with the taste, the history and the majestic historic style that our four fathers built.

Thank you for considering my comments and for saving this majestic piece of American history.

The East Wing project is a slap across the collective face of the American people and must be stopped. The audacity that one would think they have the right to tear down an entire wing of a house that they do not own is bad enough, but to plan to replace it with a kitschy vanity project is beyond belief. Throw a tarp over the mess until the people can vote on what should be built there. If anyone starts whining "this is a matter of national security" they should be told that the time to have thought about that would have been prior to sneaking bulldozers on site, before dawn, to plunder and pillage our East Wing.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposal to construct a new ballroom on the former grounds of the East Wing of the White House.

The White House is not merely a functional residence or event space—it is a historic symbol of American democracy. Every structural element and surrounding ground carries architectural, cultural, and historical significance. Altering the original footprint of the East Wing area to accommodate a large new ballroom risks diminishing the integrity of a site that belongs to the American people.

Preserving historic spaces is not about resisting change; it is about safeguarding the legacy and symbolism that define our national identity. Major structural additions, especially those that significantly alter the grounds, should be approached with extreme caution and broad public consensus. Once historic land is altered, it cannot be restored to its original context.

Additionally, there are practical considerations. At a time when many Americans are concerned about fiscal responsibility and the prioritization of national resources, investing in a new ballroom may appear out of step with more pressing public needs. The White House has long hosted state functions successfully within its existing spaces. Expanding in a way that alters historic grounds sets a precedent that future administrations may continue, potentially eroding the site's historic character over time.

I respectfully urge decision-makers to prioritize preservation, transparency, and public input before moving forward with any construction that would permanently change the historic landscape of the White House.

Thank you for your consideration.

The White House is the people's house. No president has the sole power to destroy it or to build any new addition to it without consideration of proper oversight. The White House is a National Treasure. The destruction of the west wing was a crime and we should be made whole by the current president.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I strongly oppose the spending of $300 million on this project. It was initiated without proper authorization, permits, or a legitimate design review. That alone should be enough to stop it.

This is being described as a modernization effort, but it is not modernization. It is a complete razing of an important part of American history. That distinction matters. Words should not be used to mask the scale of what is being done.

The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its former design. Major structural changes to historic buildings must follow the proper legal process, with transparency and oversight. And people who try to undermine established policy and legal precedent should be held accountable.

Please act swiftly to protect both the integrity of this historic structure and the rule of law.

I'm writing to express my sincere and disgusted opinion with what is being planned after the demolition and what is planned for the East Wing. To call it a modernization project is clearly false. The $300 billion dollar project for a ballroom to be used only by Americas elite is unacceptable! Not to mention in poor taste. That the original was demolished without authorization should be criminal. Has anyone even seen an accounting or plans for this new monstrosity which I understand is proposed to be large than the rest of the main structure? Why hasn't the public seen the plans? This is the Americans house, not Donald Trumps. He's done enough damage already! Please halt this travesty?

I feel the need to comment on the Eastwing ballroom project. I believe this destruction was an illegal action as this is a historical federal building. There are rules and regulations in place for any construction or remodeling projects that are planned for any historical federal building. The commission that is in charge of these changes in DC did not receive any notification of any distruction plans, any submitted construction plans or budget. Since this is a historical building there are a lot of considerations for style matching and the products used. Another consideration is the fact that this is the "People's House", we the people were not made aware of or had a vote to change our house. My hope is that the perpetrator who destroyed the Eastwing has to pay for the construction to restore the White House to its previous glory.

The proposed ballroom is unneeded and completely out of scale with the remaining portions of the White House. The scrape of the East Wing was done in an irresponsible manner. Trump should personally be held responsible for this travesty. This thoughtless approach to the project, without any historic preservation consideration, angers citizens. Construction must not move forward. Instead, there should be a reevaluation of the site and designs with experts as is typical of a major landmark project. An accounting into funds donated for the ballroom should also take place.

I oppose the tear down of the East Wing and the proposed $300 million budget. The tear down was done without congressional oversight and without review by the National Parks department as required. It was a reckless action fueled not by a desire to improve, but to destroy American history in a childish show of bravado, a "look what I can do" temper tantrum.
This is not something the taxpayers should pay for. It should also not be funded by private companies as it is obviously a quid pro quo for the president and a way to line his pockets. Instead the cost to rebuild it as it was should come out of his own pocket. It's only fitting considering the Trump family made $1.3 billion grifting off the US this past year.

I have been horrified to watch this project undertaken without proper planning, design review, and consideration for the history of this public property. Additionally, I take no comfort from statements that it is being built through donations solicited in the way they have been, as sums of money such as those are rarely given without expectations of favor.

If, as some speculate, there is some need for construction like this for national security purposes, then let it be done through the proper channels, with money allocated from the proper budgets, and with less slap-dash planning than seems to be happening at present. Such a significant addition to the architecture that marks the center of our government should be taken with greater consideration and the fact that it has gotten this far has been shocking to say the least.

Please halt this project, restore the White House as best as can be for the time being, and assure that no one person can deface our national symbology like this again.

Dear Gentlepersons,
I strongly oppose allocating any funds (public or private)—especially sums in the $300–$400 million range—to this project, which was initiated under false pretenses, without proper authorization, required permits, appropriate design review, and likely more checks and balances on a secure and historical site than I would even know about. This is not a "modernization" effort; it is the destruction of an important piece of American history.

I implore you to cancel this project and require that the East Wing be rebuilt and restored to its former design. I understand and agree with regular maintenance and upgrades for safety and to keep in line with appropriate improvements. However, I do not agree with secretive, inappropriate, outlandish, and totally unnecessary construction just because. No one is above the law, and allowing this work to proceed without holding accountable those who violated legal requirements would be an insult to law-abiding Americans.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M - $400 million project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

Hello,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed $300 million expenditure on this project. Based on the information available to the public, it appears that the project was initiated without proper authorization, required permits, or an appropriate design review process. Such omissions raise serious concerns about transparency, legality, and responsible stewardship of public resources.

Moreover, this initiative has been described as a modernization effort, yet in practice it represents the complete destruction of a significant piece of American history. The East Wing is not merely a structure; it is a cultural and historical asset that deserves preservation and restoration, not demolition.

I respectfully urge you to take immediate action to halt this project, conduct a full and independent review of how it was approved, and pursue accountability for any violations of applicable laws or procedures. I further request that plans be developed to rebuild and restore the East Wing in a manner consistent with its original design and historical significance.

No individual, agency, or contractor should be permitted to circumvent established legal and regulatory processes. Allowing this project to proceed without consequences would undermine public trust and set a troubling precedent.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Respectfully,

Tessa Wallace

No, please restore the East Wing to its historical purpose, prevent this “pay to play” project, and stop an idol being built for the glory of DJT and not for America itself.

At a time when people can barely afford groceries, rent, and energy, this is a slap in the face of its citizens. It’s very, “We have money for extravagance but not your necessities.”

It will be a stain upon the People's House of when a president was so out of touch with the actual citizens, that he disregarded their needs for his ego.

I would like to submit my concern regarding The East Wing Modernization Project. President Trump assured us 3+ months ago that the Big Beautiful Ballroom would have NO impact on the East Wing. It was to be built near the East Wing but not attached. Then shortly after the wrecking crew showed up and the demolition began. President Trump was elected on the platform of immigration reform, fixing the high prices (shrinkflation) and getting rid of government waste. Nowhere was there a discussion of taking such drastic measures on physical structures, regardless of WHO is paying for it. There are protocols in place to make changes or updates in a thoughtful process. The National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 was instrumental in developing the framework for preserving these hallowed historical places. These historic buildings belong to the people of the United States, and at no time should any one person commandeer these places to conform to their single vision of what they desire. Respectfully, The President of the United States is but a tenant in these buildings. The power of Executive orders alone should be reserved to prevent or correct situations needing immediate attention only. Now it seems that this project is running into the problems that you would expect due to poor planning. Someone may have been familiar with large construction projects in past business ventures. That does not equate to being able to hijack federal property to suit an individual's whims. This is OUR country! I feel that The National Register of Historic Places would have been best in ensuring minimal damage being done to our treasured spaces. We need to return to having thoughtful discussions on how best to preserve or enhance our landmarks. Two heads are better than one. Discuss the objectives that we want versus need. The world watches us. I'm not sure our great country commands the great respect we once had. Let's please be thoughtful and bring the right people/groups to the table going forward. Thank you. Diane Pelky, proud to be an American.

I'm appalled the East Wing of the People's House was destroyed without permission. A gaudy ballroom which doesn't compliment the rest of our beautiful mansion in architectural design, size or decor is deplorable. The East Wing complex should be rebuilt in the same style with updated technology and purpose. The Beautiful Kennedy Rose Garden should be put back as well. Our President is not omnipotent and these changes should never have been made without going through the proper channels and without permission being granted.

Trump thinks it is his house, but he is wrong, it is the peoples house. Trump thinks he is the king and can do whatever he wants. He is not a king. He is delusional, cruel and selfish. Starting with how he treats the White House to how he treats us, the citizens of the United States.

I felt nauseous when I first heard Trump’s idea of crushing the East Wing to build a ballroom. The White House isn’t a castle. Trump is not a king. We don’t need a ballroom. What we need is strength to stop people to thoughtlessly destroy centuries of our history. I’ve heard of the East Wing my entire life. Of the stories of our lovely First Ladies conducting business there. Looking at that pile of rubble behind OUR White House fills me with shame. It needs to be restored to exactly how it was before he, without any permission or legislation of any kind, ripped away our past. It won’t stop if somebody doesn’t step up to stop it. While this is just one of the many things he discarded without a second thought, this is by far the worst. Please, please stop him!

The president's proposal for an East Wing ballroom--larger than the current Executive Wing--is a grotesque misuse of executive power, signalling an utter lack of concern for historical context or architectural symbolism. This new gilded ballroom is intended as a gathering place for the allies of the administration, who have little or no interest in civic nationalism, in American historical traditions, or in architectural and urban context. As a longtime historian of American culture, I strongly oppose this plan, which is a desecration of the White House and its significance as the seat of the executive branch of the republic. The scale, and the symbolism of the planned addition serves mostly the personal ego of the president, who has proven again and again to have little to no knowledge of the founding documents of the republic, much less of the appropriate scale and symbolism of architecture in the nation's capital. If built, it will make the presidential seat the butt of jokes, and add to the growing international contempt currently focused on the man in the White House. All this will be at his expense--not a bad thing actually-but will also furnish new evidence for authoritarian regimes around the world of the hypocrisy of a president who claims to be the leader of a republic but acts like a dictator. Dictator Chic.

Topic: East Wing of the Whitehouse

I was outraged to see the East Wing of the White House destroyed without permission or even consultation. The White House belongs to the People of the United States, and not to the temporarily elected occupant of it.

It is your responsibility to halt the project now, and have actual historical architects see if the East Wing can be restored or renovated for its original purpose. No ballroom, no pseudo-palace, and no spending "bribe money" or spending taxpayer money on this nonsense.

The President should be personally responsible for the cost of both the destruction and renovation.

Please do your job, whatever bullying may come your way.

Thank you,

To the members of the committee,

It seems clear that the East Wing demolition and ballroom plans were done without going through the proper process. In fact it seems the correct steps were deliberately eschewed.

When developers in my city skirt the local regulations and demolish existing buildings or cut down protected trees on a property they wish to develop, stop work orders are imposed as a penalty to the rogue developers. Sometimes these stop work orders extend for years as punishment. If there is no penalty imposed on those who do not follow the rules, if our regulations become meaningless suggestions, then what is the point of any of it?

Please prevent the destruction of our historic norms. Please return the rule of proper process to our Capitol, and its buildings and monuments.

Stop the White House Ballroom project because it was an illegal demolition of the East Wing, and the plans as they exist are far out of scale to the remaining property.

Thank you,

As a citizen, a fiscal conservative, and someone who values stewardship in our national interest, I demand that the East Wing be rebuilt as it was before this unethical and illegal destruction. Our nation is not a second-rate shopping mall to be treated so poorly by a failed businessman and descendant of a racist slumlord.

This so-called 'project' is an abomination. Our nation demands that the White House be restored at once, paid for by those who allowed the destruction to happen.

To title the destruction of the East Wing of the White House a "modernization project" rather than what it is --a vanity project of one man --is appalling. This historic structure belonged to all Americans, and was to have been protected by law and custom. Those who are responsible for razing it should be accountable. Our national treasure cannot be restored now that it is a big hole in the ground, but whatever might be built there in the future must be properly designed, permitted, and reviewed by the responsible agencies.

I am and have been against the destruction of the East Wing of the White House and the proposed Ballroom which would dwarf the White House and ruin this historical building! This project began without any prior approval, and it needs to be stopped! I believe the East Wing of the White House should be restored as it was originally. Do not allow this illegal project to continue. This is the People's House and we should have a say on what is done to it, and any proposal to change this building should go through the legal process!

This destruction of part of The People's House was illegal and immoral. Also criminal. The person(s) responsible need to finance the complete and historically correct rebuilding of the building.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment. I strongly oppose the recent destruction of a portion of The White House and the grounds of the property. The current resident has no right or legal authority to destroy a sacred public monument, rightfully known as The People's House. His consistent disregard for process and his total lack of respect need to be addressed. This destruction needs to cease and the structure needs to be restored to its former condition. Ideally, there would be fines and penalties. I would support this resident being treated and held accountable as would any tenant be.
Thank you

The White House is not a billionaires' country club. Not a palace from which the president rules. Not a property to be demolished and rebuilt according to one man's whims. The White House—the People's House—should embody the ideals of republican democracy including integrity, stability, and simplicity. It should reflect American history. Major changes should be made only after careful reflection and planning, with architectural historians playing major roles.

The proposed 89,000 square foot ballroom does none of that. Almost a city block long, it's an eyesore that disrupts the building's classical harmony and destroys its character. As for the gold encrusted interior, it smacks of self-aggrandizement and Gilded Age patronage and corruption. "Everything in the White House must have a reason for being there. It would be sacrilege merely to 'redecorate' it," said First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy. "It must be restored—and that has nothing to do with decoration. That is a question of scholarship."

The ballroom that President Trump proposes is inappropriate for the iconic structure where he temporarily resides and from which he is supposed to serve the American people. It should not be allowed to go forward.

The destruction of thr East Wing was a travesty born of vanity and ego. The White House belongs to the people of the United States and is the temporary house of an elected official, not the palace of a monarch to be modified on a whim. Not only must the garish ballroom project be scrapped, the East Wing should be rebuilt at the expense of the party or parties responsible for its destruction. The tax payers should not be burdened with the costs of someone else's knowing disregard of the law and proper procedures. It is no different than if any other host were to have a significant portion of their home destroyed by a guest. The host would be entitled to the reconstruction of that which was destroyed, and the guest would be held accountable for it.

While you need not cry over spilled milk, the destruction of the East Wing, by the current tenant in the White House, Donald Trump, is beyond anything I ever imagined.
To let him build his ballroom and bunker should be stopped immediately.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The fact that this vanity project was undertaken without any sort of Congressional oversight or any involvement of the national historians is an abomination and insult to the people of the United States. The ballroom project must be stopped, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its original design and plans. The "modernization" should be limited only to infrastructure improvements such as advances in wiring and plumbing. Otherwise, the East Wing must match the current White House in color and style, and photos of the structures that were destroyed. There must be no additions or changes that are not transparent and disclosed to the public. Also, all other projects, such as the destruction of the bathroom in the Lincoln bedroom, must be stopped and subject to public comment and Congressional oversight. This is not trump's playpen. I think spending $300 million dollars to build a new ballroom is terrible. The plans as Trump has shown make the ballroom too large and is a terrible eyesore. Trump tore down a piece of history without going through the proper channels of approval. I think the East wing should be rebuilt back to its original design and if he still wants a ballroom he can renovate another building nearby if a ballroom is really necessary. Trump should not be allowed to change anything else within the White House and in all of DC for that matter… It is the people's house and is a part of our history. Trump has no respect for history.

I strongly feel this whole project should be stopped and sent to a design review board. We should not be allowing ego projects to be perpetrated on Federal lands without Congressional oversight. The proposed "ballroom" is an insult to the American people.

I am writing, because I oppose spending $300 million on the East Wing Modernization Project. The tear down of the East Wing makes me feel cheated as an American, and that this was done without the approval of all of us. It is being done for the selfish wish of an American President wanting a ballroom. They never got proper authorization, permits, or design review. This project needs to be cancelled, and the East Wing restored to its grander. History should "never" be erased, and this needs to be fixed. This was unlawful, and people should be held accountable.

Thank you so kindly for the opportunity to submit my comment.

I respectfully request this project be stopped.
I am so saddened to see part of our history being altered in such a destructive manner, absent any clear plan or oversight.
It is more than disturbing that changes of this magnitude were allowed to proceed at a breakneck pace without any public input or appopriate review.
This project is utterly disrespectful to the beauty and elegance of one of our Country's most iconic places and is not in any way accomplishing any sort of meaningful restoration. It is, instead, a full scale demolition derby, fully out of control.
It is equally distressing that taxpayer and other funds are being used to finance this project when there are so very many more urgent issues facing our Country.

Please take whatever action is needed to stop this absurd desecration.
Thank you,

As most Americans we were horrified that such a historical building would be torn down without any warning. If so, we would have said No! As we also say now to his Arch de Trump. This monument of the White House was built by slaves and created to be the People’s House. Tearing down Kennedy garden and other modifications should be monitored and regulated. Further, this is a grift by Trump. Where is the accounting of the money? Where is the $400M and who is responsible for it? Make Trump pay for White House be restored to its original state and not funded by taxpayers for his mismanage and fraud waste and abuse of taxpayer money and absolute no to his Arch de Trump. It’s a grift .

Dear East Wing Committee:

I strongly oppose the proposed demolition and replacement of the White House East Wing associated with former President Donald Trump. This project is being misrepresented as modernization; in reality, it constitutes the destruction of a historically protected structure undertaken without proper authorization, permits, or required design review.

The East Wing is part of the White House complex and America's shared national heritage. It is not a discretionary or symbolic asset subject to unilateral alteration by any individual—past or present. Bypassing established preservation and planning laws demonstrates disregard for the rule of law and undermines public trust.

The National Capital Planning Commission exists to prevent precisely this kind of abuse. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal, cancel the project in its entirety, and require that the East Wing be restored to its original and historically appropriate design. No former president, including Donald Trump, is above the law, and approving this project would set a dangerous and unacceptable precedent.

Respectfully,

Michael Sanders

I was appalled and furious that that the current occupant of the White Houses wrecked our people's house illegally, treated our property as though it was his, and I'm still furious that there's been no accounting for what happened to all the stuff inside, and there was no conservation of the historical and valuable materials it was made of--the fixtures, tiles, stone, paneling, etc. And the idea that this grotesque bonfire of the vanities oligarch ballroom would rise up like a giant goiter on the neck of democracy..

And I understand there was to be a bunker below (perhaps the primary reason for the destruction of the East Wing.) When the East Wing was destroyed without authorization and proper consideration, i felt that a dagger was dealt to our nation - a sign that we as a nation were done for by corruption, disrespect and disregard for what our democratic republic stands for - it was a symbolic torching of our nation.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. A decision to drastically alter the historic white house is a public decision that requires proper oversight. It is the Whitehouse NOT Trumps house.

I want this project canceled until proper review has taken place and anyone associated with the project who broke the law held accountable.

Sincerely,

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The White House is a federal building often called the People's House, because it belongs to all of us, not to any temporary residents. Major demolition, refurbishment or construction should always, always go through the proper channels that strive to represent all citizens, past, present & future. It was with great sadness many watched the East Wing be destroyed. It felt like robbery, not remodeling. Whatever is built on that ground should reflect all of the US, not just a few wealthy donors or current politicians. As a structure that represents our country and as one that serves all citizens, I highly object to a new edifice that would be accessible to a limited demographic, or one whose purpose does little to represent our rich history of many presidents and administrations. Our national monuments, of which the White House figures prominently, should reflect the very strength, sacrifice, wisdom, diligence and ethics that represents all of us united in upholding our Constitution. When I've visited the National Mall, the memorials for our wars, for our great statesmen, it evokes such profound respect. I ask that what is built on federal land as part of the White House complex be as moving as the World War II memorial, as inclusive and illustrative as the Vietnam Wall, as inspiring as the Lincoln Memorial. None of them are about wealth or opulence, they are about honoring our sacrifices and commitment, about upholding the values of the Declaration of Independence and our Constitution. We the People must always be incorporated into the sentiment of our monuments. Thank you for considering what Americans have to say.

I strenuously object to the razing of the historic East Wing of the People's House, solely for the purpose of stroking trump's ego. He had absolutely no right to damage OUR house without seeking our permission. This project needs to be halted and the East Wing restored.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This is not modernization, it is the destruction, without any attention to official protocols, of a building and contents that belong to the American people. I would like to see the East Wing rebuilt using as many of the original materials as possible with the money he was going to use to build that monstrosity of a ballroom.

Due to the failure to obtain proper authorization/permits and design review, I oppose the spending of any money on this clear destruction of the People's House. The intentional and heartless erasing of our Country's history that was contained within the White House and around the exterior of the White House is an abomination. All those who took part in this illegal activity should be held accountable and be held financially responsible for returning the White House to how it was. While returning the East Wing to its previous design, I would be supportive of ensuring it was brought up to current building codes. Please take the appropriate steps necessary to return the People's House to its previous design and return our history to this Living Museum.

This project has been haphazardly executed without any regard for the legal process and approval of the citizens. One getting voted in as the president of the United States does not mean that the elected president can do anything they want. This project is being built with private donations which in turn is a conflict of interest, there was no bidding process and the biggest donors are not doing this out of their hearts. They are buying their ability to have lobbyists who are not told "no" for requesting personal laws being changed, removed, or created for their personal gain.

The current president has said multiple times that a ballroom has been wanted since the inception of the White House; if a ballroom was truly wanted it would have been built years ago. This is not the president's private residence, it is a temporary residence for the duration of one's tenure, in this case the White House

I have worn the uniform of this country for 12 plus years and deployed multiple times and would do it again in a heartbeat. This project has absolutely nothing to do with patriotism or love for the country. This project is not being built as a benefit for country, rather it is being built for the current president and his administration who have demonstrated time and time again that they only care about themselves and the select few billionaires in the country. This project is simply a bragging point for the president so he can one up other countries and add one more bragging point to his resume.

All legal rules and regulations for modification of the White House should be followed to ensure that all Americans are shown that everyone regardless of rank, position or title are required to obey the laws of this nation.

The destruction of the East Wing of the White House was horrific. History was illegally wiped away at the stroke of a pen.
Allowing a $300 million (or is it $400 million now?) gargantuan boondoggle of a ballroom to be constructed in its place would destroy the aesthetic of (what's left of) The People's House. We cannot allow one person's egotistical fever dream to turn our capitol city into a garish circus of oversized, over-decorated buildings and 'triumphal' arches.
What must happen instead is the complete reconstruction of the East Wing and the restoration of its historic contents - and therefore its status as a paean to the work of First Ladies such as Eleanor Roosevelt and Laura Bush. Please make it so.

The way East wing has always been traditionally for the first ladies office and her staff. Obvious President Trump does not hold that position in high regard. This project was fast tracked without proper permitting or decision-making. This must be stopped. All Donald Trump wants is to copy other terrorist countries would dictators that have fancy ballrooms to show them off. The east wing is part of history. Once again, he is trying to erase history to elevate himself. Despite the fact that I love Donald Trump, this is not OK to destroy the iconic East wing that has been used to develop projects and important messages for the people. This project needs to be canceled and the proper channels followed to rebuild the east wing in a manner befitting the history of the White House. The president must be fined for illegally demolishing the people's house. It is not his to destroy while he temporarily lives there.

East Wing Modernization is a misnomer. There is no more East Wing. Our ego driven president had it torn down so he can create a temple to himself. He did so without the necessary approvals or review process. Any ongoing construction needs to be halted immediately so a full review can be done. Whatever is bult there should not be larger than the White House. To do so would be to diminish the stature of the White House. The former East Wing was a functional building and it needs to be so again. If the president wants a massive ballroom, I'm sure there is property close by that he can obtain and build something on. He needs to follow the law and understand our history. His razing of the former East Wing was neither lawful nor in accordance with the history of our capital.

In NYC, the Art Museum made a deal with Trump who was tearing down the Bonwit Teller building in order to build Trump Tower. The deal was to preserve the friezes near the top of the building. Instead of abiding by the deal, Trump had the friezes destroyed. He's not a builder but a destroyer. Trump should never have demolished the East Wing of the White House. It's not his property. The East Wing needs to be restored and Trump should pay for it. If he refuses, put a lien on Mar-a-Lago.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The collection of private donations at the request of the current administration appears to be influence-seeking and/or preferential access and undermines public trust.

The White House and its grounds are not the property of one administration, and any modifications must follow the same oversight standards of any other important federal project.

This is not a modernization but the erasing of the East Wing and the legacy of all the First Ladies in history, among many other historical events. The East Wing was destroyed without any input or oversight. The proper procedures have not been followed. The East Wing must be rebuilt as it was with the only changes being those necessary to bring the building up to current codes and technological needs. Aesthetically, it must be rebuilt to the former design inside and out.
This whole fiasco is an incredible waste of our tax dollars.

The East Wing's destruction and grandiose reconception proceeded without public notice, public or professional review, or of course any permits and historical evaluation. Nothing was salvaged to commemorate the original East Wing's importance in national events. The design is disproportionate and poorly integrated into its architectural and outdoor environment.

Also the extent and functions of the underground elements of the project need public review. If it's a survival bunker for billionaires, it doesn't belong on public grounds.

This project is a sinkhole for funds extorted from billionaires notorious for avoiding public accountability. Their contributions are obsequious fealty to their ruler. More bluntly, the President extorted gifts from them; he uses their fortunes to control them. Quite a trick, really. The money belongs in the federal treasury; these contributors are renowned tax dodgers. The result is a useless airplane hanger trimmed in gold leaf, a tribute only to excess. It won't serve the public, as the White House is intended to.

The historically admired East Wing was a joy to look at and think about. It was the background of many important events in my lifetime. The "modernization" is an illegal vanity project, and the design drawings look like it. The new design brings to mind quite frankly, the ruins of the Roman Empire.

Any construction on this project should be immediately halted until and unless a hazardous waste assessment report has been submitted to the appropriate bureau on the demolition, and disposal of the materials of demolition, Possible asbestos exposure among many other possible hazardous material is possible. No report has been published on either the demolition or where the material has been disposed of. Asbestosis is a serious chronic lung disease that is a result of asbestos exposure and leads to serious health problems in people who have longer-term exposure, and sometimes does not transpire until many years after exposure. Many also suffer high blood pressure, heart issues and scarring on the lungs. Stop proceeding on this project until an appropriate study has ben conducted. Thank you.

However since the current President took it upon himself to have the East Wall destroyed without proper authorization from the correct channels, he should be made to personally pay for the cost to make the East Wing "whole," (i.e. structure approved prior to the demolition).

If the public had been informed that the East Wing was to be razed, I would have been first in line with questions. But it appears that the current administration feels that it did not need permission - that old saw about it being easier to ask for forgiveness than permission doesn't apply since the president never apologizes - to tear down a building that belongs to the People. The White House is the People's House; it does not belong to him nor to the billionaires who pledged to rebuild it in a vainglorious effort at self-aggrandizement. What should have taken years, public hearings and input, public displays of models, historical review… none of these were given consideration. It is shameful that a piece of our history was so ceremoniously destroyed. It is shameful that billionaires who hoped to curry favor with the president and his administration would be a party to the destruction of our mutual history. I want this project stopped - cancelled. Modernization should have meant updating the HVAC or electric or plumbing; not the wholesale razing of history. Shame on everyone attached to this.

The White House is a national historic building. The east wing should be rebuilt in a manner that is consistent with the historic era of the original building. That includes size, scale, scope, architectural style and decor. It should be done in a manner that is respectful of US tradition and history. It should be modernized in its amenities, but not in style, decor or scale. It should be scaled so that it does not overshadow the main building. It should be a size that meets actual needs based on fact, not imagination or ego. It should be decorated in a style that is classic and historic, not gaudy or trendy, and will not look outdated within a decade.

As a registered voter and supporter of all our Nat'l Parks, i am disgusted and 100% opposed to Donald Trump and his billionaire sycophants having any ability to redesign and construct an alleged renovation, let alone reconstruction of the East Wing or any other parts of the White House buildings. He has taken away the rights of the people of the USA, most importantly our Representatives in Congress, to participate in the planning and process, allowed his own egregiously bad taste to decide how this project will look for years, long after he is gone and fallen from grace. By attempting to convince us that his 'friends' are paying for the costs of the proposed monstrosity, he is pocketing their 'donated dollars' and the taxpayers will be stuck paying the preponderance of those costs and maintenance.
It is way past time for the Congress, the Courts, and the people to say NO loud and clear to this egocentric maniac and let him know that he DOES NOT, have the power to override the processes and procedures established over 250 years and neither the public's property nor the people will stand for it.

It is essential that the National Capital Planning Commission has the power to protect and preserve the historical architecture of the District of Columbia. An enormous ballroom larger than the White House is not justified as it diminishes the historical building's visual importance. The East Wing must be restored to its footprint before it was torn down, and all plans must be approved by the Commission.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I have been a locally appointed and elected government official and have observed politics closely for over 50 years. Never have I seen any government action as brazenly illegal, corrupt and irresponsible as the overnight destruction of the East Wing. Every government action I ever participated in required authorization, design review, permits and public participation. This wanton public destruction involved none of the appropriate legally required procedures.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, a misnomer as a modernization project. It is a complete razing and destruction of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is owned SOLELY by the American people and home to presidents since 1800.

Therefore, the president is not the owner of the property, rather, the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition – not modernization – of the historic East Wing sans review, sans permits and sans Congressional oversight is a clear violation of the law. This project was undertaken illegally, and is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not a fait accompli.

I strongly oppose the $300 million project to rebuild the East Wing that is currently underway. Not only was this done without proper authorization, permits, or design review, the proposed design is aesthetically offensive and demonstrates a flagrant disregard for the dignity and historical significance of the East Wing. The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its original design, preserving the architectural legacy of our great country.

Even more disturbing is the misuse of funds. Millions of taxpayer and donor dollars are being diverted to an extravagant vanity project that could instead feed the hungry, clothe the poor, and provide medical care to the sick. Worse yet, these funds are being used to curry the favor of the current administration, turning philanthropy into political influence rather than public service. It is unconscionable to treat the people's house as a stage for courting wealthy and powerful donors.

The demolition of the East Wing should never have occurred and stands as yet another example of the poor judgment we have repeatedly witnessed over the past year. Allowing this project to proceed despite legal violations sends the dangerous message that some are above the law. Every law-abiding American deserves to see our shared history respected, not erased, and our resources used to serve the public good rather than vanity projects.

I am writing to oppose the construction of a huge ballroom and building on the site of the East Wing of the White House. This project is not a modernization project -- it is a complete destruction of American history. I want this project canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.

Furthermore, the cost of this project, estimated last I saw at approximately $300 million, is an outrageous use of tax dollars, while the private companies that are contributing to the project in a corrupt process to receive favorable treatment on their own endeavors.

While I strongly prefer a rebuilding of the East Wing to its former design, at an absolute minimum any construction should fit the scale and design of the rest of the property. It should also be designed to support the functions of government and leadership of many individuals over decades, rather than based on the designs and taste of one individual who has less than three years of his last possible presidential term.

The White House is the people's house and it symbolizes more than the wishes of a single man. Changes to such a historic structure should be undertaken carefully and with the input of people who understand its place in our history. In addition it shouldn't be overwhelmed by construction of the proposed ballroom that, according to the publicized plans, is of questionable taste. Spending $300 million dollars on a structure that is gaudy and dwarfs the White House is a poor investment. The fact that the East Wing was destroyed without the proper reviews and approvals is shocking and the perpetrators of this act should be required to the East Wing.

American history has been razed illegally, and the only proper response is to hold responsible those who have broken the trust of the American people. One would think “the greatest builder/developer in the history of the world” would know that in order to demolish an historical building, or any part thereof, would require at a minimum, a permit.
I am thoroughly disappointed, disgusted and deeply saddened that a building that stood since 1902 was destroyed only to feed the ego of a hardened man with no regard or respect of its importance to our nation. How could anyone not hold in reverence such a beautiful building.
I truly believe and hope that this matter will ultimately be resolved with the reconstruction of the East Wing and the total and complete restoration borne entirely from the Trump family members and any and all entities of same.

I oppose the spending of ANY Money on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, AT PRESIDENT TRUMP'S EXPENSE. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is the People’s House . Now and Always . Residents are living there temporarily . Now and Always . There is a formal approval process to make ANY changes to the People's House including grounds & gardens . Now and Always .
Current White House resident took it upon himself to tear down the east wing of the People’s House . NOT his house . This is illegal . This is unacceptable .
Said resident should be fined and required to restore the East Wing of the People’s House at his expense .
All work must be approved by and overseen by established approval process .
This restoration should rightfully include the Rose Garden . That was also destroyed by same temporary resident .
PEOPLE’S HOUSE!

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people, not by Donald Trump, felon. He violated the law and showed, as usual, massive disrespect for the American people and their house, in which he temporarily resides. The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight was clearly a violation of the law, for which he should be prosecuted fully once he is out of office. His actions also violated the trust of the American people, who had no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent rape of the law, our property and our history. I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion. Thank you. Stop this cretin with his dime-store "gold" decor, taco bowl sense of authenticity and burned-steak-smothered-in-ketchup tastes.

To the National Capital Planning Commission, this message is to strongly oppose spending $300 million on the supposed East Wing Modernization project, which was begun at the whims of the current occupant, without due deference to the history and significance of the building, interior and exterior, and the contents therin. The proper authorization, permitting and design review were not undertaken by the current occupant and, due to that, and the sheer hubris of it all, the project should be halted. Ideally the East Wing can be restored to its former design and the contents returned to the White House from wherever they have been taken. Not even the President is above the law and to allow this misguided ego project to go ahead without penalizing the lawlessness would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

This is not a "modernization project," which would be an effort to bring an existing structure up to modern code/energy efficiency/accessible for wheelchair users, etc. This is a complete razing of a historic structure, without a thorough planning, comment, and permitting process. Buildings on the national register are held to an even greater standard when it comes to modification.

The building must be restored to its historic design.

I don't know if I am doing this right but I have to try. The plans that I have seen for the East Wing are abhorrent to our common trust. The project is entirely too large and actually dwarfs our beautiful White House. We have always prided ourselves in being a humble people and what has happened to that beautiful structure this past year is tragic. We do not need nor want a ballroom of such size and grandiosity. Everything that Trump is doing to the house screams ostentation. I don't understand why one man has the audacity to ignore hundreds of years of our culture. Please do not allow the suggested structure to be built.

The demolition of the historic East Wing was a travesty. Erecting a bloated ballroom for the President's rich friends and donors has no place on Federal land that belongs to all Americans, especially while many citizens are having a hard time making ends meet. It is Trump's equivalent of " Let's them eat cake".
Any attempt at building a ballroom will be subsequently torn down when a new administration is in the White House because the people will demand it as a way to heal the wounds this country will have suffered.
We have all seen the way Trump has desecrated the revered Kennedy Center. Don't let the history of DC be further destroyed.

I am deeply disappointed the White House was bulldozed and harmed. The White House is the people's house. To allow the construction of a bribery based ballroom in place of the East Wing is an assault on decency. What is the value of process and policy and historic buildings if they can be unilaterally destroyed on a whim for one vain man's fragile ego. What a tremendous loss for the American people. If this project is allowed to proceed with no consequences for the clear disdain and disregard for policy, procedure, historic preservation, or the people's will then you can be sure it will not be the last national treasure to be destroyed for Trump's personal unhinged need for glory.

This project must be stopped and returned to its proper jurisdiction. There should be no precedence set for gilded projects funded to curry favor with the sitting administration. There should be no precedence set for looking away while our historical sites are destroyed by individual decisions. This destruction of the East Wing and erection of a gilded monument to the super rich are anti- American and should be investigated and prosecuted for all related crimes and corruption. Return the donated monies to those that hoped to curry favor with this crop of corrupt politicians.

Thank you for inviting public comment on the unwarranted, unwanted, unauthorized, and illegal demolition of the important historical structure that was the East Wing of the White House. That it was arbitrarily razed is just shameful. I sincerely hope that your commission is able to recommend (or demand) to either rebuild the East Wing or an evolution of it, or to build some tasteful structure instead of a temple to the debauchery of the current administration. Thank you for working toward goals that are in keeping with the general public of these United States.

I strongly oppose the East Wing Modernization Project and urge the National Capital Planning Commission to reject these plans. The demolition of the historic East Wing, which dates back to Thomas Jefferson's presidency, was carried out without proper public notice, environmental review, or the rigorous preservation standards that should apply to our nation's most iconic building. Replacing this irreplaceable piece of American history with a $400 million ballroom—even one funded by private donors—sets a dangerous precedent that personal preferences can override our collective heritage and the legal processes meant to protect it. The White House belongs to all Americans, not just the current occupant, and decisions of this magnitude deserve transparent public input before demolition occurs, not after the damage is already done. I urge the Commission to halt this project and require a comprehensive plan to rebuild and restore the East Wing to preserve our national heritage for future generations.

My jaw dropped in disbelief and pain at the sight of the East Wing destruction. This so-called modernization project must not go forward.

The proposal is an assault on the White House. The demolition was done without proper authorizations. The proposed building would overwhelm the remaining structure and serve no useful purpose. It would become an eyesore. The East Wing should be rebuilt at the expense of the person ordering its destruction. and with proper authorizations by appropriate bodies before reconstruction is commenced.

As a United States citizen, I object to the Modernization of the East Wing of the White House project for the following reasons. The destruction of the East Wing was done without permission. The funding for this project has been given by corporations rather than the American people. This is "our" White House, not to be owned by for profit businesses that cut deals with the government.
The new project will create a building that will tower over the rest of the White House. The characteristic personality of our historic landmark will be forever changed, and not in a good way.
My hope is that any future work on this project will be delayed, and then examined by vetted architects to design sophisticated plans that bring value to our White House.
Promises of transparency in Washington is currently a joke. Please restore confidence in your decisions by considering the American people's wishes. And please communicate those decisions clearly.

Thank you,

I am writing to strongly condemn the current Administration's plans to create a giant, gaudy ballroom on the East Wing of the White House. The fact that the existing East Wing was torn down without study, plans, surveys, etc. is already an absolute tragedy. My family and I have visited the White House and I have had the honor of walking through some of those areas in years past. There is absolutely NO REASON why it should have been torn down. We as a country do not need a giant, gaudy ballroom attached to the people's house. If a President should wish to host an event, there are plenty of spaces to do so. Attempting to overshadow the White House proper with an East Wing addition that would dwarf it in size and scope defeats not only the look of the building and its historic place in the architecture of early America, but it also sends a message that partying with donors is more important than doing the actual governing of the country. This cannot be allowed.

I implore the planning commission to do all in their power to restore the East Wing to as much of its former size, scope, and purpose as possible. You have already allowed a travesty to occur with the demolition. Do not allow the rebuild to be a pockmark on our nation and the DC landscape.

Governmental Architecture acts as a living symbol of what we affirm and what we prioritize as a Nation. A Ballroom — built not by We the People but by Corporate donors seeking to curry favor with and influence the President — is now symbolic of our most important VALUES. And, for a Ballroom to be disproportionately huge, dwarfing our nation's core House while destroying the symmetry of the design speaks volumes. Do we value lavish, garish spectacle over the enduring dignity of the architectural heart of our Democracy? Is this lopsidedness meant to convey to the People and to the World the lopsidedness of our vision, values and goals?

Beyond all this, have the workers been exposed to hazardous materials in the demolition, including asbestos? Are the grounds contaminated? What testing and clean-up is taking place? Is there a danger that hazardous materials have been carried by the wind into neighboring people's lungs or into their dwellings or workplaces? Is this kind of recklessness what we stand for as a nation? Will the project be properly permitted and supervised going forward?

Finally, to disrespect the People of this nation by razing a wing of our House without our voices being taken into account, without following all the rules and protocols designed to maintain the integrity of our most sacred symbol is heartbreaking and sickening.

Please do not approve any design that does not honor the symbolic meaning and importance of the People's House in every salient detail.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.
The destruction that has been done is an insult and injury to this historic landmark. The "person" responsible should be prosecuted as would anyone else who destroyed a national treasure.

I oppose the construction of the White House ballroom, and the $300-400 million dollars it would take to build it. This is not modernization, it is an overstepping of powers and the elimination of a wing of the White House where First Ladies throughout history have entertained guests and held office space. The demolition and construction were done without taking the proper steps, and it appears there is no money to build the ballroom.

In a time when Americans cannot afford basic human rights, it is tone deaf to propose a ballroom for billionaires at the cost of everyday citizens.

President Trump has assumed the position that he owns all that which belongs to the American people in multiple moves taken recently.
The most egregious is the demolition of the East Wing of the White House without regard to the historical preservation or value to all Americans.
To summarily destroy the entire East Wing without permits, plans or approvals, to erect what appears to be nothing but a gaudy rally hall, is both offensive and outraging.
He should be stopped and the donated funds used to rebuild the East Wing as it was and should still be. He also needs to be instructed of the regulations in place and informed that his tenancy in the White House is for a limited time.
Thank you.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. It is unacceptable that this project should proceed simply because machinery came in and destroyed the building. Instead there should be accountability for those who broke the law (fines and other penalties under the law) and the building should be rebuilt according to the original specifications.

I object to the so-called "modernization project" of the East Wing, as it has not gone through any kind of review, was not started in good faith with any kind of effort to preserve what was already there, seeks to dwarf the existing building rather than complement it, and has not gone through the legally required channels for bidding, permits, and historical preservation. To allow this project to go through as currently planned is disrespectful to the American People who are the true owners of the White House.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This must be halted. The east wing of the White House was demolished suddenly, without the required steps, including public comments, mitigation of potential hazardous materials and in direct violation of the law. The East Wing is gone, but it must not be replaced by a ballroom that is planned to be larger than the White House itself. It is only for the aggrandizement of a would-be dictator. Please do everything to stop this flagrant act against what is supposed to be the People's House. I took a photo when I visited DC in June 2024. That view is gone now and I mourn it and all else we have lost.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The destruction and redesign of the East Wing, at least the visible portions, should be subject to citizen input and Congressional guidance. The house is not owned by the President but by the people. I enjoyed visiting Versalles, but have no interest in such a palace in D.C. Marble, plaster, painted trim, and wall paper would make wonderful spaces. No need for gold everywhere. We need not prove our wealth by flaunting it.

I oppose spending any money to build a ballroom the U.S. citizens don't want or need. I demand that the project be cancelled, and the east wing be completely rebuilt.
The demolition took place illegally, without proper channels, revues, or procedures. All people responsible for implementing its demolition should be charged and arrested. They should all be held responsible for the cost of both the demolition and the restoration. Taxpayers should not pay a single dime for any of this.
The fact that it happened so quickly, with no one stepping in to stop it is surreal. There is more protection for a historical building in my small town than there is in our nation's capital. This is disgusting, and it needs to be rectified.
Sincerely,
Martha Ashley

Later down thd road when it no longer reeks of narcissistic behavior and monuments to one's self it may be retooled for the actually needs if the nation. To the National Trust:

The desecration of our national treasure, our national landmark, is a violation of the soul of our country. To call it the East Wing Modernization Project is an insulting misnomer at best. The perpetrator must be personally held to account. He must be made to repay all of the cost of accurate restoration and must be prevented from doing any further damage to this or any other national property.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all Americans.

I am completely against the destruction of the East Wing and allegedly planned construction of the Vanity Ballroom.

Please do everything allowed by law to stop or delay Trump's vanity project at the White House until the present administration agrees to abide by public process and appropriate agency oversight, review and collaboration. The illegal East Wing demolition shows a blatant disrespect for the government itself and its existing protocols.

There are so few examples of accountability for this rogue regime to the principles of public service, separation of powers, and constitutional law. Let this project be one of the few examples where a democratic government and its damaged institutions can still hold in check the unbounded hunger for power of a would-be autocrat.

The White House belongs to the people of the United States, not any of its temporary residents put there by the voters.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I am writing in strong opposition to the construction of a ballroom where our historic East Wing stood. This building belongs to the people of the United States and was wrongfully altered without proper permits or historical review. Construction of a ballroom should not proceed without following the lawful procedure for alteration of historic government buildings. It is not concordance with the style of the rest of the building, nor does it represent a building fit for a government for the people of the United States. Our government and its representative buildings are not meant for the glorification of one man but for its great citizens.

I oppose any spending on this project, which exists due to the illegal and unpermitted destruction of the East Wing of the White House. Please restore the East Wing to complement its symmetric opposite, the West Wing. The expenses for this restoration should be levied as fines on the perpetrators within this Administration who are responsible for the destruction of this historic structure. Proper protocol is observed for even smallest modifications in municipalities across the globe. Surely it is required here, where a National Monument is involved. The will of the people of America deserves consideration, just as it did earlier when this amateurish misadventure began. Given the proper procedure, if such an ungainly addition is deemed necessary, proper siting, preferably elsewhere, could adequately accommodate the need. Located elsewhere, even on the White House grounds, (but away from the existing White House,) a large event Center/Ballroom, such as proposed, could be acceptable. Please see that it is professionally designed and decorated and not a product of the whims of the current occupant/Administration. In this unsettling era, the American people need the moorings of tradition to retain their balance and sanity.

By demolishing the East wing without proper authorization Donald Trump has erased the historical contributions made by many former First Ladies. He has ignored aspects of the East Wing that accommodated people with different abilities as if the White House is intended only for a select few with wealth, power and connection. It is the People's House and it carries every honor and sacrifice made by Americans over 250 years. Modernization must not remove those contributions or erase the Americans (born and naturalized) who have worked there, and visited there as well as those elected to serve the public there. Restore what Trump has destroyed and enhance what is needed to provide a safe environment so that the work of the United States can be conducted there.

Large scale renovations to "the People's House" should be decided on by the people, or at least by the experts they entrust who understand architecture, design, and historical context. I am disgusted that the president demolished the East Wing without proper permits, review, etc. He has terrible, tacky taste and the gaudy depictions of the ballroom look like something a tin pot dictator would design. Saddam Hussein or Idi Amin would be right at home with all that cheap looking gold detailing. The scale of the proposed ballroom would overwhelm the White House and the West Wing. He should not be allowed to do any construction in all of D.C. without proper design review and permits. I was in awe of all the beautiful buildings and historic architecture when I visited Washington D.C. No president should be allowed to remake our shared history on a whim, solely based on their personal taste, or lack thereof. He is a visitor, not the owner of the White House. Please ensure that the East Wing is reconstructed in manner that fits with the rest of the White House, in a subdued, tasteful manor that befits American History. The White House is not Versailles.

Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this. And we can help.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Anara Guard's comment on this is beautiful. She gave me permission to post it here, if anyone wants to use her language.

The last time there was a White House renovation project on this scale was during the Truman administration. Plans were drawn up, openly debated, submitted to Congress, budgeted, and democracy prevailed. That is the way we do things in America.

In contrast, what has happened to the East Wing is mere vandalism in anticipation of a vanity project. It is corruption on a scale we rarely see in U.S. history, but which has become depressingly commonplace in this administration.

Thus, I, along with the most Americans, oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. I submit this comment in strong opposition to the proposed White House ballroom project and urge the Commission to exercise its full oversight authority.

Based on publicly available information, it appears that demolition and construction activities may have been initiated without completion of the required federal planning approvals, historic preservation reviews, and permitting processes. If accurate, this would represent a serious violation of established statutory and regulatory requirements governing alterations to nationally significant federal property.

The White House complex is subject to federal preservation law, including review obligations intended to protect historic resources and ensure transparency and public accountability. These requirements are not discretionary. They exist precisely to prevent unilateral alteration of nationally significant structures without proper scrutiny. Any action taken outside of those legal frameworks would be unlawful.

If demolition or structural alteration proceeded prior to required approvals, that conduct should not be retroactively legitimized by allowing the project to continue. The fact that a sitting President may be associated with the project does not exempt it—or him—from compliance with federal law. No executive authority overrides statutory preservation mandates or the jurisdiction of this Commission.

I respectfully request that the Commission:

1. Conduct a full inquiry into whether all required approvals, reviews, and permits were secured before demolition or construction activity began.
2. Halt further work pending confirmation of full legal compliance.
3. Decline to approve any after-the-fact authorization intended to cure procedural violations.
4. Require restoration of any demolished or altered portions of the East Wing if such actions occurred outside lawful authorization.

Allowing a project to proceed after potential legal violations would set a dangerous precedent and erode public confidence in the integrity of federal planning oversight. Compliance with preservation law and regulatory process must apply equally to all parties, regardless of office.

The rule of law and the protection of our national heritage demand nothing less.

Thank you for your consideration.

It is a farce to call the wreckage of the East Wing of the White House an intent to modernize. The Trump agenda is to erect tacky glitz and plaster gaudiness as an homage to his ego. Americans DO NOT want an obese monstrosity as an homage to his bloviating stature.NO to a ballroom!! Our economy is crumbling and Americans will continue to suffer due to this administration's distorted priorities bent on increasing the riches of the billionaires and millionaire classes at the expense and ruination of the middle class. Redirect funds to support Americans, not pad the coffers of the wealthy and build a golden tomb for the soul of America.

Without following the appropriate procedures to have a change considered for the People's House, the man who currently holds the position of President ruthlessly and selfishly and unlawfully tore down a part of American history and heritage. There was no submission of planned proposals or request for permission. Like everything else this demagogue does, the demolition was done by the decision of one man - Donald J Trump. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This Wing was destroyed without proper permission and it should be restored. There was no need to do this other than to fortify the bunkers beneath and to build an unnecessary structure.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding citizens. The fact that the East Wing was demolished in and of itself should never have been allowed and should've been stopped before it started.

I am writing with concern regarding the proposed East Wing Modernization Project. While I was shocked to see the destruction of the East Wing, I am grateful to be able to provide comments regarding reconstruction as should be the case considering that the White House is a National Historic Landmark and National Park owned by the people since 1800. While expanded event space may be needed, any additions must respect the historic scale and design of the White House. At 90,000 square feet, the proposed ballroom would exceed the size of the 55,000-square-foot Executive Residence. Additions to historic properties should be compatible in scale and subordinate to the original structure. The building should be reconstructed allowing for modest additional space for required events, but maintain the dignity that the White House deserves. It shouldn't be an ostentatious ballroom that represents only the elite. It instead should be representative of all the people, historical and present, that make up the United States of America.

This property belongs to the American people, not Donald Trump. It is not a modernization project but a vanity project that should never have happened right at the time when our 250th anniversary as a nation is unfolding . I want to see the ballroom plan cancelled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former architectural design (and obviously, state-of-the-art updates to it, as needed). The East Wing was used almost daily by citizens who toured the grounds, as well as by First Ladies and their staff. Even in the most busy of years, the White House only hosts banquets 4-6 times. We do not need this banquet hall! I am personally disgusted to see the projects that my tax payer dollars, my parents' tax payer dollars, and my grandparents' tax payer dollars being destroyed, taken down, or erased around the country for no meaningful reason. And this demolition, one in a city that is a living symbol of democracy, is a spit on the face of Americans in so many waysl No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. Stop it now, and go through the legal and appropriate processes of returning the White House to its former grandeur.

1. With no authorization,

I write to express my dismay and disgust at the proposed 'ballroom' for the White House.

From the scant information available, the proposed 'ballroom structure and east colonade is oversized for the space; will overshadow the white house proper; and disrupt the importance balance and flow what used to be a lovely promenade between the white house and the treasury department building. The architectural style of the ballroom is imperial and inappropriate.

The vista of the white house complex from the ellipse will be destroyed. The previous architectural design highlighted the mansion itself, and set the east and west wing additions in the background. The proposed design will do the opposite: feature the ballroom and downplay the executive mansion.

The proposed design seems to eliminate any access for the public for tours or for the business of the first lady.

The ballroom would complicate the use of the south lawn for helicopters, formal reception of guests, and press.

I am very disturbed by the lack of any required process, particularly public input and non-partisan expert professional oversight of the project.

The security elements of the plan are improperly and shockingly public. The discussion of these elements in the media is a security risk of itself, but the lack of barriers to external visibility is more troubling. The site is wide open for anyone to view, especially with available aerial technology.

The proposal to site future inaugurations at the white house misses the point - the congress hosts the inauguration of the president. It is not handed from one president to the next as a white house handover.

The demolition of the East Wing to make way for what has been described as a "Golden Ballroom" represents, in my view, a troubling shift away from preserving the historical integrity of the White House.

The East Wing has long served functional and symbolic purposes within the Executive Residence complex, and it should be restored to its original configuration and footprint — updated as necessary for security and modern operational needs, but respectful of its historic character.

The White House is not a private estate or a campaign venue; it is a national symbol that belongs to the American people. Constructing a grand ballroom risks blurring the line between public service and political or donor entertainment. If large-scale receptions or celebratory events are required, Washington, D.C. offers numerous distinguished venues that are specifically designed for that purpose and can accommodate far more guests without altering a historic national landmark.

Preserving the architectural integrity and nonpartisan character of the White House should take precedence over any personal or political ambitions. Any changes to such an iconic building should be guided by long-term stewardship, transparency, and respect for its role as the people's house — not by individual vanity projects.

A massive renovation on a historic, nationally significant building like the East Wing should have been approached with respect and care. It does not belong to a president or a party. It belongs to the citizens of the United States. This kind of project should be considered carefully. It was ridiculous to destroy the existing structure with no approved plan moving forward. Just before winter. Movi NH forward, I hope that architecture and historic experts will work together to fix this terrible mistake by a selfish administration.

The White House is not the property of any single President. As a National Historic Landmark, it is owned by the American people. The unpermitted demolition of the East Wing is not just illegal; it is an insult to the nation, its rightful stewards. The demolition, or any major alterations, should never have been undertaken in the absence of a robust public review and approval process. I beg the Commission to order restoration of the East Wing consistent with its historical scale and style.

I am furious at the current administration for illegally tearing down the East Wing of the White House without authorization. The White House is the People's House - not privately owned by the Trumps. Tax payer dollars have been spent to destroy it and now, unfortunately, tax payer dollars will need to be spent to clean up this mess and restore it to its former glory. The East Wing doesn't need "modernization". We want the historic east wing back the way it was. And while you're at it, restore Jackie Kennedy's rose garden. What Trump is doing to the White House (and the entire country, to be honest) is a disgrace to the United States of America.

The White House belongs to all Americans not just one.

It is a history lesson and each of its pages must be protected and preserved.

The destruction of the East Wing, where First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt had her office, should never have happened without the approval of Congress AND THE AMERICAN PEOPLE! We have lost an important part of our history because of the vanity of one man who finds no importance in the story of the United States and those who built it.

FURTHER RUINATION OF OUR HISTORICAL MONUMENTS MUST BE STOPPED before America has no past and only a lopsided tale of its present and future.

Just because the current administration doesn't believe in history doesn't mean the rest of us don't. Just like calling this a "modernization" project is an affront to the English language. It's an erasure of history. It's also an erasure of both the spirit and the law of this representative democracy when one person can unilaterally destroy property that belongs to the people of this country, not to the current occupant of that property. The destruction of the historic East Wing of the People's House was done without any notice or approval from entities that protect the historic buildings in D.C. Where does this heedless destruction of our historic buildings and the very character of our nation's capital end?
Please stop the building of this personal boondoggle and consider a reconstruction of the East Wing, paid for by Mr. Trump.
Perhaps all of the billionaire donors for this vanity project could instead donate that money to real needs in D.C., directed toward the welfare of the people of D.C.

The gutting of the People's House is a travesty. History was destroyed to make way for a gluttonous ballroom that the people neither need nor want. Without proper planning, without proper notice to the people who rightfully own the house, the current occupants made a decision to circumvent the opinion of the people. Stop this nonsense, we don't want it, we don't need to spend the money, and there is no building that would be left standing after he leaves that the people will not want removed.

I have been deeply involved in Federal compliance, the Section 106 process, and Design Review intended for compliance with the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for more than thirty years. My work has involved my skills in Art, Architecture and Design. I have never been a person of wealth, privilege, or enjoyed special opportunities but instead serve the people of the United States and so have worked - labored - hard to earn my expertise in this area and therefore assert that my dedication to the Nation's history and health is unimpeachable.

Like many historic resources, the East Wing of the White House consisted of areas and layers of history representing its entire history during the 20th century, and therefore no photography or "retroactive" Historic American Building Survey (HABS) descriptions can possibly substitute for the total loss of historic integrity that a complete demolition has caused this wing of the White House.

Further, I believe that the kind of arrogance and ignorance already displayed by the currently contracted architects, engineers and contractors who would demolish such a structure without public permission ensures that they are not suitable to carry on any work at this site. The American people did not elect to have this building assaulted by the well-off, nor should they have to live with the resulting fiasco that is being planned and designed by these claimed professionals or pseudo academics. Therefore...

THE DESTRUCTION THAT TOOK PLACE AT THE WHITE HOUSE SHOULD REMAIN TO BE INTERPRETED AS A MEMORIAL TO ITS HISTORY AND TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. IT SHOULD NO LONGER BE A SITE PROPOSED TO ENTERTAIN THE WEALTHY WHO DESTROYED IT BUT RATHER DESIGNED AS A TRIBUTE TO THOSE EVERYDAY AMERICANS WHO HAVE WORKED FOR THE COMMON GOOD IN OUR NATION FOR MORE THAN 250 YEARS... AND THOSE EVERYDAY AMERICANS WHO HAVE LOST THEIR LIVES OVER THE PAST TWELVE MONTHS FROM ASSAULT BY FEDERAL POLICE OFFICERS,

A commission of good and decent caring Americans from a diverse ethnic, socio-economic class, and education level of backgrounds should be assembled to ensure this memorial is created and held to these standards. - Donald M. Faxon

There are few things in my 70 years as an American citizen that shocked me to the point of feeling physically ill. The unregulated demolition of the East Wing is one of them.

I was shocked that this structure was destroyed without any authorization, permits, historical review, or feedback. I strongly oppose the proposed "ballroom" and want to see any further movement on this vanity project cancelled. In an ideal, sane world, the East Wing would be rebuilt and restored to its original design: one which serves the public, restores the aesthetic symmetry of the White House (the people's house), and respects the historical use of the East Wing. I recall touring the White House as a teen and was in awe of its classical, simple beauty.

Please, please consider ceasing any forward momentum with this project. Bonus points for restoring the Rose Garden and Kennedy Center.
Thank you for your consideration.

I respectfully call on the National Capital Planning Commission to mandate reconstruction of the East Wing consistent with its historic scale and design. The White House belongs to the people as it is both a National Historic Landmark and a unit of the National Park System. It has served as the residence of U.S. presidents since 1800, but no president is the owner of the property or its buildings, but a temporary occupant whose authority is constrained by law and by an obligation to honor the interests of the public.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without proper review, required permits, or Congressional oversight is unlawful. It also represents a breach of public trust. Any future construction on the site should be architecturally compatible with, and secondary in prominence to, the original Executive Mansion. The American people should have be given an opportunity to weigh in on what should have been introduced and evaluated as a formal proposal and they should be given the opportunity now that the East Wing has been demolished.

Thank you

I find it infuriating that this administration just decided to destroy a portion of the White House that held and still holds valuable historical significance. There are proper procedures to be followed if renovations are needed to historic buildings that were not met by this administration. Simply bulldozing the entire East Wing was not justified. The destruction of this portion of the White House was done to satisfy the ego of the sitting president and his wealthy donors without obtaining permits or design approval. As a citizen of this country, I demand further destruction of any White House buildings and grounds be halted and any construction of the unnecessary ballroom come to an end. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I suggest an immediate halt to this $300 million project. It was launched without proper authorization, permits, or any real design review, and calling it a 'modernization' is not accurate —it's the destruction of American history, plain and simple, in favor of one person's vision. It is paid for by a few billionaires, and it feels like it is a takeover by them of the White House, which should belong to all Americans.

This project needs to be canceled, and the East Wing should be restored to its original design or a design reviewed and approved by ordinary citizens as well as the committee. We can't allow anyone to bypass the rules just because they have the funding; letting this move forward without accountability is an insult to every citizen who follows the law. Let's do the right thing and protect our heritage.

I am in my fifties now but still distinctly remember going to Washington D.C. and visiting the White House as a high school student. Touring the city, I felt a sense of awe at the public buildings where our nation's government is housed, our laws are made and administered, and our representatives serve. The US government's buildings are the people's buildings.

They should not be torn down or redesigned by a megalomaniac President with corporate donors and extremely bad taste.

The offenders should be prosecuted for this destruction of the people's property--all the way up to the top.

I grew up in Maryland. Every year my mother would drive me to Washington to visit the landmarks there, including the White House. While I never got to go inside, just seeing it was a reminder of the importance and dignity of the office of the presidency. I'm nearly 70 now & I still remember those trips.

The demolition of the East Wing is devastating. It's not just the aesthetic, although that of course is a major consideration. It's the absolute abandonment of respect for our history. It's the entitlement of the current resident thinking he can just destroy something, illegally, and replace it with a hideously expensive, enormous eyesore, to which We the People will never be invited, simply to satisfy his ego.

I vehemently oppose this "project" and wish for the East Wing to be rebuilt to the same design President Roosevelt had built.

Thank you for this opportunity to speak out .

C. Cooper

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I cannot put into words how offended I am that our elected President lied about his plans and then destroyed the East Wing without regard for the opinion of the U.S. people - this is not something we asked for or feel was needed.
Since it is already demolished, something should replace it but NOT a gaudy 90,000sf “ballroom”. It should be replaced with a structure that does not exceed the size of the remaining building and which is similar in architectural style inside and outside. It should be a building that can meet a variety of needs which could include a “ballroom”-type space for hosting State dinners but also smaller functions, meetings and administrative activities.
Shame on you, President Trump. I was a life-long Republican until you and your immoral cabinet took office. Now, no Republican will get a vote from me unless they have a proven, squeaky-clean track record of serving their constituents rather than blindly following demagogues.

To the Members of the National Capital Planning Commission:

I am submitting this public comment to express my outrage and deep alarm at the demolition of the White House's East Wing — an act that appears to have been carried out without prior consultation, approval, or proper procedural review by this Commission or other required federal advisory and oversight bodies!

The East Wing is not just another building — it is a historic component of our national presidential residence, with over a century of history and significance for the office of the First Lady and for the people of the United States. That the structure was razed in 2025 to make way for a "presidential ballroom project" without prior review by the Commission that exists precisely for this purpose is abhorrent.

This is not a trivial oversight or a bureaucratic technicality. If federal planning and historic preservation requirements were ignored, that constitutes a serious breach of public trust — especially when the entity responsible for oversight was not given advance notice of such a drastic alteration to a landmark that belongs to all Americans.

Demolition of a historic government structure without transparent procedural review sends a dangerous message: that process, legal safeguards, and accountability can be sidelined when political expediency demands it.

I demand that the Commission do the following:

Publicly document whether any statutory review, environmental analysis, or historic preservation compliance occurred before October 2025.

Explain why the Commission was not consulted before demolition began, and make that explanation part of the official record.

Hold accountable any parties responsible for circumventing established review and approval procedures, including executive branch officials who facilitated the unreviewed demolition.

Ensure that no further irreversible actions on the White House complex proceed without full, transparent compliance with the law and robust opportunity for public input.

Taxpayer dollars, national heritage, and the legitimacy of federal planning processes demand nothing less than clarity, accountability, and corrective action.

Thank you for your time,

Anita Meehan

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.
Therefore, I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The building of a massive, privately-funded ballroom is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history for the vanity of one individual. The proposed "modernization" would dwarf the current White House. The White House is the People's House. This project should be canceled and the East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its former design, in harmony with the current White House building.

Finally, the use of private funding obtained through presidential request is inappropriate for any renovation of the White House. It presents opportunities for quid pro quo dealing on the part of the current administration and further opportunities for graft and corruption. This project should be halted immediately.

The East Wing needs to be restored to its original state with necessary improvements that do not detract from the original purpose and beauty.

I firmly disagree with the concept of creating a modern, gilded, over-large ballroom in the East Wing. The concept is a travesty and a history-destroying ill-advised affront to the beauty and elegance of our White House. We, the people, own the buildings and are rightly given an opportunity to voice our opinions about these sorts of ego-driven changes to our sacred and revered architectural structures. I vote an absolute no. No ballroom. No modernization by the current administration whose taste level appalls.

As a Washington State voter and concerned citizen, I would like to add my comments about the unauthorized destruction of the East Wing.

I want to see the East Wing rebuilt as it was pre-Trump, with original decor, pictures and furniture restored, but now with modern, hidden mechanics added in the rebuilding process. I want to see it done prior to our nation's 250 Year Celebrations. And paid for, not by working Americans, but by Trump and his family and any of those who contributed financially to the idea of building an obscene ballroom NOT wanted/asked for by Americans.

The East Wing is just one part of all of the Federal government's public buildings owned by The People of our great nation, not by one man and his family, temporarily living in the White House.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete and total razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its glorious former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. We, as Americans, will not stand for the destruction of our most treasured history.

I oppose this project. Regular Americans need to get permits, follow regulations and often seek community input when they want to build or renovate. And for good reason, as no building stands alone. So it is utterly galling, it is infuriating, to see the East Wing being razed without going through any kind of process. It is not the President's private property but the people's house. It needs to be stopped and all who have participated in this expensive debacle and design crime need to be held to account. Thank you for inviting our comments.

I vehemently oppose both the building of the Ballroom and the East Wing Modernization Project to the White House, which, in fact, belongs to the People of the United States of America. The White House is not for President Trump to destroy. These projects were not properly authorized. I also believe President Trump should be made to rebuild the East Wing back to how it was, plus, replace the grounds around the White House where it was destroyed by the building of that monstrous Ballroom at his, President Trump's, personal expense.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The White House is The Peoples House not Donald Trumps house! He has redecorated? the Oval Office until it now looks like a Bordello in a Madam's fever dream. He has made a mockery of past Presidents portraits.Time and again we hear "he can't do that" but he does without consequences. But destroying the East Wing on a whim to salve his ego was so hurtful and unbelievable that it still doesn't seem real. History should not be bulldozed, hidden or covered up. History is to be learned from, studied and appreciated so that mistakes will not be repeated. Please rebuild the East Wing as it was originally (hopefully the contents were carefully stored somewhere) and add a plaque for future generations to read and learn that the United States did not have a king or dictator who was all powerful.

There are few things in my 70 years as an American citizen that shocked me to the point of feeling physically ill. The unregulated demolition of the East Wing is one of them.

I was shocked that this structure was destroyed without any authorization, permits, historical review, or feedback. I strongly oppose the proposed “ballroom” and want to see any further movement on this vanity project cancelled. In an ideal, sane world, the East Wing would be rebuilt and restored to its original design: one which serves the public, restores the aesthetic symmetry of the White House (the people’s house), and respects the historical use of the East Wing. I recall touring the White House as a teen and was in awe of its classical, simple beauty.

Please, please consider ceasing any forward momentum with this project. Bonus points for restoring the Rose Garden and Kennedy Center.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. This is the "People's House" and as such we should have been included in any plans BEFORE a bulldozer demolished hundreds of years of history. I want the the Trump family to FULLY FUND it being rebuilt to it's former design. Not one penny of the American taxpayers should have to pay for this.

The wanton destruction of one of our National Historic Buildings is a criminal act. It must be stopped and reversed.
The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

East Wing Modernization is a travesty! There was no public discourse but a unilateral action by the White house in the destruction of the East Wing. We were told private funds would build the new ballroom. Now the funding seems to have disappeared and I do not believe that my tax dollars or those of my fellow Americans should be used to create the dream of marble and gold that the current administration wants to build for it's own aggrandisement. I feel the same way about the proposed Trump arch. This is not who we are as a country! Please do not use my tax dollars for these projects. I am a middle American senior citizen, we pay our taxes over the years as we can not do all the fancy tax loop holes that the wealthy use to avoid taxes. I feel that tax dollars spent for this take away from so many worthwhile programs that help everyday citizens. Thank you for taking my opinion into consideration.

I respectfully object to this project. This was pursued without any formal proposal or planning. Clearly the goal was to steamroll it through before anyone could object, similarly to the approach taken with the rose garden and the Lincoln room bath.
Money was recommended to be wasted on a ballroom that was not vetted to see if there was even needed or if so, how to properly incorporate it at an appropriate size and scale relative to the building structures. This comes off as a vanity project versus a needed project. It is irrelevent if it was being paid for by other sources. It still requires an opportunity for public comment.
This is the people's house and it has been defiled. The east wing should be restored to its original design. Any future work, anywhere in DC, that impacts the landscape of our nations capital should be thoughtfully considered and appropriately planned for.
I appreciate your consideration of my input as a taxpayer and a citizen.

The White House is "The People's House." It belongs first and foremost to American citizens, who paid for its creation and pay for its upkeep with our taxes. Furthermore, it is a National Historic Landmark and National Park. It is a key part of our country's legacy and is not a personal mansion for the whims of a current, temporary leader.

It is a travesty that the historic East Wing was demolished. It would add further insult to rebuild it as a monument to one man's ego.

As an American and therefore rightful partial owner, I am writing to demand that it be reconstructed and restored as closely as possible to its historic appearance before the demolition to help the people of our nation feel connected to our history and remind visitors to our nation's capital of our commitment to democracy. Restoration of the East Wing, as it was, would demonstrate our respect for our democratic heritage and our rejection of the idea that kings or autocrats should ever rule our country.

This is the people's house and the people represented by the planing commission, congressional representatives, architects and historians, and even ordinary citizens should be engaged in every major project that will forever transform this historic iconic building. Much damage has already been perpetrated upon this historic structure. Now is the time to stop the crime and destruction and restore a solid transparent planning process, and an expectation of an outcome worthy of the nation's executive mansion. Not to mention to get control of a ballooning budget and underhanded funding sources that will almost definitely leave the American people picking up the tab.

Our White House is a national treasure that belongs to all of us. It was demolished without anyone's input or plans. The amount spent to build a new monstrosity is staggering and should be used for the people of the US. Also, this is unnecessary, we have used the old one with success for many years. Such destruction should not be allowed at the whim of one president. Such changes should be well planned and thought out and should take into consideration the overall esthetic and history of the property and safety of the President and 1st family.
An addition of that size and scale is unnecessary and will ruin the esthetic of the existing structure. OUR White House, OUR Presient's home should not be overshadowed by a garish, oversized monstrosity of a building for NO needed purpose or gain.

Nowadays, ballroom dancing is the preferred genre only among people over eighty years old in the United States. The need or existence of ballrooms is passe. There is not a need for a ballroom at the White House. This is 2026. Evaluations should be done to establish what need or function really is necessary for that space.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. This is a direct fight against the history of women in the White House and led by an incompetent, child of a wanna-be President. It's already bad... allowing the rebuild makes the violation of U.S. History much worse!

The project is offensive to Americans. The demolition was done without permission or proper protocol. This project should be cancelled and the East Wing should be restored to its former design. The White House is not a president's personal toy to play with, break, and abandon. It is called the People's House because it belongs to the people of the United States. One person does not get to unilaterally decide to demolish parts of it for their own purposes. Restore the East Wing, and do so at the personal expense of the Trumps.

The People's House belongs to We The People and not to the occupants of the White House. The current resident has unlawfully destroyed the historic East Wing for personal reasons and as a citizen of these United States I DO NOT approve of the construction of an inappropriate oversized and grotesque "ballroom" even if it is "privately funded" (which I believe to be a scam). President Donald J Trump should have to pay OUT OF POCKET to restore the East Wing to its original condition as it was before this illegal destruction.

As a leading political power in the world, we need to have a ballroom that will showcase the white house. We need a space for entertaining, which is something we do on a weekly basis that actually speaks volumes for our decorum. I do hope this project is allowed to continue on.It's about the future, not trying to glorify a past. As a leading nation, among others, we need to have a space to entertain our dignitaries, when they come and are at the white house. The fact that it's being paid and funded by supporters is even better as tax powers.Don't have money to spend on something at this time.

EDITED COMMENT TO CORRECT TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR IN COMMENT PREVIOUSLY SUBMITTED

I urge the commission to halt the construction of this monstrosity as soon as possible so the reconstruction of the East Wing, AS IT WAS, can be accomplished. The White House belongs to the people of the United States, NOT to the individual who currently (and temporarily) occupies it. I have walked in the halls and within the walls of the White House East Wing; to think of their destruction on the whim of one person makes me profoundly sad.

The unthinkable destruction of the East Wing was done because one person wants a glorious 400K ballroom to entertain his MAGA sycophants. As is usual, he is thinking solely of himself. The White House does not need a 400K ballroom and the people of the United States do not want one. They want their house to be put back the way it was, in proper proportion to the main structure. As to his claims that this ill-planned project would be paid for by "donations", I do not believe it. Somehow, somewhere, funds for it will come out of the pockets of taxpayers. I absolutely have no desire to have my tax dollars go toward ANY project that the current occupant wishes to build to glorify himself.

This has been such a colossal waste of time, money, and resources. It has scarred the beautiful landscape at the White House. It has been one more thing to bring unneeded stress to the American people. One person has been responsible for this and you know exactly who it is.

Please stop this project so that the reconstruction of the East Wing will be accomplished with proper oversight, permitting and consideration of historical context.

NO 90,000 SQ FT ADDITION and NO BALLROOM!

Sincerely,
Lori Neilson

Those responsible for tearing down the old East Wing shouldn't be involved with ANY new construction, but be prosecuted for criminal destruction of government property and endangering national security.

For our own SAFETY and NATIONAL SECURITY, all work on the new building MUST BE CANCELED until saner people are in positions of authority. Then the new East Wing should be designed and rebuilt with full committee oversight, to fit comfortably within the overall White House framework.

This project is not a modernization project. It is a slap in the face to the American people. The White house is OUR house. It is not owned by the current occupant. There were no plans to 'modernize' the East Wing; the current pictures of the location prove this. The Capital Planning Commission needs to demand that the East Wing of OUR house be returned to its original location as an addition to Our White House; not a huge, gaudy, unusable monument to the 47th president. It is beyond credulity that anyone would assume to have the right to tear down 'the People's house'. Do not allow this to happen.

The people who started whis project must be held to account and must pay to have it restored. The law breakers that destroyed part of The People's House must be penalized for breaking the law.

Please restore the East Wing. It is a historic place in a historic building and should have had Americans vote on it before touching it, as it is the people's house. It has been home to all of our presidents since it was built in 1902, and is particularly special since it is the First Lady's particular wing. The audacity of the current administration to destroy this beautiful country's presidential home, among everything else, is an outrage and tragedy. He had no right.

To whom it may concern:

I would like to share my thoughts on the destruction of the White House. I appreciate the chance to submit my written comments and hope they will be considered. I have borrowed some of my language from other persons, but I agree with every word.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

In fact, I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Sincerely,
Nicole Reader

I consider the White House as a historic treasure. Any and all changes or updates should be done with the consultation of the appropriate historic planning commission. If the representations of the proposed exterior is correct, this new addition will dwarf the other areas. I also have grave concerns about the provenance of the funds to complete these changes, which should be transparent.

I strongly oppose this project. The demolition was done without Congressional approval, without public commet, without following proper procedures, and without any oversight. In short, the demolition was illegal. The american people do not need or want a giant ballroom, and allowing the project to go forward is just condoning illegal behavior.
Accepting donations from billionaires for the building of the giant ballroom suggests that favors will be expected in return.
Build it back the way it was.

I still remember visiting the White House with my parents when I was six years old, a small town Ohio girl, standing in awe at the pillars, the white marble, the beautiful gardens. It was the year after JFK was assassinated and my father felt it was necessary to come to DC to pay our respects. He put on his suit, my mother wore her best dress, a “Jackie” sheath dress with matching jacket and pillbox hat. We drove most of the way in one day, stopping at a motor hotel in Virginia, arriving bright and early the next morning. We spent the day touring. The East wing, my dad explained, was where we would enter. The President worked on the other side and he was a very busy man. They gave me a little plastic “presidential seal” as a souvenir. The guard smiled down at me. I remember him giving my dad a wink. I thought they might know each other! I tucked my hands in my parent’s hands as we walked around. I felt like a princess. Since then, I’ve been back, many times… for different reasons. To take my daughter there, to peacefully protest, to pay honor to fallen presidents who had lived there. However, now that the welcome mat is gone, when will I be allowed to return, when will I want to return? It will never be the same as the first time I walked in that East Wing.

I am writing to express how distressed I am about the euphemistic ‘east wing modernization’ project. It is no such thing. The Trump administration believes it can do anything and get away with it. For that reason alone it should be denied. But more than that the East Wing is most associated with the work of the First Ladies. All that history wiped away on the whim of this one man is heartbreaking. I can’t help bit believe that this was the opening salvo on his war on women and their contribution to our great democracy. Everyone has to keep saying no to him and stop him destroying history he doesn’t care for. He has to follow the law like everyone else. Please insist that the East Wing be restored to its previous beauty, and prosecute all who destroyed it in the first place.

Thank you

I strongly disapprove of the proposed ballroom project to replace the East Wing of the White House. This project is unnecessary - the White House already has a ballroom. In addition, the scale of the proposed ballroom is out of keeping with the scale of the existing structure: "At 90,000 square feet, the proposed ballroom would exceed the size of the 55,000-square-foot Executive Residence. Additions to historic properties should be compatible in scale and subordinate to the original structure." Contrary to what some people believe, bigger is not necessarily better.

In my opinion this project is just another of Donald Trump's vanity projects, like putting his name on the Kennedy Center, and look what happened to that. Now it's shuttered. Everything that man touches withers and dies. The way he has redone the Oval Office makes it look like a cheap imitation of Versailles or a fancy Las Vegas whorehouse. Presidents come and go but the People's House of the United States of America will stand till this country falls. Please don't deface this beautiful building imbued with our nation's history by allowing one man to trash it merely in order to feed his insatiable ego.

Thank you,

In 1999, because of a sad event in our lives, my family and I were honored to visit the People's House, by invitation of my mother's congressman, Ray LaHood. After meeting Representative LaHood and chatting, we embarked on the "Member's Tour" of the White House. We were able to chill out in Jackie Kennedy's Rose Garden and caught a glimpse of Buddy, the Clintons' dog. The entire experience was an unforgettable one for us "regular" Americans, and I remember it vividly even though it was over 25 years ago. Now, I am deeply saddened and angry that the entire East Wing has been razed, carelessly demolishing "bricks and mortar" and the sacred spaces they sheltered.

I completely and whole-heartedly share Anara Guard's thoughts and feelings, as expressed: "I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. We The People do not need, nor want, a monstrously gigantic Ballroom. For what? And who? Trump's billionaire cronies?
We wish you could restore the Jacqueline Kennedy Rose Garden to its glory and beauty. We never needed a concrete patio in its place.

The fact that the East Wing was destroyed is not a reason to allow new construction of a ballroom the grandiose size decided by the current President.
He leveled the East Wing by fiat , without discussion, let alone permission. The cost is enormous and for it to be offset by private donors does not make it an ok substitute for the East Wing, known historically as the " heart of the house". Instead , having ripped out the heart, it would become nothing more than a place where Trump would campaign for more money and curry favor of political allies, its future under the next presidents not of concern to him.
I've read several memoirs about the White House written by former White House ushers and other personnel , all describing the purpose and activities of the East Wing over the years. To erase that history and intent of the East Wing without permission of the people and allow the ballroom to be built, is to twice steal their ownership of the People's House from them.
How can we expect people to have faith in their future when access is further denied them in order to privatize a vanity project? It is not a palace or castle of a monarchy, it is a symbol of the past, present, and future of the United States. Any president, past, present, or future, is a house guest, not the owner. We are.

Hello. I oppose the spending of $200 million (and purportedly increasing another $100 million or more) on this project that was initiated without proper planning, process, review, care or approval. I believe the original structure should be restored meticulously and care taken to ensure all completed razing is safely and properly disposed of, instead of the dumping that appears to have occurred. The risks of environmental contamination need to be minimized and remediated. This project and how it has been carried out thus far is very much repugnant. It is unacceptable.
