I do not disagree that perhaps there needs to be a larger gathering space for White House events. However, it requires sensitive planning and creative solutions that are not currently taking place. There is a process for this type of architectural endeavor, and the current administration is not immune to the requirements.

I am horrified by what's happened to the East Wing. The eyesore alone is bad enough, but given that it was done without authorization or a firm plan is mind boggling. It's literally destroying history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Fellow Americans,
I vehemently oppose spending $300 million on this unnecessary vanity project, which was unlawfully initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design at the sole expense of the individual responsible for this debacle: Donald Trump. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I would like to see the ball room project canceled. I feel strongly that the East Wing of the White House was dismantled with out the permission of the public and by those who regulate the alterations of any public or private buildings in the Capital area.
I also feel that President Trump expedited this project illegally and that the East wing must be reconstituted as it was. It is a piece of our history.
Please act on this as soon as you can.
Thank you. James C Bingham

I strongly oppose the precipitous changes being wreaked upon the White House. This is the PEOPLE'S house, not the President's. Bypassing a more considered and traditional planning process simply because a cabal of rich people are willing fund it is disgusting.

This is not simply changing the wallpaper. Aside from being a functioning office and residence, the White House also exists as a metonymic symbol of the presidency. To have such violence done to it was appalling, and to let it simply continue unchecked would be worse.

Open the process to review, require Congressional approval of spending (regardless of where the funds originate) and go forward SLOWLY.

Since no authorization was given, or requested prior to the destruction of the East Wing, all work should be stopped permanently until such permits and authorizations are approved by the Historical Preservation Commission. I would like to see the East Wing rebuilt to reflect the wing as it was before demolition. The interior can be modified to include an area for state functions for dinners, and an appropriately sized ballroom. There is no need for a “football field “ size ballroom dripping with excessive gold like moldings everywhere you look. If there is a need for a new bunker, I’m sure that could be updated also, with the correct permits and authorizations. Also President Trump should pay for the repairs with the monies he “says” he has been donated to build his mega structure. I was and still am very upset with what he has done to the White House. I also would like the historic society to look at the tacky hotel renovations he’s done to some to the bathrooms, and other areas of White House. They are not appropriate in keeping with the time period the White House was built.

Hello. I would just like to say I feel it's important to keep the renovation as close to the architectural style of the original building as possible but take into account for additional ballroom/ meeting space needed to host and entertain large groups of guests. The White House deserves to be upgraded and brought up to current code but without all the glitz and gilt that the president is no doubt proposing. Make the room fit in the style of the rest of the WH but tasteful and representative of the glamour bestowed upon the occupants and guests.
The exterior should also reflect the same building style and perhaps add back in a rose or flower garden patio area for outdoor seating. Consider including large NanaWall folding glass wall to open out onto an exterior space for use when the weather allows outdoor entertainment and dining.
In addition I hope there is consideration to rebuild the east colonnade (or something similar) to provide office and gathering space for guests and First Ladies and redecorate using much of the original art and decor that was removed for demo.
Thank you.

Sadly, the damage to the People's house cannot be undone. At this point a well researched and historically driven replica should be considered. There should be non-partisan committees formed to find a solution to this sad and unfortunate problem. Please do not allow a gold ballroom to take the place of the East Wing.

Our hard earned tax dollars should never go to such destruction of OUR White House.
Charges need to be filed and ALL those involved need to be brought into court immediately.
If this is to now be built upon it needs to be out of the pockets of the president and his administrators and congress that agreed to do this. They have billions of dollars to pool for this.
ONLY: green, recycled sustaining materials and designs, green energy to power, NO GOLD!, tours of the public and visiting people from around the world as well as any and all public and private schools, universities and colleges should be allowed, NO NAMES put on ANYTHING!, and natural plants inside and out to this geological area.

I am concerned that the proposed renovation of the White House East Wing has been illegally undertaken and if completed will be completely out of scale to the existing historic residence - essentially adding a 90,000 sq ft addition to a 55,000 sq ft. structure.
There is even talk now of trying to balance this grossly oversized ballroom by increasing the size of the WEST Wing colonnade. This is trying to fix a bad design, one that ignored the requirement of mandatory review by your agency, with more half-baked plans.

The National Capital Planning Commission is tasked with preserving and enhancing the extraordinary historical resources of the National Capital Region. I can hardly think of a historical resource more extraordinary than the White House. One of the NCPC's core activities is to review and approve changes to historic structures. I urge the Commission to hold this proposed renovation to the highest standards so that despite the illegal demolition of the existing East Wing, the new structure will be architecturally and historically appropriate to the site.

Thank you

To Whom it May Concern,

I am fervently against a giant ballroom on the east side of the White House. Perhaps a remodeled East Wing is warranted - since the unauthorized demolition of the East Wing was undertaken by this Administration. I would expect a committee selected by both Democrat and Republican interests look be impaneled to decide what exactly that new addition would look like. The decision cannot be made solely by the White House, especially since no one knows where the money to remodel is originating from.

Thank you,

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

I opposed The East Wing Modernization Project, especially since no prior approval was sought prior to tearing the structure down. The White House is “The People’s House. “ it is not the private property of any president. It is not theirs to change at will. If changes are necessary to “modernize it,” the process in place for any such changes must be followed.

Watching The East Wing torn down was devastating. Learning no permissions/ permits were even sought made it even worse. The wing should be restored to its previous design.

If the line is not held here, what historical structure will be next?

The fact that this is being done by donations opens it up to being sold to the highest bidder. This is in-American and no president should be selling the White House.

Please don't change the original design/footprint of the East Wing when it is rebuilt. I am absolutely shocked and heartbroken about Trump's demolition of the East Wing. This is not the Wild Wild West; there are rules and norms that must be followed; authorization must be granted and permits must be obtained. President Trump has saddened and shocked the Nation with his callous disregard for process and rules - his desire to "tear it all down" and create an oversized tacky ballroom in his tasteless image. Please, please, please do not allow this project to go forward.

I am quoting another commentator below because I believe she captured the feelings that I and so many others share in this dark moment. We are sickened.

As an American who sees value in process and accountability, I have been very concerned about the destruction of the East Wing without forethought of its legacy and historical significance.
Any President is a temporary resident of the people's house, at our discretion, and major changes that are more than an upgrade of standards or decor have been required to be vetted in the past.
As many of us ask "what happened?" and wonder how it happened so quickly without authorization, we also mourn for future generations who will never be able to visit a tremendous gift of history.
Therefore, it should be reinstated as it was in size and scope as a tribute to the American people as soon as possible. There are plenty of ballrooms available in DC to accommodate hosted events, and that would provide respectable income support to an amazing city.
Thank you for your consideration and for creating this opportunity to provide comments.

I am opposed to any building project that was started without the appropriate permits, authorization or design review. This building is historic and should not have been demolished period due to its historic significance and the project should’ve never been started without the appropriate approval. The only work that should continue is to restore the White House as close as possible to its previous majestic status. No one is above the law to have a project started without the permit and authorization that all law abiding citizens need to go through for even minor building projects on their own property in their own home. I am opposed to building a 90,000 square foot addition to the White House for a "ballroom". It is totally out of scale with the existing building. The East Wing which was torn down without approval was an historic structure and was very useful. When presidents need a large room for an event they can rent a space in a hotel or government building.

If any other American citizen had taken it upon themselves to destroy a historic building with no authorization or permits, we would be criminally charged. Why should the American people, struggling to pay for food and healthcare, be expected to spend at least $300M to build the President a larger party space? Presumably, taxpayers have already footed the bill for the insane destruction. The party responsible should pay, out of their own personal funds, to have this historic building put back to its original specifications and appearance. Not another federal dime should be spent on permitting, design or authorization, much less reconstruction.

I fully object to the current proposal for the ballroom addition that is under consideration to replace the East Wing. Firstly, the East Wing never should have been demolished, but most importantly, this proposed ballroom addition is drastically out of proportion with the structure and ideals of the White House. The design itself is not in keeping with the design of The White House. This is not a palace, it is the People's House. A modest rebuilding of the East Wing that replicates the original scale, style and function is the only suitable option. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Dear National Capital Planning Commissioners:

Thank you for the opportunity to submit comments regarding the design of the proposed White House East Wing Modernization. I am an architect, a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), a former national President of the AIA (2006) a former Chancellor of the AIA College of Fellows (2025), and was an architecture professor and administrator for over 30 years. Also, for the last almost 30 years, at least twice per year, I have enjoyed a walk by the White House and its surrounding parks and buildings, and have appreciated it, the People's House, as a wonderful symbol of this nation.

If any of my previous students had submitted the proposed Ballroom addition to the White House as currently designed, I would have given them a failing grade. Why?

1. The overall scale and size of the proposed addition is totally inappropriate for its context and site. It grossly overwhelms the White House, the building that should unquestionably be the most important building of this composition of buildings.
2. Because the proposed building is so huge, the scale of its parts, the details of its elevations, windows, stairs, etc., are also grossly oversized, so as to make the White House look like a miniature playhouse awaiting replacement.
3. The Georgian, neo-classical or whatever schmaltz of the composition does not reflect anything about a building of its time, 2026, except that the scale of its open space spans would have been more difficult to accomplish in the time it seems to want to belong. ‘‘Modernization’’ is an oxymoron for this proposal.
4. The design program of use, a gargantuan ballroom, which coincidentally could also be used to privatize Presidential Inaugurations, is an inappropriate program for this site, time and for the People's House. There are plenty of other ballroom spaces in DC, I've been to many of them. And the Presidential Inauguration should always and ever be more broadly accessible than any ballroom can accommodate.
5. Finally, while it may not be a design factor, the demolition and approval process for this proposal has been horrific and again totally inappropriate.

As your request for Public Comments clearly states: ‘‘The White House is a National Historic Landmark and National Park, owned by the American people and stewarded by the National Park Service. It has been home to our presidents since 1800 and is perhaps the most significant historic site in the United States. Before nationally significant places are permanently altered, the public deserves an opportunity to be heard and to help shape decisions that affect our shared national heritage.’’

I am quite certain the public is not in favor of this grotesque addition to the White House. Thank you for the opportunity to comment. I sincerely hope that you do not recommend approval of this design as proposed.

I am very much opposed to the process this project has started with, which is the demolition of the East Wing before the public or any of the permitting agencies have had a chance to comment, plan, question, permit, etc. It is disturbing to me that such massive structural change would commence as if the current resident personally owns the property. The people own the property. Perhaps it does need to be modernized, perhaps it does need a layout change or new security systems. The proper channels and discussion is the only way this should proceed.

I am writing to implore you to block further work on the proposed ballroom and bunker, and instead to mandate the reconstruction of the East Wing, modernizing it as needed but maintaining the architectural style of the original structure. I am appalled and saddened that the current Republican administration demolished the old East Wing without appropriate prior consultation with and authorization from the bodies and groups charged with maintaining the integrity of "the people's house," with all of its historical significance and its central importance as a symbol of the values that have made this democratic republic a beacon of freedom, justice, and equality for all citizens. The lawless, reckless, and brazen way in which the demolition was undertaken flies in the face of that rich history and symbolism, suggesting that one man--the current president--has a right to do as he likes with this public building, marring it forever, when in fact he is only a temporary resident. In destroying the old East Wing this president seems to engaging in an intentional erasure of earlier residents who left their own marks on the building in a way that harmonized with the original design, or even enhanced it. In contrast, the wildly-oversized ballroom and bunker design seems to be nothing but a vanity project, overwhelming the order and harmony of the existing building in a way that does aesthetic violence to the whole. I know it has been argued that the ball-room and bunker will cost the American people nothing because the project is supposedly funded by private donations, but I would counter that argument with a different cost metric: this completely unnecessary and frankly unsightly new ballroom and bunker WOULD in fact be unacceptably costly to the citizens of this country, since it would severely undercut public faith and trust in the agencies and groups we commission to maintain our public monuments for the good of all, in a way that honors our shared history and values. For all of these reasons, I ask you please to halt and reverse this destructive project.

I am appalled at the sudden and secretive demolition of the East Wing of the White House. The White House is the People's house and we the people should have been forewarned of its demolition. Not only has it created an unnecessary expense and eyesore to the people of the United States, but none of the standard procedures normally required were followed in its demolition. In addition, what about the environmental hazards it has most likely created? It likely contained asbestos, pcbs, lead paint and other hazards. What steps were taken to ensure they were properly dealt with? How many laws were violated to conduct this outrageous action? Any further work needs to follow all laws, requirements and proper procedures and those responsible need to be held to account.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Also I have an idea that I am hoping will be given consideration. If there are parts of the old building that are still usable I'd like the architects to consider a Kintsugi theme. It's the idea that a broken ceramic is rebuilt using gold to line the cracks. It signifies the beauty in repair from trauma and reminds of us our resilience, and that even our broken parts are beautiful. The idea can be use with anything that is repairable. There are plenty of picture of these types of ceramics on the internet.

The plan for this needs to be revised to align with the proportions of the existing structure, not overwhelm it. In addition to getting approval from proper authorities there should be committee made up of citizen (and not picked by Trump) to make sure this addition is done in a tasteful manner. The donor process should be transparent and structured so that the people who donate have no influence over the construction of it or any other projects.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Also I have an idea that I am hoping will be given consideration. If there are parts of the old building that are still usable I'd like the architects to consider a Kintsugi theme. It's the idea that a broken ceramic is rebuilt using gold to line the cracks. It signifies the beauty in repair from trauma and reminds of us our resilience, and that even our broken parts are beautiful. The idea can be use with anything that is repairable. There are plenty of picture of these types of ceramics on the internet.

I oppose any further spending on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. It is beyond comprehension that we have lost such an important American treasure to the whims of a despot. It echoes the destruction of cultural history and artifacts wrought by Hitler and the Nazis throughout Europe. Shame on us if we don't stop the carnage and restore the People's House in the best way possible.

I have done several remodeling projects at my home. The first step is to get the plans approved- NOT tear down history and then say we can build whatever we want.

The White House is the People's House, not DJT's. The project that he is trying to railroad through is out of proportion to the main house, and I fear it is simply a vehicle for bribery.

Please stop DJT from ruining the symbol of our country. He should not have been able to pave the Rose Garden, and he should not be able to turn the White House into an expensive, disproportional eyesore.

Thank you.

I am appalled by the blatant disregard for the process of modernizing the East Wing. The building now destroyed was historical. Great civilization s don't destroy their cultural heritage as the destruction of the East Wing has done. What replaces it should not dwarf the White House and should not be taller and grander than the whole of the complex. No doubt better accommodations for formal dining should be included but past 300-400 people is excessive.

I also realize that all things, at times, need to be modernized. But this must be done with consideration, thoughtfulness, and to meet the moment of time and place. This demolition was done with none of this in mind. It was done with reckless abandon, no thought and or consideration for place, time and history.

I am against using the private donations from corporations and wealthy donors to build this while the current administration is in office. It is or at least gives the impression of conflict of interest, bribery or pay to play that has no place in our democracy. In addition, I feel strongly that the design should be balanced and in accordance with the style of the rest of the people's house. Although a ballroom may be needed, it should be built modestly - bigger functions should utilize other locations which will also stimulate the economy in DC. Finally, I hope that the function of the old East Wing can be restored to its previous functions. We may eventually have a First Spouse who wishes to have a presence in the White House.

I believe that major changes to the historic White House, which represents our common heritage, should not be decided by one man - even if it is the president. The razing of the historic East Wing without prior planning and an agreed upon "modernization" (really: complete replacement by something entirely different) without the involvement of the NCPC and public comment period and discussion is not acceptable. And that is only part of the problem...

The ballroom being proposed is out of proportion to the White House itself and would take away from the most important and recognized building in the country, besides being an ostentatious, unsightly, and overwhelming addition to the White House itself. Our elected officials are supposed to represent us and do the people's work, not party in opulence and play court. This is not a club or a castle, it is the People's House.

Everything about what is happening is wrong and needs to be stopped. Modernize what needs to be modernized, but rebuild the original East Wing - slightly bigger if necessary - but stop the terrible idea of a ballroom, let alone one so out of proportion with the historical structure. It's not modernization - it's destruction of cultural heritage.

This project should never have been undertaken and flouts all regard for history and the fact that the White House is the people's house, not that of the self-aggrandizing present occupant. Any modernization should involve we the people with a due regard for standard procedures, a sense of history and should not be an occasion for bribery by the ultra-rich as appears to be the case. Given the blatant illegality of President Trump's actions, he should have no involvement whatsoever in future steps.

The only building that should be erected on the site of the East Wing, that was demolished, is a reproduction of what was torn down. Doing so would restore the beauty and symmetry of the White House. NO larger building should be built on that site. The proposed ballroom would look garish anywhere near the elegant White House. I do not think a ballroom is needed, however if Congress, the NCPC, and the CFA conclude differently they should look at buildings already owned by the federal government.

I oppose the "modernization" of the East Wing. The demolition was done without proper authorization and was a disgrace to the history of our country. The East Wing should be restored to its prior specifications at the expense of the President, who ordered this travesty of a ballroom for his own ego. Stop the madness and lawlessness that's taken over our country.

Hello

I'm writing to say that I vehemently oppose this so called modernization of the east wing. This historic building has been destroyed, and it was done without authorization or permits. The average person will never see the gaudy gold ballroom; it's only being built as a place for Trump to party with his billionaire buddies. 300 million could be better spent elsewhere, like building affordable housing.

I joined the National Trust for Historic Preservation after reading about the demolition of the East Wing of the White House and removal of historical monuments and plaques by the current presidential administration. As a former history teacher, I am appalled at the such blatant attacks on our nation's history have been allowed to occur. From my Republican upbringing I was taught that our past cannot be forgotten as it guides our future, a philosophy that I instilled in my students for 33 years. How the East Wing was allowed to be demolished without public approval boggles my mind. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and National Park, owned by the American people, and stewarded by the National Park Service. The White House is not privately owned and as thus cannot be changed. The people of this country should have been consulted, at least through our public representatives, before the demolition. I do not wish the current president's plan for a 90,000-square-foot ballroom to erect on the east side of the White House. I know it will be hard to reconstruct, yet reconstruction as near to the original building must be done. The president is not above the law though he seems to be engaged in the systematic destruction of the rule of law. The White House is a symbol of this nation, not a playground for the want to be rich and famous, and it needs to be reconstructed to its original design.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

My husband and I are appalled both at the height and expanse of this vanity project which has obliterated the harmony of the White House design. Additionally this is the PEOPLE'S house, not Trump's and the hubris of building an overly large ballroom to assuage his vanity is ridiculous. The Congress and the people should have a say in how OUR building is changed and all alterations should go through the proper channels. In addition, we demand full transparency in what funds are being used and who provided them as well as what these people are getting in return. This lack of oversight and the illegal act of starting demolition before plans has been reviewed by the proper authorities is another example of the Trump administration's corruption and disdain for the law. We want this project stopped and the East wing to be returned to the original footprint. Congress has to act!

Sincerely,
Katherine and Lawrence Miller

Dear National Capital Planning Commission:
I am writing to express my concerns about the proposed 90,000-square-foot ballroom addition to the White House. The destruction of the East Wing without public input is very unsettling but has been done. The currently proposed ballroom is out of scale with the remaining White House and the cost for the ballroom seems to be increasing. Perhaps the administration should have considered security concerns before leveling the East Wing without proceeding through the usual approval process. I would appreciate information on what other uses the proposed East Wing modernization would include as a ballroom seems to be required only intermittently while other functions would be used on a more regular basis and perhaps provide greater benefit to the public. Thank you.

I did not nor do not support the destruction of the east wing of the White House. What Mr. Trump did on the sly is unconscionable. What he did is not just egregious to the soul of the U.S. It has spoken volumes about his feelings for women where first and second wives did their much of their work. It was a woman's place, among other offices. Not that Melania has had much liking for the job, but what she does do isn't done there anymore either.
I did not nor do not I want a detached ball room, let alone a nine thousand square foot attached one just for the glory of one man's despotic narcissism. A good ninety-eight percent of Americans would never see the inside of it. We don't have enough money to buy tickets to a function there and wouldn't be invited anyway. All we will see is a bloated canker on the side of Our House.
I could go on a bit more, but these are my top two considerations in regard to this deeply offensive and highly illegal project. It must go through the proper permissions and planning, and because Trump did not ask or receive permission he must rebuild and replace everything and return the wing to its former glory. Yes, put in upgrades for electrical and plumbing and HVAC needs. Maybe a reinforced bunker under it. And there should be no mention of the Trump name anywhere near it except Melania's brief and infrequent habitation there as a first lady.

I believe that there was no actual planning put into this project. They tore it down before there was a plan for what would replace the East Wing. Whatever is built must conform to the style of the White House and should not exceed the height of the remaining White House. The White House is one of the most famous buildings in the world and it’s now scarred. This beautiful symbol of democracy must somehow be saved with whatever is build back. A huge ballroom is a waste of space and lacks character and history.

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.
The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.
I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.
The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

I oppose this project in its current form. "Do what you want and ask permission after-the-fact" is not a method of leadership that I endorse from our government officials. I am both offended and embarrassed, as an American citizen, by this handling of this project. I would like the project in its current form to be halted, and a meaningful, thoughtful and respectful alternative be proposed. I also would like to see the appropriate reprimands be given to those who went above the law to move this project forward without proper authorization. There should not be double standards for our government officials compared to all other citizens.

I oppose the spending of $300 million++ on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It was an illegal destruction of "The People's House" by a wannabe dictator.

It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. And you need to prohibit any president from putting his name on it. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

I am opposed to spending this enormous amount of money on a project that doesn't meet the nation's needs. When budgets are being cut, entire agencies are being eliminated, and wild spending is given to "homeland security" to be used to build detention center, there is no need to approve this project. Just because a President resides in the building doesn't make it his. This is the People's HOUSE being used temporarily by one family who have already made it into a gilded mess. The Trumps should be made to reimburse the reconstruction of this historical building's east wing back to its original design. Signed: One of the People who owns this house!

Money for this project, whether taxpayer funded or donor funded could be used to feed our house hungry or homeless Americans. I would like the East Wing, as it existed in 2024, to be rebuilt at the expense of DJ Trump. He took it down without proper authorization, he can afford to put it back up.

The East Wing has historically been the domain of the First Lady for her service efforts.
Perhaps after our long history that Wing could be updated for the next generations — for the first First Gentleman.
What is not needed is a structure out of all proportion with the remainder of the House.
Was this Ballroom venture studied by architects and historians to assess the appropriateness of the gargantuan structure breaking ground?
I am firmly apposed to this hideous design project unless significantly scaled back.

First, the destruction of the East Wing without an approved plan was just plain vandalism. Unfortunately, that cannot be undone. I sincerely hope that all of the historic elements were carefully removed and stored for future use but seeing the way the wrecker ripped the place apart, I fear that did not happen.

This is the People's House, and Trump is a temporary tenant. We are the landlords, and he has violated his lease.

To call this project 'Modernization' is propaganda. The National Capital Planning Commission needs to stop this destruction of history and make the concrete plans match the rest of the White House in size and design. And, for God's sake, don't let him call it the Trump Ballroom.
Please stand up to the destruction of history which his savagely renaming the Kennedy Center, removing historical information from National Parks buildings and plans to create a 'Triumphal Arch' in the Mall are all sad examples. This destruction is just another excuse for graft and corruption, the very thing that having a National Capital Planning Commission is designed to prevent.

No one individual can do this kind of destruction. And any changes need to be in service for a planned purpose, not just to feed the ego of a messianic autocrat. Do your job knowing you have the backing of We the People. Thank you.

What is being proposed is a new building that dwarfs the original White House all for the sake of throwing a party.

Given the tasteless and tacky way this administration has decorated the White House (gilded Oval Office, Presidents walk with questionable plaques, paved-over Rose garden, ..), I have little faith that the resulting building will be anything other than a gold-adorned homage to Trump versus a well proportioned office space for future first ladies and an open space in which to hold events including State dinners. This building should be built in proportion to the current White House and should be a space in which the average American (not billionaires) would feel at home.

The White House is the people's house, and while expanded event space may be needed, additions should respect the historic scale and design of the White House. At 90,000 square feet, the proposed ballroom would exceed the size of the 55,000-square-foot Executive Residence. That's just plain wrong (as was the demolition without permission).

Additions to historic properties should be compatible in scale and subordinate to the original structure. Please restore this space in a way that respects its history.

The so-called "East Wing Modernization Project" is misnamed. The East Wing, part of a building that has been home to Presidents since 1800, was demolished without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight: clearly a violation of the law and obviously a violation of the respect owed to this special place. These unlawful actions violated the trust of the American people. We should have had the opportunity to comment before the bulldozers razed our history. It should have been presented as a proposal and not a demonstration of violence against a National Historic Landmark and a National Park.

The White House is owned by the American people. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures. That person is a short-term tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States. If any tenant of mine treated my property as this tenant has treated the people's White House, I would throw them out and keep the security deposit.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion. Please consider the people's wishes.

I'm not opposed to modernization or even expansion of the East Wing of the White House. However, I'm appalled that the Administration would choose to demolish the East Wing and assume they could proceed with a large expansion without going through any of the required (and appropriate) review channels. I believe the following principles should be applied to any construction on the East Wing site:
--The size and extent of construction should consider the size and extent of the rest of the White House, and should not overwhelm or dominate the rest of the structure;
--Modernization should be carried out to allow for functions in keeping with modern technology, with space set aside to house the technology, but again considering the size and extent of the rest of the structure;
--Exterior features, treatments, and finishes should be in keeping with the historic architecture and nature of the remainder of the White House;
--Before any additional work is done, an Historic Structure Report should be prepared using Historic American Buildings Survey standards, and should be retroactive to before the East Wing was demolished;
--Documentation of all historic features demolished should be carried out in accordance with federal standards;

--An interpretive display should be prepared, subject to National Capital Planning Commission and National Trust for Historic Preservation standards, regarding the features demolished;
--Any work from this point forward should comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and standards.
Thank you for your consideration.

I write today to strongly object to the East Wing ModernizationProject which, undertaken without prior authorization or approval, has already led to the partial demolition of one of the most recognizable buildings in the world. From its earliest days, Washington DC was scrupulously designed to project not only a sense of awe, but also a sense of grace, beauty, and symmetry. To destroy the symmetry and grace of the White House, the PEOPLE'S house, to satisfy the whims of a single individual using funds donated by would-be oligarchs eager to curry favor and consolidate power, is not only an aesthetic travesty, but a betrayal of the foundational principles of our country. I urge not only a halt to the project, but a restoration of the wing which was demolished in a monumental, unparalleled act of vandalism. Thank you for this opportunity to comment.

After the destruction of the East Wing at The White House, the priority should be clear: restore what was lost, not replace it with something entirely different. Proposals to build a new ballroom in place of the East Wing ignore the historical and functional significance of that space and risk turning a restoration moment into an unnecessary redesign.

The East Wing has long played a vital role in supporting the operations and traditions of the White House while preserving the architectural integrity of the overall complex. Rebuilding it would respect continuity, history, and the careful balance that defines one of the nation's most recognizable landmarks.

Choosing to construct a ballroom instead sends the wrong message — that expansion and spectacle matter more than preservation and stewardship. Restoring the East Wing would honor the legacy of the building and demonstrate a commitment to safeguarding history rather than reshaping it for short-term vision.

The destruction of the East Wing of the White House was wanton vandalism, absolutely at odds with r regulations regarding our public buildings. The “plan” for the “ballroom” Is woefully incomplete and the proposed financing mechanism is illegal. The prose structure is far too large and far too expensive to serve its proposed purpose. Even if the project was, legitimately a bathroom, the proposed design is hideous and completely out of place next to the White House. Ideally, this illegal, corporate-sponsored project should be scrapped and the East Wing rebuilt, perhaps with some modifications to include an entertainment space.

It is not an East Wing Modernization. Donald Trump, without written request or permission, quietly issued the destruction notice to raize this beautiful section of the White House.
He had no authority to destroy the East Wing of the People's House. The White House isn't Trump's personal residence; it belongs to the people of the United States.
Donald Trump believes he is a King and has absolute authority to do as he pleases, thanks in a large part to the Supreme Court of the United States.
This authoritarianism must end.
The Constitution must be respected in its former glory by all lawmakers. The East Wing of the White House must be restored to its former glory and must be funded by Donald Trump from his personal finances.

Dear Members of the National Capital Planning Commission:

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the $300 million expenditure on the current East Wing project. This initiative was launched without the necessary authorization, permits, or design reviews, and represents the destruction of American history rather than a modernization effort.

I request that this project be canceled immediately and that the East Wing be rebuilt and restored to its original design. Proceeding with this project without addressing the legal violations involved would be an affront to law-abiding Americans. I believe it is essential that those responsible for bypassing the proper legal channels are held accountable.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Cindy Turse

I completely oppose the razing of the historic East Wing of the White House. This is not modernization, this is demolishing history. The US does not need an enormous overdecorated ballroom. Any continuation of any project on this site should be done with an eye to preserving the existing look and scale of the White House and with a well developed and researched plan for its use.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The White House is living history...It is the citizens of the United States house. It is to be cherished and cared for in a respectful manner. The current occupant is a bottom feeder who does not understand or care about our house. He would destroy the whole complex just to have his edifice of self glory and greed stand alone in his quest for recognition. It is an abomination and must be stopped NOW!

The bulldozing of the East Wing without going through lawful procedures and feedback from preservation specialists and the public has made me absolutely sick. Who would do something like this except someone who thinks he's above the law. No other president has or would've done anything close to this ever. Please do not allow any more destruction of the White House or any surrounding historic Washington DC areas. The guy in the White House is a grifter, and he needs to be stopped. The East Wing needs to be rebuilt as it was before while Trump is in the White House, or if not, immediately after he's gone. Everything he has done must be undone and accountability must be had.

I am absolutely appalled that the East Wing was torn down with no approved plan. The redesign should be held to the highest possible standards. Ideally, the restored East Wing should look like the pre-existing East Wing on the exterior in all ways. A ball room is not needed. If the commission decides to include a ballroom in the modernization, the size should be scaled down by at least 75%. Again, the new Wing should not be an eyesore and blight and a reminder of the trump- Epstein era. There will be prosecutions and convictions. There should be no memorialization of Trump's presidency in the new plan.

We are told it will be funded by donors, at what cost to our American people? Will these donors get special favors,such as contracts or deregulation? Will donors pay, or is this another situation where we are told, “Mexico will pay for the wall”?
In a time where we can’t afford healthcare, rent, to buy a home or scrimp on groceries, couldn’t our tax dollars be better spent than building gold plated ballrooms?

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen

As a 70 year old who loves to visit D. C. and take joy in the history, arts and culture - as well as amazing dining - I am writing you regarding the East Wing of our White House. Since the current president destroyed it without consulting you or anyone of merit really, this project must be controlled and taken away from him/ them. Please insist that it is rebuilt exactly as it was before - with modern updates as deemed necessary of course. Honestly, I wonder if the rumors that he did it to fortify the bunker underneath are true. The White House is ruined under this president. We must not let a bit of it last. Please do not let that monstrosity of a ballroom dwarf the grandeur of the White House. All the propaganda that this administration has put out about other presidents remodeling the White House is hyperbole. And lies. When I saw video on social media of the bulldozers tearing into it - I was sick to my stomach. Please do not let the current resident of the White House have this much power. It is unconscionable.

thank you,

I would like to go on record that the White House should be restored to its historic roots. Update to ADA Standards and improve security. Absolutely, no gilding should be added. We are a conservative nation and the White House should reflect a stately presence. I strongly believe that taxpayer dollars shouldn't pay for this, but rather Donald Trump as he illegally ordered the destruction of the East Wing-ruining a historic and reverent place for our nation. In addition, I believe that charges should be brought against Donald Trump for not consulting with the proper authorities in regards to destroying the East Wing. If any other person did this, there would be legal consequences.

The demolition of the East Wing without the involvement of the Planning Committee or the National Register of Historic Places was a monstrous offense to the people of the United States of America. The White House has been known as the People's House. Decisions like demolishing an entire wing of the White House immediately before inclement weather season should not be made unilaterally by one man, regardless of who he may be. If additional reception space is needed, the architectural planning process should go through the same approval of any other historic property that receives federal funding and assistance. The American people do not want or need anymore gilded monstrosities in Washington DC.

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed East Wing Modernization project, which reportedly involves an expenditure of approximately $300 million. This initiative appears to have been undertaken without the proper authorization, permits, or design review required for such a significant and historically sensitive building.
This is not a modernization effort—it is, rather, the destruction of a vital piece of American history. The old structure should be rebuilt to its original design.
Moreover, allowing this project to proceed without accountability for those who disregarded established legal and procedural safeguards would undermine the rule of law and further erode public trust. No one, regardless of position or institution, is above the law.

I respectfully urge the Commission to halt this project, investigate the procedural violations, and require full compliance with all laws governing design review, preservation, and funding approval.
Sincerely,

As a 65 year old US Citizen I have always admired our country's ability to use the building in Washington DC as a living history of our progress as a nation. Retaining our historical architecture is essential to our heritage and by appropriate and proportional maintenance, improvements and even updates we honor and respect those who have come before us. Having the ability to utilize Ballrooms in the city off the White House grounds seems reasonable and logical but to "sell the rights" to our beloved White House to commercial interests is not worthwhile. We have the capacity to improve the People's House with our treasury and I vote against the plan as has been proposed.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

It was heartbreaking to see the People's house turned to rubble without regard for the historic significance of the building to the US citizens. The time for public comment should have come prior to the destruction. There is no benefit to Americans in erasing the history and replacing it with a gaudy ballroom that none of us will ever see. The East Wing should be restored to its original condition. The entire Whitehouse belongs to the people - not one man who will be out of office by the time it is built. Please stop construction of the ballroom.

I am deeply concerned about the east wing destruction and its new construction, that was not properly vetted, going through proper channels of permits, etc. The White House is the "people's house", not a particular president. There must be guardrails that prevent anyone from rebuilding and redecorating, according to their styles or desires. Without proper guidance, and historically proper construction to look appropriate along with the standing White House building, it would take away its historic value. Please make sure everything has been followed and evaluated, to make this building something all Americans can be proud of for many generations to come.

I am deeply opposed to the destruction and alteration of the east wing of the White House. The People's house. This is a historically significant building that the current occupant had no right to alter, much less to destroy and plan a vulgar replacement. This project has been an affront to the American people. I understand that the proper permitting was not obtained, and that this should never have been allowed to happen. The east wing of the White House needs to be restored to its former state as soon as possible. And the cost needs to be borne by the donors who are funding the obscene ballroom that has been planned.

I oppose the taxpayer being charged $300 million for this project that was not authorized or in keeping with the history and preservation of national buildings. Control for this project should be given over to Congress, and not be controlled by the Executive Branch, who committed damage without the proper planning and authorizations. A Committee should be appointed by Congress to assess the public's interest in the reconstruction, with input from the Historical Preservation folks on restoring this building properly, to make it functional and useful, as well as matching the rest of the White House in scale,

I am aware that the National Capital Planning Commission (NCPC) has opened public comments on the proposed modernization of the East Wing at the White House. This project is not a modernization of the East Wing of the White House, as listed above from the drop-down menu, but rather the wholesale destruction of a very important public building, which is the symbol of our democracy, by a single individual. As you all know, the East Wing of our White House has demolished PRIOR to any discussion of its removal. The proposed replacement of this important wing of the White House with a 90,000-square-foot ballroom addition is completely out of scale and proportion to our White House and its surround grounds. The White House is for the President to live in while they are the current President, it is not theirs "to make in their own image" by permanently altering or destroying the building or property without permission from the public. Yes, they can paint interior rooms, hang new curtains, change light fixtures and move furniture around and in & out. IF a ballroom is needed (which is questionable), does it need to be attached to and dwarf our White House? IF it is needed for 'dinner parties' & gatherings, does it need to be attached to and dwarf our White House? Can a 'ballroom' happen somewhere else within the District and be used for possibly other 'functions? The National Capital Planning Commission is charged with reviewing these projects, which affect our public buildings, the Commission needs to (and MUST) review with critical eyes and make sure that whatever is built is appropriate for the setting, building, and public, and not just the individual that is currently living at our White House. A public design charrette or competition should be held (with a written building program) in order to find and discover the best solution for a "90,000 Square-foot Ballroom", for OUR HOUSE, AMERICA'S HOUSE. Thank You

I want the outrageous, unnecessary, unauthorized, destruction of the East Wing of the White House stopped immediately, and the East Wing of THE PEOPLE'S HOUSE restored to its former glory. The President is a temporary resident of our house. He had no right to unilaterally decide to deface a historic building with his gaudy vision. It is also inappropriate for tech billionaires to be updating likely (based on empirical behavior of this administration) surveillance technology that will be used on Americans under our own house. This is shameful.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. A ballroom may be needed at the White House, but it needs to go through the proper channels, design reviews, permits, etc. No president of either party should unilaterally be able to go in and destroy any part of the White House. But it has happened. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. The East Wing never should have been demolished until proper reviews and plans went through the proper evaluation process.

Please deny the current administration's horrible architectural plans for the East Wing. It does not fit in any way shape or form the historical design of the White House. Obviously, something needs to be done (rebuilt) due to the demolished wing but please let it move forward with the proper design reviews, permits, etc.

Thank you!

This project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It's called the "East Wing Modernization Project," even though the East Wing has been destroyed. It's shameful and I would like this project canceled. The best result would be to have the East Wing rebuilt, but if that doesn't happen, and another building is built, I would like to see it become a welcoming center to recent arrivals to the US.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. Any other American who was re-modeling their house, would have to get a building permit or talk to the planning commission or get it approved by the Heritage committee. This is the minimum we expect for The People's house. This whole thing has been heartbreaking, especially the wanton disrespect for history. The planned ballroom is way to massive. If it is indeed going through, it needs to be scaled back to blend in with the rest of the buildings. We need classic elegance, not something from Las Vegas.

As an architect with many years of experience in historic preservation, I strenuously object to this project in that its scale and height are such that it competes with the original building for importance own the site. The physical footprint and proposed height of this addition are totally inappropriate relative to the existing White House.. Additions should be clearly subordinate to the primary building. I implore you to reject this project in its current form and request a reduction in height and scale to this project to something more respectful of "thr People's House". The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. This is not modernization, but removal and replacement. In addition, no effort was made to preserve the special materials, or unique historical artifacts, important to our national history and identity. We the people do not know what has become of the treasured items once housed there. I am outraged at this contemptible violation of the trust of the American people. We were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal, and not as a violent fait accompli, prior to waking to see photos of a giant pit. The speed and aggression with which this destruction was undertaken clearly indicate those directing the damage knew it would not be acceptable to the citizens of the country.

The current occupant of the White House is a temporary visitor, just as every United States president has been throughout our history. No president is entitled to treat this much loved property of the citizens as if it were his/her own house, to destroy with willful abandon, at a personal whim. Nor should either taxpayers, or wealthy private individuals and corporations with potentially corrupt self interests pay for one powerful person's private aesthetic to be imposed upon our most meaningful historical structures.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The United States does not have a king, and we will not support having a palace.

I very much oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing. Changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action by one person. This project, already topping $300 million, is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking and preferential access. The "process" used for demolition and creation of a new structure has undermined public trust.

The East Wing was completely destroyed with demolition beginning (and ending!) before any review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns. It appears that nobody is being held accountable for anything related to this awful project.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability. The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The White House, the People's House, does not need a ballroom. It is neither a hotel nor a convention center; DC has plenty of those.

The White House, the People's House, is not a Palace. It was deliberately designed and built with modest dimensions and restrained aesthetics. Visitors to DC are often surprised at how small it is. The Georgian style is intentionally symmetrical.

The occupant of The White House is not a King; he works for us and lives there as our temporary guest. He should not be able to rebuild it to his own tastes, no matter who is paying for it.

A new East Wing should be constructed to replace the East Wing that was demolished. It should be similar in size, shape, and placement to the West Wing, to maintain the symmetry of the entire structure.

And while repairs are being made, please restore the rose garden planted by Jackie Kennedy.

This work appears to have moved forward without proper authorization, permits, or a meaningful design review. That is not acceptable for any public project, and it is especially unacceptable at a site that carries this level of national significance.
Calling this modernization does not match what has happened. What I see is a loss of history and character that cannot simply be rebuilt later and called “the same.”
I am asking that this project be canceled. I also want the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, as faithfully as possible.

Until this project is in compliance with statutory requirements for National Historic Preservation, no further actions should be taken. The East Wing modernization should reflect the style and proportions of the historic White House, of which it is a part. There should be an architectural committee composed of professionals and historians who would be intimately involved in the design of the new structure. This should not be a rushed project. This should not be a project dictated by one person, even the President. This is not a vanity project and it should remain named the East Wing and not have any person's name attached to it, as it part of the People House - the White House.

I'm completely in opposition of building a monstrosity to detract from OUR existing White House! This IS "the people's house", NOT Donald Trump's. The demolition and plans were ALL started without proper authorization, permits, or design review approval. NO person is above the law and regulations that apply to ALL citizens, and for that reason, I want this project cancelled and FULL restoration of the former East Wing to it's original size and shape! This should also serve the purpose to remind ALL people, organizations, and government entities that "the people's properties", including all buildings and parks MUST ALWAYS be under the full review and approval of the National Capital Planning Commission. There is not "after the fact" approval, and that East Wing should NEVER have been touched!

Due to not followed the legal process of permitting, the East Wing must be restored to its original state at the expense of the party responsible for the demolition. This should be completed prior to the end of the 2026 year. Legal avenues should be pursued on behalf of the American citizens who have been harmed.

To Whom It May Concern,

This project should be canceled. The East Wing should not have been destroyed without public input and consideration of the valuable historic nature of the building. I feel fortunate that I was able to tour the White House in 2023 and enter the White House through the East Wing. It should be rebuilt and restored.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on a new ballroom. Private funding should not be used to court favors and disregard public input. Altering historic government buildings should be funded by the broader public through funds allocated by Congress or by previously established practices. This project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I am opposed to the ballroom construction to replace the East Wing. The east wing was knocked down illegally, with no permits, prior authorization or planning review. The citizens of the United States do not benefit from the construction of an oversized ballroom, which will shadow the white house (the people's house). We want the East Wing to be restored to its previous condition. We do not have kings with ballrooms in America!

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my deep concern and strong disapproval regarding the proposed construction of a ballroom at the White House.
The White House is far more than a residence or event venue—it is a living symbol of our nation's history, leadership, and democratic values. The preservation of its historical integrity should be treated as a sacred responsibility. The idea of constructing a new ballroom, particularly one that could exceed the scale of the existing structure where critical decisions affecting our country and the world are made every day, is deeply troubling.
A ballroom, by its very nature, is a space intended for social gatherings and entertainment. It should never overshadow or overpower a place of such profound national importance. Alterations of this magnitude risk diminishing the historical character and symbolic weight of this treasured landmark.
I strongly urge you and all decision-makers involved to reconsider this proposal and to prioritize the preservation and protection of the White House as the historic and dignified institution it has always been. Future generations deserve to inherit it with its integrity intact.
Thank you for your time and for considering the concerns of citizens who care deeply about preserving our nation’s history.

Respectfully,
Maureen Brower

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

I am writing to request the cancellation of the building of the proposed ballroom on the White House grounds. I am also requesting that instead of this ballroom, the East Wing be fully restored and rebuilt, at the expense of the current occupant.

The White House is the peoples' house, not Donald Trump's. He is merely an occupant for the finite period of his term or removal, which ever may come first. Simply stated, he not only completely disregarded processes required for any such major renovations, he had no right to destroy the East Wing in the first place. We are a nation of laws, period. This stunt and dismissal of the processes herein, is yet another example of his total disregard for our Democracy, our Constitution, our laws, and lastly, the power of the peoples' voice.

The East Wing has been a primary part of the peoples' house and its history since 1902, nearly 125 years ago. Its structure was in keeping with the simplicity, elegance and humility of our White House. The proposed ballroom is a monstrosity of a structure that I'm sure will be gilded with the similar gaudiness of Trump's defiling project for the Oval office. In other words, he turned the dignified office into the likeness of a cheap brothel or third rate casino in Atlantic City.

The ballroom project must be stopped now.

The demolition of the East Wing of the White House without approval is appalling. The proposed 90,000 SF ballroom laden with gold decorations is an abomination. And the use of taxpayers' money to do all of this makes me very angry. My preference at this juncture is that the demolition debris is removed and the site left unimproved so as to not waste another cent of tax revenue and avoid turning another public space into trailer trash with tacky gold embellishments. If a structure must be built on the site, it should be delayed until the current administration no longer occupies the space and offices and functional spaces.should be restored.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I was shocked at the level of distruction to this historic building and the lack of respect for the history enshrined inside the building and what was contained within the building.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Subject: Opposition to the East Wing Modernization Project

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed East Wing Modernization project, which reportedly involves an expenditure of approximately $300 million. This initiative appears to have been undertaken without the proper authorization, permits, or design review required for such a significant and historically sensitive undertaking.
This is not a true modernization effort—it is, in essence, the destruction of a vital piece of American history. The existing structure should be restored and rebuilt to its original design rather than replaced or substantially altered.
Moreover, allowing this project to proceed without accountability for those who disregarded established legal and procedural safeguards would undermine the rule of law and erode public trust. No one, regardless of position or institution, is above the law.
I respectfully urge the Commission to halt this project, investigate the procedural violations, and require full compliance with all laws governing design review, preservation, and funding approval.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Swank

Now the East Wing demolished with only a "big ballroom" announced. The East Wing should be rebuilt to it's original specifications stipulating no gold guilding. If a ballroom is something the historical committee agrees with it should be on a smaller scale to accommodate todays needs....which isn't the monstrosity proposed. This isn't one Presidents house...it's the peoples house and changes should be in keeping with tradition and good taste.

To Whom It May Concern:
I vehemently oppose the spending of $300 million on a ballroom project on Whitehouse grounds.
Destruction of the East Wing was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review—in blatant disregard for protocol and historical preservation of what is the people's house.
Building a colossal ballroom only used by diplomats both physically overshadows the existing White House, and financially underemphasizes the existing needs of US citizens, such as education and health care. The money for the proposed gaudy and gargantuan ballroom would be better spent elsewhere.
I want this vanity project canceled.
The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its historical condition. Penalties and fines should be brought against all who circumvented the proper procedure and leveled the East Wing.
Respectfully,

Paula J. McGarvey

Dear National Capital Planning Commission,

I am writing to oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. The East Wing was The People's House and many, if not most were extremely saddened by the destruction of a place so important to our national heritage and presence in the White House location. This was only after the shock of such a savage assault was absorbed as we watched the illegal and egregious actions of this administration's total disregard for its people.

No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Please repair the East Wing and put an end to this.

The destruction of the East Wing is both a metaphor and the tragic reality for how Donald Trump runs afoul of laws here in the US abroad. I worked for a presidential administration, and no other president would've thought he had the right to knock down the walls of a historic building. The building should be rebuilt exactly as it was before its destruction. There does not need to be a ballroom. In less than three years Donald Trump will be a stain on all our memories and no one will want a ballroom reminding us of his diseased mind and that once he once occupied the White House.

Hello,
Thank you for the opportunity to weigh in on the recent worrisome 'changes' to the East Wing of the People's House. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this so-called modernization project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not in fact a modernization project at all, but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is the people's house. It does not belong to the president and is not a royal castle. The rebuilt East Wing should not dominate the building; rather it's size and design should be similar to the destroyed East Wing. Also, as the people's house it should not be decorated with excessive gold leaf or gold items, which are signs of royalty and do not belong.

The fact that President Trump has broken every law and ignored the Constitution in this and many other initiatives does not give him authority to keep doing so, especially for initiatives that cannot be easily reversed when he leaves office or is impeached and convicted.

Congress needs to step up and recapture it's powers under the Constitution!

Sincerely,
Susan Berger

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Please do not allow this destruction to stand. Historical buildings need to go through a process before being altered. In any way let alone completely torn down. This was not done and it is a travesty to our country. There is a beauty in Rich historical buildings that have housed so many beautiful functions. For one man to decide that it needs to be glittery and bigger with his name on it for all posterity is simply not who we are as a country.
Please vote instead to have it rebuilt as it was.

The East Wing of the White House should never have been demolished. The White House belongs to the people of the United States. Presidents are temporary caretakers of the Peoples White House. The East Wing should be rebuilt as closely to the original as possible. I am strongly against a ballroom of any size. The people of the United States are financially strapped, priced out of owning a home, choosing between buying groceries or paying heating bills, and the current administration wants to build a ballroom to entertain their wealthy donors and cronies. There is no need for additional accommodations for social activities at the White House, it is an assemblage of buildings for governance, not partying. The existing White House has served the American People just fine for the last 234 years.

The White House has long been a symbol of the United States. The symmetry added to the power of the image and the colonial style reminded us all of our heritage and the battles it took to be a stand alone country. The east wing should be restored to as it was or a reasonable update that reflects the style of the rest of the White House. Demolition and major renovations to any property owned by American citizens should require a vote of some sort. Besides the loss of history when such things happen, we cannot afford for every single President to decide to destroy or make unrecognizable buildings we own every term.

I am adamantly opposed to the addition of a ballroom to the White House. The White House does not need a ballroom, especially when it's true intent is to fatten the pockets of the current occupant. The White House has functioned well without a structure and the addition of one can only be viewed as something that has nothing to do with the operation of the government - rather personal aggrandizement.

I view the destruction of the East Wing as criminal, capricious and unlawful and fully expect the Trump administration to fund recreation of the structure. Its removal was unlawful and now when one views the structure it is not only a visual disaster but also and graphic reminder of the state of our democracy.

I demand denial of any necessary permits for the ballroom and restoration of the East Wing.

Thank you,

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

Since President Trump destroyed the East Wing of the White House, an historical building, without any input from anyone or any agency, the National Capital Planning Commission should stand fast in having "veto power" over whatever Trump has in mind. In my opinion, a ballroom is not needed as part of the White House but if a ballroom is approved, it certainly does not need to be bigger than the White House itself! Whatever is built should be in the same footprint as the destroyed East Room and match the existing structure. I just can't understand how this destruction was allowed to happen.

The White House was a perfect example of the 'Federal' architectural style, a key factor of which is symmetry of design. Everything in balance, with classical accents. Donald Trump's destruction of the East Wing ruined the White House's symmetry. Destroyed its balance. Marred its inherent beauty. The planned ballroom as a replacement for the East Wing would only exponentially multiply the damage done to the White House's overall design. It would turn the building into an off-kilter joke. Make of it an architectural absurdity. It would ruin the White House for generations to come.

I think the un-reviewed demolition process of the East Wing was an atrocity. The People don't need a giant ballroom for entertaining. Please rebuild and redesign this space with an eye towards functions that serve the everyday needs of majority of Americans, not to satisfy the whims and vanity of elites. I'm not tied to recreating the function/form exactly as was historic -- consider making lemonade from lemons here and constructing an administrative HQ for expanded universal health care, a homeless shelter, expansive child care center, or renew the Dept of Education.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.

The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.

The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.

I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

Hello,

I am a registered voter with the state of North Carolina and a tax payer and contributor to the Federal government and the state of NC. I oppose the spending of $300 million on the East Wing "Modernization" project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. As well as this projects is soliciting funds from billionaires who in return expect government favors from this current administration. This is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. Regarding the East Wing Modernization and ballroom project: I'm writing in opposition of the proposed $300 million project, which moved forward without proper authorization, permits, or a transparent design review process. This is not responsible stewardship—it represents the irreversible loss of historic fabric that belongs to all Americans.

I fully support the National Trust's mission to protect and preserve our nation's historic places for future generations.
This project should be halted, accountability enforced, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its historic design. Allowing such an undertaking to proceed without consequence undermines both preservation law and public trust.

I strongly oppose any approval or funding for this project other than to STOP further demolition and destruction of this historic building. This demolition was done with no regard for the approval process or the long term ramifications of the total destruction of federal property. This property does not belong to the President, a temporary occupant. Significant changes to the integrity of federal property are not at the mercy of the whim of any one person. It should not be undertaken to make way for a structure that would not complement the White House, but instead would debase the property.
The East Wing should be reconstructed.

The fact that Trump destroyed part of the people's house without permission is a travesty. It is a historic building and needs no huge ballroom filled with gold and mirrors and chandeliers, a decor that doesn't fit the building or our American architecture and history. The East Wing should be rebuilt in the style of the original building, but packed full of modern technology and efficient floor plans.
Trump has already spoiled the simple American style of the Oval Office with his Versailles-esque "decors". Please don't let him destroy another American icon.

As a symbol of the nation, the White House should be dignified, elegant, and beautiful. The proposed ballroom is much too big, its pillars rhythmically boring, and I can't imagine how food for that many people can be catered well. While I am persuaded that hosting dignitaries in tents is undesirable, this ballroom must be re-designed to be smaller. The White House itself must be the focus of the building and vistas of it must not be blocked by the new East Wing.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

The Commission votes March 5th. The East Wing is already demolished. But the record of public opposition matters. Make your voice heard.

What has been done, the destruction of the East Wing, is outrageous: it is architecturally inappropriate and deeply disrespectful. Virtually a casino is planned. What's next? - The East Wing, used by First Ladies and family, was gracious, with her offices and living room, and elegant walkway. It was emblematic of our White House being a lovely and livable home for our elected American leader. It's been destroyed, a desecration that needs to corrected. This president moves on unapproved projects at lightening speed. Please decide this matter in haste, and stop the wreckage, and restore the classic East Wing.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project. As mentioned above, this project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. Project approval needs to be denied and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.

I oppose this project, which was initiated without the proper procedure or consideration. It is not a modernization project but rather a destruction of American history at the hands of an administration which prioritizes Mr. Trump's self-promotion over the American people. I want this project canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.

Mr. Trump has reportedly "told people working on the ballroom that they did not need to follow permitting, zoning or code requirements because the structure is on White House grounds." By funding the project through donors rather than taxpayers, Mr. Trump is cutting legislators out of the process. I do not believe he can be trusted to complete this project properly. (Source: The New York Times: Inside Trump's Push to Make the White House Ballroom as Big as Possible, 11/30/25)

There are ways to renovate the White House properly and conscientiously, but Mr. Trump does not seem concerned about that. President Harry S. Truman appointed a bipartisan six-person commission to oversee renovations in the 1940s. He consulted the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Commission of Fine Arts. However, "Mr. Trump has not taken the project to Congress for funding or debate, instead saying he and private donors would provide the money. No bipartisan commission is overseeing the construction. Money for the project is going into a fund that is not subject to transparency laws." (Source: The New York Times: Before Renovating White House, Truman Got Buy-In From Congress and Experts, 10/23/25)

Given the reckless manner in which this project has been executed thus far, I'm also concerned about potential health hazards for anyone directly - or indirectly - exposed to the demolition/construction. My father died from mesothelioma and I understand that dangers such as asbestos exposure must be taken very seriously. I do not trust the leaders of this project to handle those concerns with transparency and proper safety procedures.

I was very sad to see the demolition of the East Wing of our White House, especially after learning that proper authorization was not attained prior to the tearing away of the property. As much as I appreciate progressive and forward moving ideas, this "modernization project" seems to be anything but that. I request this project to be cancelled, the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, and the ones responsible for this action to be held accountable. Thank you for your consideration.

I'm very concerned about this project altering the historical provenance of the White House. I'm also concerned about money donated from private sources. If we, the people, are going to renovate the White House, the project funds should come from the taxpayers. However, I'm not interested, as a taxpayer in seeing any money used to renovate when renovations are not only unnecessary, but will not enhance the historic value or beauty of the existing building. The White House belongs to the people. This renovation should not be at the whimsy of one person. Thank you.

I oppose everything about this project. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project when that money could be put to much better uses. I oppose it based upon the fact that it was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. I oppose the fact that this project treats the People's House as the property of a single President when it is, in fact, the property of the entire country, and contains a long and storied history which should NOT under any circumstances be razed without proper review. I oppose that this project was begun with an attitude of "act first and ask forgiveness later" and displays a complete disregard for not only the history contained in the White House but also for all legal and prcedural rules and regulations. I oppose this project based upon the fact that it is wholly and completely unneccessary and is in fact one President's vanity project; let him do as he will with his OWN properties, but not with the property of the United States of America.

I want this project canceled immediately, and the East Wing of OUR White House rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding citizens of the United States of America.

I just cringe every time I think of the huge gaudy golden ballroom sitting next to the White House. The White House has class, it should be considered a National Historic site and this should not be allowed.

In addition, the country can't afford to spend $300 million on this. It is sold to us that billionaires will pay for it. They are not doing it out of the goodness of their hearts and I'm pretty sure they expect something in return. Bribery and Quid pro Quo are terms I'd use to describe the financing. I'm also concerned that there will be cost overruns, and the American people will be on the hook for it.

I don't believe it is legal for many reasons so please stop it. The Constitution puts spending in the responsibility of Congress. At a minimum they should have to approve this project,

Supposedly the White House belongs to me as a citizen of the United States, but nobody asked for my input before an entire wing of the building was demolished. I think it should be built back EXACTLY the way it was before. Nobody needs or wants a ballroom except Donald Trump and his ultra rich cronies, so they can slap each other on the back and sip champagne while the American people starve and freeze to death. A 90,000 square foot ballroom when there are people struggling to feed their families and pay their utility bills? A 90,000 square foot ballroom when the federal government is disappearing people from the streets and caging them like animals in concentration camp style warehouses? Donald J. Trump and the rest of the oligarchs should be ashamed for even thinking about it.

Somehow, we've managed to survive 250 years without a "grand ballroom" to rival the Palace at Versailles and if this country survives another 250 years, we'd still be fine without this affront to democracy. Meanwhile, US citizens are homeless, starving, sick and without access to affordable healthcare. If someone wants to invest millions of dollars to impress the leaders of other countries, it should be used to show the world that the United States cares about its own people. I am writing to oppose the so-called "modernization" of the East Wing of the White House. The White House is a building that reflects the honorable and the shameful in American history; it is a symbol of our collective project. It is not a monument to one man's ego. Rather, it must remain the balanced and harmonious monument that it once was. The damage wrought upon the East Wing must be repaired at the expense of the barbarian who ordered its illegal demolishing. The proposed project is out of proportion with the rest of the White House and an eyesore in its false-classical style. This proposal must be blocked at all costs and the damage done to the Peoples' House remediated.

This action, taken WITHOUT the proper authorization, permits, or design review is not a repair, upgrade or modernization project, but rather a complete razing of American history. All to satisfy an ego. This is reprehensible and a dereliction of the duty of the president to perverse our history. The design of this proposed "modernization" is appalling. The White House East Wing was demolished with no prior review. The proposed design is totally out of scale with the White House and grounds. Its architectural design mimics that of the White House but at a far larger and grander scale which is inappropriate for an addition to this National Park site. It violates the New Construction Standard of the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for New Construction by its outsized scale and by making no differentiation from the design of the White House itself. Its grand portico becomes more prominent than the facade of the White House itself. It reduces the open space around the White House significantly. If it were warranted to build such a monumental and mammoth structure, it should be built underground so as to maintain the primacy of the White House which often is called the People's House.

The East Wing was bulldozed before the appropriate historic preservation approval was granted; if I was to do such a thing in my neighborhood, the zoning commission would stop my building immediately. The present administration is only in the building for a few years, but we now have a horrible problem because the current president doesn't feel he needs to follow the laws, like other citizens. Having visited the East Wing and toured the White House, it is appalling to me that this wing of this historic building has been destroyed. National Capitol Planning Commission,

I appreciate this opportunity to state my opinion regarding the destruction of our White House. This supposed "modernization" and ballroom was the vision of 47. It is apparent that he thinks the White House is his house to do with as he sees fit. I am against the modernization and ballroom for our beautiful historic White House.

Thank you for taking action for all the American people who have a vested interest in the White House.

Sincerely,
Betti Mentzer

In my opinion, the East Wing Modernization project is a total affront to the American people. With no oversight-or accountability, a historic wing of the”people’s house” was razed.
The plans to construct a massive ballroom funded by wealthy tech industry magnates with business dealings that may require White House approval is offensive on many levels. If constructed, this new wing’s massive size would unbalance the lovely symmetry of the White House forever.
Americans do not need massive ballrooms or gilded palaces. I urge you to consider our rich history of protecting historic buildings and the architectural appropriateness of the project in your deliberations.

Sincerely,
Jean Tepas

First, it was absolutely criminal that the Trump administration desecrated the East Wing of The White House.

I think the East Wing should be restored immediately to return the “ look” and balance of The WH.

Next, an INDEPENDENT study should be conducted, by a nonpartisan commission, totally apart from the Trump administration, with input from all historic and national entities whose job it is to do exactly this. I would hope they would also allow for public input and comment.

I’m certain the commission can figure out the details if such a huge under taking BUT I think it is VITAL that NO TRUMP FAMILY MEMBER, COMPANY, OR PERSONAL FRIEND can be associated with the study, sit on the commission OR be given the final decision-making authority. Trump CANNOT profit from this work/project AND PLEASE, PLEASE. PLEASE Trump CANNOT NAME THE BUILDING OR RENOVATION AFTER HIMSELF!

I strongly object to the razing of the East Wing of our White House by the current tenant. I also strongly object to any plans to build a ballroom attached to, or adjacent to our White House. These actions were initiated unilaterally without any study, comment, or authorization by the American people, who own the building in question. The White House does not belong to the illegitimate tenant and he has no right to take any action on it beyond decorating for regular holidays, etc.

Please make him stop, make him put our White House back exactly as it was before he started tearing it down and make sure NO ONE every does this kind of treason to our White House again!

Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this. And we can help.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Anara Guard's comment on this is beautiful. She gave me permission to post it here, if anyone wants to use her language.

I am beyond appalled that it has taken this long for someone to stand up and say enough. This man, Trump, has raised his middle finger to the Congress, the courts, and the American people so many times and in so many ways and yet the powers that be seem to turn their heads with a ho hum, just another day in Trump land! attitude! The White House is not his personal property. He has done so many things against the law that he could have, and should have, been impeached six times over. Needless to say, I am unequivocally opposed to the continuation and destruction of the East Wing. It needs to stop immediately and begin the reconstruction to restore it to its original condition. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this project. I believe the east wing modernization project should move forward to replace the structure that was removed in a moment of rage.

The resulting East Wing modernization above ground structure should be no larger than the footprint of the recent East Wing. The roof line should be no higher than the current White House. The purpose and public spaces should remain the same as it was previously.

The underground structure should provide the necessary security facilities.

An alternative to an east wing building would be a ground level garden, that demonstrates the native plant and tree species in the eastern US and that provides an outdoor space that could accommodate temporary tents or structures for large events periodically held at the White House. Our nation currently is carrying one of the largest debts and to build a glory ball room is outside of demonstrating our country's fiscal responsibility to the American people.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history, for the ego of one man.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States. This is the house of the People of the United States and NO individual has the right to destruct or significantly change our house without Congressional approval. Stop this chaos.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The White House is the people's house. It belongs to the American people, and our representatives have enacted laws governing how restoration and modernization projects are to be approved. No president should be able to make this decision single-handedly.

As an American citizen all my life, I strenuously object to the destruction of the East Wing of the White House by Donald Trump. He did not seek approvals or permits, nor did he seek the comments of the people of the United States of America. His grandiose, ridiculous, grotesque plan to build a gigantic ballroom in the style of middle Eastern sheiks destroys the footprint of the White House and its adjacent buildings. His plans to decorate it in gold everywhere is not consistent with the rest of the decor of the White House and the understated elegance of the rest of the building's decor (other than that of the Oval Office, which he has now cheapened with whorehouse gold ornaments everywhere). I believe the East Wing should be rebuilt in the same footprint as it previously occupied, with the same decor, with perhaps an update to the space allotments. He needs to keep his hands off the whole thing, as his taste is mostly in his ass.

To whom it may concern,

I reject the current modernization plan for the East Wing Ballroom. I was appalled to witness the destruction of our most prestigious, historic White House and then the next day the destruction got worse. Obviously plans were submitted incorrectly. The correct committees were not reached out to, which seems to have been the intention. I don’t believe that this new plan fits with the historic look of the White House. I understand the need for a high tech bunker underneath and that’s OK. The Russian style, palace, oversized ballroom does not fit. Please let the appropriate committees work on a new design and not the president. It is his temporary home and meeting center.

our white house is not one man’s house- it is our nation’s house, filled with history, symbolic of the struggles our nation has suffered and triumphed over.
for so many reasons the money earmarked (not appropriately) needs to be redirected to rebuilding the east wing in it’s original size and appearance. please do not allow the ballroom! it’s a mockery of our democracy- a place for vulgar displays of wealth. nothing that honors our history would allow it.
please vote no on this project.
he’s pocketed enough money to build his own ballroom out of washington dc

I oppose this project, the way it was unconstitutionally and rapaciously commenced without authority or consent. The destroying of any portion of the People's House is illegal without consent and collaboration with duly elected and appointed historical guardians of our country's property. I want all and any person causing, complying, coercing or acting in any way connected to this charged and prosecuted.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the proper review processes followed. If they are denied, payment to rebuild and restore the East Wing should be made by the president and any other parties personally guilty of pushing this forward. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding citizens of the United States. Please restore our faith in our government to follow its own laws.

The $3 million dollar ballroom is a terrible replacement for the original East Wing of the White House. The design as described by President Trump is too large and not in keeping with the rest of the structures design. IF the structure truly needs modernizing, it should be reconstructed to be visually balanced as the White House and the West Wing, in the same architectural style. This monstrosity MUST not be erected!

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Thank you for considering my input on this very important issue.
Donald Trump has taken it upon himself to destroy 2 areas of the White House without first getting congressional approval, both the historic Rose Garden and then the historic East Wing of "the people's house". No approval was requested, and the project was in fact not approved. He stated there would be no damage to the White House, then went ahead with his unapproved plan and in the process he completely demolished the entire wing in a place where he resides as a temporary resident.
I find this outcome an abuse of power, and abuse of resources, and there is no reason the the White House should have a ballroom that strives to rival authoritarian regimes from around the world.
I've said enough, everyone knows this was wrong and done without the approval of the people he's supposed to serve.
Sincerely,
Bridget Wilder

There is a concerted effort to destroy history and remake it in the image of the would be king. The destruction of the East Wing in order to build yet another mirror for his vanity suggests to me that he has no intention of giving up the palace. No matter where the money for this travesty is coming from, it is ultimately being paid by citizens, who are being robbed by billionaire broligarchs. While I do not ever expect him or his ilk to truly be held accountable for the damage he's caused, there should at least be ways to stop him from creating further damage, and to repair the damage he has already caused.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.

I don't understand how a project of this scope with regard to an historic national structure could have been started without any kind of approval by anyone other than the president. Now that the historic East Wing has been demolished, it is important that the plans be submitted to the National Capital Planning Commission for review to make sure we don't end up with a hideously large, embarrassing appendage to the White House.
The assessment should also ensure that those who are promising to fund the project truly are committed and sign binding contracts for providing the funding, versus a verbal pledge.

- It was done without proper authorization.

- The design was not reviewed or approved by the appropriate committees.
- It is not a modernization project.
I urge you to not only cancel this project but to restore the White House East Wing to how it was.

One man should not be allowed to decide to demolish a significant iconic and historical landmark!

Now that it has been destroyed, anything that is built in its place must be in scale with the rest of the White House complex and not overpower it.

And this is the People's House. Trump is a mere tenant. Therefore, the gold embellishments do not belong on the new building, nor does ANY president's name.

I find this president's need to make everything over in his taste disgusting. Keep it simple and at the appropriate scale, with the actual White House image continuing to be the important statement of our democratic republic values.

What a brazen thing Trump did by going forward w/demolition of the East wing of MY house! No approvals, permits, just tear it down. That is not HIS house-it is “We the people’s” house and I for one want it restored to its former glory. I cried when I saw the bulldozers tearing down the walls of My house. Why do we need such a huge room? It would so big that if a dinner was hosted, no one could hear what other parts of the table are saying. It would be useless. What a waste.
Our country has always been about preserving the past. I still envision Jackie Kennedy walking down the hallway of the East wing. I grew up in New Jersey & gleaned my love of history from my surroundings. I live in Las Vegas, NV. They don't preserve anything. It gets imploded. We had a beautiful railroad terminal. Art deco style. It sat on really precious real estate. At the top of Fremont St. They tore that beautiful building down & built Main Street Station. Another casino.
Please, please stop this project from going forward and rebuild the East wing of MY house. Thank you.
Regards,
Thomasine Duncan

Razing buildings normally requires review and approval, at least anywhere that I have lived. For a historic structure, that process is even more rigorous. Please deny this particular project on the grounds it was begun without correct permissions and must be returned to its prior use: a theater, intact and modernized.

Dear Sir or Madam,
I am adamantly opposed to the spending of an excess of $300 million on a project which completely razed American history. This project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits or design review of any kind. It is not a modernization of the East Wing but rather a monument to a giant ego. The White House belongs to the American people, not to its current occupant.
I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.
No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding citizens.
Thanking you in advance for your attention to this matter, I remain, yours sincerely, Danna Santos

It is very disappointing and frustrating that Trump had the east wing destroyed without any permission or concurrence from anyone. This was blatantly illegal. And now the private money that was supposedly going to pay for it is apparently not there. This project needs to be stopped and the east wing restored to its original character. Trump needs to pay for this out of his own pocket since he destroyed it and taxpayers should not have to pay to rebuild it.

I am speaking today against the Eaat Wing modernization project. By tearing down this once beautiful space, you are creating dead space. This space would be used as a vanity project and the space would be empty 90% of the time so it would be wasted. This vanity project is merely to stroke the ego of an wannabe dictator and has no practical use at all. It will be a tacky addition to the People's House and the people don't want it. We also don't want his name on anything because he is merely a criminal with 34 convictions soon to have additional charges once we get a halfway effective head of the DOJ established. It is NOT his house it is ours. It is a legacy we hand down to all future Americans as long as he doesn't continue to destroy The United States of America. Say No.

East Wing I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

I think the ballroom plans are ridiculous. The East Wing has always been the portion of the White House that is available to citizens, as a building that is owned by citizens I feel it needs to stay something that serves the public and this ballroom does not do that at all.

In addition to my general dismay at turning a public area of a publicly owned building into a private section, I also just think the plans look incredibly garish and dated. If you must move forward with a project like this, at least get someone who specializes in historic architecture to put something together.

I am one of the Americans who was stricken with horror when the historic East Wing was torn down in a reckless and barbaric fashion by those who have no regard for history. The "plans" which have been presented to the public are beyond gaudy - bordering repulsive - and have no regard whatsoever for the People's House and its understated, classic appearance.

Those who rapaciously destroyed part of our history should be forced to restore it EXACTLY AS IT WAS from their own pockets. Though I know that will never happen, I wish to go on the record that I am vehemently opposed to the tacky, ostentatious "ballroom" proposed to replace the East Wing. Historic Preservation and the East Wing Modernization Project

The demolition of the east wing of the United States Capitol represents a serious failure of historic stewardship and public accountability. This action was undertaken without appropriate authorization, without required permitting, and without meaningful review or recognition of the historic value of the structure. Such actions directly undermine the legal and ethical frameworks intended to protect nationally significant historic resources.

The Capitol is not merely a functional government building; it is a material record of the nation's political, architectural, and civic history. The destruction of a historically significant portion of this structure constitutes an irreversible loss to the public and to future generations.

Equally concerning is the broader East Wing Modernization Project, including the proposed construction of a 90,000-square-foot ballroom addition to the White House complex. This proposal is wholly inappropriate in scale, function, and character. It does not respect the architectural integrity of the original White House, nor does it harmonize with the surrounding historic context.

The White House complex is defined by restraint, proportion, and symbolism. Introducing a massive new ballroom addition would fundamentally disrupt this balance, overwhelm the existing architecture, and erode the historic landscape. Such an intervention prioritizes spectacle over preservation and establishes a dangerous precedent for future alterations to nationally significant sites.

Historic buildings of this importance are not interchangeable development sites. Their value lies in authenticity, continuity, and adherence to long-standing preservation standards. Modernization cannot be used to justify unchecked expansion or the loss of historically meaningful fabric.

As a member of the public concerned with historic preservation, I believe approval of this proposal would undermine the standards this body is charged with upholding.

The demolition already undertaken and the proposed construction now under consideration reflect a troubling disregard for established preservation laws, review processes, and public accountability. This body should reject the East Wing Modernization Project in its current form and require full compliance with all applicable historic preservation and permitting requirements.

I urge this body to deny approval of the proposed 90,000-square-foot ballroom addition. The project is fundamentally incompatible with the historic character, scale, and setting of the White House complex and would result in an unnecessary and irreversible alteration to a nationally significant landmark. Approval would set a damaging precedent for future interventions at historic civic sites. This proposal should be rejected in full.

The East Wing should be rebuilt as a renovation, not destroyed. No ostentatious ballroom should take its place. We are not an ostentatious people.

Further, the President should pay for the East Wing restoration out of his own pocket, not out of the taxpayers. He is a tenant in the White House, not its owner.

The demolition of the White House East Wing is a profound loss of American history, replacing a space of quiet, functional, and historic significance with an impractical, indulgent ballroom. It erases decades of, for example, First Lady initiatives and public tours. This act signifies a disregard for the delicate, integrated stewardship required for one of the nation's most crucial, symbolic, and protected landmarks.
Why the Destruction is Misguided
Irreplaceable History: The East Wing, while not part of the original 1800 structure, served as the functional heart of modern White House activity, from Eleanor Roosevelt’s offices to the founding of the White House Historical Association.
Symbolic Disruption: Replacing this center of "functional modesty" with a luxurious, large-scale entertainment venue converts a place of democratic service into a space of elite spectacle, disrupting the intended, harmonious design of the entire White House complex.
Erosion of Trust: Proceeding without full transparency or public engagement undermines the established, protective processes for American civic architecture.

Why a Ballroom is Impractical and Improper
Tone-Deaf Luxury: Constructing a massive ballroom during times of national, economic uncertainty (such as federal shutdowns) is viewed as profoundly insensitive, according to The Washington Informer.
Functional Misalignment: The White House is primarily a working office, home, and national museum—not a convention center, says The New Yorker.
Ignoring Proper Stewardship: The demolition disregarded established guidelines for preserving historic structures, prioritizing personal,, aesthetic, or event-driven changes over the preservation of the building's, as a whole, integrity, note The Architect's Newspaper and The American Institute of Architects: AIA.
This act is not merely an alteration; it is a dismantling of the "People's House" to suit temporary, personal whim rather than the enduring, public, and historic mission of the site, argue The New Yorker and The Washington Informer.

Maintaining historical sites, including buildings are an important part of the American heritage. It grounds our nation to a common and trusted culture. While each administration makes minor adjustments to upgrade and preserve the Whitehouse, I fear the complete destruction of the East Wing, including the gardens, is a fundamental loss. As an American citizen, I support restoring the East-wing to its historical structure with upgrades for code standards and building preservation. As an American citizen, I oppose building a grand ballroom as it is not reflective of our American historical story.

I very strongly oppose the spending of $300 million on this project. It did not seek the proper authorization, permits, or design review. To call it a modernization is misleading. It erases an important building that is part of American history. This project must be cancelled. Then the East Wing should be rebuilt as it existed before it was destroyed.

No one is above the law. This project cannot proceed because laws have not been followed. If this project is not stopped, who knows what other historic buildings will be destroyed. I urge you to take a stand. Enough is enough. No president has the right to act without property authority.

This destruction of the historic East Wing structure to build a tacky, unnecessary ballroom for President Trump, is an egregious flouting of all rules and regulations protecting historic buildings, most especially the peoples' iconic White House.

No reviews of this horrific destruction were offered for public comment. No permissions were sought from various historic preservation agencies AS REQUIRED BY FEDERAL LAW that pertains to historic places in the National Capitol Region.

The current administration, in particular President Trump, should be blocked from further destruction of this structure. Mr. Trump should be required to restore the East Wing structure at his own expense, using funds from the billions of dollars he has pocketed.

Enough is enough.

I oppose the spending of $300 million of taxpayer money on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. As a professional archaeologist and professor in the field, I understand well the regulatory framework under which these kinds of projects can and cannot be undertaken. This "project" was done without proper permissions or permits, or the will of the American people. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history and rebranding in the name of our current president. I am utterly opposed to this project in any way, shape, or form, regardless of its cost. It was stealthily started without any of the usual proper authorization, permitting, or design review. There is nothing "modernizing" about it; it is a tasteless uglification proposed by a delusional man who thinks an oversized ballroom would somehow suit HIM better. The public be damned.

The White House is not a private residence; it is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park owned by the American people and the temporary residence of our sitting presidents since 1800. For over 200 years, presidential changes and updates to the White House have been limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States, its rightful owners.

To demolish the East Wing without Congressional oversight, without authorization from (or even consultation with) the National Capital Planning Commission, without permits, without design review, without public input, is obviously a violation of -and intentional thumbing his nose at- the law! It is a deliberate insult to the American people, the White House's true owners.

I realize the difficulty of reining in the current president's illegal actions, the scale of which this nation has never seen, but I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to REQUIRE rebuilding the East Wing as it was, at the personal expense of the current president. I have just amazed myself by writing this request without using the profanity waiting to burst forth. Thank you for reading this; I know that I speak for many, many appalled Americans.

There should be something in place so this doesn't happen again, very disappointing for future generations, and why a ballroom?

Thank you,

The White House is an historic building, with great beauty and balance. Building an unnecessary ballroom as a vanity project, and having its proportions dwarf the existing structure, is an act that goes against the value of the building. The loss of the East Wing is vandalism. Its symbolism as the First Lady's offices and the social entrance to the White House needs to be restored.

I am an architectural historian with expertise in 19C American architecture. The destruction of the East Wing is the most despicable architectural action taken by any president. The White House belongs to the citizens of the US. It is not the palace of a king. The East Wing was the office of First Ladies, and thus an important part of the nation's heritage. We do not need a ballroom - White House events can be held in numerous other venues in Washington DC. The addition is too big for the site. It makes the White House looks small. The design is banal and tepid. The arrogance of this whole project is mind boggling.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I strongly oppose this project. I believe the entire process was circumvented to abuse the rules in place. The total destruction of the East Wing was unconscionable, as were the other major changes made over the past year. This isn't an improvement, it is destruction, not only of property, but also of history.
Since the planners didn't bother to go through proper channels for approval, the project should be completely shut down and the East Wing should be restored at the expense of those that initially destroyed it.
This is the people's house, we do not want a new ballroom.

As the President of a chartered NYS Educational non-profit designated to operate a National Register Site Museum, I know well that all construction on Historic Sites must conform to very specitifc design standards. No work should be done by any firm other than qualified historic preservation architects. The plans for any work on the White House must be reviewed for conformity to establishe guidelines issued by the National Park Sevice and the Department of the Interior. The proposed plans for a 90.000 square foot addition to the White House in place of the illegally destroyed East Wing do not conform to Federal guidelines. The new structure in no way adheres to the 19th century character of the People's House, the White House. It will overshadow the central building completely. The style and proposed interior design have no basis in the history of the United States. They are a reflection of the tastes of one person, not the heritage of our country. Please prevent this constr! uction.

I visited the White House in 2024 and I found the East wing to be fascinating - all the different pictures, rooms, china, the history. All of it. It was part of a symmetrical people's house and should never have been destroyed and it definitely wasn't going through the rules for updating a house that does not belong to you. The ballroom is a joke. We did not need a ballroom. We do not need private billionaires to pay for something that should belong to the country.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States. While it is certainly true that past Presidents have left their mark on the White House and associated public properties, it must be done through proper, legal processes.

While the White House is exempt from Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act, it is still subject to regulations regarding extensive changes. The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits, and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I oppose this project as proposed, both because of the illegal nature of its initiation, and the questionable nature of the scale, scope, and funding for the project. Elevation drawings presented at the meeting are deliberately presented to diminish the size and visual impact of this structure, which will ultimately dwarf the Executive Mansion from all viewpoints. This is not a dignified gathering space for world leaders, but a convention center mimicking the palatial residences of monarchs, rather than a needful addition to the People's House.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in visual scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion, as appropriate to the preservation of historic properties.

The solicitation of private funds to to support the effort must be done with full transparency, and without implied favors or special treatment for investors. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without respect for that law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans and the rule of law in this country.

The White House is the peoples house. I first visited the White House in third grade on a bus trip with the Girl Scouts from my hometown in New Jersey. Julie Nixon Eisenhower tortoise through the rose garden, and we all whispered that President Nixon was actually in the oval office when we were there.

The desecration of this part of the White House was devastating for myself and everyone else who holds its historic value close to our hearts.

I strongly recommend that a great deal of thought, go into restoring some of the historic perspective, and in addition, describing the desecration and the rebuilding. Never shall we let an authoritarian leader destroy our history again.

It is a disgrace that Donnie for his own vanity destroyed and damaged the People's House becaused he wants to play Louie the XIV and have a ballroom like his tacky Mar A Lago. This is purely a vanity project, that will potentially be built with bribes from companies afraid of or courting favor from Trump. It is also too big, not appropriately sized and unnecessary
It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history and an improper attempt by Trump for another vanity project. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. I am devastated that the demolition of the East wing ever occurred! This is the "people's house" and should be treated with decorum. In my mind, the east wing should be reconstructed to its original glory - in keeping with the design of the rest of the building. Modernization and updates in technology, electrical, and perhaps structural may be in order BUT please do so with respect to the beauty and design of the original landmark. As Americans we too often tear down our historic landmarks and replace them with modern boxes. In all other countries, they respect their historic buildings and work to keep them in tip top shape, to preserve the history of the site.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project, and demand as a citizen of these United States to STOP this desecration of our shared national monument.

There is a reason that we have rules. And not following rules is already creating an atmosphere of corruption.
All construction should stop immediately.

This endeavor was turned into a vanity project by a newly elected President. He wants his "brand name" on every building in Washington, DC (if he can get away with it) and to use that as a way to shake down wealthy Americans who owe him allegiance of some sort. Only corruption will follow such a path.

Today I read in the news that trump is "trademarking his name" so he can reap future profits from his own re-branding of building names, airports, bridges, roadways, highways, etc. Will he reap future profits off the name of this new ballroom? This precedence should not be met or accommodated.

trump should be forced to rebuild what he tore down with the money he has raised from his billionaire donors. Every law, permit violation, and/or code violation he broke, should bring a large fine to his personnel doorstep, to be paid in full immediately. His normal rate for suing someone is usually around 10 billion dollars. Start there. He can easily afford that.

Thanks for your help in this matter.

I am a registered architect in the State of California. I strongly oppose the east wing project. The East Wing of the White House, a vital part of our American history, was torn down without the People's permission and the required federal reviews. It was an unbelievable act of arrogance by the current President who acted with impunity, disregarding all laws and review processes under our Historic Preservation and Planning agencies. This is not his White House, it is the people's White House, the country's White House. The proposed ballroom is completely out of scale with the White House and should not be built. Never in the history of our country has anyone destroyed US federal property and a historic building without permission, unless you count acts of war, terrorism or insurrection. It was an aggressive violent act waged on a historical monument as proof of this person's power. Do not proceed with the ballroom addition. Leave the White House as a damaged monument, as a symbol of the current government.

The East Wing should be rebuilt in its former style. That means it should be in a style and proportion similar to what was torn down. Certainly it should be modernized to reflect ADA laws and current technology, but the decisions should be made by a committee of the National Capital Planning Commission and not the President of the US.

The White House is a historic building. Yes, it's been "renovated" under different administrations, but to what degree have these "renovations" been and did they not first seek authorization and oversight from Congress or The White House Historical Association or the National Park Service? Was there not a review of the design before demolition? In this present case, there has been no authorization and no oversight.

Last summer the President said he was going to renovate the East Wing. He did not say he would have it torn down. There's a big difference in what he said and what has happened. Again, no authorization and no oversight. Was the National Park Service consulted? The White House Historical Association consulted? No. When I sent a concerned email to Senator Grassley, my Iowa senator, his reply was about past presidents who constructed a Rose Garden, built an outdoor swimming pool or an indoor bowling alley, resurfaced the tennis court, etc. I didn't see demolition in any of these remarks nor lack of approval or oversight.

Which makes me wonder, can any president going forth demolish the White House itself and add a luxury condo on the spot? My response would be if you don't like living in a historic building with all of its charm and small living spaces, then don't run for the presidency, because this is "The People's House", and it belongs to the citizens of the United States.

So, where's the oversight? If there is none, then "Houston, we have a problem."

I say no to the spending of $300 million on a ballroom that was initiated without the proper authorization, permits or design review. This destroys American history. How about spending that money on helping Americans instead? I loved the way the East Wing looked before. I want the project canceled and the East Wing rebuild according to its former design. I oppose the spending so much money on a HUGE ballroom, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not modernization but rather a complete razing of American history. I want the project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. Remember that no one is above the law and to permit this project to continue without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House is not the President's personal residence to alter at will; it is the People's House. Every president is a temporary steward of this building, entrusted with its care for future generations. That stewardship comes with an obligation to respect both the history of the structure and the democratic principles it represents.

The United States was deliberately built on a system of checks and balances to prevent the concentration of power in any single individual. That is why we have three branches of government, and it is also why changes to the White House are subject to review by bodies such as the National Capital Planning Commission (NCPC), the Commission of Fine Arts (CFA), and the National Park Service (NPS). These processes exist to ensure transparency, accountability, and public oversight — not as obstacles, but as safeguards for a shared national asset. Disregarding them undermines the very democratic principles the White House is meant to symbolize.

The funding model for the proposed ballroom raises serious ethical concerns. Money at this scale is never free. Millionaires and billionaires who "donate" vast sums to a project of this nature reasonably expect influence, access, or favorable treatment in return. Accepting such donations for alterations to the White House creates the appearance — if not the reality — that the executive branch is for sale. This perception erodes public trust and is fundamentally incompatible with ethical governance.

The White House is one of the most recognizable landmarks in the world and a powerful symbol of American democracy and history. Preserving historic structures follows well-established principles: demolition should occur only when no viable alternatives exist, and additions should never overwhelm, diminish, or visually dominate the original building. The proposed ballroom, by its scale and design, violates these principles.

In my view, this project reads as a vanity endeavor rather than a public necessity. We already know the dangers of leaders who seek to immortalize themselves through monuments, oversized structures, and the renaming of public institutions. A ballroom of this magnitude is unnecessary, visually grotesque, and out of character with the White House's historic integrity.

To be clear, I am not opposed to the idea of a ballroom in general. I am opposed to the scale of the one proposed, the disregard for established review processes, and the ethically troubling manner in which it is being funded. The White House should reflect restraint, democratic values, and respect for history — not ego, excess, or transactional influence.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the $300\u8239 million allocation for the proposed demolition of the White House's East Wing—a project that began without proper authorization, permits, or design review. This initiative is not a modernization effort; it amounts to the wholesale destruction of a piece of American heritage.

The White House is both a National Historic Landmark and part of the National Park System, owned by the American people. The president is a temporary occupant whose actions are bound by law and respect for public trust, not an owner with unchecked power.

Demolishing the East Wing without oversight violates legal requirements and betrays the public's right to participate in decisions that shape our national monuments. I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to mandate a reconstruction that faithfully preserves the historic design and scale of the East Wing, ensuring any new construction on the site remains compatible and subordinate to the original structure.

Thank you for your time and attention to this important matter.

The East Wing Modernization Project should follow all existing laws and regulations, federal and local. If laws have been broken, those who broke them should be held accountable for their actions, as prescribed by the law.

The White House, an historic structure, belongs to the people of the United States. It should be treated respectfully. Any changes should be appropriate to the era and design of the existing structure. Of course, changes should meet current building codes and other safety requirements and be ADA compliant.

I would like to see the East Wing restored to its original external design. The stated need for an enormous on-site ballroom seems specious and ego driven. Before such an addition is built, or any structure is built, a needs assessment and a cost benefit analysis should be completed. It should not be a random decision by one person (even if that one person is the President of the United States). All prescribed processes should be followed.

When the East Wing of the White House, the People's House, was torn down, I watched the images on TV in horror! How could this be happening? How can you do this without permission? I now understand that the proper approval process was ignored and the East Wing was torn down illegally. It still makes me angry.

I don't see the need for the ballroom space. Architects have indicated that the size and design of the addition will eclipse the existing White House. Plans show staircases that go nowhere! The gold designs added to the remaining White House look tacky. A gaudy ballroom is not something I want as an American. And it has all been approached and work done illegally without proper approvals. I would like to see the East Wing rebuilt, exactly how it was, and I would also like to see the Rose Garden and tribute trees returned to their original form too. Please stop the utter destruction happening to America's historic landmark of the White House! Force those responsible to return the White House and its surrounding outdoor landscapes returned to their prior beauty as well.

He had no right to tear down the East Wing.

I am against this project as it stands. It was illegally begun without permits and without following lawful review including public input. It is not modernization but destruction of our history.

The President is a tenant NOT the owner of the White House and must get legally required permission to make such sweeping and permanent changes.

I believe the East Wing should be rebuilt to its original exterior specifications (or possibly expanded by a reasonable 20% in size) with a reasonably modernized and updated interior. But the construction must follow the lawful guidelines and processes to not overshadow the original White House.

No one is above the law in the United States and those who destroyed the East Wing and sought to ignore the lawful process should face strong penalties.

Please deny approval of the current project.

Require those who broke the law to pay restitution to rebuild what they destroyed. Not taxpayers!

Demand full financial disclosure for all aspects and phases of the project.

Follow all protocols from the National Trust and the National Capitol Planning Commission in designing and rebuilding the East Wing of the People's White House.

Thank you!

The demolition of the historic East Wing without following the proper procedures, review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, even if from donated funds, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.
The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion. Any construction that overshadows the Executive Mansion is an abomination of this great landmark and should not be allowed.

As an American historian, I'm shocked by the abrupt decision (apparently without permits or planning permissions) to demolish the East Wing of the White House and replace it with something that stands to overshadow the residence itself. The built environment of the government is both functional and symbolic and thus careful planning is necessary in order to maintain or improve its function and the symbolism attached to it. While the White House has not been a static object over the years, no recent administration has attempted something so major without a significant consultative process beforehand. The decision making should be collaborative, the designs should be consonant not with the aesthetic tastes of one leader, but with the overall style of the building (and/or reflecting national architectural styles). If the White House is expected to continue serving as the People's House, any renovation must reflect ongoing needs and not the imperatives of the current occupant.

I am still outraged at the destruction of the White House's East Wing - the historical residence of the President of the United State of America elected by the citizens every 4 years as defined by our Constitution. We, The People 'rent' the White House to the current President and family and have allowed certain modifications for comfort maintenance and improvement over the years. Trump's destruction of this symbol of our nation's shared history was deplorable and without approval or merit.

I vehemently oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, initiated without proper notice, authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather an erasure of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. Permitting this vanity project to proceed without penalizing those who broke custom as well as the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

What is next, selling off the National Parks to the billionaires? How can a single occupent of "the peoples house" take a wrecking ball to it and build a monstrosity in its place without the proper authorization, permits, or design review? The idea that this is modernization project is absurd. Ballrooms have been around since the 17th century. The project should be canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. As currently designed, the East Wing Modernization project, including the ballroom addition, is a travesty. Even Pres. Trump's first architect quit when he refused to comply with Trump's tasteless wishes. The American people want and deserve an attractive, tasteful addition, complementing the White House, not over shadowing it. The American people don't want an ostentatious building reflecting Pres. Trump's over-sized ego ... particularly since this building will be with the American people this point forward.

I am writing to encourage the Commission deny the plans for construction of the ballroom promoted by the Trump administration. Demolishing a substantial section of "the people's house" without historical review or consultation with stakeholders (including representatives of US citizens, its true owner) is without precedent. First I would like to express my disgust that the east wing was demolished without proper authorization or documentation. This is not allowed locally, within my state, nor should it be allowed nationally. Particularly when the destruction occurs in “the people’s house”. It does not belong to the current resident nor any of the former or subsequent residents. Secondly I object to the design and cost of the current proposed east wing. It dwarfs the White House and aesthetically diminishes the view of the White House and the surrounding landscape. The grandiose style is disgusting and not in good taste. Any renovation of this type should be done with respect to the existing buildings, particularly these buildings which represent ALL the people of these United States, not just the current resident and his supporters. I encourage you to step back and redesign the proposed ballroom with adherence to historic standards and permanence, not in haste and in the name of grandiosity. Seek the guidance of those who know best, not those who pledge their allegiance to the current resident. The White House is considered "the People's House" because it is owned by the American public. It is not owned by the current resident. Please respect that fact.

I was deeply dismayed - aghast, really! - when I saw images of and read news on the East Wing destruction. The White House is known as “The People’s House”, the site of so much history and the temporary residence for our presidents. No president has or should have unitary power over major White House renovations, never mind the destruction of an entire wing and the decision to replace it with a ballroom. Furthermore, the plans for the ballroom are out of scale with the remaining parts of the White House.

We must reconstruct the East Wing to the degree possible with the same footprint, layout, and materials as it was before the President made his decision to tear it down with no legal authorization.

Thank you for allowing public comments regarding the proposed 90,000 square foot ballroom on the previous site of the east wing of the white house.

I was horrified when I learned that the east wing of the white house had been demolished to make room for this proposed monstrosity. The current president of the United States should be held accountable for destroying the east wing, originally constructed in 1902 and expanded in 1942, which held so much historical significance. The damage is done, so no use crying over spilled milk, however this project should be halted until adequate studies can be completed by the NCPC and the CFA. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and is owned by the American people, not the sitting president, and the American people deserve an opportunity to provide comments and shape the project.

Any occupant of The White House is not a king, but a temporary tenant, living there 8 years at most, and should not be able to rebuild it to his/her own liking no matter who is paying for it. From this point on, the processes in place, specified in federal law, must be followed to approve and make these changes.

Neither is the White House a palace. It is the people's house, not overwhelmingly large, but prior to the demolition commanded the space properly. Its design is unified and aesthetically pleasing with its restrained, formal, and symmetrical Georgian-Irish architectural style. Any addition should be compatible in scale and subordinate to the original structure. That which is proposed appears to be large enough to overwhelm the existing building and space.

Given that the destruction of the East Wing has already taken place, a construction of similar size, shape, and placement as the West Wing - with needed modern updates including ADA accessibility - would maintain the integrity and symmetry of the overall design and structure thus remaining true to its aesthetics and historical past.

The White House is not in need of a huge ballroom. DC has plenty of that kind of space in existing buildings. If it is determined that a ballroom absolutely is needed, construct it elsewhere in the city or, if in the end a ballroom is included in the new construction, ensure that it fit within an addition of similar size and design as the original.

The White House is the house of the people. For this reason it is simple in design. The planned ballroom is obscene in size and grandeur. The public has been lied to. The East Wing was not supposed to be raised. The president behaves as if the White House is just another one of his properties. This project needs to be scaled back to the point where the dimensions of the new building fits in with the size White House.

TO Whom It May Concern-

I oppose the spending of any anount of money, no matter the source, let alone $400 million, on this boondoggle of a project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. I vehemently oppose spending one penny much less 300 million to build an unneeded ballroom attached to the White House. The historic East Wing was illegally demolished and those involved should be held accountable by law. It is heartbreaking to look at the destruction of this historic property. I would support restoring it to its former glory.

The East Wing demolition and planned replacement by a ballroom initiated by the current President of the United States did not follow proper approval processes for updates to this cherished national landmark. The People's House deserves to be treated with more respect than this. I am upset that my tax dollars are being used to fund this abomination.

Hello. This destruction is a national disgrace to all Americans who follow the law. I oppose spending 300 million dollars on this East Wing project. It doesn't matter who is funding it - the American people were not asked for our opinions before destroying "the people's house".
This work appears to have moved forward without proper authorization, permits, or a meaningful design review. That is not acceptable for any public project, and it is especially unacceptable at a site that carries this level of national significance.
Calling this modernization does not match what has happened. What I see is a loss of history and character that cannot simply be rebuilt later and called “the same.”
I am asking that this project be canceled. I also want the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, as faithfully as possible.
No one is above the law. Allowing this to continue, without accountability for those who ignored the required process, would be an insult to every law abiding American who is expected to follow the rules.

The East Wing Modernization Project's attempt to build a Ballroom should be cancelled. The White doesn't need a ballroom. They are obsolete! If the current administration feels the need for a Ballroom, they should work with a reputable architect with an understanding of the EXTEME IMPORTANCE OF THE HISTORICAL NATURE OF THE BUILDING, and design an addition to the building that does not destroy the the original architectural esthetic.

The East Wing of the White House should be replaced as closely as possible to what it was before the illegal demolition took place in 2025. Certainly it could be technically modernized, but should at least look historically accurate. The destruction of public property that took place last year at the White House was a criminal act and should have been treated as one. In lieu of that, perhaps the NCPC could find a way to have the guilty party pay for the reconstruction.

This project started without approval from the National Capital Planning Commission, without the required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization. The $400 million in costs is being fronted by corporations, creating a conflict of interest. This is not how projects in the United States of America are supposed to be run.

The White House is the people's house. It belongs to the American people, and our representatives have enacted laws governing how restoration and modernization projects are to be approved. No president should be able to make this decision single-handedly.

The East Wing was razed illegally without prior notification or authorization, unsupervised, on a weekend. It was a destructive travesty, tearing down history, both physicial, and erasing events that have been held there. The current President acts as if he owns the White House, the People's House, and can autocratically decide to errect a huge ballroom where the East Wing once stood, dwarfing the White House itself.
History is essential to the American identity, and by tearing down this building an attempt is being made to change history. 'It won't cost the Americann people,' only our sovereignty. It would appear that it will be a time-share for wealthy investors, whom it will likely serve, not the American people.
I strongly believe the ballroom project must be stopped, and the East Wing rebuilt to its former state. It pains me deeply that the stuff of history, of which it was made, has simply became landfill. American identity can not be discarded and replaced with some garish monstrosity, that won't even be completed during the current President's term. Because we are a representational democracy, it is essential to push back against the reshaping of America to this President's whim and inclination.

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.

The country has been in existence for 250 years. All prior presidents have had events, dinners etc without the need for a HUGE ballroom. None of them have complained about needing a ballroom nor do we need one.
I don't care if it is funded by outside agencies and no taxpayers money is used, I don't believe a ballroom is necessary for the country. Especially not one that will DWARF the White House.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which has made it clear that influence has been bought. This undermines the very thin trust we the people still have.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project. Our history has been shat on.

Good day, Thank you for the opportunity to lend my vision for the East Wing Modernization Project.

I am writing for myself and sister Judith Jacob,

First off we would NOT like any GOLD/GILT in the project. We feel the gold sends the wrong message to the citizens of the USA. It is patterned after dictators and ultra wealthy individuals which leaves an element of not being the peoples house.

This project needs to be in line with the decor of the original White House. Subtle meaning pleasing to the senses in a mild or nuanced way : delicate, elusive.

The elevation of the building should not be taller than the White House, it should not exceed the overall foot print of the former East Wing. The White House is the focus not the wings or additions.

It was wrong to take down the East Wing without government approval.

Thank you, Carol Hoskins, Judith Jacob

To the Commission: This project has concerned me from the moment the East Wing was demolished without a demolition permit to this proposal for a new grandiose ballroom facility. I do think the applicant should be penalized for not getting proper permits for the demolition. I am opposed to the project as currently designed for the following reasons: 1)The scale of the project is enormous, too big and will overshadow the rest of the White House dominating the landscape for the lavish parties and dinners for a privileged few as opposed to the White House where the important policy and administrative work on behalf of all the American people takes place. The scale proposed is consistent with this current administration's favoring of the rich and famous over ordinary Americans. 2) The cost of the project, regardless of the source of the funds, is excessive and such funds would be put to better use providing for the basic needs of Americans for health care, affordable housing, child care, education and employment - a priority national need that is not being addressed at this time. 3) The proposed project is ostentatious and lavish consistent with its design for the rich and famous and not the average American. A more modest proposal with less ornate embellishments and at a smaller scale might be found to be more acceptable. A more thoughtful approach to the planning for the future of this significant national treasure, that is, the entire White House Complex, is needed; one that prioritizes the important work of any administration in conducting our country's domestic and foreign affairs over having extravagant parties and receptions and one that demonstrates respect for the historic preservation of important buildings and natural landscape features and the symbolism of this revered national monument. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its former state. Our national and state historic buildings must be protected. These structures belong to the People. Laws, regulations, and restoration requirements should be seriously enforced to protect our heritage. The Rose Garden needs to be restored back to its former beauty and state. Trump's name needs to come down off the Kennedy Center. All the tacky gilt should be removed from the White House. Bring back the historic beauty and elegance of our national buildings.

There are over three million people in this country. Sticks and stones analogy comes to mind when faced with small, petty subhumans. Erasing history is impossible. Grotesque modernization will be rejected in the end, so cut the crap now, restore to the authentic version of our formerly great East Wing. Again, there are over three million people in this country, and our minds work just fine when faced with unassailable truths.

The East Wing of the White House should be restored to exactly what it was before Trump unilaterally bulldozed it without congressional or any other kind of approval, and without following any planning process that represents the American people.

It is shocking and deeply disturbing that this somehow was allowed to occur. The White house does not belong to the President. It belongs to the American People, and all laws and policies should be followed for such an immense project.

Besides illegally destroying a historic building such as the White House, which is suppose to be the PEOPLE's HOUSE, not Donald Trump's house, the ballroom is a HUGE waste of time and money, regardless if it's coming from the richest people in the world to build it. They are just trying to gain favor from Trump, so they get tax breaks, don't have to abide by any regulations for their corporations including worker safety standards, and other hidden 'benefits' the public will never know about. IF this is built, which will dwarf the White House in size, the up keep, furnishings, the extra service staff, cooks, supplies, laundry, cleaning, food, drinks, entertainment, heating/airconditioning, etc., WILL be taxpayer money paying for it .....for the wealthy of the world to enjoy on the backs of hard working Americans. It does nothing for the citizens of this nation. ZERO! This money could go to MUCH more worthy causes, like affordable housing, child care, groceries, etc., for the American people. These are the things that people's tax dollars should be going too, (use too), not some rich man's hangout! It's disgusting, deplorable, shameful, disgraceful, dishonorable, and a gut punch to every American. BTW, the name East Wing Modernization Project is a moot point, meaningless. There is NO East Wing!

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project.

Turning the East Wing into a ballroom is a slap to the face of the American people. Many cannot afford to feed their families or their healthcare. Our economy is in shambles. Prices are rising even still. There is no good reason why there should be a ballroom installed in a house that should be fixing these issues and representing us.

Not only has it erased American history, but it was done without the proper authorizations, permits, or design review.
The president needs to be held responsible for demolishing this part of the White House and needs to be penalized for doing so illegally.

"I oppose the spending of any money on this project, which was initiated without proper authorization, permits, or design review. Somehow, we've managed to survive 250 years without a "grand ballroom" to rival the Palace at Versailles and if this country survives another 250 years, we'd still be fine without this affront to democracy. Meanwhile, US citizens are homeless, starving, sick and without access to affordable healthcare. If someone wants to invest millions of dollars to impress the leaders of other countries, it should be used to show the world that the United States cares about its own people. I am writing as a 67 year old United States citizen who is heartbroken at the destruction of the White House East Wing. I have never had the opportunity to visit this historic place and will now never have the chance. Decades of history were erased without proper permissions and permits with no regard at all for what the "People" want. The destruction and removal of wonderful historical artifacts and valuable art brings me to tears as a professional artist. I do not want to see a massive ornate ballroom that dwarfs the architecture of the White House and do not think it is even necessary. Please rebuild what was once there. Thank you.

Unfortunately the title of this project should read "East Wing Destruction Mitigation Project."
I am strongly opposed to any East Wing construction that is disproportionate in relation to the White House and the West Wing structures. Any architectural designs should be approved by the NCPC only and not by POTUS. A ballroom alone is an irresponsible use of money and is space that will be rarely and intermittently used. Please preserve our White House and its integrity moving forward to mitigate the irreparable damage already done to the East Wing.

That this is being presented as a gift from the out of touch elite class while the working people of our country are struggling to pay for basic provisions is an affront to every value we purport to hold as a nation. Let's not build anything there and instead leave an empty parcel to represent all of this country's unfulfilled promises to our indigenous peoples who were stripped of everything they held sacred, our chattel slaves held in bondage and their ancestors held in disdain, and all of the millions who came here under false promises of freedom only to be distrusted, mistreated, and scapegoated by the wealth class and their racist boosters. This project is in incredibly poor taste and a national shame. No money should be spent on this, by anyone, but especially the millionaires and billionaires who will use it to plot against the best interests of the people of this country to keep themselves in their fancy dresses and too-big houses.

I oppose the so called “East Wing Modernization”. I believe that a modernization of a historical building presumes that the actual structure and edifice remain intact. It is the infrastructure that is modernized which would include everything from plumbing, heating, electrical and work space improvements to technological and security upgrades. This is a vanity project for a single man and not for the American people. The project defies all sensibilities, ignores the very checks and balances put in place to prevent this corrupt and blatant abuse of power and insults our American architectural history. My heart weeps for its destruction. If it were within my personal power I would order the rebuilding of the East Wing, to its original design, at the expense of those that ordered its demolition. Any “modernization” would then be subject to congressional review and approval as dictated by law - something that all of us are supposed to be bound by, even the President of the United States.

The White House belongs to THE PEOPLE, not to those who reside there for limited periods of time. I am appalled that the current resident president has destroyed this historic building in order to erect a structure that no American requested. He did so suddenly and somewhat secretly, and I am certain he expects to have this "ballroom" named after him.

Dear Commissioners,

I adamantly oppose the euphemistically called "East Wing Modernization Project." While former occupants of the White House, notably Jacqueline Kennedy, have worked to restore this modest residence to its original state or to make improvements in keeping with the architectural integrity of the building, Donald Trump's proposed alterations show nothing but contempt for the historical significance of the White House. Contempt for the American people as well.

The proposed project is gaudy and gigantic. The plans are yet another assault on our democracy to take this modest symbol of our republic and replace it with Trumps' tasteless homage to Louis XIV . The fact that the private money of billionaires is financing this project is also a debasement of our values as Americans. Do not approve this project, whose scope, size, and aesthetics are extremely ugly in every sense of the word.

Sincerely,

Deborah Katz

I am strongly opposed to the plan to build a massive and architecturally inappropriate ball room as a replacement for the East Wing of the White House. I support returning the East Wing and the Rose Garden to their original design and purposes. A president is the custodian of the people's house and has no authority to make sweeping changes that are not in keeping with the historical significance of any national treasure or monument. It matters not to me that it is supposedly being paid for with donations. What matters is the assumption that a president can do what he or she wants and likes. The proposed design is certainly big, but I would hardly call it beautiful and, if the selected decor is anything like the Oval Office redo, it will be gaudy and in poor taste. I remember the first time I saw the East Wing on a tour with my mother in 1965 and the second time I saw it on a tour with my sixth grade students in 1976. We were in awe and I wept when it was destroyed.

I object to the East Wing Modernization project. The destruction of the East Wing was done without approval. As it is gone, modernizing the interior seems to be a logical next step. The exterior, however, should be restored to how it looked prior to its destruction—same size, same harmonious blending with the rest of the White House, same landscaping, etc. We should not be building a 90k square foot ballroom. It would look monstrous next to the White House.

I am writing to oppose the proposed East Wing Modernization project at the White House. This project, now estimated to cost between $300 and $400 million, was initiated without the required public notice, proper permitting, or advance design review by this Commission. The demolition of the historic East Wing began in October 2025 before any formal plans had been submitted, denying the public and this body the opportunity to weigh in before irreversible damage was done.
Calling this a "modernization" misrepresents what actually occurred. The East Wing, a historic structure that served first ladies and their offices for decades, was completely demolished. Historic magnolia trees planted in honor of Presidents Harding and Roosevelt were removed. The Presidential Emergency Operations Center was dismantled. This is not renovation; it is erasure.
I am also deeply concerned about the funding mechanism. Accepting hundreds of millions of dollars in private donations from tech billionaires and other wealthy interests to reshape the People's House creates serious conflicts of interest and the appearance, if not the reality, of purchased access to the presidency. No single donor should have influence over the character of our national home.
The White House belongs to the American people, not to any administration or its financial backers. The Commission exists precisely to ensure that projects of this magnitude undergo rigorous, transparent, and lawful review. I urge this Commission to conduct a thorough, independent, and uncompromising evaluation of this project — and to demand full accountability for the process violations that have already occurred.
No one is above the law. Approving this project without meaningful consequence for the procedural violations that enabled it would set a dangerous precedent for future administrations and for historic preservation nationwide.

The East Wing should be restored to its former state because 1. historical significance of the wing and 2. No permission from Congress, or any historic commission was secured for the demolition of the East Wing. In addition, the planned addition is severely out of scale with the rest of the White House. Proportion and balance were totally disregarded in the proposed new structure.

I feel quite strongly that the reconstruction of the East Wing should mirror what was torn down as much as possible. There is a reason that historical buildings are protected, and when construction is necessary, made to "fit" the period in which is was built. Buildings such as these are representative, and to tear something down and then build a monstrosity that dwarfs the White House goes against everything that historical preservation is for. The White House is the People's House, and should reflect the history of this country and all it has been through. Any rebuild should NOT reflect one person's self-image or aggrandizement. I would greatly appreciate it if:
- the wing could be rebuilt to match the size and scale of the rest of the White House.
- historical elements and architecture to again match the time period of the rest of the White House.
- I'm okay with some necessary modernizations in terms of what the space will be used for.
- ballroom? NO. Unless it's truly a necessity, but I don't think it should be that. No Gold. No undue opulence. Let's show some restraint.
- modernize for technology needs seems reasonable.
- maybe a sunroom area, for plants, I wish the rose garden could be resurrected.
- maybe you could survey the staff or other long time staff at the WH for their input. ? I bet they have great ideas.

This is the peoples house, and it should be nice but not like a wealthy mansion, let’s show some restraint & be very sensitive to the spending of our tax dollars. Please, the everyday middle class people in our country are counting on you to do this right and well and within budget. Don’t make it outlandish.

Thank you for allowing us to comment. It’s very appreciated.

Destruction of Government Property is a Federal Crime. Full Stop.
The current President does not own the White House, they do not have unfettered unilateral authority to physically modify it, certainly not to destroy and replace it without proper and legal review.

To say that a completing Ballroom is a National Security matter because the remaining building is insecure is a travesty of justice.
To have it funded by private investors currying favor with the President and being engaged in Government contract negotiations is corrupt by definition.

The parties responsible for irresponsibly destroying the building must fund it's complete restoration.

Any designs of a "ballroom" have been totally out of place for the entire White House complex. If what he has had done to the Oval Office is any indication, the ball room will be gaudy and tasteless not befitting the White House. And in addition any plans that have been "tossed" around show a structure much large than what's left of the White House. The East Wind must be restored/rebuilt to it's original configuration. Can we talk about the Rose Garden? Shameful.

I oppose this project and would hope the White House east wing can be rebuilt to its former specs, To reward anyone for the illegal destruction of the White House is wrong and sends a dangerous precedent for the future. If approval is ultimately given then why would anyone else go through the legal process when they can simply destroy or tear down parts of the White House they want and just wait until you give them the ok to do what they wanted to do all along. Is there no consequence for ignoring the legal process?

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project as currently proposed and urge the Commission to reject the plan until proper legal processes are followed.
This project began with the demolition of a 123 year old structure before obtaining required approvals from this Commission, before completing mandatory environmental assessments under the National Environmental Policy Act, and before securing congressional authorization required by federal statute for construction on federal parkland in Washington. The fact that demolition has already occurred does not excuse these violations or create a fait accompli that forces approval.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest,
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historical structures and the approve construction without following the law and allowing input from the public.
I strongly urge the Commission to reject this project.

The White House belongs to the Citizens of the USA. It is loaned to tenants as a job perk for serving in the Office of President of the United States.
The current occupant or any occupant in that capacity does not hold title to the property and cannot make design and building changes or renovations with out the consent and funding of and by the "owners of that property.

If this is not stopped now, what is to stop the next President from tearing down the rest of the White House. The history that has been illegally erased is a stain on this nation. To Whom it may concern let alone the destruction of a beautiful,historic building) is an affront to anyone that has ever had to do work on their own home. It is mandatory in every city and town to pull a permit and get an approval for said project. This administration has unilaterally destroyed a part of an American landmark without so much as a nod to the powers that regulate our beautiful monuments and buildings. This CANNOT be allowed to stand. Please hold this administration responsible for the destruction it has caused and demand that the East Wing be restored to its former beauty. Thank you.
I vehemently oppose this project! The destruction of the East Wing without proper approvals and permits (

Regarding the concept and design of the new East Wing, I would like all of the materials that were removed (doors, ancient wood paneling, fixtures, stone, anything made by hands, dishes, paintings, fabrics, interpretive signage, etc) all to be saved and displayed, or used prominently in the new building. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The sitting President is not the owner of the property or the structures. The President is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by rules governing planning, implementation, and oversight.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is a violation of the law.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size.
I also urge investigation into the destruction of this historic site and an accounting to Congress and to the American people of what was removed, where it was stored, and how it is being preserved. If historic items were not documented and preserved, I urge a thorough accoutning, through document and photo research, of all the items that were destroyed by the sitting holder of the office of the president. While the East Wing cannot be replaced in spirit, every effort should be made to preserve its legacy and to restore its physical structure in a manner in keeping with the exisitng structure. In no way should the President and those who followed his illegal orders to destroy the East Wing be rewarded for their actions through the approval and building of a golden ballroom.

I am a former president of the American Institute of Architects, and a former member of the NCPC 1976-

1980 appointed by President Ford. MY architectural firm, VVKR, located in Alexandria, VA, provided various "small' design projects at the West Wing of the White House being commissioned by the General Services Administration in the President Nixon era. Two rather significant projects were the conversion of the FDR swimming poll to the White House Press Room and the Portico to the West Wing. President Nixon's instructions were to design the new Press Room is such a way that the FDR pool could be returned to the same space and configuration if there was an outcry that he had removed the pool. We accomplished that requirement in the design.
Another project by VVKR was the design of a portico for the West Wing and improve the entrance appearance and driveway to the West Wing. We followed the basic architecture of the White House and the portico and surrounding area was a huge visual improvement to the area. With this background, I am now a member of the White House Historical Association.
I state all of the above to provide my credentials for commenting on the East Wing modernization project. First off, I want to congratulate Shalom Baranes and his firm for an excellent set of preliminary drawings showing the proposed East Wing modernization project. However, they have provided me with strong feeling that the ballroom project is just too large and out of scale in essentially dwarfing the residence. While the design is conscious to keep the height of the ballroom no higher than the residence, in my view, it should be substantially lower than the residence. Alos, it appears that the oval driveway on the southwest side of the ballroom had to be moved to accommodate the ballroom. This a serious site plan flaw I feel.
In conclusion, I feel the destruction of the East Wing was a tragedy and a huge mistake. What's done is done, so now I strongly suggest the mass, size and height of the ballroom be reduced significantly to lessen the impact on the remaining, existing structure.
Respectfully submitted,
R. Randall Vosbeck, FAIA Emeritus

Please restore this historic wing of the White House. I visited the East wing of the White House In 2024. I was so honored to walked the same halls as Jackie Kennedy, Michelle Obama and other greats. To see so much history and to know that so many people were able to see where our former and present lawmakers were conducting their business.
We don't need a 90,000 square foot ballroom, too ostentatious for the United States, we are a simple people. If we truly need a "ballroom" it can be smaller and not attached to the White House. Restore it back to the way it was, it's just sad all that history is gone now. Donald Trump just doesn't want to be outdone by other countries that have royalty because he wants to be King!

We do not need a huge ballroom to hold thousands of people one or two times a year. I am sure there are places in Washington DC and the surrounding areas which could possibly hold this many people. If this were to be built, looking at the proposed interior, it would be super guady with all the gold leaf everywhere. It would need to be redecorated when a new president came into office just as the Oval Office will need to be done.

The East Wing needs to be built back the way it was originally. This is the PEOPLES HOUSE and not Donald Trumps house for him to do what he wants to do with it.

What started out as a $200 billion project is not over $400 Billion.. The people who say they are going to donate, what happens if they end up not donating to the project? WE, the people, will end up paying for thie monstraty. Then once built, who will be paying for the utilities to service this building? Again the people of the United States will be paying for them.

Do not apporve any new ballroom building on the White House premise. The current ballroom has served many a President and should continue to serve as it is. This has to STOP and no ballroom shoudl be built of this size. Rebuild the East Wing and put it back to it's original status.

As an American citizen and registered voter of Michigan, I am writing in opposition to the destruction of the White House East Wing. This property belongs to the American people, not the siting president. It is clear that the formal process to make physical changes to the property was not followed. I question whether an asbestos evaluation was done prior to demolition? Were the environmental assessments and protocols followed? This is a historic site of great importance. No president has the right to order the demolition of such a historic site without following the protocols. This action should be halted immediately and I strongly oppose the creation of a ballroom, funded by private donors who no doubt will be given special access to the president. I strongly oppose the "modernization" project currently underway on the White House's East Wing. The demolition of the East Wing was initiated without the authorization from the appropriate authorities, proper design reviews, or even permits. The unlawful destruction of this once beautiful landmark, which most recently acted as the DC office of numerous First Ladies, is a tragic erasure of over a century of an important part of our nation's history. I want the current plans to be canceled and the East Wing to be rebuilt, restoring it to its former design, and the perpetrators of this unlawful desecration should be penalized.

The demolition of the East wing of the white house should never have been done. No permits, no design review, no approval by appropriate agencies. No approval by congres... just the reason of a historical structure in the middle of the night. It was an evil vindictive and illegal act by the current president.

I vehemently oppose the construction of any type of ballroom. The east wing should be restored to its original magnificence, including the rose garden.

The East Wing of the White House, the People's house, was a historic part of our past. The White House has undergone changes in the past - all carefully researched and approved to maintain its history. Now it's simply gone! No input, no research, no permits, no approval from the appropriate committee. As if this president didn't have to follow the rules established to preserve our shared history. I want to see it rebuilt just as it was. Maintain the dignified footprint of the White House and return the items that belong in there. No one in this administration is above the law, and the laws are clear: there are stablished procedures that must be followed - by the president as well as everyone else.

The country does not need a giant gilded ballroom. The White House should be restored in a way that honors its history and style. The proposed ballroom would dwarf the existing structure and stick out like a sore thumb.

Let's make a space that is accessible to the people of the country, not just the rich and famous. Let's use it to tell the truth about our nation's history, its hopes, dreams, successes and failures.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people, not the current temporary occupant.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not the violent demolition on national TV.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This work appears to have moved forward without proper authorization, permits, or a meaningful design review. That is not acceptable for any public project, and it is especially unacceptable at a site that carries this level of national significance.
Calling this modernization does not match what has happened. What I see is a loss of history and character that cannot simply be rebuilt later and called “the same.”
I am asking that this project be canceled. I also want the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, as faithfully as possible.
No one is above the law. Allowing this to continue, without accountability for those who ignored the required process, would be an insult to every law abiding American who is expected to follow the rules.

To build a ballroom is an affront to Americans- our history was illegally ripped from us, illegally destroyed. The East Wing was traditionally a place where the importance of women and their specific issues were addressed and it was illegally razed without proper oversight and legal considerations. To honor such crime by ignoring it and creating a place financed by tributes corporate, domestic and foreign is an affront to the many who gave their lives in service to this country. Lives in service to the health, safety and happiness of regular Americans.
Restore what was stolen. Rebuild the East Wing with the aid of historians. Give us back our home.
Give us back our pride. Give us back the “womens’ wing.”

Distinguished Panel

I write in favor of President Trump's plans for a new ballroom located where the East Wing once stood

The previous structure in and of itself is not historic as is the White House, and even the White House has undergone rebuilding, renovations, and remodeling.

The East Wing was at best a hodge podge of add ons and renovations long neglected and overdue for more than mere maintenance.

The idea of world leaders attending State dinners in tents is embarrassing and it is long past time for the White House to provide appropriate and adequate accommodations.

In addition, the original plans for the West Wing to symmetrically mirror the East Wing should be considered, too.

Commissioners,
I will keep my comments brief as i am sure there are a multitude for the committee to read. As a student and teacher of History, U.S.Government, and Cultural Studies, I was horrified at the irresponsible actions of Trump. The historical role of the East Wing and past First Ladies should not be erased or replaced with a gaudy dance hall.
The White House belongs to the people of America, not to the individual who bought the Ova! Office. In my opinion the restoration cost of the East Wing should be paid by Trump for not following the commissions policy and procedures. I thank the committee for the work they do on behalf of our country.

This project should be canceled immediately and the "donations" for renovation channeled into restoration of the East Wing to its former design and proportions. In what universe would a temporary tenant be allowed to raze and rebuild part of a dwelling he does not own? And I do not believe for one minute that somehow US taxpayers will not eventually be stuck with the bill for this.

I urge you to vote NO on the East Wing “modernization” project, which is in reality a privately financed vanity rebuild of a historic public space that has already been demolished to make room for President Trump’s new ballroom. This project raises profound concerns about pay\u8209 -to\u8209 -play politics, donor influence over federal decision\u8209 -making, and the erosion of basic ethics and transparency standards.
President Trump has repeatedly boasted that the new 90,000\u8209 -square\u8209 -foot ballroom replacing the East Wing will be built at “zero cost to the American taxpayer” and paid for entirely by private donors and himself. He has publicly claimed they have raised between 300 and 400 million dollars in “donor money and money that we put up,” and framed this as “many generous Patriots, Great American Companies, and yours truly” funding his project. Trump has turned a core part of the White House complex into a privately financed construction project, marketed as a personal achievement instead of a carefully vetted public facility.
The White House has released a list of 30\u8209 -plus donors for the ballroom, which now replaces the demolished East Wing, and they are not neutral charities or small civic groups. They include:
• Major tech firms with substantial federal interests and regulatory exposure, such as Amazon, Google, Apple, Meta, Microsoft, Coinbase and Palantir.
• Defense and government contractors like Lockheed Martin, Booz Allen Hamilton, Caterpillar and others that rely heavily on federal contracts and favorable policy.
• Powerful private individuals and billionaires with long\u8209 -standing business or political ties to Trump, such as Harold Hamm, Stephen Schwarzman, the Adelson and Perlmutter families, and the Winklevoss twins.
These donations are being funneled through the Trust for the National Mall as “charitable” contributions, and many are tax\u8209 -deductible, further complicating transparency and public oversight. Ethics watchdogs have already documented that at least two dozen of these donors are active federal lobbyists or companies that should be disclosing these gifts on lobbying reports, but often are not.
This funding model fits a well\u8209 -established pattern in Trump’s public life: using large private donations and personal relationships to blur the line between public policy and personal benefit. Legal and ethics experts have already warned that Trump personally inviting executives and billionaire donors to White House dinners, and then directly soliciting money for a project he treats as his own, creates a classic “soft” quid\u8209 -pro\u8209 -quo situation.
As Columbia law professor Richard Briffault explained, many of these donors do “significant” business with the federal government, and Trump’s personal solicitation “raises concerns about what these companies will be receiving in return.” He notes that even if it is not a literal, explicit trade, the message is effectively: if you give, the administration will look favorably on you; if you refuse, you risk being frozen out. This is exactly the kind of coercive, transactional politics that has defined Trump’s past behavior and prior scandals involving foreign governments, campaign donors, and personal business deals.
In this specific project, the donors are not just buying their names on a plaque.
Approving this rebuild endorses a system where:
• Corporations with active or pending federal contracts donate to the president’s pet project while simultaneously seeking favorable treatment on procurement, regulation, antitrust scrutiny, and mergers.
• Tech companies facing antitrust investigations, AI and data\u8209 -privacy regulation, and content\u8209 -moderation fights gain a unique channel of access by bankrolling a private presidential project.
• Defense and energy donors with billions at stake in Pentagon contracts and federal leasing policies send a signal that they are “team players,” expecting smoother paths for their deals, permits, and subsidies. Ethics groups have already warned that a large share of these donors stand to benefit directly from White House or federal agency decisions, and that the contributions should be disclosed as lobbying\u8209 -adjacent influence efforts. When you combine this with Trump’s personal branding and public bragging about the ballroom, the project looks less like civic philanthropy and more like a transactional access\u8209 -buying scheme centered on a president who has repeatedly used public office to serve himself.

By the time NCPC is being asked to approve this so\u8209 -called modernization, the East Wing has already been demolished, and the donors have already been cultivated and thanked at White House events. A “yes” vote now does not simply green\u8209 -light construction; it retroactively blesses an arrangement where:

• A historic wing of the White House was torn down before full, transparent review by the very planning commission meant to oversee such work.

• A massive, privately funded presidential vanity project is allowed to proceed largely on the terms set by the president and his donors, not the public.

• Corporations and billionaires with huge financial stakes in federal decisions are invited to “donate” in ways that function as a quasi\u8209 -coercive loyalty test for doing business with this administration.

NCPC should not legitimize this funding scheme by approving the rebuild. Instead, you should demand full disclosure of donor amounts, a detailed ethics review of each donor’s current and pending federal interests, and a public accounting of how demolition was allowed to move forward before robust planning oversight.

For all of these reasons, I urge you in the strongest possible terms to vote NO on the East Wing Modernization Project and refuse to ratify a donor\u8209 -driven, quid\u8209 -pro\u8209 -quo\u8209 -tainted rebuild of a public institution that should belong to the American people—not to Trump and his benefactors.

Instead, insist on a full Environmental Impact Statement that rigorously compares “no\u8209 -build,” smaller\u8209 -build, and off\u8209 -site alternatives before any new construction proceeds.

• Require meaningful consultation with preservation bodies like the National Trust for Historic Preservation and the Commission of Fine Arts, which have already objected to moving ahead without proper review.

• Align any future proposal with NCPC’s submission guidelines, including full disclosure of alternatives, master\u8209 -plan consistency, and detailed analysis of public views and access.

Preservation groups are already in court arguing that the current project should be halted until these processes are completed; NCPC can reinforce that position.

This administration believes that they are above the law. They did not go through the proper permitting process and tore down part of a protected historical building that DOESN'T BELONG TO THEM. It belongs to the people. They're trying to erase that part of history. They want to spend $300 million on a ballroom and to upgrade a bomb shelter. They should be required to spend the money to have it rebuilt the way it was, with someone there to document that it's rebuilt accurately.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The recent demolition of the East Wing, without any review given its landmark status, nor any Congressional oversight was wrong. No president, at any time, is the owner of the property. To act on personal whim for a structure that is literally known as "The Peoples' House" is a travesty.

I am grateful we have a National Capital Planning Commission, and that your voice will be heard. I hope that you will advocate for the East Wing to be reconstructed in a way that honors its original (historic!) design, including the scale of the East Wing relative to the Executive Mansion.

I strongly oppose spending of $300 million on this project. A project that was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review.

This is not a modernization project, of a historic property, but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.

No one is above the law, no one owns the Whitehouse, it is the people's house. Our country needs to penalize those who broke the law: the funders, the instigator, the contractors, and the architect. To allow this project to go ahead would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The current administration should be ashamed. But they are shameless so not holding my breath.

I can support the renovations to the East Wing, but a ballroom that overwhelms the White House itself is unnecessary and wasteful. How many state dinners are held per year? How often will there be attendance that actually fills this room? This vanity project is extravagant, and the funds donated could be used for more pressing and necessary projects, including improvements to existing structures and monuments in Washington, DC.

We the People do not need a ball room or an event space. We need respect for the historic value of the White House. The East Wing should be re-constructed to its former footprint and architectural style. Modernization is one thing but destruction in the name of modernization is a blatant disregard for the "people's house." Modernization can occur without annihilation. The White House does not belong to one person; it belongs to all of us, and the destruction of the East Wing without authorization and without an approved replacement speaks to a singular vision, not a representation of the people's interests. The East Wing should never have been torn down. Since it was, without permission, it should be the act of the National Capital Planning Commission to require that the East Wing be rebuilt as it was.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I'm amazed that the proposed building is NOT ADA-compliant. The only entrances to the ballroom are stairs. So everyone who needs mobility aids such as wheelchairs or canes, must gain access through the main White House entrance? So if there is a fire or another emergency, those individuals must find their way back to the White House, rather than being able to speedily exit the ballroom directly? I implore the architectural firm to design a ballroom that is fit to invite in all members of the U.S. public, not just those who are able to get up stairs easily. If this ballroom is going to be a beacon of U.S. modernity and hospitality, then the current design is very clear that disabled people are not to be invited or thought of in ballroom events. That is such a discouraging thing to promote through design. Please find ways to make this building accessible through ramps at entry, elevators within, and wider door frames - i.e. ADA-compliant.

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This project does not serve the American people and is a desecration of a beloved building that belongs to all of us.

So any president can unilaterally demolish parts of the White House to put up something different?

Unilaterally ... without approval by any checks-and-balances body at all? Really?

Could any president demolish more of it? Even the whole thing ... and put up anything else in its place? Demolishing isn't "modernizing."

Could any president demolish any monument in this way?

I'm asking these things very completely seriously. Because it certainly look like the first two lines above are actual reality.

Is this is? Is this going to be allowed from now on?

This home belongs to the people of this nation, not the current occupent, and we deserve full disclosure.

I would like a published report on what has happened to date with any conservation of the historical and valuable contents or historical construction materials of the now demolished wing.

I would like a report on the steps taken prior to demolition and how they met or exceeded all legal requirements and stipulations prior to said demolition.

In addition, I would like to know how any plans for a new wing meet any recognized, reasonable and accepted architectural guidelines for construction of a new structure, as it relates to the surrounding structures in style, scope, size, and their history.

I would also like to see a detailed accounting of how this addition, AND the demolition, are being paid for. Is any of this being charged to public funds/ the taxpayer? If it is private funds, who is involved and what have they received in return for this 'gift' and how does this not violate the Emoluments Clause?

The White House is a monument to our history, not a playground for architectural vanity. With historic spaces like the East Room already serving our diplomatic needs, building a new "grand ballroom" is fiscally irresponsible and physically erodes the integrity of a national landmark.
We demand an immediate halt to this expansion. Our nation's resources should be invested in the American people—not in luxury floorboards and redundant social halls.

As a US citizen I am extremely concerned about the demolition and plans regarding the east wing of the People's House, as I feel the organizations representing The People have not been sufficiently kept abreast, nor have approved, the plans. The new west wing needs to be appropriately designed to look harmonious with existing structures, and the purpose and use of this wing should be carefully considered. A ballroom that 99.o% of all Americans will never use is not appropriate. Whatever structure is built (if any) should more comprehensively serve the people, and office space seems more productive. To whom it may concern,

The tragedy of seeing The White House East Wing totally demolished with no clear, approved plan, is more than disappointing. It is a sad representation of how our nation is being viewed on the world stage today; destroy a place and then hope for the best.

We are not a country that flaunts our wealth. We do not cover our walls in gold. We do not build Versailles ballrooms. We do not need to honor our democracy with baubles and diamonds. We honor our democracy with grace and diplomacy.

We know that our present occupant described The White House despairingly during his first term and is using this term to destroy our humble heritage. Enough damage has been done to The People's House. We have a patio eating area where a beautiful rose garden used to grow. We have an Oval Office that looks like it was poorly decorated by an emir. We have "artwork" hanging on the walls that is on par with velvet paintings. We have hotel signage identifying the Oval Office as if the occupants couldn't find it without a sign. And now, we have a whole wing destroyed with no historically complementary plan to replace it—just a gapping hole.

If we need an appropriate venue for hold events to honor the nation's guests and allies, I can understand that need. But, please, demand that this space not become a monstrous disgrace. It's the White HOUSE, not a PALACE. And, please, demand it be named in keeping with the rest of The White House.

Thank you for listening.

I'm completely in opposition of building a monstrosity to detract from OUR existing White House! This IS "the people's house", NOT Donald Trump's. The demolition and plans were ALL started without proper authorization, permits, or design review approval. NO person is above the law and regulations that apply to ALL citizens, and for that reason, I want this project cancelled and FULL restoration of the former East Wing to it's original size and shape! This should also serve the purpose to remind ALL people, organizations, and government entities that "the people's properties", including all buildings and parks MUST ALWAYS be under the full review and approval of the National Capital Planning Commission. There is not "after the fact" approval, and that East Wing should NEVER have been touched!

The project to create a ballroom to replace the East Wing of the White House should not be approved. The size and scope of the project are completely out of balance with the remainder of the building. The White House is the People's House, it does not belong to any one President, and should not be grossly changed based on one person's opinion. Building an enormous ballroom is also a waste because such a facility would be used infrequently, rather than the working spaces that were in the original East Wing. Perhaps it is private funds being used for construction, not sure about that, but it will be taxpayer funding to maintain the facility.

The East wing renovation would be most wonderful if the architects and designers honored cohesive design to complement the rest of the White House, and thought deeply about the symbolism within a ballroom. Gold is unnecessary- tis gaudy and screams "look at me, Im trying to appear worthy!" Subtle elegance is so much classier!

I strongly oppose the $300 million in funding for this project, regardless of its source. Furthermore, I have serious concerns about companies providing funds toward this project, what the specific agreement and terms for funding are, and if there will be an expectation of preferential treatment, access, and/or naming rights in return.

This project was not initiated with the proper authorization, permits, or required design review. I am calling for the project to be canceled before further funds are wasted and additional damage is done to what is part of the the People's House and our American historical heritage. I further call for the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored to its original design.

I am deeply frustrated by the continued sidestepping of proper procedures and review by the current administration. No one is above the law, and allowing this project to proceed without pause for review and holding those responsible accountable would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans and passive compliance to continued abuse of proper procedures.

I just reviewed current renderings and am appalled and saddened that the 'people's house' - NOT the President's house - would so grossly be disfigured without input from the people. This is not what 'the people' want, since it is for the sole benefit of the wealthy elite. This President's ego projects that attack American tradition, history and pride must be stopped. Although the President claims that no taxpayer money will be spent, we must instead look to his penchant for lying. After construction, who pays for maintenance, heat, electricity, furnishings, entertainment costs, etc.? Please do not be bullied into approving an ego project that does not benefit the American people and instead desecrates an American iconic building. Funding could better be spent helping the American people. Thank you for your careful consideration of this and other ego projects.

As a tax-paying, natural born citizen of the United States, I wholeheartedly object to the ridiculous East Wing modernization project. It is an unnecessary waste of taxpayer money when people, including veterans that fought for this country's "freedoms," are starving and living on the streets. The scale is absurd and, even if paid for by the billionaire class, is a blight of ego and nothing more.

At some point, this will have to be "remodeled" again by some other blow hard that doesn't like tacky gold fixtures. The true boss of this country (its citizens) have made it clear they are not in support of this monument to greed.

There are many ballroom and venues in DC and surrounding areas that suit the occasional need for large gatherings. The architectural style and structure of the White House should be maintained, balancing the center by the East and West Wings. Furthermore ALL OF THE TACKY GOLD OVERLAY should be REMOVED at Mr
Trump's personal expense.

This historic building should not be ruined, and I fear that it has been greatly damaged by Mr. Trump.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

I object to this project because it is just another way for trump to launder bribe money. The project began with the demolition of the entire East Wing without any public process and in violation of Federal procurement rules. It was not publicly bid or vetted, but rather sole-sourced, and was simply done on trump's whim. The White House staff report states that they met with important stakeholders, but only name Secret Service and National Park Service. They then sole sourced an architect, fired that one and hired one who would do nothing but take trump's dictation. The staff report also suggests that lead paint and asbestos removal occurred pursuant to strict standards, but we all saw that never happened. There has been no environmental review as required by law. There has been no review by anyone at all until trump was forced by a court to begin this review. I have been in public procurement for 30 years and have never seen any public project avoid all of the public scrutiny required by law as this one has.

Replacing the East Wing, part of the People's House, with a grossly outsized "ballroom" named for trump and that dwarfs the White House, serves absolutely no public purpose and is meant solely to line trump's pockets and confer presidential access and favors upon donors. Receiving private funds for this vanity project does not a authorize bypassing Federal procurement laws, but even if it did, the public will necessarily have to fund upkeep and maintenance over time and therefore procurement laws must be adhered to.

I oppose the spending of $300 million or amounts thereof to build the Ballroom in place of the East Wing of the White House. I believe this project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American History of the East Wing of our Nation's property.
I would desire that this project be canceled, and the East Wing restored to it's former design.
No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all or most Law Abiding American Citizens.

Greetings,

I oppose the spending of any funding on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. This project should be canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design at no cost to the taxpayers who did not request, nor approve the destruction of "the people's house". No one is above the law, including anyone who destroys or defaces public buildings without proper review, approvals, or permits. Further, a full fiscal accounting for the costs associated with demolishing the east wing and the funds raised under the auspices of building a non-approved facility should be transparently and fully shared with the American taxpayers. Any health concerns created by the demolition of the East Wing, such as exposure to lead, asbestos, and other hazardous materials, should also be documented and transparently shared as they may create a future liability for taxpayers that should be the responsibility of the individuals and firms that approved and conducted the unlawful demolition.

Thank you for placing my comment into the public record.

I object to and oppose the planned building of a multi-million dollar ballroom where an entire wing of the White House (also known as "The People's House") once existed. The previous wing was torn down before public comment, oversight, review, or approval. If it had been planned legally, we as a nation would have been allowed to witness its demolition and removal without the need for leaked photographs and sudden actions. There remains only a scar, a rip in the building meant to be one of our most dignified. Further, there is no demonstrable, emergency need to build a ballroom at a time when the country remains divided, when many are poor and frightened, many more distrustful of our government. Building a gilded hall that only the richest and most powerful will use at such a delicate time, and at such great cost, hurts us as a Nation, with Justice and Liberty, intended For All.

Sincerely,
Mary Hake

I feel strongly that this project was never legitimately authorized. It is also a misnomer to refer to it as modernization. The entire East Wing was razed to the ground with intention of building something much larger, out of proportion and for totally different purposes. I oppose the building of this completely extravagant and unnecessary structure and urge that a reproduction of the original building be built instead.

I oppose building a ballroom as the President intends. The opulance of that project is stain on our house and a stain on American history. The white house is not a palace. The East wing should be rebuilt to it's original design or a similar-improved upon design that returns offices and functionality, as well as being respectful to history. Furthermore, no one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The destruction of the east wing was heartbreaking. The White House is basically meant to be service quarters for the public servant that loves their country, not a gaudy palace. Please rebuild a classic, tasteful wing that matches the spirit and architecture of the main building with as many modernizing updates as you want. A public servant doesn't need a ballroom at their house when there are plenty of wonderful venues available nearby.

I oppose the $300 million construction of a ballroom on the site of the historic East Wing of the White House. This project was not authorized, permitted, or subject to design review, contrary to laws to the contrary. This is not a modernization, but the destruction of a place of history that would not have been allowed had proper procedures been followed.

I want to see the restoration of the East Wing structure as well as legal consequences for those who took it upon themselves to destroy it, so that a similar move will not happen in the future. No one is above the law, which needs to be held for all to be subject to.

The historic East Wing of the White House should be restored to its former glory instead of building an oversized ballroom that nobody asked for nor wants. The fact that none of the normal filings, oversight, or historical cataloguing of the contents happened before the utter destruction occurred should make this project ineligible for consideration at all. The current occupants of the White House should be held accountable for the costs incurred in rebuilding the wing since the destruction was not permitted nor approved by the NCPC nor any other licensing or regulatory body. They should also be held liable for the artifacts that were contained in the East Wing whose current whereabouts seem to be unknown.

Please do not allow the ridiculously unbalanced and oversized ballroom construction to move forward.

That this one done in service or building a ballroom that destroys the balance of White House architecture is appalling. The ballroom, and the plans for rebuilding of an eastern wing to the White House has no proper authorization

Any additions to the previous East Wing should go through proper channels and should complement the look and feel of the White House. A cheesy, hotel stye ballroom will be an embarrassment. I am writing to object to the construction of the White House East Wing ballroom. The White House does not belong to one person or administration and decisions about structural changes must be made in consultation with a larger group who represent the interests of the American people, not just that one person. The White House is a public historic monument that represents our national heritage as much or more so than other historic monuments.

There are so many more reasons that this project is wrong:
- the scale of it
- the private funding
- the overall design
- it's questionable utility (how often is there a need for a 1000 seat ballroom?)
- the expense and sustainability to maintain it

I could go on, but I'd rather stay civil. Thank you for asking!

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The White House is the People of the United States' house, and the individual occupying the office of the President of the United States is merely a tenant with no right to unilaterally change any of the White House's structures or designs. As proposed by the current administration, a 90,000 square foot ballroom is not only unnecessary but does not fit in with the remaining architecture of the White House. It is ostentatious and gauche with the feel of a Las Vegas casino or something found in one of the ornate palaces of Europe rather than the strong, stately, and dignified design of the White House. While it is understood that modern upgrades were needed to the original East Wing, this did not necessitate the tearing down of this entire wing of the White House. Restore the original size, look, and interior design of the East Wing, with modifications being done to the infrastructure (electrical, plumbing, heating, cooling, etc) and sizes of some of the rooms as deemed necessary to appropriately carry out presidential functions. The renovations should capture the architectural look, feel, and style of the existing White House rather than something at the whim of one individual, regardless of the office that person holds.

The White House is our house, not any sitting President, that can be destroyed on a whim to honor only himself in a completely unhinged decision.

And NEVER, EVER is it ok to build an inappropriately sized Ballroom to the White House. Not even if it was built beside the White House.

And Trump and his "contractors" that destroyed the East Wing are completely responsible to fund the reconstruction of the East Wing by an approved contractor selected by your organization. This is not a taxpayers responsibility however I would be more willing to fund this through taxes than other inexcusable expenses that we have recently occured.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project. It was started without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. What about the historic significance of the East Wing? A ballroom is used very infrequently, but the East Wing was something everyone could enjoy. I would like the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one should be able to destroy a historic building for the sake of excess and vanity. Restore this building as it belongs to the American people, not just one individual.

Due to the lack of proper authorization, permits, or design review, I am opposed to the spending of $300 million on the East Wing Modernization Project. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Thank you,
Chris

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project as currently proposed and urge the Commission to reject the plan until proper legal processes are followed. The project began with the demolition of a 123 year old structure before obtaining required approvals from the Commission, before completing mandatory environmental assessments under the National Environmental Policy Act, and before securing congressional authorization required by federal statute on federal parkland in Washington. The fact that demolition has already occurred does not excuse these violations or create a fait accompli that forces approval.The funding mechanism creates serious concerns about institutional independence and conflicts of interest. Please do not allow this project to proceed unless all of the prior approvals are in place and requisite laws are followed. The stately, proportional appearance of the White House is critical Thank you.

I very strongly oppose the modernization project on aesthetic, procedural, ethical, and legal grounds. Architecturally, the proposed monstrosity will completely unbalance, distort, disfigure, and overwhelm the core White House structure. Procedurally, it was a disgraceful affront to the People and the NCPC to have preemptively destroyed-the existing East Wing without adhering to the prescribed procedures for public comment, etc. The remodeling proposal also raises a host of other legal/ethical issues, including the manifest perception of “pay to play”, bribery, and political extortion. Almost every aspect of the proposal is highly problematic.

The White House belongs to the people of the United States, not to the person in temporary residence. The damage that has been done to this historic landmark is already horrific: both the East Wing and the beautiful Rose Garden have been wrecked. This very expensive "modernization" project has no plan to make it match the rest of the White House, nor is there any plan to save the beautiful features that have been so carefully tended by generations of caretakers, and that have meant so much to visitors from many nations. No permission was asked of We the People to achieve this "modernization". It is simply desecration. I want the East Wing of the White House to be restored to its previous historic appearance inside and out, also the Rose Garden. There was no reason to defile this historic building and grounds other than doing so to prove power. Please cancel this project immediately and restore the White House's East Wing to its former gentle majesty, and the Rose Garden to its previous beauty.Thank you.

It is one thing to "modernize" the East Wing. It is quite another to violently and precipitously demolish it in order to construct a monument to the White House's present, temporary occupant.

Any reconstruction of the East Wing, which is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park owned by the American people, should be in keeping with its historic design and size. It should take into account the input its actual owners (who should have been given an opportunity to comment before the initial damage was done).

The construction should be scaled back as much as possible. The ballroom is a room I will never use, and is for exclusive parties to which I will never be invited. This is the opposite of "the peoples' house." I wholly resent the destruction and planned reconstruction of this part of the White House. Pretty sure the contract letting should also be investigated. I would like to see an explanation of how that happened (as the demolition itself seemed to be a complete surprise; was there even a call for bids on this and the reconstruction? The contractor names should be publicized.)

To Whom this may concern;
I could not object to the tearing down of the East Wing more. This crooked , law breaking administration had no right to destroy this part of the People's House. This was not their property to adjust. Not one square inch. Not without proper application and process… something this administration cares nothing about , if we review their behavior. Recognizing that this was a part of a multi level strategy to realize our "powerlessness" against them, does not make it so. We are not powerless. We are mad as Hell.
This administration need to be fined, rejected , jailed, whatever it takes to send the message that this was not done property at any step, and there are consequences to pay. Please use whatever resources that are at your disposal to send the message that the unauthorized destruction of the East wing, and all of its contents was illegal and will be prosecuted. Plus, the minimum $500,000.00 fine for this irreparable and illegal action is due and payable in 10 days.

I have a massters degree in Community and Regional Planning, University of New Mexico, School of Architecture and Planning. I served municipal and county administrations over some 22 years.

Reviewing the demolition of the East Wing of the White House it seems clear that this is not a renovation or modernization project of an existing structure. There is no existing structure. The wrecking ball destroyed an important component of American History as well as destroying the beauty and architectural authenticity of the White House.

The reconstruction of the East Wing, as it was approved and permitted decades ago, is critically important to restore the balance and beauty of the original construction. The historic district of Washington, DC, stands as a testament to American history and is spectacularly beautiful architecturally. The proposed replacement structure is not to the appropriate scale or style of the East Wing as well as the entire struction of the White House. It will dwarf the rest of the structure, and destroy the visual balance so carefully planned and constructed more than 100 years ago.

Please do not approve any plans for this so-called ball room. Restore the site to the original plan.

Thank you for allowing me to comment.

The East Wing of the Whitehouse is part of the "People's house". It is US Public property, and destroying it was a crime.
The restoration should be done as part of a concentrated effort to restore the dignity of the United States on the world stage.

For aesthetics, the new design should maintain the symmetry of the Whitehouse, so the new design should be of approximately the same size as the west wing, and externally be a mirror image of the west wing. Any new design should take into account the modern needs - i.e. have sufficient power/ cooling and chaseways to run secure networks for its function.

This is NOT To be a Gaudy Ballroom that makes people vomit when they see it.

Furthermore, the cost should be born by the criminal who ordered it's destruction.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.

This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

Hello.
I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

The White House has always been a solid, somewhat humble symbol of strength and endurance of our cherished democracy. It was never intended to be an ostentatious glorification of individual power but rather a comfortable, respectful residence for whomever was serving as president of the people. As citizens we have always relied on knowing that any changes, modifications, or additions would be well thought out to maintain its stately presence for all of us rather than the whims of a single person. Please find a way to preserve and protect the quiet beauty and scale of OUR White House and prevent further destruction. Thank you.

Dear Sirs, I was shocked by the destruction of the East Wing of the White House. I do not support a ballroom being built. The use of the East Wing as the office of the first ladies is in line with our history and our hope for equality in our country. It was a horrible step away from values we strive for, and first families(I hope for a first gentleman soon), deserve a quality space to work from. Our first ladies have not been mere decoration for decades now, they have worked hard to support their President/family but also to implement useful and needed policies for Americans. We need the East Wing back!

It is very troubling that the process for making changes to a National Historic Landmark and National Park have not been followed in the case of the East Wing of the White House. i understand that modifications have been made by various presidents over time, but demolishing the entire East Wing with no notice or review is shocking. Laws and procedures should be followed. The White House belongs to the American people, not any given occupant, and the public should be consulted before wholesale destruction takes place. it is also troubling that the plans keep changing with no input from the public. It is one thing to make internal changes to a small area of the building, but to demolish a significant segment with no public process feels radical, overbearing and disrespectful.

It is also very troubling that Congress is not being asked to appropriate funds to build this new structure. Taking private donations opens the process up to mass corruption. There already seems to be enough of that going around and we certainly don't need to encourage private donors to pour money into a non-transparent pot from which they might well expect favors. it is just shocking to me that Congress would permit/encourage such potential corruption.

I HOPE there is a way not only to STOP what has been planned and done, but also [preferably] restore the East Wing and not tamper with "the people's house" --
Please disallow the plans and cut off any further destruction or replacement!

Public Comment Opposing the East Wing Reconstruction and Ballroom Addition

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed East Wing modernization and ballroom addition project currently under review.

The White House is not merely a residence. It is a nationally significant civic landmark and a central component of the symbolic and physical plan of the Nation's Capital. Decisions affecting its footprint, massing, and function must be evaluated with the utmost regard for preservation standards, long term planning principles, and the public interest.

The demolition of the historic East Wing constitutes a substantial loss to the architectural coherence and historic integrity of the White House complex. The appropriate planning response to that loss is accurate reconstruction consistent with the building's documented historic design, scale, and purpose. Reconstruction should follow established preservation frameworks, including the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Reconstruction, which are intended to restore a vanished structure as it appeared during a defined period of significance.

The proposed ballroom represents a significant programmatic and physical expansion beyond the historic character of the East Wing. Such an addition would permanently alter the scale, footprint, and spatial balance of the White House grounds. This change does not restore what was removed. Instead, it introduces a new use and massing that departs from the established historic form of the site.

Under its federal planning mandate, the National Capital Planning Commission is charged with protecting the character of federally owned land and ensuring that development within the National Capital Region reflects sound planning principles and respect for historic resources. I urge the Commission to require that any reconstruction of the East Wing adhere strictly to its historically documented specifications and to reject the proposed ballroom addition as inconsistent with the preservation and planning responsibilities entrusted to the Commission.

The White House complex is part of the enduring civic fabric of the Nation's Capital. Its reconstruction should reflect continuity, restraint, and fidelity to its historic form.

This work appears to have moved forward without proper authorization, permits, or a meaningful design review. That is not acceptable for any public project, and it is especially unacceptable at a site that carries this level of national significance.
Calling this modernization does not match what has happened. What I see is a loss of history and character that cannot simply be rebuilt later and called "the same."
I am asking that this project be canceled. I also want the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, as faithfully as possible.

President Trump had no right to raze the East Wing of the White House, the People's House. Any building on that site must have oversight and approval by Congress and the National Planning Commission. The decor inside any structure must have oversight and approval so it isn't done only as Trump would have it -- not all gold inside as he has done with the Oval Office. Exercise your authority. Do not back down.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Thank you,

Ellen Ives

Unnecessary, profligate spending. Project budget should be severely reduced. It is pointless to spend a lot of money on a building that the next adminstration could just as easily demolish.

Trump's demolition of the East Wing of the White House is a complete travesty and he must be stopped from defacement and desecrating other Federal Buildings including the White House, Kennedy Center and other historic properties.

Without the required consent of Congress or Washington Historical Association, he has at his "whim" has made independent and secretive actions to destroy our nation's monuments and he must be stopped. Trump needs be legally restrained and comply with the law. He must also cease solicitation of funds from private investors used to circumvent any and all construction in our historic capital of Washington DC.

I object to classifying this project as "East Wing Modernization" and more aptly named "East Wing Desecration"

The tearing down of the East Wing without any notice to the American Public was WRONG! The White House is supposed to be for the American People - as a living monument to be utilized by the President of the United States and their family during the time they were elected. The sitting President should not be able to tear down any Government Building without getting approval by not only the Senate and Congress but by the American Taxpayers, who help pay for the maintenance and upkeep.
With no disregard of the history of the East Wing and the White House, the current President demolished the East Wing because he wanted a Ballroom. As a person lucky enough to get 2 tours of the White house and marveled at the beauty and history of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, I'm appalled, angry and sad at what has happened.
When Jacqueline Kennedy worked on the restoration of the White House, she did it with the help of experts in all the fields of Construction, Decorators and specialized trades people. It was slow and methodical and historically accurate. It was a committee of informed and connected people whose goal was to update and restore the White House, not one man whose goal is make it as tacky and gaudy as possible.
Do not allow President Trump to destroy the White House any further.

If renovations are proposed, they need to follow the proper process, like regular folks have to follow when dealing with historic sites.

Further, there are many more important areas for our government to focus on. (Like health care and adequate housing for all) This is a waste of resources.

As a former resident of Washington, DC, I was aghast at the destructive razing of the East Wing of the White House.That a single individual, albeit a U.S. President, can simply ignore the legal process requiring proper authorization, permits, or design review in order to satisfy a personal whim is unconscionable.No one is above the law -- not even the President of the United States -- and to permit this project to go ahead without sanctioning such misconduct is a step too far. I urge the Commission to cancel the so-called modernization project and instead only authorize the rebuilding of the East Wing, restoring it to its former design. I am writing in total opposition to the East Wing Modernization. The total, needless destruction of our East Wing was done without the required oversight, established procedures and necessary permission that was promulgated to protect the historic integrity, symmetry and context of this vitality important national symbol.

The proposed structure is hideous. It is so out of proportion that it would dwarf our White House and make it appear totally irrelevant and inconsequential - as if our White House was a mere appendage to it.

The supposed purpose of this construction is so limited and unnecessary as to be laughable when compared to the alternative that has logically and successfully been employed for generations of proportional, temporary structures on our grounds when special events are required.

The nearly half a billion dollar cost is an abomination, and because the source of the funding would come from a few ultra wealthy donors, we have not been told what private use of this needless facility they have demanded.

Finally, our East Wing must be completely and immediately restored, exactly as it was designed and built, using all those portions of the historic structure that were saved. To not do so would allow and affirm the criminal disregard of our laws and necessary protections and procedures that every president has been subject to and required to comply with. No one, regardless of their power or wealth, is above the law.

Thank you for your consideration of my concerns.

I think that the east wing should be replaced with a duplicate of the original with appropriate updates for hvac, insulation, extra thick windows, heated floors and any other current clean energy options. Safety issues should be addressed such as ramps and non skid flooring as well as railing for those who need it. It is a large part of our history and needs to be a part of the American citizen as well as the needs of those who will work there. It should also be in correct proportion to the White House and the west wing. It should also be historically correct, not extra modern or too elaborate.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization project. Not only did it begin without required NCPC approval, it also has no environmental assessments as required by the National Environmental Policy Act, and congressional approval was not secured as required by federal law.

The cost, at now double the original cost, of $400 million is being funded (so we are told) by corporations which are using it as leverage on the White House to get federal contracts. This is a complete conflict of interest.

The White House belongs to the American people, not the current sitting President, whoever that may be. As such, Congress and this Commission as our representatives should reflect the people's wishes; and as those have not been sought by the administration, I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. I oppose any modernization which does not replicate the exterior of the demolished portions of the East Wing as it appeared on January 20, 2025. My opposition is based on three issues.
1. Due to the hasty demolition, a study should be made to see if the structural integrity of the core presidential mansion has been compromised and if there is contamination by asbestos or other toxic substances.
2. The proposed modernization in no way compliments the Georgian aesthetics of the previous configuration. According to the latest news reports, there is the suggestion of tampering with the West Wing portico to add a story to it like the East wing modernization. The will overwhelm the core mansion. It's architectural malpractice to do so.
3. There is no need to turn the Executive Mansion into an entertainment venue because there are many secure sites in Washington, DC, and if they are inadequate, a separate purpose-built structure with toilets, parking, coatrooms, would be better.

To the best of my understanding from media reports, the East Wing Modernization Project was not fully funded nor approved by Congress. It also has not complied with standing legislation regarding architectural reviews and permits, and has been initiated in haste at the risk of damaging numerous artifacts within the structure.

The scale of buildings in Washington DC is a closely managed issue. The proposed plan - as expressed in the limited forms made available to the public (another problem) -- seems completely inappropriate, both for the White House complex and greater historical DC landmarks as a whole.
Frankly, the use of private funds to support construction on public land should be enough to halt this project. However, if legally this cannot be implemented, please at least oversee the size/shape/overall impact of this potentially monstrous creation.

East Wing Modernization

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design paid by President trump. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding people!

I do not believe adding a ballroom where the East wing stood is a good use of taxpayer dollars. President Trump promised to decrease waste and abuse in spending. And fraud as well but this seems like he has went against all the rules and again is spending money that could be used for other things like not taxing our overtime like he promised

I am deeply concerned that the massing and height of the proposed new East Wing modernization and

White House ballroom will overwhelm the White House itself. The current plan is a monument to one man's ego, and does not represent input from the American people—owners of the White House.

According to the National Trust for Historic Preservation, of which I am a member: "The federally recognized Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation offer clear guidance for construction projects affecting historic properties. The Standards provide that new additions should not destroy the historic fabric of the property and that the new work should be compatible with existing massing, size, scale, and architectural features."

I urge you to initiate the required federal review process—with input from the public—to ensure the preservation of the historic proportions and features of the people's White House for future generations, including adherence to the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation.

The obvious question is how should Trump be held accountable? In my opinion, there should be civil penalties and monetary penalties. Trump should be publicly condemned for destroying this historic site, and he should be made to pay for its restoration from his own monies.

Please stop the construction of an enormous ballroom on the site of the illegally demolished East Wing of the White House. The White House has tremendous historical significance and meaning to the American people. Any changes to the structure should be reviewed by the appropriate government agencies in charge of preserving our public buildings. The East Wing should be rebuilt as closely as possible to the original on the illegally demolished site. If a ballroom or other new structure is needed by the current administration, it should be constructed in a new location, in accordance with local rules and with proper review.

The currently proposed ballroom is completely out of proportion to the original White House structure and is an architectural monstrosity.

The White House belongs to the people of the United States and we expect that the stewards of it respect its heritage and significance to the American people when considering any alternations.

Please reconstruct a new East Wing that is harmonious with the original structure and not an embarrassment.

Go ahead and use the best in wiring, plumbing, insulation, and windows, but please replicate the historic exterior as much as possible. If we need a bigger interior space for dining and entertaining, so be it, but please no horrid gold appliqués and nouveau riche Trumpification. It’s the People’s House, and most Americans are not ostentatious or gaudy. I think the style should be modest but dignified.

I am a 70 year old professional contractor, teacher, community leader and parent living in Olympia, WA, but born in Milwaukee Wisconsin. Having professionally restored historical homes and buildings alongside my brother, who has been doing this for over 40 years, we are horrified at the illegal, immoral and traitorous ruination of the White Hous East Wing.

After the White House was attacked and burned in 1812 by British troops, it was rebuilt and expanded in a respectful manner, retaining the function as a house and not an entertainment hall for the express purpose of supporting the ideal that it is "The Peoples House."

The blatantly egotistical and selfish effort by it's current tenant is absurd, poorly managed and the antithesis of our national intent.

My family, friends and many of our community leaders in Olympia absolutely oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. When most of us break the law there are consequences including imprisonment, making amends, but laws seem to only be an inconvenience to the powerful or arrogant present admiration.

It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

My family has spent hundreds of hours stripping paints, manufacturing damaged decorations and restoring turn of the century homes and buildings into community treasures on the Historical Registers of several states. This betrayal of history, illegal act and slap in the face of previous presidents and the American People should be stopped and those acting illegally, with a national treasure punished to the full extent of the law! I have enclosed a picture of the restored Stensrud Building in Missoula, Montana, where my brother and I brought it back when 6 months from the wrecking ball. America can and does better than this present situation. Bring our White House BACK!!!

Also, I believe the destruction of the East Wing was illegal when the administration circumvented the proper procedures for changing a national building and they should be held responsible to pay for the reconstruction of the East Wing to it’s previous condition.
In conclusion, the committee should vote NO on this self serving , vain glory project.

I absolutely am against Trump touching the White House as if it was his own property. The White House belongs to the people AND he will be OUT of the White House by 2028. Hopefully sooner. He has done many unlawful acts before entering the White House and many more since entering the White House. His pay-to-play government is unconstitutional and he needs to get his hands off the taxpayers' money and property NOW. Furthermore, because he tore down the East Wing without approval from the appropriate government officials, he should pay from his OWN pocket for the exact reconstruction of the East Wing as well as the Kennedy Rose Garden and for taking down his name that he unlawfully placed on the Kennedy Center. His mismanagement of the Kennedy Center has only led to lost revenue which he should also repay from his pockets. He has grifted BILLIONS of dollars since taking over the White House. He is an embarrassment to this country throughout the entire world.

The proposed "renovation" of the East Wing is, in fact, a complete replacement of a previously-existing wing of the people's White House. This house does not belong to the current occupant (or to any of the previous ones) but to the people of this country. The destruction of the people's property that has taken place is unlawful and inappropriate, as it was done without consultation with either the US Citizenry or with the people who are tasked with overseeing our government buildings.

Any construction planned for this site should be in keeping with the aesthetic of the original residential building, reflecting its style and proportions in a way that is deemed by specialists in historical architecture to be appropriate to this important property. The current occupant is not an expert in architectural history, and appears to be interested only in his own aggrandizement, rather than in the real needs and priorities of this nation's people.

What has been done to the East Wing so far is a travesty. The tearing down of an historic building without legitimate approval is a disaster. The plans for the replacement building as submitted overshadow and overwhelm the rest of the White House and show a disrespect for design and history. I say those responsible for this reckless abandonment of rules, law, and tradition for our nation's capitol city should replace the East Wing to its original state at the expense of those who chose to tear it down.

I oppose this project — not because I resist change, but because I care deeply about stewardship, process, and legacy.

The proposed spending feels excessive, especially given that it appears to have moved forward without thorough design review, appropriate authorization, or full permitting. That concerns me. When we alter a space as symbolic as the White House, the standard should be transparency, restraint, and respect for institutional process.

I believe the White House may very well benefit from a ballroom or event space. But if we are going to build something new, it should feel like it belongs there — architecturally, historically, and symbolically. The White House is not a blank canvas for personal preference. It is a living piece of American history. Any addition should honor that continuity, even if that means scaling expectations to fit the character of the existing structure.

Most importantly, it should be approved through proper channels — with thoughtful design review, public accountability, and bipartisan stewardship. And it should never carry the name of a current or former president. This is not a private estate or a branding opportunity. It is the people's house.

Public spaces deserve humility, not personalization. Leadership is temporary. The White House is not.

This act was an illegal desecration of a historic landmark

No permits for demolition were secured

Congress was not officially notified

Trump acted of his own volition to destroy a piece of standing history for his obvious vanity project

Not only that—since there was no real effort to secure the building vermin have been going into the WH because there was no proper containment methods used to prevent this type of invasion from outside

There are reports that the contractors—who did d not have a license to do this type of demolition work (Trump contacted them personally) were not properly compensated for their work

This is further proof that Trump acts unilaterally in both business and as presidential affairs to hold

American tax payers hostage to clean up the messes he has made in New York, Washington DC, and his personal “club” Mar-a-lago in Florida

For these actions Trump should be made to foot the bill for this “vanity” project of his because no other person who is the president of this country would do anything like this to serve his own ego and therefore is not acting as the “president” but as a citizen who has access to historical places and feels that he can do as he damn well pleases by virtue of the title of president of the United States

I stridently oppose the building of a massive ballroom which will destroy the centuries old distinguished aura of our White House and surrounding property. The proposed ballroom is an obscenity and a disgrace. Ripping out and paving over the Rose Garden was bad enough. The ballroom project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review, nor approved Congressional funding. It is NOT a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. The sitting president does not own the property but is a temporary resident who is expected to tend it with loving and appropriate care. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

The rush to gut the white house east wing took me, as it took many, by surprise. Especially given its long history, and the care of the renovation done in 1961 overseen by Jacquiline Kennedy. While the idea of an expanded ballroom to handle guests at the white house has some merit, the size and proportion should be made in a judicious manner that fits the scale of the entire property, not dwarf it into insignificance.

The White House is not President Trump's property to do with what he wants. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without significant input as to its design and construction from those with a vested interest in its history and architecture would be criminal.

I thoroughly oppose this project, which was embarked upon illegally, without the required permissions or oversight. It requires federal review. Additionally, allowing private donors to fund this project is highly questionable, allowing corporations to in effect “own” part of the People’s House and perhaps leverage their donations for preferential treatment. It’s corrupt as hell. We demand that the East Wing be restored to its previous state.

I strenuously oppose the proposed ballroom on the origina site of the East Wing of the White House. The proposed design is much too big; it overwhelms the White House volume and destroys the balance that would be possible with a smaller structure. In addition, the project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and a more modest addition designed that does not destroy the physical integrity and historic significance of the complex. As a designer and Real Estate developer, I have always had to follow the law when redoing a building. Sometimes it takes time to go through building departments and zoning, etc., and yes, it's frustrating, but it is the law. In the end, the results are worth it.

I resent that our president didn't have to go through the same legal channels that were required of me.
It is upsetting to see pictures of the demolition. How does this look to the world, that it was not done with the proper authority?
I think the East Wing should be modernized, but with a historic look that is integral to the message of the "people's house".
I suggest oversight and that the replacement building be regulated through the normal channels of historic buildings.

This is not his house, it is our house and the amount of money he has spent on this illegal act is outrageous illegal and a slap to all of our faces. He has no right to do this, to tear up the rose garden to tear down the historical east wing, and to push his fascist golden ballroom on us. He must not be allowed to go further with this rape of our history. No to this and make him pay for the rebuilding of our east wing. This ugly ballroom must not be allowed. We demand that it be canceled. He is a criminal tearing down our history, our landmarks, the truth. He must be stopped and made to pay the consequences for this outrageous act of vandalism.

do not need this ballroom and it is a huge boondoggle. The money collected should be used to track down the history lost, to finish the rebuilding of our house, and any extra can be given to those who are hurting from this administration's policies. My concerns about the modernization project range from the lack of transparency regarding design to the range and scope of an unneeded ballroom addition. While I understand that the proposed project, which has already involved the complete destruction of the existing East Wing, is apparently no longer "proposed," this very fact is what causes me to speak up and out. This is the PEOPLE'S house. We, the people, do not need or want a 1,000-person capacity ballroom. Since the White House was erected in 1800, our presidents have successfully entertained heads of state and others in the existing White House complex. Why do WE need a monstrous ballroom in order to conduct the business of government? Why have all the presidents before this one been able to entertain guests without desecrating an historic landmark?
Are there any guardrails in place for design? Who will determine what is and isn't appropriate for this historic site? Regardless of the funding source, we, the people, should have a say in the design choices, especially now that this train has left the station. Where were the arbiters of design and permitting when this project was first announced? Was there ANY input from those who oversee construction in DC, especially that which affects historical sites?
I ask that a pause be struck; this has been a rushed process from the beginning, and I fear little to no oversight, on behalf of Americans at large, has been solicited or provided. It is time for that.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park. The American people own it. No president owns the property or its buildings. The president knowingly broke laws and implied his disdain for the citizens of this country.
To the National Capital Planning Commission: I urge you to require the following:

1. All reconstruction of the East Wing to maintain its historic design and size. Anything built on the demolition site must match the style of the original structure of the Executive Mansion, and it must be subordinate in size.

2. All reconstruction be funded only with appropriations from Congress and that no private money be allowed for this project. The American people own the land, not any one president or any corporation seeking to buy favor.

If Congress does not approve funding, and if a design keeping with the building's historical character cannot be achieved, the land should be left vacant until such time as a legal and historically appropriate design have been approved.

Demolishing the historic East Wing of the White House without review, without permits, and without Congressional oversight clearly violated the law.

Please restore the White House to its original level of representation and respect.

Functional and structural upgrades should be incorporated with aesthetics that blend with existing White House construction. The East Wing was torn down without any pre-approval, without any pre-approved plans for rebuilding, without any thought for artifacts that were in that wing, with disregard for hazmat issues, and we the people, who own The White House, are not happy. It was just revealed that someone who has no knowledge of historical design, or any renovation experience is being selected to head this rebuild. I loved being in the White House, seeing the Lincoln Memorial and visiting the Smithsonian museums. Being an American gave me a great sense of pride. Of all the changes that could be made, demolishing the East Wing to create a Ballroom is heartbreaking. I am all for change and improving our country. But adding a Ballroom, when we have had perfectly elegant state dinners for visiting dignitaries in the existing White House, is unnecessary. The White House is the people's house, and such a dramatic change should have required a national referendum. Otherwise, every four or eight years, we are subject to the whims of Presidents, whether a Republican or Democrat. Please do not allow that to happen.

Historic preservation is extremely important for us and future generations of Americans. Once historic fabric is destroyed it cannot be replicated.

Tearing the East Wing down was an insult to the American people. It's OUR house, not Trump's house.

He completely ignored the process so he could do what he wants. I think a ballroom that dwarfs the historical White House is completely inappropriate. His roccoco vision of white and excessive gold is tasteless and does not represent the people.

One of the unique things about the people's house is that it is accurately historic and modest, even humble, in its size and decoration. It represents traditional American values that project quiet strength and authentic origins, not as a monarchy, but as something built by scrappy, independent citizens.

Trump has already ruined the rose garden, imposed his imperial sense on the Lincoln bathroom that has lost its historic contex.

Please stop this grotesque project and hand whatever the east wing becomes back to its proper conservators and a legal process. Leave it up to the experts to determine its future use and construction with the permission of the American people. It's our house.

Proportion above all! DC is a place devoted to scale and proportion of avenues, circles, monuments, and buildings. This project appears too big and keeps getting bigger. It will be much harder to resize a building that throws off the scale of this complex of public buildings and spaces than it will be to correct any stylistic touches that clash with the surroundings.

Also, in hopes of constructing a place that will be secure and safe, this shouldn't be a hasty project built to please one person but rather a carefully designed state-of-the-art structure that will serve the American people.

I am against spending $300 million to build a 'ballroom' replacement for the East Wing of the White House. Donald Trump did not go through the legal process required to change it. It was not reviewed, evaluated or processed legally. I want it restored to its historical architectural exterior to reflect the history and tradition of the White House. The proposed new addition is an abomination! It overshadows the size of the White House and is an attempt to create a palace for a 'king'.

I VERY STRONGLY oppose the spending of $300 million on this ridiculous project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. Donald Trump DID NOT follow procedure as to its construction in any way. A project of this magnitude was never put before the citizens of the United States, either by direct communication or through the proper channels. It is not a modernization project but a destruction of American history. This project must be canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. Donald Trump should pay for the rebuilding since he was not authorized to do this terrible damage to one of our Nation's most Enduring Symbols of our Democracy.

I understand that every President has the right to request modifications to the White House and the grounds. HOWEVER, every president has also gone about it through the proper channels. This lunatic in the White House has no regard or respect for the policies, procedures and practices of the Executive branch working in tandem with the Legistative branch to go about business.

This autocrat MUST BE STOPPED and forced to go about official white house dealings like every other president that has come before him. He must be held accountable to the rules, and if that means his tacky gilded ballroom is stopped or stalled until he follows the rules, then please make that happen. Just like a bratty toddler who has an ipad taken away, this turd at the top must face his own consequences for his actions.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I strenuously object to the proposed ballroom. I am appalled that a part of our collective history was razed without public input, without going through the proper legal channels.

I want the building rebuilt as close to the original plans as possible. I strongly feel those who blatantly ignored the legal process should be held responsible and required to pay for all costs associated with rebuilding a historically accurate replacement.

We do not need a ballroom suitable for a king. Because the United States of America does not want, need, nor recognize the need for a king. Those who were sleeping during grammar school history need to learn about that little tiff we had with England called the American Revolutionary War.

To the Members of the National Capital Planning Commission,

I submit this public comment to object to the demolition of the White House East Wing, the addition of a ballroom, and to call for an immediate halt to any further work.

The demolition of the East Wing without compliance with established planning and review requirements is fundamentally inconsistent with the principles of the Comprehensive Plan for the National Capital. The Plan emphasizes coordinated federal planning, stewardship of nationally significant resources, transparency in decision-making, and adherence to orderly development processes. Proceeding with irreversible actions outside of these processes undermines the federal interest the Commission is charged with protecting.

This unauthorized demolition also sets a dangerous precedent. If projects of this national significance can advance without coordination, review, or accountability, the integrity of the federal planning framework—and the Commission's role within it—is weakened. In this context, it is unreasonable to assume that future submissions will be implemented as approved, or that conditions imposed through review will be respected.

The proposed ballroom similarly conflicts with the Comprehensive Plan's emphasis on demonstrated federal purpose and public benefit. There is no identified operational, governmental, or planning need for such a facility. An addition of this nature does not advance federal functions, improve public access, or serve a clear national interest, and instead further compromises the historic character of a nationally significant site.

I urge the Commission to:

* Call for an immediate halt to all related work;

* Acknowledge and address the demolition undertaken outside established planning and review processes;

* Require accountability and corrective action before considering any additional proposals; and

* Reject the premise that a ballroom is necessary or consistent with the goals of the Comprehensive Plan.

The White House is a cornerstone of the National Capital and a federal asset of the highest significance. Alterations made without coordination, compliance, or consequence erode public trust and weaken the principles of stewardship and orderly development that the Comprehensive Plan is intended to uphold.

Respectfully,
Victoria Bonasera

I am appaled at the blatant razing of a National Treasure; the East Wing of the White House. Historic home of First Ladies' offices. The public entrance for white House tours and guests. The Presidential Operations Center created in the 1940's for security. This historic part of our history has been stomped on and destroyed by a man who has little or no respect for our treasured sites and buildings. There was no submission to The National Trust. Just an unjustified destruction of a beloved building by people who are only interested in self aggrandizement and lining their greedy pockets.
I urge you to put a stop to the ridiculous ballroom and have the East Wing restored as it was. I might also ask that the unnecessary gilding of the main house be removed. It is not historic or in good taste. It's tacky and embarrassing.

I thank you for your time.

The East Wing Modernization project is a wild misnomer. This travesty is nothing more than an attempt by, what will show in the history books, the worst president of these United States. A man that would take united out of our great country's name and make it into a horrible conglomeration under a single dictator who thinks he rules this country and the world.

Not only do we not need a ballroom, but even less do we need one that is paid for by groups trying to curry favor with such a terrible person and his "friends." A true modernization could be seen as an act of progression, but this is taking us back to the gilded age and nothing more. The haves and the have nots.

Trump has already ruined the mental image of the United States, don't let him ruin its physical image any worse than he already has. Leaving a pile of rubble beside the main portion of the white house is all that it should remain until someone worthwhile enters the office.

Signed, Trevor H. Halverson

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Please reject this proposal or oppose it in the strongest terms and insist on something much more modest. The only reason any project is needed is the dictator's arrogance in demolishing part of the existing structure without approval or consultation. I am STRONGLY OPPOSED to the construction of a 'grand presidential ballroom' to replace the illegally demolished East Wing.

I call into question how the decision was made and whether safeguards for historic sites were effectively bypassed.

The East Wing demolition was not subjected to the standard review processes under the National Historic Preservation Act that typically apply to federal projects affecting historic structures, because the White House is exempt from some of those requirements.

I believe proceeding without meaningful public input, advance notice, or review by the public, taxpayers, the National Capitol Planning Commission, and all other relevant district and national planning bodies undercuts transparency and sets a dangerous and illegal precedent for unilateral alterations to key national landmarks.

I further challenge the president's broad authority over the White House and any and all future changes to it, including art, furnishings, and finishes. Private parties and private funding must be constrained and prohibited from informal and unauthorized and unfunded norms and consultations when any changes are proposed.

In addition, beyond the immediate design and process issues, I believe the proposed project is part of a larger cultural and political battle against the civic, historic, and democratic ideals which the Capitol represents to all Americans.

Moreover, I contend that replacing a wing associated with the history of the East Wing, its historical association the first ladies and their many social initiatives with a grand presidential ballroom symbolizes a shift toward elevating the executive image of the current president over shared civic history and the national symbolism of the White House.

For me, an ordinary citizen who has visited or seen the East Wing, the demolition feels like a personal loss of a "living, breathing" national home, not just a routine construction project.

For these and other more personal reasons I STRONGLY OPPOSE the construction of a 'grand presidential ballroom, and support an historic reconstruction of the original East Wing.

Sincerely,
Martin W. Waldron AIA

Hello, I am writing to ask that the East Wing of the White House be returned to its original structure as part of the People's House. This building is a national monument and does not belong to this administration. We need to protect our monuments and our country from this administration who only care about their image and their legacy.
Thank you

This is not a modernization project. It was a total illegal destruction of a major portion of the White House that belongs to the people, not to Trump! I oppose spending $300 million on this project that was initiated without proper authorization, permits or design review. It was a complete razing of an important historical element of our American history and of the House that belongs to the American people. The project needs to be cancelled and the East Wing should be restored to its former design and Trump should be forced to pay for this personally! To permit this project to proceed without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans who actually care about our history and want to see it preserved as it actually occurred. If a ballroom is needed for White House events, build it somewhere else.
Thank you.

I write in strong opposition to the proposed changes to the former East Wing by constructing a 90,000 square foot ballroom. This space represents a significant and irreplaceable component of the historic character of the White House. The proposed alterations would materially diminish its architectural integrity and undermine the preservation standards the NCPC is entrusted to uphold. Once compromised, the historic fabric of this space cannot be restored. I respectfully urge the NCPC to deny approval of this proposal.

Unless and until all required applications, reviews, and approvals are completed, the corrupt $300M ballroom must be stopped. It should only be considered as an addition, and scaled back to balance the previously existing architecture; this can only be considered after total restoration of the East Wing. And Trump should be required, personally, to reimburse the citizens to correct his violation of existing law, as restitution.

The White House is known as the people's house for a reason. It's already shameful that the east wing was torn down without approval and it's debris carelessly removed without consideration for proper asbestos remediation, no further action should occur until the proper authorities have a chance to determine its feasibility. Having the new construction paid for by private donors is not reason enough for making such drastic changes to OUR house.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States. While it is certainly true that past Presidents have left their mark on the White House and associated public properties, it must be done through proper, legal processes.

While the White House is exempt from Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act, it is still subject to regulations regarding extensive changes. The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits, and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I oppose this project as proposed, both because of the illegal nature of its initiation, and the questionable nature of the scale, scope, and funding for the project. Elevation drawings presented at the meeting are deliberately presented to diminish the size and visual impact of this structure, which will ultimately dwarf the Executive Mansion from all viewpoints. This is not a dignified gathering space for world leaders, but a convention center mimicking the palatial residences of monarchs, rather than a needful addition to the People's House.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in visual scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion, as appropriate to the preservation of historic properties.

The solicitation of private funds to to support the effort must be done with full transparency, and without implied favors or special treatment for investors. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without respect for that law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans and the rule of law in this country.

As the White House belongs to the America people, and the President is only granted temporary use of it, the President should have only an advisory role in what changes and modifications are made. The detailed decisions should be made by a panel of experts, appointed by Congress. The panel should include experts on architecture, civil engineering, American history, and political science.

Any major project at the White House should primarily serve the American people, in that it facilitates either the appropriate governance of the country, or the ability of the public to access/inform the office of President.

Political fundraising on White House grounds should be specifically and unilaterally banned. Any new project should not include space intended to be used for fundraising or campaigning. Any space that is not open to the entire public, should be reserved for use by officer-holders or staff of the US government. To ensure the entire public has access, no event shall be closed to anyone arriving for that event who is presentably dressed and behaves peaceably. Access to public events should always be on a first-come, first-served basis, excepting official emissaries of foreign nations and special guests, where “special guests” can never exceed 10% of the attendees.

No structure on White House grounds shall be named after a living person. Former Presidents must have been deceased for a decade before their names can be officially memorialized by naming of a structure or ediface.

I am disgusted by the payoffs the president is getting. The corporate funding supporting the renovation of the White House is astounding and corrupt. Furthermore, as far as I know, historic designations were bypassed. According to Public Citizens' report, "Banquet of Greed," at least 24 corporation funders of the renovation have entered into contracts with the government. Many of these funders have seen federal enforcement actions, including major anti-trust, labor rights and SEC matters, suspended by the Trump administration. As Public Citizen Co-President Robert Weissman points out, "Millions to fund Trump's architectural whims are nothing compared to the billions at stake in procurement, regulatory and enforcement decisions." This whole pay-to-play scheme has been so egregious that lawmakers are starting formal congressional investigations and are proposing legislation to block similar future shakedowns called the Stop Ballroom Bribery Act. Frankly, I think the White House should be restored for free by Trump through his personal finances...not one cent of taxpayer money to rectify the situation and the corporations should be fined at significant levels.

The destruction of the East Wing of the White House was done in complete violation of and disregard for the law and regulations governing changes to a historically and culturally significant place like the White House. The plans to replace the East Wing with a giant ballroom have been put forward at the pleasure of one person who is not entitled to make such decisions. I feel that the East Wing should be replaced with a structure that complements the aesthetic and scale of the whole of the White House. To allow a giant ballroom that overshadows the White House to be built would be absurd and obnoxous in addition to being an insult to the American people, the U.S. presidency and the city of Washington.

All laws and regulations governing the site of the White House must be rigorously followed in the process of the design and rebuilding of the site. The person who initiated the teardown of the East Wing should not be allowed to have any involvement in decisions about the replacement structure and he should be otherwise penalized for his illegal actions. Furthermore he should be required to personally pick up the cost of the replacement structure.

Remember the beautiful Rose Garden? Concrete.
Remember the beautiful East Wing? That beautiful hallway was an area of contemplation.
I oppose the spending any tax payer money on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, Donald Trump personally held liable for its destruction, the money already donated clawed into one fund to be held by the National Trust, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. Down to the last brick. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. This includes the contractors who destroyed it. Lack of understanding is no excuse. Revoke any licenses and certifications they may hold. If my neighbor did this to my home he would be arrested immediately and charged for the crime then imprisoned!!! So should Donald Trump.
Thank you for your time.

I am STRONGLY OPPOSED to the construction of a 'grand presidential ballroom' to replace the illegally demolished East Wing.

I call into question how the decision was made and whether safeguards for historic sites were effectively bypassed.

The East Wing demolition was not subjected to the standard review processes under the National Historic Preservation Act that typically apply to federal projects affecting historic structures, because the White House is exempt from some of those requirements.

I believe proceeding without meaningful public input, advance notice, or review by the public, taxpayers, the National Capitol Planning Commission, and all other relevant district and national planning bodies undercuts transparency and sets a dangerous and illegal precedent for unilateral alterations to key national landmarks.

I further challenge the president's broad authority over the White House and any and all future changes to it, including art, furnishings, and finishes. Private parties and private funding must be constrained and prohibited from informal and unauthorized and unfunded norms and consultations when any changes are proposed.

In addition, beyond the immediate design and process issues, I believe the proposed project is part of a larger cultural and political battle against the civic, historic, and democratic ideals which the Capitol represents to all Americans.

Moreover, I contend that replacing a wing associated with the history of the East Wing, its historical association the first ladies and their many social initiatives with a grand presidential ballroom symbolizes a shift toward elevating the executive image of the current president over shared civic history and the national symbolism of the White House.

For me, an ordinary citizen who has visited or seen the East Wing, the demolition feels like a personal loss of a "living, breathing" national home, not just a routine construction project.

For these and other more personal reasons I STRONGLY OPPOSE the construction of a 'grand presidential ballroom, and support an historic reconstruction of the original East Wing.

Sincerely,
Martin W. Waldron AIA

I strongly disapprove of the destruction of the East Wing and the proposed “ballroom”. This was all undertaken without proper input or approval by the American people or regulating agencies. The White House is The People’s House not the property of any given occupant.

Additionally, the cost and size of the project continue to rise. Initially it was supposed to cost 200 million dollars and is now estimated to cost 400 million dollars. I have no illusions that this will be paid for by donors. With the focus of fraud, waste and abuse in government, I see this as meeting all of those criteria.

I oppose the spending of $300 million (or more) on this project which comes from supposedly publicly unidentified private funds and without accountability to the American citizens who own this building. This project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review and the proposed massive vanity project does not fit with the size of what is left of the historical Whitehouse. Furthermore, there should have been more input from the American public about what would be done with the Whitehouse. The East Wing should be restored, or if any ballroom is built, it should be proportional to the rest of the building, and the funding should be completely transparent to the public, as should the design review, and those who already broke the law in tearing it down without review should be penalized.

To Whom it may concern,
I am against approving the renovation and ballroom plan as it has been presented. While I agree that updating a facility is a necessary part in maintaining functionality, I wholeheartedly disagree that the USA needs a ballroom to the size and scale that Mr. Trump is trying to foist onto the American public.
The design presented for the East Wing/Ballroom square footage is much too large and will cause an unbalanced esthetic to the entire building. Do not let the current design proceed to the construction phase. The National Trust for Historic Preservation and the Committee for the Preservation of the White House must have the ability to oversee and approve of the design and architecture plans of a more modest, balanced East Wing rebuild.
Sincerely,
Helen Drago-Lucas

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.

The White House belongs to the People of the United States. This unauthorized demolition of a historic property should have had many layers of approval and consent from the National Trust as well as our legislators.

(My comment includes the Rose Garden and building of the out-of-scale ballroom monstrosity that Trump wants to slap up next to the WH).

I strongly do not want this ballroom to be built. I want to see the Rose Garden and the East Wing restored as they were two years ago. I'm a DC native and lived a good portion of my adult life just blocks from the White House and have been a supporter of the National Trust and have respect for history and historic architecture—something that this developer/president does not.

This is an attempt to destabilize and distract the public from other very serious issues.

Thank you.

The unauthorized destruction of the East Wing and the ludicrous dimensions of the proposed ballroom are both offensive to the American people, who own the White House. We respect its history and the significance of it as a symbol of the people's right to elect leaders. It is a world-famous symbol of democracy. Its wanton destruction was surely illegal. How does one person have the right to destroy the People's property with no consultation.

The ballroom itself is a vanity project. Why should it overpower the main house with its size and decoration, which would no doubt be garish, as seen in the White House?

Authorities must take charge and do all that is necessary to stop this project and rebuild the East Wing as it was. Laws should be enacted to make sure this does not happen again. Presidents do not own the White House. They are tenants.

The demolition of the East Wing was a violation of law and the project as it's envisioned is illegal without this planning process.

The proposed plans reveal a tacky, single-wide-mobile-home style that’s trying to be something else and is failing. The lies that state we are “winning” simply show critically important programs are arbitrarily de-funded while this huge money-pit monstrosity continues. The original East Wing held history - real history, not this ego-driven, ugly building that we don’t need and the PEOPLE do not want. Proper guidelines were not followed, appropriate approval through the long established Park Service was neither given nor approved. I can’t support the proposed $300 million being directed toward this project, especially given that it appears to have moved forward without the necessary approvals, permits, or formal design review. This goes far beyond a simple update or modernization — it would mean dismantling an important piece of our nation’s history. I believe this effort should be halted, with the East Wing instead rebuilt and restored in keeping with its original design. Accountability matters, and allowing a project to proceed under these circumstances, without consequences for bypassing established legal processes, undermines the standards that apply to everyone.

I also had the chance to visit the East Wing during the Christmas season when Barack Obama was in office, and it was absolutely beautiful. I am so grateful to have had this experience. It breaks my heart that it has been destroyed.

I oppose the spending hundreds of millions of dollars on a ballroom on the White House grounds. There has been no proper authorization, permits, or design review. The demolition occurred without consideration of toxins being released or trying to preserve parts of it or protecting the remaining building. The East Wing should be restored to it's former design, with modern convivences allowed for electronic technology, etc. We do not need a presidential ballroom, we don't need a palace. There are plenty of venues the Washington DC area which have built their businesses around providing all the services a ballroom requires. Not only has our history been destroyed, but the prospect of removing revenue from local businesses needs to be considered.

The East Wing Modernization Project is a travesty to the American people. It started without any approval from Congress while destroying the very wing where the First Ladies conduct their business. It must be stopped immediately.

The East Wing should be restored to it's original state as soon as possible.

Hello.

The east wing should have never been destroyed and so should be restored, at Donald Trump's expense, to it's former form and function. Upgrades should also be performed as deemed necessary by the commission, paid for by Donald Trump as well, in the form of payment for punitive damages. Donald Trump destroyed public property, and I believe if any other citizen commits such a crime, they would be made to make restitutions and pay punitive penalties.

Furthermore, erecting an arch on the taxpayers' dime, and in the people's capital, must not proceed without the people's permission.

As I live and breathe, I wonder just how much corruption are we, the people, expected to tolerate?

Yours truly,
BTOwens, DVM

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project. The initial demolition was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a "modernization project" but rather a complete razing of American history.

The project is a personal self-aggrandizement effort by the current president, and is an attack on the history of our first ladies, who historically had their offices in the East Wing. To attempt to replace that site with an ugly, oversized, and unnecessary ballroom is completely disgraceful and disgusting.

I am opposed to the White House Ballroom/offices project in its current design. Critics and historians fear the massive structure will "overwhelm" the historic White House, destroy its historical significance, and represent a "monument to vanity", as do I. I am concerned about the lack of Congressional approval for a project of this scale. I also object to the project not being reviewed by the historical association. I think it will also be a security threat. The massive windows invite bad actors to take advantage of our leadership and guests on display. Furthermore, the graft and financial chicanery accompanying the funding are infuriating. Donald Trump is taking advantage of the project to enrich himself. Please do not allow this building to ruin the President's House.

It was horrifying enough for the East Wing to be illegally demolished. The ONLY thing that should be built in its place is an EXACT replica of what was torn down. The "People's house" does not need an oversized, gaudy ballroom. The ballroom project should not b approved under any circumstances. Fines should be handed out to whoever approved the demolition.

As a 64 yr old woman from Iowa, I cannot tell you how upset I am that this was allowed to be demolished and will be further furious if a gaudy ballroom is built. I do not care who pays for it, it MUST NOT BE BUILT.

Do the right thing and do not approve this project.

Tearing down the East Wing of the White House is not the sole decision of the current resident-----The White House belongs to the citizens of the United States and we allow the President to live there. That person reports to US and any drastic changes need to be presented to US before such attempts are made. This was definitely not done and the American People are now left with a memory of what once was. The East Wing should be restored to its natural beauty and, if upgrades are necessary due to modern building codes, so be it. Don't erase OUR history. Thank you.

Hello,
Recently I attended a meeting of the Commission of Fine Arts at which the members discussed the East Wing project with the architect. I learned that the ballroom would extend 300 feet (a full football field's length) in front of the White House. Also, the architect was asked to provide a physical scale model of the proposed design which should be available to the National Capital Planning Commission for your review.

Like many other private citizens, I object to this grandiose addition which is completely out of scale with the setting and other buildings in the area. Please ask the architect to go "back to the drawing board" and follow through with the advice of the public in redesigning a suitable ballroom for this historic setting.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment,
Fran Bowman, California

The White House, including east and west wings, is an historic building. And although it might need updating from time to time, that should be accomplished with careful consideration to properly maintain it for posterity. Tearing down a portion of it, seemingly on a whim, should be illegal and punishable under the law. Forget the ballroom. Rebuild the White House East Wing with any appropriate updating necessary.

I felt privileged to visit the White House, a treasure belonging to all the people of the United States. Any significant change should be designed and constructed according to proper procedures. No one, not even the president, should have sole power to make those changes. Furthermore, theproposed ballroom is out of proportion to the rest of the structure. Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this. And we can help.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Anara Guard's comment on this is beautiful. She gave me permission to post it here, if anyone wants to use her language.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

I am very saddened see that the East Wing was allowed to be destroyed in the first place. The White House is the People's House and it's heartbreaking to know that no one did anything to stop this. I want this part of the White House to be restored back to what it was before. We do not need all of the gaudy gold included, just the elegance that was there prior the destruction. Since the billionaires have already donated the money, that money needs to be used to restore it. We don't need a ballroom. Thank you.

To whom it may concern:

I stand firmly against the $300 million being allocated to this ballroom project, which was launched without proper authorization, permits, or design review. This is not modernization — it is the wholesale destruction of OUR American history. I am calling for the immediate cancellation of this project and the restoration of the East Wing to its original design. No one is exempt from the law, and allowing this to proceed without holding those responsible accountable would be a grave injustice to every American who plays by the rules.

Thanks,

Michelle

I wish to enter my very strong disapproval of what has been done to the White House (the People's House) by Donald Trump.

He had ho authority to destroy the East Wing, and has no authority to put up a monstrous Throne Room for himself in its place. The scale of his proposed change is totally out of line with the simple, classic Federal Design of the White House and must be stopped. Please do not let him do this to our treasured White House. He does NOT own it, and will not be there for long. . If he is allowed to go forward with this monument to his ego, it will just have to be removed the second he is gone.

Sincerely, Kenneth Gerhardt, [redacted]

Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.
The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Hello. As an Amrican citizen, I STRONGLY oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was recklessly initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review by our greedy, narcissistic current President. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete raping and razing of valuable and venerable American history. This egotistical, laughable, ridiculous project should be canceled immediately, and the East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its former design, with the Prrsident paying the cost, not the American tax payers! No one is above the law. NO ONE. To permit this project to proceed, even with penalizing those who broke the law, would be an insult and a crime committed against all law-abiding citizens of the U.S., including me.

PLEASE respect our history and protect it.

I strongly oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing and the construction of a new ballroom in its place. The East Wing is more than an architectural feature, it is a space deeply connected to the legacy of American women who shaped public life and national history. From First Ladies who used the East Wing for press conferences, advocacy, and outreach, to generations of women staffers, journalists, and citizens who carved out a place for their voices there, this part of the White House represents progress and participation that should be preserved, not erased.

To spend $300 million on a vanity project funded by private donors, without proper authorization, public input, or design review, is a misuse of both process and principle. This is not modernization; it is destruction. The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored, with attention to the women's history it embodies. No one, however wealthy or well-connected, is above the law or the stewardship of our shared national heritage.

The White House is a national monument. While it is home to the elected president, he lives there temporarily. It's not his personal address. Presidents have made structural changes in the past. President Truman made such changes to the building and received a lot of criticism at the time, but that project was to make the building safer. It was not a vanity project. Creating a ballroom on the taxpayer is totally inappropriate. To do it on donations from billionaires? That's even worse. It's the People's House. It belongs to us.

The proposed demolition of the East Wing of the White House—and its replacement with a donor\u8209 -funded "ballroom" backed by tech billionaires—represents a profound breach of public trust and a direct threat to America's historic heritage. The National Trust for Historic Preservation is right to fight this, and every American who values the rule of law and the preservation of our national identity should stand with them.

I strongly oppose the allocation of $300 million for this project. It was launched without the legally required authorization, permits, or design review—processes that exist specifically to protect national landmarks from reckless alteration. Calling this a "modernization" is misleading. It is not an update or improvement; it is a wholesale destruction of an irreplaceable piece of American history.

This project must be canceled. The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its original architectural design, honoring the craftsmanship, symbolism, and national significance that it represents. No individual, donor group, or administration is above the law. Allowing a project of this scale to proceed without accountability for the violations already committed would undermine every principle of fair governance and send the message that wealth and influence can override the legal protections that safeguard our shared heritage.

Defending the East Wing is not merely about preserving a building—it is about preserving the integrity of our institutions and the rule of law that binds us together as a nation.

Dear Members of the National Capital Planning Commission,

I am submitting this comment for your March 5 meeting regarding the proposed East Wing modernization and ballroom addition to the White House complex.

I strongly oppose this proposal.

The White House is one of the most historically and architecturally significant structures in the nation. Its proportions, setting, and architectural integrity are central to its symbolic and civic importance. A substantial addition—particularly one that alters the scale or character of the complex—risks permanently changing a landmark that should be preserved with exceptional restraint.

My concerns include:
• Compatibility with historic character: The White House complex is not an open canvas for expansion. Any large new addition threatens the established massing and visual harmony of the site.
• Long-term precedent: Approval of a major structural expansion could lower the threshold for future alterations, gradually eroding the historic integrity of the complex.
• Necessity and proportionality: Functional or ceremonial needs should be evaluated against less intrusive alternatives before introducing new construction of this scale.

The Commission plays a critical role in safeguarding the long-term planning and historic character of the nation's capital. I hope these responsibilities remain central to your deliberations.

Thank you for considering my comment.

One person cannot decide what our heritage is and how public buildings should look. We have systems to decide these things. A bull in a china shop is not the right method.

The man who decided to destroy the East Wing has immunity because the Supreme Court using "originality" for a pretext found that the Constitution wants that. He will never suffer the consequences of this illegal act.

I remind the Commission that the White House is the House of the People and any and all "Projects" should be approved by both the Commission and the Congress of the United States. I urge the Commission to demand that the historical East Wing be restored to its original beauty and just because it has already been demolished should not in any way mean that it is too late. There was a legal process to follow and the current Administration has, once again, believed that the law does not apply to them. Please assure the citizens of the United States that you will make it clear to this President that the White House is OURS.

I strongly oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. I oppose the razing of the East Wing and the use of taxpayer dollars for a new building that was not authorized by the people through their representatives in Congress.

This reckless act of destruction of a portion of the people's house must never be allowed to happen again. No administration should ever be allowed toe take it upon themselves to act without proper approval and procedures for permitting, etc. Not a penny more of new taxpayer money should be spent on this boondoggle. And certainly not a $400 million gigantic ballroom that will dwarf the existing historic White House. To rebuild the East Wing, let the administration find the money from all the secret accounts they have set up or the bloated Homeland Security budget.

My Friends,
Thank you for the opportunity to comment about the 'East Wing Modernization' Project.

I do not want our hard-earned taxpayer monies used on this project, and object in every way to the lawless and unconstitutional removal of the East Wing.
This has been a complete travesty, and an act of self-aggrandizement, which is an affront to law-abiding taxpaying citizens of the United States of America.

The East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to it's original design (with modern plumbing and heating/cooling codes in place), and that the person who ordered it removed pay for it with his own funds (not gained from the US Taxpayers), and in addition shall be fined heavily for ignoring and not obtaining proper planning permissions, and in ignoring the sanctity of The People's House, i.e. The White House.

The planned construction of a 'Ballroom' shall also be forfeited, and never built.

Thank you,
Nadine Zdanovich

I oppose the spending of $300 million to build a giant ballroom where the East Wing once stood for the following reasons.
First, this is an unauthorized action: The project lacks proper authorization, permits, or design review.
Second, it is a form of cultural destruction: The project amounts to the destruction of American history.
This is also a question of accountability. Allowing the project to proceed sets a precedent that violates the rule of law.
I demand that the project be canceled and that the original design of the East Wing be restored.

Remember the East Wing of the White House? We the People remember….

I oppose the spending of $300 million or and additional private or public funding on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. A ballroom that will dwarf The People's House is not a modernization project. It is a complete razing of American history. The White House is our history, its grounds gently curated by design.

No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. This abomination of a POTUS has got to be stopped. Never have we had a convicted felon occupy the most important and influential office in the free world. This deliberately illegal destruction of part of The People's House - not HIS house - is a metaphor for much more damage to come. US Citizens want affordable housing, groceries, healthcare, childcare and to be able to retire peacefully - NOT a ballroom for the ultra wealthy, corrupt big business and conmen….who should be, but are not, paying their fair share of taxes. I, along with most of the country, am saddened, disgusted and disapprove of not only the ridiculous waste of money and resources to - AGAIN, ILLEGALLY build this ballroom, but more to the bulldozing of our history, democracy and rule of law. The Trump administration has ignored the laws put in place for so many things, that this ballroom project seems to matter less, but is emblematic of many of the gross injustices being carried out by the Trump administration.

I object to the demolition of the East Wing and the proposed ballroom for multiple reasons.

First, the haste at which the demolition occurred almost certainly means that environmental and other protection measures were ignored, causing untold damage to both the environment and the workers who have and will participate in this demolition and rebuilding. An investigation should determine the extent of toxic debris that was hauled away; some of which was deposited onto a nearby public golf course. Since there is ongoing, blatant disregard for public safety, there needs to be an independent body given the authority to review the environmental damages, impose and collect fines and monitor the new construction with the authority to stop all work if further laws are violated.

Second, congress must require full disclosure of funding, determine if there is any violation of the Emoluments Act or favors granted (quid pro quo) and put in place a fiscal manager appointed by a judge for the entire project.

Finally, while the damage is done and the historic East Wing has been destroyed, there is no need for a 90,000+ square foot ballroom at the White House. Let this empty space be just that, empty. It can be turned into a space that the people can visit. If not, then certainly rebuilt to reflect what was lost and to serve the people.

It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. It is also tacky as all get-up, and will embarrass the entire nation in front of the rest of the world. The $300-500 million dollars in bribes that it will cost will be as much a lasting insult to national decency as this farce of a project.

I want this project stopped immediately, all related contracts canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. The bribes already collected may be put to that purpose, and the rest financed by fines to those pledging these illegal bribes.

It is not too late to stop it—the excuse by the way used by tRump throughout his ling career of breaking real estate laws, ignoring preservation orders, and violating the public order and all standards of decency.

The East Wing should be rebuilt to its original design. Do not believe it would have been approved for a ballroom. There is one person who made this decision. We have survived decades and decades without a ballroom. This is part of our history and belongs to the people of this country and history should be preserved at all costs for our future generations And tax money should not be used to fix this egarious decision. This should be paid to restore by the person who made the decision. Maybe a good court battle is due. I want the East Wing restored to all its glory! Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

If you cannot bring yourselves around to completely oppose this and want it to go on then it should be no larger than the current footprint of the East Wing which was demolished without permission. If a ballroom is eventfully built it should not be 90,000 square feet as proposed but no larger than half of the White House (55,000 square feet) and made in the style of the White House and not gold and marble as proposed by President Trump. The White house belongs to the American Citizens and not President Trump, as he is just an occupant while serving as our President and ad no right to do this.

Like many Americans I was appalled when the current administration destroyed part of the White House, i.e. the East Wing. I would like to see it restored in a way that honors it's history and provides upgrades to support the functions it has always provided, working space for First Ladies and others and an entryway for guests. I believe it is important that the East Wing's replacement fit in style and size the rest of the White House, not overshadow it.

The White House is a home for presidents and their families and working space for the president and others in his administration. The White House is not, nor should it be, a convention center, for hosting huge extravagant parties for the wealthy. This would NOT represent our democracy, a government for the people. And a huge "ballroom" would lie unused most of the time serving only to diminish the beauty of the White House and it's grounds. Proportionally and by function a ballroom does not make sense. An updated East Wing with office space should compliment the rest of the White House and grounds not diminish it.

If I believed for one second that this was truly a “modernization” project, I might be inclined to let the experts decide the best path. However, the East Wing has been demolished for the glorification of one man’s ego alone and that is a tragedy of unbelievable magnitude. Not only should the “President” be prevented from continuing this travesty, he should be made to pay for the complete restoration of the East Wing from the billions of dollars he has grifted from the American People. Period. Thank you.

I demand that the East Wing be restored to its former design, with possible technology upgrades as needed. I am writing to express my opposition to the East Wing Modernization proposal. This project design which you are being asked to approve is the direct result of the razing of an historic structure without proper authorization, permits, or design reviews. I ask you not to condone this travesty by being an enabler to these probable legal violations.

Further, the proposed design itself is aesthetically and architecturally outrageous. The North facade dwarfs the Executive Mansion and is not symmetrical with the existing West Wing. Symmetry and proportionality are key elements of architecture from the late 18th and early 19th centuries. This design violates both principles.

You have the authority to demand the the design be redone, restoring symmetry and proportionality to the White House complex. I hope you do so. Thank you for considering this Citizen's plea.

As a museum and preservation professional with 25+ years experience, I was deeply disappointed when the East Wing was destroyed without proper opportunity for public input or official approvals. I am grateful now to have the chance to say that what replaces the East Wing must be proportional and stylistically appropriate to its surrounding structures--namely the White House. I oppose both the overwhelming size and the ornate style of the proposed ballroom. As an American, I appreciate that we reside in a democratic republic and most definitely not a kingdom and our architecture and interior decor should reflect that aspect of our identity. Please respect the representative size and style set by the White House. Sincerely, LeAnna Schooley

The design I've seen - which is ever growing - is abominable. Far, far too large and not in keeping with the White House esthetic. The excessive use of gold is ostentatious at best, embarrassing at least. Trying to compete with Versailles makes the USA look desperate, weak, and tasteless. Please don't allow this ugly symbol of greed and stupidity to move forward. Reduce the size and cost at a minimum to something that blends with and enhances the existing historic structure.

Thank you for opening this project up for public comment. There comes a time when building modernization is required, pipes get old, a roof leaks, a foundation starts to fail, or many other senecios I could name. This modernization project does not fall into one of those scenarios. The White House has a space used as a ballroom, and it has served as such for many presidents. If a new ballroom is requires then facts should be presented and a case made. The proposed space is unnecessary and overly extravagant. The White House is not a palace and the president is not a king. The renderings I have seen remind me very much of the French Renaissance not 2025. Also there is no reason for a new ballroom to be larger then the White House, the new construction should compliment the existing buildings and not overwhelm them. Besides the design, the money reported spent on this renovation is obscene and could be put to far better use.

The part of all of this that, for me, is so tragic, is that the East Wing has already been torn down and cannot be recovered.

I would like to write in opposition of any further work being done on this project, unless it is to rebuild it as it was before being demolished. If there were modernizations that were needed for safety or security, THAT should have been brought before the appropriate channels. It is appalling that it was done so surreptitiously and so quickly. Any money “donated” to build it should have to be made public as to whom it is from. We cannot have unknown persons currying favor for their donation. That is unsafe and corrupt. Out of all the questionable and norm breaking things this administration has done, this one was maybe the biggest gut punch to me. The East Wing? Just torn down like it was nothing. With no public comment or input of historic committees and such. Very unAmerican.

The proposed design does not follow design norms and will dwarf the existing building. An addition should be sympathetic to the original building, not overwhelm it. As an experienced professional who has been working in historic preservation for almost 30 years it broke my heart to see the history and architectural beauty of the East Wing carted off to a landfill. Many elements could have (and should have) been saved and reincorporated into the new design. If the Certificate of Appropriateness application with this design came to my local Board of Architectural Review, it would be rejected since it does not follow the Secretary of the Interior Guidelines for Rehabilitation or the Treatment of Historic Properties. I find it unbelievable that one of the most well-known National Landmarks in the country might not be held to the same standards that the Board of Architectural Review in Anytown, USA would apply to the paint colors in Mr. Jone's COA.

The East Wing Modernization Project is an appalling waste of money as the building belongs to the public and is a seriously important historical building of long standing importance to the citizens of the United States. Anyone damaging a public historical building should be criminally charged for the damage and held accountable for skipping the rules to hurry something through they knew would never be approved. I personally consider the loss of any part of such a building not just worth prison time (no exception for wealth or rank) but permanent banning of being allowed in any other public building and should be facing criminal imprisonment as part of any fines for the damage to be taken from them.

For instance, take said funds directly from any fund being set aside for other money wasting construction such as a Presidential Library. Taking all but a tenth of such gathered funds and property (such as planes) should be enough for the restoration and reconstruction of such an edifice as what has been removed. No cheap replacements with 'gold' or other added elements not found in the original workings would be acceptable. To do otherwise is to say what the people own in this government (both history and recreational) is not worth a newspaper to avid criminals.

I oppose this project on the grounds that it was begun without any of the necessary design review, impact statements, permitting or spending authorization that is required for a major renovation of a historical site. The White House is not the property of the occupant -- who is, in the Constitution's scheme, merely a temporary custodian of the property. The White House belongs to the American People and the proper authorities and procedures must be respected in order to meet the obligations of law. Allowing this project to proceed any further would be to allow further desecration of an historic site, one that deserves preservation, not destruction. The only appropriate action is to cease all work on the project and to rebuilt the East Wing as it stood before its unlawful destruction. To do anything else would be to abandon all historic preservation because of presidential whim. No one is above the law and to condone the East Wing's destruction is an assault on the rule! of law.

I hope that any modernization that is done is ONLY begun with prior approval (oops too late for this one). The White House is a National Landmark and the Trump project to draw in donations that act as thinly veiled bribes to create a monstrosity that is out of character, diminishes that architectural beauty and has caused many beloved previously approved and built enhancements to be arbitrarily destroyed is unconscionable. Please STOP this stream-roller AND require that the damage done is all replaced with an approved plan and considerable non-partisan oversight.

I am concerned not only about the absurdity of building a gigantic ballroom to replace the space previously used by First Ladies but about the precedent this project has set. If the occupant of the White House can simply demolish any part of the People's House based on nothing more than his/her whim, it suggests that the building is not owned by the people but by the current occupant; it's as if a renter decided to tear down part of an apartment without even notifying the landlord. And it raises the question of where the line is drawn; if this can be torn down without public discussion or review, what other public building might be next?

Also, funding the project with donations from billionaires is tantamount to handing them the keys. And the fact that the cost has ballooned from $200 million to as much as $400 million suggests that not enough thought was put into the needs and design of the project in the first place.

I am opposed to increasing the size of the East Wing of the White House. The White House, for me, is an iconic historic building. The balanced design would be offset by building a larger wing which to me would ruin the historic nature of the building, its symmetry, and symbolism. I am affronted that the wing was torn down without proper review and input. For that reason alone I believe that the project should be terminated and the old wing restored to its original state.

I am equally opposed to the building of the party hall next to the White House. This structure will dwarf our White House and detract from its significance. If the "party hall" is truly needed, and paid for by donations it should be built away from the White House and have prior approval.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide public comments regarding the "East Wing Modernization Project. I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. The United States Government has been leading the free world for a very long time and has been able to do this without a ginormous ballroom. The executive branch of government does not need this. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. It shows the lack of respect that the current executive branch has for the history that comes with the office. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. As this was clearly and publicly directed by the sitting President of the United States of America, Donald J. Trump, I would expect that he is held personally liable for the funds required to restore the East Wing to it's historic glory. This was not a lawful act of the office of the President, so the funds should not be a burden on the public.

I previously Commented on the East Wing project and am now commenting on the proposed Ballroom construction. Ideally, approval should be declined on the basis that it is completely unnecessary. The government's purpose is not to throw large lavish parties save for state dinners which the existing WH has easily accommodated for decades. If Trump wants to throw large lavish parties for his donors or fellow autocrats he may do so at MAr a Lago. It is irrelevant that money is being raised privately. The WH is the People's House and the People have never requested that the WH have a ballroom. Aesthetically, the design is too large and out of scale with the central colonnade and this diminishes the central colonnade as the focus of the building. Furthermore, the larger it is the more it will cost to tear it down after Trump is gone.

This "modernization" project is not about modernization. Rather, it is about personal ego gratification and aggrandizement by one person. The use of public money for this project would be a travesty. And the use of donations brings the stench of corruption, as wealthy donors compete with each other to curry the administration's favor.

The best course now is to freeze activities until we can have some accountability about how this embarrassing travesty every happened. We do not need a new ballroom.

First - this discussion should have happened prior to the President demolishing the entire East Wing of the White House. I am concerned about what happened to historic architecture, art, and furnishings that were housed in the building.
Second - the sheer scale and enormous cost of the proposed ballroom is ridiculous. It is entirely too large and not within the historic style of the White House.

Donald Trump has already gone beyond legal limits by tearing down the East Wing. Whatever replaces it should be no bigger in size than the original East Wing and provide for the same uses as previously existed. This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.

Dear National Capital Planning Commission,

I am opposed to the current president’s idea of East Wing Modernization. Without any permissions he destroyed another Historic part of the White House. Jackie Kennedy’s rose garden being replaced with a gaudy outdoor patio was bad. Ripping apart the East Wing as quickly as possible without following any of the rules was an even worse mistake.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I was appalled at the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least, the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability. The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

I want this project cancelled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design.

Thank you.

During my youth, we had class trips to the White House. It stood as a bastion of truth, hope, and the power of the American People. As a child, I believed the President was the man who loved America before anything else and wanted all of us to not only be proud of her, but also to protect her the way we were protected every day by our law enforcement, our system of checks and balances, and our desire to do better for the next generation. This regime, governed by a known felon driven by ego and base personal filth, has decimated the reputation of position of President, the core values of the American public, and integrity of our legal system. He lawlessly and smugly destroyed property that did not belong to him. If an every day citizen did such a despicable thing, they would be arrest, charged, and jailed or forced to pay restitution. This president steals our money and puts it in his own coffers. He is NOT above the law. The White House MUST be restored to its original configuration and respectable interior. Even King Midas would be horrified at what has been done to the most important of our historic homes.

I am saddened by the sudden destruction of part of our historic White House, the East Wing. This razing was accomplished without review or permission. Since no one is above the law, I think Mr. Trump should pay for the restoration of the East Wing as it was, a distinctive part of the People's House. I disapprove of the idea of building a huge ballroom that would dwarf the other buildings in the complex. Please restore the East Wing and the White House to its previous glory. Thank you for your consideration.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the East Wing Modernization Project (#8733). The demolition of the historic 1942 East Wing and the Jacqueline Kennedy Garden represents an irreparable loss of American heritage. A 90,000-square-foot ballroom is fundamentally incompatible with the scale of the Executive Mansion and permanently alters the character of this National Historic Landmark. I urge the Commission to reject the current scale of the proposal and prioritize the preservation of the White House's historical integrity over the construction of a disproportionate event space.

This articulates ALL the reasons this project was illegally executed.

The East Wing has been demolished with little to no oversight nor any environmental review as required by the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). The White House and grounds are a National Park and a National Historic Landmark owned by We the People.
This public comment period is a legally required process. According to your website, the public comment process is one of several safe guards to "ensure transparency, accountability, and meaningful public input". Major construction projects in DC must be reviewed by NCPC and CFA and they must comply with NEPA as well as receive congressional approval. The Trump administration has ignored the laws put in place for so many things, that this ballroom project seems minor in the scheme of things. Still, I am compelled to voice my opinion. Maybe someday, there will be accountability.
I object to the project for these reasons:
1. The administration should be held accountable for violating NEPA during the demolition. Fines need to be imposed for this negligence. An investigation is needed to determine the extent of toxic debris that was hauled away; some of which was deposited onto a nearby public golf course. Since there is ongoing, blatant disregard for public safety, there needs to be an independent body given the authority to review the environmental damages, impose and collect fines and monitor the new construction with the authority to stop all work if further laws are violated.
2. Congress, CFA and NCPC must require full disclosure of funding, determine if there is any violation of the Emoluments Act or favors granted (quid pro quo) and put in place a fiscal manager appointed by a judge for the entire project. If this cannot be set in place, the project cannot move forward.

3. There is no need for a 90,000+ square foot ballroom at the White House. Let this empty space be just that- a place that tells its own story; what it was, and how it was illegally demolished- a monument to how not to do things.
4. I will repeat- There is no need for a 90,000+ square foot ballroom at the White House. If something is to be built, let it truly be the "People's House". Build a structure for the people- something that celebrates who we are, not who the billionaires are. Make it a place where children and families can come to visit- maybe a revolving Smithsonian exhibit or an arboretum or maybe an art museum (you can never have too many). Build it to scale so that it doesn't overpower the original White House structure. Include some meeting rooms and offices but make it something we can all have access to.

"East Wing Modernization Project"?! How can you modernize something that has been destroyed?

This project must be decisively cancelled. It was a crime that the President illegally tore down an historic wing of an historic federally owned building with no permission, no permit, and no plan.

I hope that the East Wing will be rebuilt at some point, in some fashion. But NOT as a gargantuan gilded monument to one man's vanity, an unnecessary, ahistorical, poorly planned (that is giving it too much credit - it was not planned at all, not designed by an architect, went through zero periods of public comment or approval, and is a largely imaginary phantasm) abomination.

There is a long, thoughtful, interesting discussion to be had about how to restore the desecrated White House. That discussion must in no way involve its desecrator. Whether to recreate a 125-year-old building or design an appropriate new one is going to be a fraught and fascinating argument, and I look forward to it, though I lament the unforgivable crime that prompts it. Trump must have no role and no say in this decision. It is a question for the American public, for American architects and designers and historians, to take up, with deliberation and responsibility and historical context and environmental care - qualities and values that our current president is incapable of.

First, any upgrades to the White House and in this case, the East Wing of the White House, should go through the process that is in place for making needed changes. The ballroom planned by this administration, dwarfs the White House. The White House should not be dwarfed by any wing or adjacent building. It is an iconic symbol of our country.

Second, the East Wing is historic. Women were the first to protest in front of it prior to getting the right to vote. It should be treated like an historic dwelling and steps should be taken to restore the East Wing as closely as possible to the original with upgrades and at a cost to the current President who ignored the rules for making such changes. Please do the right thing by the people and don’t charge tax payers for what this administration has done to the White House. Thank you.

As a retired U.S. history and political science teacher I was appalled to see the East Wing destroyed. The White House belongs to the American people and each president is only a temporary resident there. The current space is adequate to host large gatherings. The focus of each president should be bettering the lives of average Americans like me, not to host huge parties for the wealthy and well-connected of this country. The fact that the proposed ballroom is so much bigger than the original White House is horrifying. The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

For us those of us in the public, the entire conception of the ballroom appears to be nothing but a vanity project. I can see him throwing similar parties for himself at the White House as we see in the news from Mar-a-lago, expect these parties would be funded by the taxpayers. I want to see our tax dollars going toward initiatives that benefit the public, as many of the initiatives that our former

First Ladies of the East Wing had championed did not long ago. The United States government is not a members only club. No branch of the government should be operated as such.

For any projects moving forward - I am adamantly against the use of private funds in any of the construction, decoration, or any stage of this project. That immediately signals that the White House is no longer "the people's house". It sognifies that this is a palace meant to reject the common people. It signifies we the people have no rights and no say. That attitude is already blending itself into too many places in our country and is a cancer that should not be fed.

I vehemently oppose this project in its entirety and expect the NCPC to protect the PEOPLE's HOUSE from the current lawless and treasonous administration.

The White House is federal property, and structural modifications must comply with statutes governing federal real estate regardless of funding source. 40 U.S.C. Chapter 31 governs public buildings management, while 18 U.S.C. § 1361 prohibits willful damage to federal property. Private financing does not eliminate these obligations because the property remains federally owned and legally protected. Demolition reportedly commenced before formal submissions were filed, in clear violation of the governing statutes.

The National Historic Preservation Act mandates review for federal undertakings affecting historic properties. Section 106 of the NHPA, overseen by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, requires assessment of effects on historic properties, consultation with preservation officials and stakeholders, public comment opportunities and consideration of alternatives to avoid or mitigate harm. Demolition and rebuilding in the manner that has been demanded is NOT what the American people want and is not in keeping with the Historic character of the building .

The National Capital Planning Commission reviews federal development in the capital region under 40 U.S.C. §§ 8701-8737. The administration apparently argues demolition falls outside NCPC jurisdiction. Legal experts counter that demolition enabling new construction is inherently part of that project and requires integrated review. Separating demolition from construction to avoid oversight undermines the purpose of planning law and is inherently underhanded. The current administration is making every attempt to undermine the NCPC at every turn, because they know they are circumventing the law (at best) and outright breaking it at every turn.

The National Capital Planning Commission MUST issue cease-and-desist orders, refuse permits for subsequent construction phases and initiate formal Section 106 compliance reviews. YOU WORK for the PEOPLE of the UNITED STATES and WE expect you to DO YOUR JOB ACCORDING TO THE LAW, NOT the current lawless administration. Put an end to this nonsense and restore the EAST WING IN ITS ENTIRETY, exactly as it was.

I am opposed to this project for so many reason. Our country is founded on a system of checks and balances. To allow this to have happened is an atrocity. I want the Easy Wing Restored to its former grandeur and I want the people behind the demolition of the former East Wing to be prosecuted for not following correct process.
Nothing that has to do with our government system should be allowed to be privately funded- this just leads to “favors” being called in. This is NOT a modernization project, it is a razing of our History!
Cancel this project and return the wing to its former glory!

The new East Wing should be a representation of the United States and its people now, while honoring the legacy of our country. That means maybe we can do American architecture that would complement the existing structure of the White House. Is there an American eclectic style? Something fitting, which probably would not be too modern, at least from the exterior.

The current president has clearly violated the law by demolishing the historic East Wing without review, permits, or Congressional oversight. I fear the loss of irreplaceable art and historical artifacts has occurred as a result.

As a librarian and notary public, I've helped neighbors go through the various processes needed to obtain the permits required to maintain and improve their properties. The current president took it upon himself to demolish the wing of a home--which he does not own--without doing anything close to the same.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to ensure reconstruction of the East Wing will keep with its historic design and scale of the Executive Mansion. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure. Thank you.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

Please rebuild the east wing to its former footprint and architectural detail.The destruction was done illegally and citizens were not allowed to weigh in on the awful decimation of a historic, beautiful building that is important to our collective heritage. No one wants a vast oversized ugly Trump designed mar-a-lago style ballroom with a huge bunker under it for the rogue lawless leader to hide in. This isn't optional. This needs to be stopped to preserve the integrity of our American history and to protect our heritage. This is not what our citizens are choosing. I am gobsmacked that a sitting president was allowed to unilaterally destroy a significant section of the White House in order to reshape it to his own taste and fancy without - apparently - any resistance whatsoever. I have a home that is considered of minor historic significance. I would never be allowed to make ANY significant changes to the building whatsoever without consultation/permissions from local historic organisations and urban city planning. As far as I can see, POSOTUS asked/consulted no one before launching a wrecking ball into the East Wing. And somehow - everyone just let him go ahead and do it. This action is better late than never, but I seriously wonder why it took so long for the legal/cultural apparatus that protects such U.S. monuments to kick in. Stop that lunatic's further debasement of the building NOW please!

I strongly oppose this entire project - it is essentially just destroying the historical East Wing of the White House! The whole project was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. Calling it a modernization project is a lie - it is a complete razing of American history. This is the People's House and it is not owned by the President! He is but a temporary occupant, getting to live there rent-free for 4 years. Also, it is outrageous to be spending $300 million on this project, and corrupt to get excessively rich donors to supposedly pay for it (those financiers are basicly seeking favors from the President and this Administration).

I want this project canceled immediately, and to have the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. Any modernization of security features can be done within the confines of the original design, but absolutely NO BALLROOM! No one, including the President and his White House staff, is above the law. The demolition of the East Wing at the will of one man is a tragedy. It is absolutely shocking that the current administration has taken such liberties with our grand historic White House. The 300 million dollars that have been donated to build a ballroom should be used to rebuild the East Wing. You can't have a West Wing without an East Wing. As for a ballroom, there are other areas within D.C. that could accommodate such extravagance. And any addition to the White House, such as a ballroom, should most certainly not morph the main House. The people's house is an historic symbol of our nation. A grand ballroom is simply a display of indulgence and is so out of touch with the American people.

I am vehemently against the construction of a ball room to replace the now destroyed East Wing of the White House. The role of the American Presidency is not to be an entertainer, a host or thrower of parties, especially at the expense of the US citizenry.

As a US citizen I deeply value our history and historical buildings. I have travelled all over the world and in doing so have seen so many buildings of historical significance. Due to America's youth we do not have the cultural wealth of antiquities that Europe, Asia and other parts of the Americas have. By tearing down the East Wing, Trump has destroyed a significant part of America's historical legacy. He has destroyed our history and the historical reminders of Presidents much greater than he: Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt and all the First Ladies that have had their offices located in the East Wing.

The destruction of the East Wing and its reconstruction needs to be paid directly from the pockets of the Trump family. That family needs to reimburse the citizens of the United States for the cultural vandalism Donald Trump chose to do on his own.

Sincerely,
John Arns

The destruction of the East Wing is an abhorrent misdirected abuse of power by the Trump Administration. It is purely self-aggrandizing and an insult to America. It's a disgusting display of decadence and excess wealth all at the expense of the American taxpayer. I want my money back!

Stop this project! The White House is the people's house and this destruction should have been stopped long ago. The proposed plan is not in keeping with the overall structure and it should have had an actual review by the public before this destruction happened. I'm also against private funds being used for this - that's just another name for a bribe.

The proposed designs are awful and I am outraged that no attempt was made to preserve any of the existing materials, either for later inclusion or as historic remains that should be treated with honor. No one individual should have this much power - it's the exact opposite of democracy. This is the People's House and it should be honored that way. Stop this destruction and return to a design that is in keeping with the original and not some tacky design.

The White House is the property of the United States, and Presidents and their families are granted the privilege of living their TEMPORARILY. No changes OF ANY KIND can be made.without a through review by the National Trust, the Park Service and Congress. This wanton desecration to appease the ego of one man is an insult to every American and an attempt to erase history.

I object to the proposed addition of the 90,000 square foot "ball room" to the White House. While expanded event space may be desirable, any proposed addition must conform to all of the rules governing changes to building which are classified as National Historical Landmarks. The proposed 90,000 square foot ballroom, clearly does not. It is not compatible in scale with the original White House Building and would dwarf the 55,000 square foot initial structure. I oppose ANY addition that does not meet these specifications regarding National landmarks.
Sincerely,
Denise Green

Project: East Wing modernization and ballroom addition

Meeting date: 2/19/2026

My initial reaction when I learned of president Trump's plans to build a ballroom at the White House was: "You've got to be kidding!"

Then I saw the president display his renderings of his proposed ballroom. I was aghast!

Then when I saw the demolition of the East Wing I thought "This is a travesty, a crime!"

How can he get away with this?

He has destroyed a national landmark, part of the White House!

Something needs to be done to stop this deranged man.

Courts should order him to rebuild the East Wing as it was originally at his expense.

And do it NOW!

Dear Members of NCPC:

I am writing this comment to formally register my disapproval of the proposed design for the new ballroom extension to the White House. There are many dimensions to my distress and anger.
1. Total Disregard for the Process:
The demolition was carried out WITHOUT any discussion of approval of the plan of what will replace it. The thinking was to present the citizens with fait accompli. This totally inconsistent with any democratic norms.
2. The proposed design is GROTESQUELY disproportionate with the original and historic structure of the White House. A question arises as to how many times this massive ballroom will be utilized and how will the space be used otherwise.
3. The funding source for this project appears to be an out and out lobbying effort by the rich and powerful to curry favors from the President. While public-private partnership is central in updating and modernizing any public space, that should and MUST happen once the design has been approved with public inputs such as the one I am giving and public expenditure has been authorized and appropriated by the congress.

For these reasons I urge members of NCPC to disapprove the proposed design and launch a fully transparent and open process to decide the future of the addition (made imperative by the illegal destruction of existing structure).

Ravindra Athale

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. The $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

In addition, the funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. Shawn Olson

No president owns the White House. No president is entitled to make significant alterations without permission, without submitting plans to the GSA, which is only the start of the approval process. Mr. Trump's unbelievable arrogance and self aggrandizement in ordering the construction of a gigantic ballroom to replace the once beautiful, now destroyed, East Wing building should be thwarted. He should be censured for this attempt to celebrate the stratification of American society into the outmoded model of an aristocracy based on wealth. This ballroom would be a monument to Mr. Trump and the super rich, and would leave the majority of the people he swore he would serve out in the cold. America should strive to be a class free society. This ballroom plan is un-, or even anti- American.

The white house is as much a monument as a functional government building, and should be treated as such. While modern improvements are obviously appropriate to improve usability and comfort, a massive ballroom for the elite as Trump has proposed is spitting in the face of ordinary Americans.

Please do not allow the 90,000 sq ft ballroom to be built. It will distort the intent of the architecture. The White House was built not to act as a palace of a monarchy, but rather an elegantly designed house of a democratic government represented by the people of the country. As to use -- how often does -- or should -- the White House host the number of people that such a ballroom can hold, and the cost of it remaining idle at other times is a waste of money as is the cost of upkeep in general.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits, and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this. And we can help.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

Anara Guard's comment on this is beautiful. She gave me permission to post it here, if anyone wants to use her language.

There is absolutely no need for the expansion and grotesquely opulent redesign of the East Wing. The United States of America does not need a ballroom of this size attached to the existing White House. Not now, not ever. The priorities of this administration are so out of line with what the general public is in need of. The amount of money this is costing could pay for affordable healthcare for countless Americans who are struggling to afford even the most basic care. The destruction of the existing East Wing mimics the destruction done to our heritage and culture throughout the nation. A wrecking ball has been taken to the country we all have known and loved our entire lives. It is unrecognizable to many and the American dream is lost for those who find themselves in the bottom tier of the social ladder.

This is damaged, the legacy of the presidency beyond measure. Our nation's leader is to be an example to all of someone who deeply cares about every American. That includes those who have immigrated here and are in the process of becoming naturalized citizens. In conclusion, this symbol of Americana, the People's House, should never have been altered without a thorough examination of its current condition, its use, its value as a historical landmark, and without obtaining the required permissions done through the proper laws and regulations.

I oppose the "modernization" of the East Wing. The White House belongs to the people, not to the current occupant. There was no attempt to secure permits, site reviews, or submit plans for the demolition and proposed construction. That is a clear violation of the law. I would not be allowed to tear down and rebuild my own house without following the law and the president should not be allowed to tear down and rebuild OUR house in violation of the law either. The only acceptable remedy to the loss of the East Wing and its attendant history is to require the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored as it was prior to October 20, 2025. And the cost should be borne by those who sought and approved the demolition of the East Wing for construction of a ballroom and NOT by the American people.

I am against building a ballroom to replace the unauthorized destruction of the East Wing. Find a more meaningful thing to do with that space. It is outrageous for the nation to be spending so much money on unnecessary opulence. Even if the new building is built as planned with outside donations, the US taxpayers will have to support its ongoing use for generations and watch while lobbyists and others seeking influence gain even more access to power. (Keep using the same limited entertainment locations that currently are in the WH.) And we all now know that things are never free. Donations from the named sources are not without reciprocal expectations. The People's House does not need a huge ballroom at all let alone while so may in the country are struggling to find food, healthcare, and affordable housing. It shows a deliberate, callous, Versailles-like "let them eat cake" attitude by those who think monarchy is a better idea than democracy.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

While other presidents have made simple modifications over the years, NO ONE, has done damage to”Our House” as much as Donald Trump. The demolition of both the Rose Garden and the East Wing is abhorrent. We do not need a monstrous ballroom to please the narcissistic ego of one man.
And, any plans for underground should be full disclosure . This administration is shamefully out of control, on so many levels.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This project began without the required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional approval required by federal law for construction on federal park land in Washington.

The $400 M cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with this administration approving those contracts--an unacceptable conflict of interest.

The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.

I strongly urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

The folks at the American Heritage dictionary would not call this project a “modernization” by any reasonable definition of the term, It s the architectural version of a loogie hurled at the values of history and integrity embodied by the now demolished Old East Wing. This new project is unapologetic about being a shrine to venality, influence-peddling, and grotesquely gaudy miserable taste.

I object to the spending of $300M on this project. It never should have happened.
I feel sickened by the destruction of the East Wing, the destruction of history, by the man occupying the house next door.
Full stop, it needs to be reconstructed with the full bill paid in full by the man who blatantly demanded the destruction of it for his own ego. This goes beyond "It's easier to ask forgiveness than permission". This was despicable behavior of an ego driven mad man.
For once... for once, someone needs to put their foot down on this "man".
He is a toddler in an 80 year old suit, destroying toys that don't belong to him in an attempt to get better toys for himself. Put the toddler on a time-out and force him to come to terms of what he's done and apply the proper punishments.

I am opposed to the East Wing project as it is currently proceeding. There has been little or no planning or review by the appropriate commissions or authorities negating the safe guards they provide. I am a former National Park Service employee who was involved in the restoration and repair of several historic sites and recognize the importance of review and comment.

The White house is the peoples house not the private residence of it's occupant to be modified or destroyed at their whim. The total lack of public scrutiny and public input is unacceptable. This project should be halted immediately and allowed to proceed only when properly reviewed and approved by governing authority not the whim of one person. I find the current procedure being followed by the Trump administration offensive and perhaps illegal. The entire project should be halted and thoroughly investigated.

Respectfully,
Steven James

Hello, I am writing to inform you that I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which I would be shocked if not everyone opposed it. It was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. That’s absolutely appalling. It is not a modernization project, but rather a complete razing of our American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president, at any given time, is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Vast number of Americans now feel violated. Second, the scale and scope of the proposed project are obscene. It will be a horrendous eyesore much like the palace of former Eastern European dictator Ceauşescu. Have any of the people on the commission visited this grand marble folly in Bucharest? It is now considered a monument to bad architecture and human hubris. This ballroom project is will not a success or revered in the long run. It will be an embarrassment.

As an architect I understand the desire for a large formal meeting space on the White House grounds. But, I am also a staunch advocate for historic preservation, having received my master's degree in Adaptive Reuse of historic structures.
The White House as a National Historic Landmark and symbol of our nation is one of the most recognized buildings on the planet. I visit D.C. often and have a heartfelt attraction to the White House and all her glory. It represents so much for the American people and embodies so much of our history. It is, in my opinion the most significant historic site in the United States (and I have been to a lot of them).
As an architect I know that there are more sensitive, more functional, and more aesthetically pleasing solutions that can be developed for the site. I cried when I witnessed the demolition of the East Wing and will be horrified if the ballroom addition goes forth as it is currently envisioned.

I know from experience that a project of this type takes time to plan. You cannot develop a program that satisfies the critical security requirements, the use requirements (large multi-functional meeting space, with food service), meets the requirements of the International Building Code, and has been reviewed for historic accuracy (or at least a sensitivity for alignment).
The planning of a project of this size and type would require several years. It should not be haphazardly dashed together as the current proposal seems to have been done. We are not building a pole barn! We, the people, who will live with the results for decades to come, should not see this project treated as some developer fast-tack design-build exercise.
No one person should be entrusted with the power to alter, deface, or demolish a building that is so important to our nation. Please listen to the American people when we say that the People's House, the White House, deserves to be preserved and cared for so that future generations can enjoy this living, breathing monument to the history of our Republic. And, We the People have a right and duty to provide input into the process and shape the outcome.

Historical Preservation is very important. Tearing down and rebuilding part of the White House without the proper authorization, permits, or design review raises many concerns for maintaining the history of the American People's White House. We do not need grandeur. We need solid. As the plans progress, any politically aligned contractors should be recused from any bidding. The shoddy work done on the "Wall" is testament to the quality of the building contractors that have been selected in the past. Also, tacky decor should be avoided at all costs. We will need NON-POLITICAL or at the least BI-PARTISAN design teams. The beautiful classic designs have stood the test of time, please do not turn our beautiful White House into a Frat Party Animal House.

The East Wing of the White House was the property of the citizens of the United States of America. It also embodied history of the United States. It was not the property of any president or other individual. Its destructiion at the directiin of a president without the peoples' approval, therefore, was a criminal act and should be treated as such. The East Wing must be fully restored to its exact condition prior to this illegal assault, and the person responsible must be held to full account and penalized exactly as any other destroyer of public property.

Tearing down the East Wing of the White House was the work of a misguided, power-hungry, self-centered gold-digger. I am shocked and saddened by President tRump's lack of inteagrity and honesty.

I am not sure what to do with the ruins, now. Perhaps a beautiful rose garden, with many heirloom species, now that the rose garden has been turned into predator patio. Trees and roses, and paths to walk. Benches, ardhes, places for small, private meetings. That would be lovely. The East light would be perfect for this.

Please take the best submitted ideas, and run with them. No freaking ballroom, please.

Dear Members of the Commission,

I am writing to express my strenuous opposition to the proposed 90,000-square-foot "State Ballroom" and East Wing reconstruction. While the administration frames this as a modernization, the design constitutes a fundamental violation of the architectural integrity of the White House complex.

The total demolition of the East Wing in October 2025 was a betrayal of the public trust and a surgical strike against American heritage. To claim that a 1942 historic landmark was 'excellently preserved' while reduced to a pile of rubble is an insult to our collective intelligence.

We are replacing a functional, historic wing—the symbolic home of the Office of the First Lady—with a 90,000-square-foot 'State Ballroom' that is nearly double the size of the original Executive Mansion. This isn't a renovation; it's an annexation of public history by private interests. By bypassing Congressional oversight and the National Historic Preservation Act, this administration has set a terrifying precedent: that the 'People's House' can be reconfigured at the whim of a single individual.

I urge the Commission to reject the current proposal based on the following design concerns:

Scale and Massing: The proposed 90,000-square-foot structure is nearly double the size of the original Executive Mansion. This excessive massing overwhelms the historic residence, turning a globally recognized neoclassical monument into a secondary attachment to a modern event space.

Disruption of the L'Enfant Plan: Renderings submitted on February 13 show that the ballroom's height and eastern expansion will permanently obstruct protected views and sightlines from 15th Street NW. This diminishes the "Temple of Liberty" silhouette intended by the city's original planners.

Architectural Incongruity: The use of modern bulletproof glazing and gilded neoclassical mimicry creates a "theme park" aesthetic that clashes with the authentic Aquia Creek sandstone and historic character of the North and South Porticos.

Loss of the East Colonnade's Integrity: The October 2025 demolition of the East Garden Room and Family Theater has already destroyed the delicate transition between the residence and the grounds. A 1,000-seat ballroom cannot replicate the subservient, graceful proportions of the original Jeffersonian-inspired wings.

The White House belongs to the American people, not to private donors or a single administration's temporary needs. I request that the Commission require a significant reduction in the project's scale to ensure the Executive Mansion remains the dominant feature of the site.

Respectfully,

Shannon Koistinen

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This is a conflict of interest. The President had no right to demolish the East Wing, much less design a monstrosity to replace it. I object to Trump making any additional changes to any part of the White House. It is the people's house; he is a guest. A poorly behaved guest that should be made to pay for the damage he has created from his own pocket. Not corporations , not tax payers. Trump should pay to put up a replica of the torn down East Wing.

The scale of this new ballroom is extreme. It should not be nearly as large as the White House. If a larger facility is needed for the President, it should be built elsewhere.

Overall I'm very sad that the East Wing was torn down without reasonable planning and input. I hope this review process is thorough and that the Administration respects the decisions and advice of the review organizations.

In the USA, in every State, there are rules to follow if you plan to demolish or renovate a building. There are stricter regulations that pertain to Government buildings.
None of those rules or regulations were met here regarding the East Wing of the White House.
My comment is this, all work has to be stopped until a full review of this process.
Rules and Laws do matter.

Sincerely a concerned Citizen

The East Wing of the white house was razed without proper planning or authority. No funding should be provided to enable anything other than its restoration to the state it was before the unauthorized demolition. This is the people's house. Knocking it down and replacing it with something to stroke the vanity of the current president is not in the interest of the people.

Destruction of Government Property is a Federal Crime. Full Stop.
The current President does not own the White House, they do not have unfettered unilateral authority to physically modify it, certainly not to destroy and replace it without proper and legal review.

To say that a completing Ballroom is a National Security matter because the remaining building is insecure is a travesty of justice.
To have it funded by private investors currying favor with the President and being engaged in Government contract negotiations is corrupt by definition.

The parties responsible for irresponsibly destroying the building must fund it's complete restoration.

With the demolition of the White House East Wing already completed, we now face a defining responsibility: to rebuild it with the same architectural integrity, historical fidelity, and craftsmanship that define the White House.

This is not simply a construction project. It is a matter of preserving the dignity of one of our nation’s most important symbols. The American people deserve a restoration that honors the original design, respects established preservation standards, and reflects the timeless character of the Executive Residence.

There must be full transparency, strict adherence to preservation guidelines, and independent oversight to ensure the rebuilt East Wing is worthy of the White House itself.

Anything less would diminish a structure that belongs to history — and to the American people.

Respectfully,

Robbie McConnell

To the Members of the National Capital Planning Commission:

I strongly oppose the expenditure of any funds on this project—let alone a reported $300 million. The demolition of the East Wing, a historic and irreplaceable part of our national heritage, was initiated without proper authorization. There were no approved plans, no formal reviews, no permits, no lawful authorization, and no presentation to United States Congress.

This is not a modernization project. It is the complete destruction of American history. It appears driven by personal ego and a desire to leave a self-indulgent, ornamental legacy rather than to preserve the dignity and integrity of a national landmark.

This project is neither necessary nor supported by a significant majority of the American people. I call for its immediate cancellation and for the East Wing to be rebuilt and restored to its original design and historical character.

No individual is above the law. Allowing this project to proceed without accountability would be an affront to every law-abiding American. A failure to impose consequences for such a blatant disregard of legal process would undermine the very principles of governance, transparency, and the rule of law that our institutions are meant to uphold.

Respectfully,
Jeremy Shaw

I am a resident of Washington, DC and was born in the city at Columbia Hospital for Women. My mother, grandmother and grandfather were also born in this city. As were my great-grandfather and great-grandmother.

It is unfortunate and inappropriate that the former east wing of the White House has been demolished. Equally unfortunate and inappropriate are the current plans for a ballroom to take the place of the east wing. That the proposed building will be larger than the White House itself is laughable...and an embarrassment. This plan should be scrapped, with provision made for space to house White House staff and records and for welcoming guests to the White House. A new east wing should complement the architecture of the White House, not dwarf it. Or overshadow it. Washington, like Paris, is a beautiful city with historic structures and green spaces that enhance its beauty for visitors and residents to enjoy. The aesthetic of the city is its calling card. That this has been deliberately maintained during my life, that of my parents and forbears is a lesson for those who temporarily reside in the city. "If it isn't broken, don't fix it" is a well-known saying that applies.!

Respectfully submitted,

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the destruction of the East Wing and construction of a ballroom in its place. The historic part of the Peoples' House needs to be preserved. Just because the current First Lady does not reside there doesn't mean future First Ladies will not want to use the space. No president should have the right to remodel or remove federally-owned monuments or registered historic buildings.

What a travesty this project is on too many levels to register my horror and disgust, but it should be stopped immediately! As a US citizen, I object to a project such as this that, without proper oversight and authorization, destroys American history, the way so much of what this administration is deliberately obliterating as we attempt to celebrate 250 years of what we hoped would be our increasingly more democratic and inclusive nation.

I grew up in Washington, D.C. For many years, my father's law office was located on New York Avenue, virtually across the street from the White House, and we once watched Inaugural parades from his windows.

I almost wish there were no pictures of Donald Trump's destruction of the East Wing, important to the historical record though they are. It is too painful to see. Regardless of what Trump puts up on the site, it will stand as a monument to his destruction of history.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

This was well said, so I'll submit this comment from Mr. Koskavich :
The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.
Furthermore the 'East Wing Modernization Project' is an Orwellian appellation... Please stop the gilded ballroom ego project and restore the East Wing of the Peoples' House as it was.

Under any other administration the demolition of the east wing and the threat of the construction of a ballroom adjacent to the White House proper, as described by President Trump, would have been stopped before the work commenced.

President Trump’s demolishing of the East wing as well as the ballroom addition is unacceptable. The White House is “the house of the people” and has significant symbolic weight as the face of democracy. Because of this designation, the building needs to be treated with all of the deference equivalent to its place within the story of this nation; every opportunity needs to be made for recommendations by laymen and relevant professionals before the building and site is modified. Thus far there has been no serious attempt to solicit the professional advice of historians, preservationists, architects or interested laymen. Further, funds for the construction of the Ballroom have not been allocated through congress but by private donations leaving an obvious opportunity for exposure to corruption.

Almost every county in the United States has buildings within it that are designated in one way or another as ‘historic.’ Historic structures are granted particular care by the counties’ citizens, officers and experts not merely because they are old but because they hold a key to the story of a community. Because historic buildings hold these stories they are dear and cared about by the community. Thus, they are protected by a panel of caring individuals as well local and national regulations intending to protect the stories that these buildings represent. The White House, because it is dear to the nation, has been likewise protected by committees of citizens, professional experts, local and national laws. But, President Trump has willfully ignored regulations as well as the review process intending to protect “the house of the people.”

It is common knowledge that the White House is intended as a temporary office for an administrator not a palace for a king. Some criticize the ballroom’s design as an unaesthetic overpowering of the White House proper. Indeed, the relationship between the existing White House and the proposed ballroom addition is grotesquely improper. Frequently, this relationship has been described by critics as “the tail wagging the dog.” Even so, this still misses the point. The proportional relationship displayed would be bad for any building and its addition. Here we are considering a building that lends Americans and the world the revolutionary story of American democracy. The White House is not gilded with gold, it does not have imposing hallways nor is it stuffed with marble busts of the current leader because the White House is not intended to intimidate. This is in obvious contrast to other buildings representing seats of government standing at the time of White House’s construction. A ballroom addition would be a violent rewriting of the intended democratic story that the White House's design intends to tell.

Trump and his team argue that the ballroom is badly needed. Not so. There are a number of facilities adjacent to the White House, including near-by Old Post Office – modified by Trump himself – that can and have been historically used for large presidential gatherings. Likewise the Rose Garden, now destroyed by Trump, has been used to facilitate relatively large gatherings at the White House.

If we could have commented before the Eat wing was torn down, I would have said that I read against removing this over 100 year old building. Now it has already been destroyed. The People's House does not belong to a single person and changes to it ought not to be done without the consent of the People.
I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project.
I am against a data center being built into the White House and against a bunker being built. Any new construction must be done with rigorous oversight and designed by an architect with an eye towards the preservation of the historic nature of the White House. Any new construction must be in proportion and harmony to the main White House. It must not be equal or larger in size. Full public documentation of the projects scope, budget schedule and procurement plan must be made available to the public and available for public content before any actual work on the plan begins. It must not be named for any living president.

Please restore the exterior of the East Wing of our White House to its 2024 size. If a basement is an engineering option for additional space, please allow this. The White House is the people's house. No single American should be able to banish the East Wing to the rubbish bin. The White House, as it stood, was an iconic image filled with memories for its residents and those of us that watched history being made. It should NEVER be that our House could be corrupted, changed, partially demolished without the consent and approval of planning and permit officials whose job it is to carefully consider any proposed changes and their consequences. Catherine valued America's heritage and was angered when the television showed the destruction of the East wing taking place! She was receiving chemotherapy at the time. She immediately stated that the White House did not need to have improvements or additions. since It had been fine for all these years with maintenance. That way the history and significance of the East Wing was kept for history. Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Kennedy were the two presidential wives who did the most to help keep the belongings and objects from the White House intact so that those items would not be lost. They could be used to display the history of the PEOPLE's HOUSE.

Any modifications should, and must, be reviewed by non-partisan caretakers charged with keeping all properties and monuments consistent with their intended purpose and architectural values.

We would certainly not allow a president to paint the White House pink or cut down all the trees, especially ones that had historic meaning unless necessary due to decay or a danger.

Please, halt this ego-based nightmare and restore the East Wing to what it was albeit modernized or modestly expanded to accommodate essential needs.

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.

I oppose the destruction of the White House east wing and proposed building of a ball room. The destruction of a national monument was done with no effort to gather ideas from the public. The White House is a national monument and not the real estate of the current occupants. The East wing should be rebuilt to the previous style and uses with of course , accommodations for safety upgrades like electrical and plumbing issues. The White House belongs to we the people. Thank you.

I wish to voice my opposition to the project. As someone who has worked with documenting historical structures for the Tennessee Historic Commission, I understand the need for modernization vs the desire to maintain a historic structure. This project took no effort to preserve the historic elements of the East Wing and simply destroyed the structure without thought or consideration for the historic nature of the building.

As a result, we have an excellent opportunity to rebuild this East Wing in historically sensitive style and to bring about those modernizations that are deemed necessary. Proper scale should be maintained in order to preserve the historic facade of the entire White House grounds. Please take into consideration the overall historic perspective of this important site.

This project should be stopped and retroactively required to go through the designated process with oversight regarding submitting alternate plans in accordance with the law. All work must stop until the criteria are met and approved acccording to the law, or if the plans are deemed unacceptable, then rebuilding the former ballroom with whatever legal upgrades are allowed must commence without further ado, and must be supervised and approved every step of the way until it complies once again with the laws surrounding historic property revisions.

I urge the Administration to comply with all legally required review and approval processes before commencing construction on the proposed 90,000 sq.ft. ballroom in the White House, including the NCPC, the Commission of Fine Arts, compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act, and approval by Congress. Doing so will help ensure that the project both honors the historic significance of the White House and acknowledges the investment the American people have in the preservation of this building.

I would like the East Wing restored to its former design. This project raises concerns of corruption and undue influence as it's being funded by private donations. In addition, I have concerns around how the Trust for the National Mall may use the profits they will receive from the private donations.

It's outrageous that this project has proceeded without without the proper authorization, permits, or design review, and those in charge of this project should be held accountable for not following established procedures, particularly as this is not a renovation, but a complete demolition of a piece of national history.

I vehemently oppose this outrage. I have some limited experience with historical oversight & protections of architectural masterpieces (having worked for 3 years with Brian Anthony, the man who began English Heritage after the Blitz because,until then, Britain had no inventory of its architectural heritage. As you well know, English Heritage is the template for our own National Trust for Historic Preservation. I learned a lot at English Heritage, such as I know our White House is equivalent to a Grade I listed building (on-par with the Houses of Parliament, Stonehenge, Buckingham Palace, etc.for architectural importance). It is the single most important residence in the USA.

I am appalled that your organization stood by silently as this Administration desecrated the people's house when it paved over the Rose Garden & then doubled-down & tore down the East Wing. I am disgusted that your organization stood by & allowed this Administration to turn the sacrosanct Oval Office into a gaudy, gauche, ugly & not 1 iota architecturally correct Versailles throne-room wannabe. Not one of these 3 abominations is in keeping historically or architecturally. The White House does not need a ballroom of any shape, size or form in the open East Wing footprint. This is not 18th Century monarchal France. We do not need another Versailles. In fact, White House East Wing MUST be rebuilt exactly to the original blueprint, interior design & facade (same as would be ordered by any local building/historical society authority if any homeowner did the same demolition and/or rebuild to their home without valid permits)

Finally, please ensure that not one dime more of US taxpayer funds be used to accomplish this. This current administration promised that they had private funds to demolish & build the ballroom, so please ensure they use these same funds to rebuild the East Wing to its pre-demolition condition. Many thanks for your attention.

I oppose the spending of any money on this project, which was initiated without proper authorization, permits, or design review. Somehow, we've managed to survive 250 years without a "grand ballroom" to rival the Palace at Versailles and if this country survives another 250 years, we'd still be fine without this affront to democracy. Meanwhile, US citizens are homeless, starving, sick and without access to affordable healthcare. If someone wants to invest millions of dollars to impress the leaders of other countries, it should be used to show the world that the United States cares about its own people. The East wing should be restored to the exact historical specifications. This was hastily done in an effort to strong arm the US into compliance and with no historical oversight or approval, the "better to ask forgiveness than permission" mind set. In addition to not having any funding secured for this project ahead of time, any money promised was done so by a biased person in the hopes of winning favor with the president. The people's house is not to be used as a bargaining chip for clout, influence, or anyone's legacy other than the American people. That is a TEMPORARY domicile and should be treated as such, renters across this country know this better than anyone involved in this project. And now we have a once historical landmark, with a giant empty lot where many First Lady's conducted business, hosted visitors, and was a symbol of feminism and what women can bring to the workforce and the household and shows exactly how little is being done by the First Lady, and how little respect this administration has toward women, history, and following the rule of law.

This project is totally out-of-scale with the White House. I disagree that there is a need for such a large 'ballroom' space. The height and the footprint size are unacceptable. Furthermore, there is no indication that any prior uses of the East Wing space can be accomodated or included. I agree with the comment of one of the commissioners that since the presentation mentions proposed changes to other aspects of the White House, it would make sense to consider the overall plan before executing such a major project. Do not proceed with any final design or construction until the concerns of size, height, incorporation of prior uses, improved handicap access and egress are addressed.

Thank you for the presentation on the new East Wing. It appears it was sorely needed. I agree with all comments that it should be scaled so as not to overpower the White House while still considering site lines and safety needs. Maybe it shouldn't be painted the same white. I had some initial concern with how the street entrance across from the Treasury entrance meets up with the White House entrance but I'm sure you have experts looking at the flow of all that. It appears it will be quite elegant. Please keep it timeless with a nod to its long history.

I hope going forward there will be project spokespersons, outside of White House staff, who will be knowledgeable of the entire project who can address the American people. The need for an upgraded site should have been public knowledge long before it was torn down.

Thanks again,

I STRONGLY oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

America does not need a "Trump Ballroom" on the grounds of the People's House. This is an affront to the history of our Union and the traditions of our democracy. Even if the funding is from outside sources - something in itself that is very troubling given the appearances of conflict of interest - the means by which this construction project came about is not in accordance with policy.

I believe, given the destruction of the historic East Wing has already been completed, that this presents an opportunity to honor that heritage and history by creating a new, modern East Wing that retains the architectural consistency with the previous East Wing and the main White House. This facility would be used daily as office space and for other functions of government, not as a ballroom where only the elite and foreign dignitaries would use.

Donald Trump had no right to demolish the East Wing!!! He had no permits. This type of renovation is up the "The People". It should be put back in its original form…NOT a ballroom! This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

The destruction of the East Wing without a notice and comment period was vandalism and theft from the American people. If the East Wing cannot be rebuilt to its earlier specification, any new design must go through the appropriate notice and comment period. It must comply with any historical standards or guidelines. And it must be publicly funded. Oligarchs and corporations must not pay for public buildings; that sets up an unmistakable expectation of favors in return. The President's house is the people's house. Everything related to its construction and repairs must be transparent to the American public and funded with taxpayer money. We the people own that house, and we must continue to do so.

I have lived most of my life in Montgomery County, MD, taking day trips to DC throughout the years to visit museums, enjoy DC restaurants, and take in festivals, concerts, and sporting events. I want my child to be able to enjoy the same experiences of our history as I have.

The day that Trump demolished the East Wing of The People's House, I was ashamed, angry, disappointed, and heartbroken.

The People's House is owned by the People. It is literally a National Park, not owned by the President or any individual.

There has to be some accountability. Some sense that Democratic principles mean something! We should be able to expect and enforce decorum, decency, and respect for the law.

Please demonstrate that that still exists by doing whatever is in your power to enforce.

I served on the City of Dallas Landmark Commission for 8 years. New additions to historic sites must be subservient to and compatible with the protected architecture so as not to distract. An 80,000 square foot ballroom is not subservient to a 50,000 White House. It's outrageous and wildly inappropriate. Please don't let this happen.

Greetings,
Thank you for considering my thoughts.
I realize that the White House and the it's east and west wings have historically gone through many changes over the years, but when it has been done it was done in a considered way, and being the peoples house, done in consultation with the people. This was not the case here.
The White House was never meant to be a castle, it was never meant to be huge and ostentatious, it was meant to be just enough, to support the term limited leadership of the land, see them off back into private life once completed, and then open its doors to the next team. A building for the people, by the people, a working building to get the job done, with some comfort and stately style, but not a mansion to impress or impose upon others.
The east wing needs to be returned to its original footprint, with consultation with measured professionals of history and architecture. Back to a symbol of balance, with a central house with equal east and west wings, that represents what our country should be. Yes, modernization is needed, to bring things up to modern code, technology and standards, but it should be done in a manner that respects the original look and plan. Whatever national security needs below ground can obviously be addressed.

A giant ballroom, that dwarfs the rest of the building, paid for by enriched special interests, does not serve the people, but turns the site into some sort of event center, to host fundraising galas of future administrations.
The original ballroom was enough, the original footprint of the east wing was enough, we do not need the grandiosity of kings. Let us return to measure and balance. Return the east wing to its previous basic design and size.
Thank you for your time,
D. R. Grauberger

I am completely opposed to having a ballroom attached to the White House and I'm completely opposed to the monstrous ballroom of President Trump. The proposed ballroom is totally inappropriate as to its size and will destroy the nature and architectural design of the White House. The White House belongs to The People and it is where a president only resides temporarily. This president has shown disregard for what belongs to The People to elevate and promote only himself and he should not be allowed, or rewarded to do so.
What must be done is to fully restore the East Wing of the White House and scrap totally the plans for a ballroom. The destruction of the East Wing was totally inappropriate and unauthorized and it must be restored.
Should a small conference/ballroom be desired and needed in the future, ideas and plans for it must be reviewed and approved by the historical committee PRIOR to anything occurring to have it especially fit in size and design with the architectural design of, and must be separate from, the White House itself and it must be small as its function would be limited.
Thank you.

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.

I strongly oppose the east wing modernization project and I sincerely hope that the commission will reject the plan until proper legal processes are followed shockingly. This project began when the 123-year-old structure of the East wing was demolished before obtaining the required permits and approvals from the commission, before completing environmental assessments under the national environmental policy act, and before securing congressional authorization which is required by federal statute for construction on federal Parkland in Washington. Just because the demolition has already happened. Does not excuse the violations or make it OK to go ahead and approve the project.
In addition, the funding of this project raises serious concerns about conflict of interest since many of the funding sources are holders of government contracts.
Thank you so much for your time and attention and for your consideration.

The East Wing of the White House should be restored to its former state. There is no need for an additional ballroom. The only reason it was started illegally was as a means to raise money for the current occupant of the White House.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required
National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.

The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

Remember the East Wing of the White House? Remember the giant ballroom that the tech billionaires have agreed to fund in its place? The National Trust for Historic Preservation is making a gallant effort to stop this.

I vehemently oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. I was shocked and dismayed to see the demolition of a building of such historic importance without review or opportunity for public comment. If it is indeed true that the President or any other person has the right to do this without any input or oversight, then I feel it is of the utmost importance to change or clarify the laws governing the "renovation" of historic buildings in the US Capitol. In addition, I am opposed to the idea of building an "annex" to the White House mansion on the scale proposed. No building attached to the original mansion should be so large as to overshadow the original building. In addition, an East Wing building should be roughly equal in size and structure to the existing West Wing to create visual symmetry and harmony.

I concur completely with the opinion of many others who may be submitting similar statements. Please read this again, in case it has not yet sunk in! Pay special attention to the final paragraph.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I, too, want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans!

Sincerely,
Candace Gruber

Tearing down the historic East Wing of the White House was an unconscionable and brazenly illegal act that disrespected America and Americans.

I strongly oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which as you know was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. The grossly oversized, gaudy ballroom proposed in place of the East Wing would tower over / overwhelm the White House, changing and cheapening forever what is supposed to be The People's House. Stated differently, this is not a modernization project; it is a razing of American history.

Please cancel this project and ensure that the East Wing is rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law. To permit this project to move forward without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

It is the expression of an ego maniac's bombastic appetite for big, bigger, biggest. And when he's finished with his grandiose ballroom, he will gild it. This is "poor taste". Further, require Donald J Trump to mitigate, at his own personal cost, the structural and environmental damages inflicted on the property. Next, pursue and recover for any and all permit violations related to this project. As past administrations have done in the past, renovations to the White House (big or small) must receive proper authorization. This was not done in this case- instead, literally plowing forward. Allowing this renovation to move forward, along the vein of the current administration's whims, is a flagrant disregard for the law and an invitation for acts of this nature in the future.

Hello,
I am absolutely sick about Trump's demolition of the East Wing of the White House. What's worse, I understand that a historic building like this, being torn down without permits or proper handling, is probably spreading asbestos and lead everywhere on the White House property and surrounding area. The architects, builders, and demolition company should be ashamed, but even further, they should be SUED for this illegal action (probably taken during the shutdown to escape accountability). They must be held accountable and stopped.

Moreover, the proposed ballroom is a monstrosity... a palace for a vain president who fancies himself king.

The people marched to No Kings because we do not want this man to break every last law in pursuit of his own greed and vanity and infinite corruption.

Over time, it's become clear that he's also using it as a vehicle for corruption, a way for people to make "donations" for his favor.

Please use every tool at your disposal to stop this insanity.

I strongly oppose the spending of $300 million on this project. The project was initiated and demolition fully executed to a point of destruction, well beyond retrieval of the structure, all without the proper authorization, consideration permits, or preservation and design review.

It is not a modernization project but rather a complete disregard and razing of American history. All presidents reside and use facilities temporarily - acting as occupants and watchful stewards of the site (only for a period of some 4 to 8 years) at the White House. The property and structures are owned by the People of the USA, and all costs are typically paid for by the US Taxpayers, only when authorized by Congress. NO President owns or can possess this property, nor can have ANY right to alter the facilities to her / his tastes, desires, or needs, without prior approval from the designated bodies such as yours which are there to look after the Public's interest. NO President has the legitimate power to overtake OUR ownership, nor YOUR review process and authorization. If these points may not be concretely established in laws, they are set and recognized by all as operating standards over many decades. All other presidents and staffs have respected these rules and this property, even as substantial alterations have been made. NO president has any unique or special privileges to alter the ground or buildings as desired or needed without advance discussion and ultimately acknowledging and following YOUR review and approval on behalf of the American People.

I consider the recent planning and demolition actions taken by the current occupants to be on effect "illegal" - even if not strictly prohibited by our laws - a dubious proposition I strongly question. Decades, even more than a century of precedent have established this.

I want this project entirely canceled, and the East Wing must be rebuilt and restored in close alignment to its former design. I also expect the reconstruction to be done properly and WITHOUT ANY COST to the Taxpayers, because the damage and erasure of our heritage was done in haste, decided by a few individuals absent the public, and without legitimate consultation and in direct and intentional avoidance of established procedures. No one is above the law, and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to ALL law-abiding Americans; it would also "award" the law-breakers with their desired outcome. It can therefore NOT stand. The outcome here will surely have major ripple effects for ALL such public properties. This Administration MUST be fully affected by their glaring and intentional violation of these public rules, to be sure that we re-establish - BEYOND ANY QUESTION OR DOUBT - the public property rights and cultural heritage rights of ALL Americans. Further, denial of permission for this demolition MUST be complete to allow the public to retain power over the expenditures of any current or future public or private funds affecting all the properties of We, the People, and to retain our rights to protect our history, heritage and public properties.

If I may be af any further service in this matter, I would be pleased to make my further knowledge and information on this matter available to you at your request.

This proposed rebuilding of the White House is way out of scale. Unless it is either stopped or torn down after completion, the White House itself, a vital building in our national identity and culture, will be significantly impaired. It will be ugly and undeserving of respect, regardless of how many gold features it has. We, the American people, should stop it.

Perhaps a larger room is advantageous. I do not know. That potential need requires a study to determine how it can be done while preserving the integrity of the building.

I consider the recent planning and demolition actions taken by the current occupants to be on effect "illegal" - even if not strictly prohibited by our laws - a dubious proposition I strongly question. Decades, even more than a century of precedent have established this.

I want this project entirely canceled, and the East Wing must be rebuilt and restored in close alignment to its former design. I also expect the reconstruction to be done properly and WITHOUT ANY COST to the Taxpayers, because the damage and erasure of our heritage was done in haste, decided by a few individuals absent the public, and without legitimate consultation and in direct and intentional avoidance of established procedures. No one is above the law, and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to ALL law-abiding Americans; it would also "award" the law-breakers with their desired outcome. It can therefore NOT stand. The outcome here will surely have major ripple effects for ALL such public properties. This Administration MUST be fully affected by their glaring and intentional violation of these public rules, to be sure that we re-establish - BEYOND ANY QUESTION OR DOUBT - the public property rights and cultural heritage rights of ALL Americans. Further, denial of permission for this demolition MUST be complete to allow the public to retain power over the expenditures of any current or future public or private funds affecting all the properties of We, the People, and to retain our rights to protect our history, heritage and public properties.

If I may be af any further service in this matter, I would be pleased to make my further knowledge and information on this matter available to you at your request.

Thank you,

Eugene L. Aleci,

To the esteemed Committee members:

We are allegedly a country governed by the Rule of Law. We have laws and procedures in place that impact all citizens, residents, and visitors to our country. We have three branches of government to provide a system of checks and balances.

When one branch of government, in this case the Administrative branch, ignores the laws and processes in place, bypasses Congress, or Congressional Oversight, and / or ignores the Courts (Supreme or otherwise), we no longer are a country governed by the Rule of Law.

The destruction of the East Wing was not authorized by Congress. The plans were not reviewed by Congress. Nothing was presented to the National Historic Trust. This was an entirely illegal act, from start to finish.

The East Wing needs to be restored - in full - and NOT at the taxpayers expense. The current First Family should be financially responsible for the restoration as they are responsible for bypassing the systems in place which would have prevented this from ever happening in the first place.

Thank you for taking the time to read my comments.

Regards,

Polly Hall

Thank you for this opportunity to register my dissatisfaction with the proposed "East Wing Modernization Project." The destruction of the East Wing itself was initiated without proper authorization, building permits, or design reviews. This is yet another attempt on the part of the current President to remove any historical references to former White House occupants and as such, is a vanity project.

A sitting President of the United States of America has taken it upon himself to arbitrarily demolish a fundamental structural element of the People's House without having first sought permission and review under the lawful requirements for such extensive changes. As far as I know, there is no record of what became of everything that was contained in the East Wing, so we only have photographic evidence that any of it even existed before the demolition.

I urge you to put an immediate halt to any further demolition or "modernization" efforts to the White House proposed by this Administration or President -- the People's House is not a private property of the President. I want you to demand that the East Wing be fully restored, down to the last brick, floorboard, and window pane.

The person who initiated this project should have to pay all fees, fines and any costs with returning the East Wing to its original state. It is nothing more than a vanity project and the cost of this foolishness should not be passed on to the American public.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I am writing to express my disgust with the pointless destruction of the east wing of the White House for the POTUS's monument to his ego and billionaire friends in the form of a golden ballroom. The White House is the people's house, not his personal gilded, tacky, tasteless house, casino or condo. Trump is not and should never be above the law simply because he's too arrogant to respect traditions and norms that preserve the look and value of historic structures. The damage is done but it doesn't mean there can't be some recourse. Please prevent this man's massive insecurities from permanently changing the region's most important architecture and public spaces.

The proposed ballroom and underground bunker is simply too large for the proportions of the White House and West Wing. We must keep in mind that the White House is a residential building with offices attached, so therefore, the architectural language, scale and composition needs to address these factors as they have in the past. However, the new ballroom project seems to ignore all of these architectural signifiers that are common in good taste, and the art form of design.

The White House, with its central placement and harmonious composition is being completely dwarfed by an unintelligent, distasteful look-alike of classical architecture. The new ballroom's size and proportion if, to be allowed to be built at all, and it shouldn't, needs to address the immediate scale of the White House and the appropriate domestic scale.

The construction of the ballroom should not be allowed to commence because of its poor design, size, proportion as well as the fact that the White House doesn't need a bigger ballroom at all.

This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.

The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. This is the people's house and I oppose this "project" as a blatant money and pay for plan scheme.

To the Commissioners and Staff of the National Capital Planning Commission:

I am writing as a concerned citizen to submit formal public comment regarding the ongoing White House East Wing Modernization Project and the recently disclosed proposal to add a second story to the West Wing colonnade. I urge the Commission to exercise its full authority and independent oversight role in evaluating these projects — both individually and as part of what is increasingly apparent to be a much larger, undisclosed master plan for the White House campus.

I. Concern for Historical Integrity

The White House is not merely the residence and workplace of the President — it is among the most historically significant structures in the United States and belongs, in the deepest sense, to the American people. Its neoclassical design, its symmetrical balance of East and West Wings, and the proportional relationship of those wings to the original central pavilion represent over two centuries of careful, deliberate stewardship by every prior administration.

The demolition of the East Wing in October 2025 — which proceeded without prior public notice, without approved construction plans on file with this Commission, and without formal review by the Commission of Fine Arts — constitutes a serious breach of the historical review processes that have long governed changes to the White House campus. The destruction of the East Wing was the most significant structural alteration to the White House since the Truman Balcony in 1948. That prior administrations undertook even far more modest changes through full and transparent review makes the speed and secrecy of this demolition all the more troubling.

I echo the concerns raised by NCPC Commissioner Phil Mendelson, who questioned why plans were presented to this Commission only after demolition was already underway, rendering many design alternatives moot before they could be meaningfully considered. The logic of presenting a project for review after irreversible action has been taken is fundamentally at odds with the purpose of this body.

I am further alarmed by the disclosure — offered almost in passing during the January 8, 2026 informational presentation — that the administration is now considering a second-story addition to the West Wing colonnade. This addition was presented without renderings, without a timeline, and without any formal plan documents. The architect's acknowledgment that "anything is possible" regarding future design changes, combined with vague references to potential alterations to Lafayette Park and visitor screening areas, strongly suggests that the Commission is being shown only one piece of a far larger transformation that has never been presented in its entirety.

The Commission must insist on reviewing the full scope of the administration's vision for the White House campus before approving any individual component. Piecemeal review of a comprehensive redesign is not meaningful review — it is the appearance of oversight without its substance.

II. Lack of Congressional Oversight and Appropriate Planning Authority

The scale of the proposed construction — a nearly 90,000-square-foot East Wing ballroom, a two-story East colonnade, and now a proposed West Wing colonnade addition — represents a transformation of the People's House with no meaningful role for the legislative branch of government.

Congress holds the power of the purse, and major alterations to federal properties of this historic significance have historically involved legislative engagement, if not explicit authorization. The bypassing of that process here — justified in part by the claim that demolition falls outside the NCPC's jurisdiction — reflects an unnervingly narrow interpretation of accountability. As former NCPC Chair L. Preston Bryant Jr. has stated publicly, demolition is inherently part of a construction project and should not be artificially separated to circumvent review.

I urge this Commission to interpret its authority broadly and in the spirit of the laws that created it: to ensure that federally significant construction in the National Capital region reflects the values, interests, and input of the public it serves — not simply the preferences of the current occupant of the building in question. I also call on this Commission to formally recommend that Congress be provided a full accounting of the proposed changes and their long-term implications for the White House campus.

III. Transparency of Private Funding

The administration has stated that the East Wing ballroom project will be funded entirely through private donations, at an estimated cost that has already ballooned from $200 million to upwards of $400 million. While private philanthropy has played a role in certain White House improvements historically, the scale and opacity of this arrangement warrant serious scrutiny.

Private funding of public infrastructure on this scale raises fundamental questions: Who are the donors? What access or influence, if any, do they receive in return? Are their contributions subject to the gift acceptance rules and disclosure requirements that govern federal transactions? The White House delayed publishing its donor list until October 22, 2025 — only after public pressure — and the full list of donors and their affiliations has still not been subject to meaningful independent review.

This Commission, in evaluating the project, should formally request complete and independently verified disclosure of all funding sources, gift agreements, and any conditions or benefits attached to private contributions. The American people deserve to know who is paying to reshape the People's House — and why.

IV. Public Accountability and Process

At its core, my concern is about process — and what is lost when process is abandoned in favor of speed. The legally mandated review processes involving the NCPC, the Commission of Fine Arts, the National Park Service, and the public comment period exist for good reason. They ensure that changes to irreplaceable national landmarks are made deliberately, transparently, and with the benefit of expert and public input. They have guided White House stewardship under every administration since 1792.

Those processes were bypassed here. Demolition began before plans were filed. Trees planted in honor of presidents Warren G. Harding and Franklin D. Roosevelt were removed without public notice. The Presidential Emergency Operations Center beneath the East Wing was dismantled. All of this occurred before this Commission had an opportunity to weigh in.

I respectfully urge the National Capital Planning Commission to:

Require the full scope of all planned and contemplated changes to the White House campus — including the West Wing colonnade addition, Lafayette Park modifications, and visitor screening changes — to be presented and reviewed as a comprehensive whole, not in isolated fragments.
Condition any construction approval on complete compliance with all applicable review processes, including the Commission of Fine Arts and the National Environmental Policy Act, prior to further vertical construction.
Mandate full public disclosure of all private funding sources, gift agreements, and donor-related conditions associated with this project.
Formally recommend that appropriate congressional committees be briefed on and given the opportunity to weigh in on the totality of the proposed changes to the White House campus.
Assert the Commission's independent role free from undue influence from administration-appointed members who serve simultaneously on this body and in advocacy roles for the projects under review.

The White House has endured for over two centuries as a symbol of democratic governance, institutional continuity, and the dignity of the American Republic. Its preservation is not a partisan issue. It is an American one. I trust this Commission to uphold that responsibility with the seriousness it deserves.

Respectfully submitted,

Angie Swenson

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits, without effort to conserve its materials and history, and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law.

What has happened to the historic artifacts for the East Wing, these need to be returned to the People's House.

When our daughter lived and worked in Washington, DC, we relished the time spent in the Capitol. We always got excited with the first views of the National Mall as we crossed the Potomac. It's heart-breaking that the Trump administration may destroy the beauty of the Capitol as it builds a garish Trump casino-like ballroom that will forever alter the simple beauty of the People's House

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. I am saddened by the razing of American history. I was shocked to watch how the East Wing was unlawfully and violently demolished. Please cancel this project as a step to honoring decency, history and the rule of law. Thank you.

I am appalled at the violation of the East Wing of OUR White House. The demolition of the East Wing and with it, the Kennedy era Rose Garden is a travesty. That there were no permissions given nor any opportunity for citizens input is an insult. The White House is the PEOPLES house.

Any contractor being given no-bid contracts for the work to fix this mess should be thoroughly vetted for corrupt practices like bribes to GOP candidates. They must also be eligible for criminal prosecution at a later date. This whole process is corrupt and likely illegal.

Under NO CIRCUMSTANCES should there be a ballroom built that hosts private events for the executive branch exclusively.

Clean up the area, rebuild to the former specs and replant a garden later after the horrific tastes of the current admin have left the building.

Thank you for your attn to this matter.

I'm a lifelong Pacific Northwest resident. I have only been in D.C. a handful of times. Once as part of a clergy sabbatical, I was fortunnate to spend a week in the Capitol. Three mornings I got up very early, rode public transportation, and tried to snag a tour of the White House. To no avail. It was far too popular.
When it's said the White House is "The Peoples'" it is not hyperbole or metaphor. It's a fact. Bought, maintained, treasured by and for all of us.
Any major change to this honored part and expression of our national heritage is, of course, under the purview of an oversight board.
It is not the property of, and should not be subject to the whims of a particular administration, and certainly not one person. What has happened to this point is at the least a travesty and a shame. It may be far more nefarious.
Our capitoll is not Versailles. The White House is not a castle. If someone or some group wants to build a monument to ostentatious hubris, let them do it on their own dime, their own property, their own time.
Thank you for stopping this insult and folly.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.

This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

I want it stopped and I'd expect it to be rebuilt exactly as it was designed before its illegal destruction. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history and a glorification of one man. This project must be canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. Every elected President is "a tenant" in the People's White House. As such he must abide by the rules, regulations, petmits etc. established. No one should have the right to ignore those guidelines just because he can "afford" it. Being rich does do not allow you to flagrantly ignore the traditions, guidelines, permits, rules that have been put in place to protect the historic PEOPLE'S house. President Trump needs to make the US government whole. To permit this project to go forward is an affront to the American people and our history. Without financially penalizing the person/persons who so blatantly ignored the historic value of this great house would be a great injustice. Please stop this project.

Taking a wrecking ball to the East Wing of the White House is unconscionable. There were no permits issued and no public agreement. This is our history that is being destroyed. I say no to building this monstrosity!!!

As an American who believes in preserving historical sites, and in the requirements for all changes of national landmarks to be thoroughly vetted, planned, and go through all required channels before changing them, I am appalled that the current president is trying to create a completely unnecessary, opulent, Anti-American space in the heart of our capital. This is a government by the people, for the people. This is not a place for Czars, Kings or Rulers to just hack their way through our nation's history erecting monuments to themselves that are "privately" funded. It is Anti-American to allow president's to just do whatever they want, especially when they make decisions that impact the nation in perpetuity. Please vote no on this project. Your grandchildren will thank you for standing up against this president's illegal actions!

I stand against this project. The expenditure is excessive, and it was launched without adequate design review, authorization, or permits. This is not "modernization"; it represents an individual's preferences being forced onto what ought to serve the public as a house and ballroom.

The White House indeed requires a ballroom or comparable event space, but it must be designed to harmonize with the rest of the building, even if that results in a slightly smaller venue than occasionally required. Approval should follow the appropriate process, and the space should not carry the name of the current or any past president.

I am a registered Architect and don't mind progress. I also understand that the complex may need a larger banquet space. However, the demolition and hurried planning, combined with the lack of oversight and approvals the current design has undergone, is unacceptable. Any project of this size and scope requires a scope prepared by professionals, with a transparent programming phase. Only once the desired program is established can design be initiated; the design must be reviewed and approved by a professional design review board, which I believe is required for the site. A building as important and prominent as this one can not just be jammed through and built without proper review and public consultation.
Thank you for your work.

This is not a "modernization project" but rather the destruction of the historic East Wing of the White House without proper authorization, permits or design review. The $300 million that has been spent on this unlawful project must be redirected to the rebuilding of the East Wing to its former design. What has been done to date is against the law and those who perpetrated it should be penalized. As an American citizen and taxpayer, I am one of the hundreds of millions of owners of this sacred building, This act was unlawful and I join my voice with those who are calling for this project to be stopped!

No! No! No!

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.
This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.
Make them build it back EXACTLY as it was.

Dear Members of the Commission,

I would like to register my disapproval of the East Wing Modernization Project. As I watched the destruction of original East Wing on various media platforms I was troubled by the lack of disregard for the history of the building. My understanding is that in its place will be erected a ballroom financed by outside donors. This seems to go against that the White House is the people's house. When we start to bring in outside donors to fund a project on government property, it no longer belongs to the people. The design of the building of the new East Wing is now determined by a select few who can now dictate and possibly redesign and tear down any other historic buildings in the Nation's Capital. The destruction of the original East Wing and the construction of new ballroom is a blatant disrespect for ordinary citizens to have a voice in the process. I feel that the historical nature of the all the buildings in Washington D.C. should be taken into consideration when deciding to take down a piece of Untied States history. It is my hope that you will reconsider the new construction being proposed on this sight. I hope that an ordinary citizen like myself will be heard and my input be guide for your commission. I appreciate your time and consideration and are hopeful that this commission will make the right decision on this project.

Kind Regards,
Sharon Trimber

Completely razing the East Wing and replacing it with a structure that overwhelms the White House is hardly a modernization project. It was initiated without proper design review, authorization or permits and therefore should be canceled. I understand the need for more event space that would eliminate the use of tents and porta-potties. The East Wing should be rebuilt with these needs in mind but in a style and size that fit with the existing buildings. All work must go through the required design reviews and authorizations as well as obtaining necessary permits. Because the demolition was done without approval, the rebuilding should not be at tax payer expense but rather from the funds already raised.

Modernization--? Even if this "project" had gone through the proper channels it would be an abomination, dwarfing the historic White House and West Wing, and obliterating an elegant and important aspect of the presidency. The quid pro quo "donors" who enabled the destruction of the East Wing, or Trump himself, should pay to restore what they wantonly destroyed. This was not sanctioned by congress or the taxpayers, we should not have to pay. We the people do NOT sanction an Atlantic City style "ballroom".

The EAST WING, The WHITE HOUSE STAND ON PROPERTY BELONGING TO THE PEOPLE OF THE USA, not a political party or a president and should be treated as such. I think the donated monies??? if there are any in the current political white house should be applied to the rebuild.

I would be most pleased if the East wing was reconstructed as close to the original as possible. And as long as they are constructing...add all the 21st century technology there. Also, I want a room that is dedicated to the original building's history. The East wing belonged to the people...and it should not be named anything OTHER than the East Wing2

I oppose the proposed new East Wing.
Any replacement of the East Wing should be visually and physically balanced with the existing West Wing and Residence. The proposal vastly overwhelms the existing structures and would appear to both shift the focus from the central residence and block the view of the West Wing and Residence. It is hard to say what the views will be like since they have apparently only released a few, carefully selected static views that do not present all the viewpoints or impacts on the surrounding areas as well as the White House grounds. Although this activity should never have been done in the first place now that the East Wing has been irresponsibility destroyed, any replacement should be guided and funded by Congress rather than as one person's pet project funded by unknown donors looking for political favors.

Dear other US citizens who make up the group I'm sending this comment to. I oppose the spending on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. While I am not opposed to upgrades, safety concerns, etc, I expect any building to undergo the proper due process and channels before ANY construction commences. Whoever authorized and asked for the tear down this part of our historic government building, they should be forced to pay for it's restoration out of their own pockets and not via any monies from taxpayers who did not authorize this.

Shame on this current administration for their "Ask for forgiveness instead of permission" attitudes.

To those concerned, the White House belongs to the American people. It has historic significance. The East Wing should not have been torn down without public input and approval. The proper, honorable thing to do here is to restore the East Wing and collect the funds to do so from those who made the decision to tear it down.
Thank you for your time.

This project is not modernization it is destruction of a historic wing of the Whitehouse. The project was undertaken without proper approval, without a plan and in contrast of what was told to the people. We were told there would be modernization yet the entire East Wing was torn down. Proper regard to releasing asbestos into the community was not taken. Building a new addition to the Whitehouse should not be paid for by private companies and possibly foreign governments.

Please rebuild the East Wing as it was

I do not agree with plans of the current administration to construct anything in the space previously occupied by the East Wing of the White House unless approved by the National Trust for Historic Preservation and vetted by an architectural review committee regardless of the source of the funding. Even if no taxpayer monies are used and it is privately funded, this is a property owned by American citizens, NOT the current occupant.

I vehemently oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing, as a law-abiding citizen and lover of our country, history, and LAWS. It was started WITHOUT the proper authorization, permits, or design review.

Changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action.

Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration, which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

It is not "modernization" it was a complete destruction of part of American history, without even any attempt at first salvaging potentially valuable materials. I am totally disgusted by trump's plans to build a gigantic ballroom. His desecration of the historic East Wing of the White House was a clear signal of how his administration views our history, constitution, and laws. What could be more symbolic of hatred toward the United States than tearing down part of the iconic White House. He pursued no permits or approvals for this action. Everyone who has contributed to this abomination should be held legally accountable. The East Wing should be restored to its former glory.

The historic East Wing of The White House was totally demolished at the direction of President Trump without legal authorization, and his proposed $300 million ballroom is nothing less than a stalinesque vanity project which would be an affront to this country and its people. In its current form, the ballroom project, for which there apparently has been no meaningful independent design review or permitting, should be terminated in its entirety, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its original architectural configuration prior to its illegal razing.

Whatever is necessary to protect the integrity of the remaining building should be done as a stop gap measure. There after it should be left to the next administration to determine what if anything should be built in its place. Barring that, it should be rebuilt as nearly as possible to its original specs, allowing for modernization where deemed fitting.

The White House is both a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, belonging to the American people. Since 1800, it has been home to our presidents—not as owners, but as temporary caretakers bound by law and by respect for the public trust.

Tearing down the historic East Wing without proper review, permits, or Congressional oversight is a clear violation—not just of the law, but of the people's trust. This decision was made without transparency or consent, when such a major change should have been openly proposed and carefully considered, not executed in secret.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require that the East Wing be rebuilt true to its historic design and scale. Whatever replaces it must fit the character of the Executive Mansion—complementing, not competing with, the original structure.

To Whom it May Concern,

It's important to me that historic buildings maintain their sense of character. I'm 66 years old, and I have seen countless old buildings desecrated by modern additions out of character with the original architecture.

I have been greatly upset by the demolition of the White House East Wing. The White House is one of the most historically important and well-recognized buildings in the country. A any external renovation project calls for a deliberative review process with inputs – and, perhaps, veto power – from experts on historical preservation.

The renderings I've seen of the new addition aren't historically appropriate in any sense. Indeed, if the currently-proposed building were to be constructed, the nation would need to spend additional hundreds of millions of dollars removing it in only a few years.

Specifically, I believe that any design for the new East Wing must meet these criteria:

• Reconstruction of the East Colonnade matching its original appearance. Specifically, it should not exceed a single story, and it should be consistent with the design for the West Colonnade.
• The main building should be no more than 1.5 stories in height, and its roof level should be lower than the original Executive Mansion, so as not to detract from it.
• The southern end of the building should not get close to the existing curved walkway on the south lawn. This requires a shorter building (measured north to south) and narrower building (measured east to west) than the current proposal.

I understand that these criteria are inconsistent with the proposal for a large dining facility. So be it; historical appropriateness is more important that the desire of ANY single president to mold the building to his or her wishes.

Thank you for considering these inputs.

With Respect,

Charles Ross

What Trump is proposing is an absolute horror. He knows nothing about architecture, culture, or history and has no respect for the White House as the iconic National Landmark that it is. It is not his personal property, it belongs to the people of the United States. He is only interested in slapping his name on everything he can get away with to feed his ego. This must be stopped now, and we must wait until sane people are running the government before we address any more dreadful changes to the Washington cultural and architectural landscape.

The tearing down of the East Wing was atrocious! It is/was part of The People's House, not the private residence of an out of control president. Any building that is considered for the space needs to be voted on by the People. I for one do not approve of a monstrous ballroom.

As a resident of Menominee Township in Michigan's U.P., I oppose spending $300 million on a project that began without proper authorization, permits, or design review. This isn't modernization — it's the destruction of a historic part of the White House. The project should be canceled, and the East Wing restored to its original design. No one is above the law, and allowing this to proceed without accountability would undermine every law\u8209 -abiding American, including those of us in small communities who follow the rules because they matter.

The unauthorized destruction of the East Wing by an unhinged, unlawful, disrespectful administration goes hand in hand with trumps desire to erase history and aggrandize himself with pointless monuments and trophies. The East Wing is meant to be a place where work is done by our highest sitting public servants, not a place for the idle rich to lavish themselves in extravagance while the citizens of this country struggle to buy groceries and break under the mounting costs of housing and healthcare. Shut down this callous waste of money and insulting affront to the history of our country and restore the East Wing to its rightful form and function.

I am writing to express my deep concern about the proposal to add a new ballroom to the White House. As one of the most recognizable and historically significant buildings in the United States, the White House is not simply a residence or event venue. It is a living symbol of our constitutional system, our shared history, and the continuity of democratic government.

The architectural integrity of the White House has been carefully stewarded for more than two centuries. From its original design by James Hoban to the thoughtful restorations carried out after the 1814 fire and during the Truman renovation, changes have generally respected the building's historic character. Adding a large new ballroom risks shifting the balance from preservation to expansion in a way that could permanently alter the scale, proportion, and spirit of the Executive Mansion.

While the need for event space may be cited as justification, the White House was not designed to compete with modern convention facilities. Its power lies in its restraint, its history, and its symbolism. Major structural additions could set a precedent that future administrations might follow, gradually transforming a historic landmark into something more contemporary and less authentic.

I urge the National Trust to advocate strongly for preservation principles that prioritize protecting the historic fabric, architectural coherence, and cultural meaning of the White House. Alternative solutions for hosting large gatherings should be explored that do not compromise the integrity of this irreplaceable building.

Thank you.

The East Wing was a public space that held history, education, remembrance, and so much more than any grandiose ballroom that will eclipse the White House itself. There is no real paper trail when it comes to the "donations" to build this monstrosity either. There needs to be transparency on all fronts. That money can now be used to rebuild the East Wing back to its exact original state prior to it being illegally demolished. This, unfortunately, is a very clear representation of how the United States are running being run and how our government is acting.

The next generations need history as much as the previous ones and this can't happen when it's being rewritten and torn down.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park owned by the American people. Since 1800, it has served not only as the residence of our presidents but as one of the most significant historic sites in the United States. Any permanent alteration to this site warrants careful scrutiny, transparency, and meaningful public participation.

While modernization efforts may be presented as necessary, the scale and permanence of a 90,000-square-foot ballroom addition raise serious concerns regarding historic preservation, environmental impact, visual integrity, long-term maintenance costs, and precedent for future alterations. The White House complex is not merely a functional facility; it is a symbol of national heritage and continuity. Changes of this magnitude should be evaluated not only for utility but for their effect on the historical character and symbolic importance of the site.

This moment matters because the federal review process — including oversight by the National Capital Planning Commission, the U.S. Commission of Fine Arts, and compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) — exists precisely to ensure transparency, accountability, and meaningful public input before irreversible decisions are made. Public participation must occur before construction limits future alternatives.

As National Trust President and CEO Carol Quillen stated, “The American people deserve an opportunity to provide comment and shape the project.” I strongly agree. Any proposal that significantly alters a landmark of this importance should reflect broad public consensus and careful preservation stewardship.

I respectfully urge the Commission to ensure a thorough review process, robust environmental and historic impact analysis, and full transparency before approving any expansion of this scale.

I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design paid for by President Trump, not the American taxpayers who never had a say in the destruction of the People's House. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Being an American citizen and a tax payer, I would like to voice my opposition of the East Wing Moderation. First of all, I don't understand how the destruction of the East Wing was permitted in the first place. Nothing was saved of all the history this wing contained. Trump was in too big of a hurry to demolish this valuable piece of American history before rules or regulations could stop him. There is absolutely no need for a gaudy ball room. With all the needs of our country, this shouldn't even appear on our radar screen of needed projects. Trump claims this project will be financially supported be private industry. Sadly our President seldom, if ever, speaks the truth. If by chance this does contain some truth, then we need to address private industry having ownership in the People's House. Will their contributions buy them special favors from our current administration? This entire project is wrong in so many ways and must be stopped and the East Wing rebuilt as it once stood.
Thank you for your time a consideration.

The historic East Wing of The White House was totally demolished at the direction of President Trump without legal authorization, and his proposed $300 million ballroom is nothing less than a stalinesque vanity project which would be an affront to this country and its people. In its current form, the ballroom project, for which there apparently has been no meaningful independent design review or permitting, should be terminated in its entirety, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its original architectural configuration prior to its illegal razing.

FORMAL OPPOSITION TO THE EAST WING MODERNIZATION PROJECT
Re: Recent Demolition and Proposed Replacement of the White House East Wing

I. Opening Statement
I write in firm and unequivocal opposition to the project known as the "East Wing Modernization," which is, in truth, no modernization at all — but the deliberate and willful demolition of a piece of American history that belongs not to any single administration, but to every citizen of the United States of America, and to every generation yet to come.
This project must be stopped. Those who authorized it without legal standing must be held accountable. And the East Wing must be fully rebuilt and restored to its former design, at the expense of those who destroyed it.

II. This Is Not Modernization — It Is Erasure
Let us be honest about what this project actually is. The White House East Wing is a historic structure of immense cultural, architectural, and civic significance. It has served the American people for generations — as a workplace, a symbol, and a living piece of national heritage. To raze it in order to construct a private ballroom, however lavishly funded, is not an act of improvement. It is an act of desecration.
A ballroom funded by tech billionaires does not belong in the White House. It belongs in a private estate, a hotel, or a corporate campus. The people's house is not a venue for the ambitions of the ultra-wealthy. Its architecture is not raw material for personal vanity projects. The East Wing was not theirs to touch.

III. Flagrant Violations of Law and Due Process

This project was initiated without proper authorization, without the required permits, and without the mandatory design review processes that govern changes to historic federal structures. These are not bureaucratic technicalities — they are legal safeguards deliberately established to protect the American public from precisely this kind of unilateral, self-serving action.
The National Historic Preservation Act, the Preservation of Historic and Archaeological Data Act, and the protocols of the National Trust for Historic Preservation exist for a reason. They exist because our shared history is fragile, irreplaceable, and too important to be left to the whims of whoever happens to hold power at a given moment. Those laws were violated. There must be consequences.
No president, no billionaire donor, no administration has the authority to unilaterally demolish a protected historic federal structure. If this project is allowed to proceed — or worse, to be ratified after the fact — it will set a devastating precedent: that the most powerful can simply bulldoze the law along with the buildings.

IV. Private Funding Is Not a License to Destroy Public Property
It has been argued, or implied, that the involvement of private funding — reportedly in the range of $300 million — somehow legitimizes this project. It does not. Private money cannot purchase the right to destroy public heritage. The White House and its historic components are the property of the American people, held in public trust. They are not for sale, not for renovation at a donor's discretion, and not available as a canvas for the aesthetics of whoever writes the largest check.
The appearance of private funding, in this context, does not reduce the public harm — it compounds it. It raises serious questions about the nature of the relationship between the administration and those funding this project, and whether the White House itself is being offered as a vehicle for their influence.

V. The National Trust for Historic Preservation Deserves Our Full Support
The National Trust for Historic Preservation has stood as a principled, courageous defender of this nation's architectural and cultural legacy. Its intervention here is not merely procedurally appropriate — it is morally necessary. The Trust is fighting not just for a building, but for the rule of law, for the integrity of our shared civic institutions, and for the principle that history is not the property of the powerful.
Every American who values the preservation of our history, every citizen who believes in accountability, and every person who understands that the law must apply equally to all — regardless of title or wealth — should support the Trust's efforts and submit their own comment to this Commission before the March 4 deadline.

VI. Demands for Accountability and Restoration
I call upon the National Capital Planning Commission and all relevant federal authorities to take the following actions:
1. Immediately halt and cancel the East Wing Modernization project in its entirety.
2. Require the full reconstruction and restoration of the East Wing to its original, historically accurate design.
3. Compel those responsible for authorizing this illegal demolition to reimburse the Federal Government for the full cost of reconstruction.
4. Initiate a full investigation into the legal violations committed in connection with this project, including the bypassing of required permits, authorizations, and historic preservation review processes.
5. Ensure that no private funding arrangement — past, present, or future — is permitted to override the legal protections governing historic federal structures.

VII. Closing
No one is above the law. Not a president. Not a billionaire. Not an administration that believes its power exempts it from the obligations every other American must meet. To allow this project to proceed unchallenged and unpunished would be an affront to every law-abiding citizen, every taxpayer, and every American who has ever placed their hand over their heart at the sight of the White House and felt, however briefly, that this is the people's house.

It must be stopped. It must be reversed. And those responsible must be held accountable.

The East Wing belongs to America. Give it back.

Respectfully submitted,

Ben Jay
A Concerned American Citizen

I strongly oppose the allocation of $300 million for this project, which was initiated without appropriate authorization, permits, or formal design review. Rather than a true modernization, this effort represents a complete destruction of an important part of American history. The proposed project should be halted immediately and the East Wing should be rebuilt and restored to its original design. No individual or entity is above the law, and allowing this project to proceed without accountability for those who bypassed legal requirements would undermine the principles that tax-paying and law-abiding Americans expect to be upheld.

I was a resident of Montgomery County, MD for 30+ years (ending in 2015) and often visited DC and was able to view the White House and reflect on the history and beauty of the building and grounds. What in the world gives the current "tenant" of (who does not OWN but merely occupies) the White House the right to summarily knock a large portion of it down with no input or attempt to preserve the important history of this building!? Again, I strongly OPPOSE this project.

Hello.

I just want to say that this was never a modernization project- it was a gutting of our history and a plan for this president to build something for Himself, rather than for the people of these United States. He did this without proper permits, authority, or input from the people he is supposed to serve.

The East Wing should be restored...perhaps modernized...but we do not need an overblown gilded ballroom in the People's House.

I oppose the spending of 300 million dollars on such a project and I believe that DJT should be penalized for what he illegally did here.

The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts. Do not go forward with this project.

I totally oppose building a huge golden ballroom that dwarfs the original White House. Instead I feel that the original East Wing should be restored. I am not opposed to the idea of a smaller ballroom if the east wing is restored first, but I really don't see why we need to be hosting dinners for more than 100-200. Aesthetics of the ballroom should be in line with the architecture and general asthetics of the Whitr House. I find gold decoration tacky and elitist and I do not feel it exemplified the spirit od America, which is a nation of people who mostly built themselves from the ground up.

I am writing to express my concern regarding the proposed East Wing project at the White House.

The White House is not merely a functioning government building; it is a historic symbol of American democracy with global significance. Any structural expansion or modification must therefore meet the highest standards of transparency, preservation, and public accountability.

My concerns are as follows:

Historic Integrity: Changes to the East Wing should be evaluated carefully to ensure they do not alter the architectural balance or diminish the historic character of the White House complex.

Transparency: Projects involving nationally significant sites warrant full public disclosure regarding scope, cost, purpose, and long-term impact.

Precedent: Expanding federal facilities at iconic historic sites sets a precedent. Such decisions should be undertaken only after thorough public review and expert preservation consultation.

Fiscal Responsibility: In a time of competing national priorities, it is appropriate to scrutinize the cost and necessity of large-scale renovations or expansions.

I respectfully urge decision-makers to ensure that any changes proceed only after comprehensive public input and preservation review.

I am a retired architect.

I oppose this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. The design presented in every form is not in keeping with American values.

It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I recommend that this project be canceled, and the East Wing be rebuilt and restored to its former design (including any careful review of necessary practical improvements).

There is no authority for the POTUS to destroy American history by whim. There is no emergency; no rationale was given to the public, and the White House is OUR HOUSE. The President cannot throw away the furniture or in part discard the residence WE built for him to make his job for US easier.
No one is above the law, and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Thank you for your time and review.

We oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. The White House and the East Wing belong to the American people and not to a president who wants to change things to meet his whims. The building of the ballroom is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. It is unnecessary and a waste of funds. The East Wing was historical and beloved by all of us who have visited the People's White House. We want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans. I oppose the incorrectly named "East Wing Modernization Project," as it is a complete destruction of a historic and viable space, implemented without authorization or congressional approval. The proposed replacement is esthetically entirely out of scale with the White House. There are questions yet unanswered about the private funding being used and subsequent ownership and management issues. Those supporting it have complaints that there is not enough funding for veterans, hungry children or elders, but celebrate such wasteful and unnecessary expenditure.

It is an outrage to demolish a portion of this PUBLIC property as if it were a private residence remodel. The permissions weren't sought, the preliminary studies weren't done, plans were not submitted and approved. It's time to stop the insane destruction of our historic sites. They belong to the American people and that must be respected, if not by the current tenant, then by this entity.

The White House, the People's House, does not need a ballroom. It is neither a hotel nor a convention center; DC is commonplace and know for supporting conventions and meetings of various types and sizes. There is public space available nearby (I believe it's the Commerce Building) and the central space at the National Building Museum is huge. Union Station nearby has a lovely and large space.

The White House, the People's House, is not a Palace. It was deliberately designed and built with modest dimensions and restrained aesthetics. Visitors to DC are often surprised at how small it is. I was surprised of its scale when I've had the privilege of visiting "my house" twice in prior years. The Georgian style is intentionally symmetrical.

The occupant of The White House is not a King; constitutionally he works for the people of the United States and resides there as our temporary guest. The statutory guidelines, 36 CFR Part 800 prohibits and severely restricts the ability to singularly alter a National Historic Landmark. Anyone operating in this manner is breaking the law. He should not be able to rebuild it to his own tastes, no matter who is paying for it.

A new East Wing should be constructed to replace the East Wing that was demolished. It should be similar in size, shape, and placement to the West Wing, to maintain the symmetry of the entire structure. If it is determined that the East Wing should house a ballroom, so be it--but it should be made to fit into the original footprint and design and not of grandiose architecture and design of the exterior and interior.

I oppose this project and the spending of $300 million on it. I want the project to be canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored. This project was started without following any proper procedures - no authorization or permits, no one official review or approval of the design. I can't add a bathroom to my own home (which I own as opposed to temporarily living in because of my elected position) without endless paperwork, reviews, approvals, and time. The fact that a whole wing of the People's House was razed without any kind of approval for the process - and that historical building artifacts were destroyed in the process - not even catalogued and preserved! - is an affront to all Americans who respect the rule of law and the preservation of our history. I want the East Wing restored to its former design.

No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be a travesty and a permanent stain on one of our most significant monuments.

I don't support the ballroom project. Washington DC has more than enough ballrooms and the concept drawings I've seen appear tacky and diminish the historic landscape. I request that the East Wing be restored, returning a look of governmental dignity to the White House. The architecture in the White House complex is its own dignified statement about the strength of this nation. We don't need an attempt to compete with French, Russian, or any nations architectural heritage, and we don't need a ballroom as a statement about "government".

There are compliance processes in place for historic properties in our nation and I was aghast and disappointed that the president could take action without abiding by the laws of the nation. He's not above the law and it's a bad example to the rest of the country. And there are bodies established to oversee the stewardship of our historic heritage in DC, and the president's vision is not more important than this stewardship. If he thinks so, he can make his case, but the decision should not be wholly his.

Any donor dollars should be used to restore the East Wing, the historical property and landscape.

There needs to be accountability and public, transparent review and processes in regards to the East Wing project. The utter lack of respect for history and historical impact, process, and oversight continues to be astonishing. The current process and East Wing project is just one example of a lack of respect of our DC city and country's values. As a citizen concerned about our nation's public history, architecture, and heritage, the East Wing project continues to a travesty. There must be oversight by the CFA, NCPC, and Congress, with public input. Thank you, Jennifer

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

This was a frivolous project before demolition even began. President Trump does not "own" the White House; he is simply the current resident. The White House is a monument to the people, not to our leader. Speaking as a citizen, I certainly do not want a giant ballroom attached to the White House. Frankly, I want the East Wing back. This is a violation of the constitution and of the trust placed in the president by the people of this country.

The only thing I am in favor of here would be a complete restoration of the East Wing, faithfully built. Anything else is a travesty. At least, it must not dwarf the White House itself. The building must retain the East Wing's original proportions. I DO NOT WANT to see "the people's house" disrespected or destroyed. Please stop.

As a U.S. citizen, I do not want, nor need a gilded ballroom that dwarfs the White House. Even if tech billionaires have offered to pay for such a monstrosity, such a building goes against our foundations as a Republic, based on thoughtful moderation and restraint as an example to the world.

I write in hopes the Commission will honor the founding principles of our Nation. Please reject the plans for a “ballroom” of plutocratic excess. Such a structure would only stand as a monument to personal gain over public interest.

The White House is the People's House.

It should not be altered in any way without the appropriate approvals from the National Planning Commission, Congress, Environmental regulators.

The destruction of the East Wing at the whim of one person, a temporary occupant, was appalling and damaged a treasured landmark. As someone with an advanced degree in historic preservation, it broke my heart.

There is no balance to the proposed plan -- from its size to the outsized donations from corporate donors who seek federal contracts. It is an attempt at self glorification at the expense of national interests.

Indeed, the proposal is an abomination.

Please assert your authority and require that full legal compliance is assured.

I oppose the spending of $300 million -- or ANY amount -- on this project. It was initiated without proper authorization, permits or design review. It is NOT a modernization project -- it is a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design, or as close as possible. No one is above the law, and to permit this project to move forward without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding American citizens. The White House is the people's house; it does not belong to one individual who thinks he can do as he pleases with it.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on the East Wing "Modernization" Project, which was initiated as a rogue act of destruction without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design with any and all costs borne solely by Donald J. Trump (and/or his estate) as penalty for his unlawful actions. If anyone else had done what he has done to the East Wing, it would be considered an act of domestic terrorism. Our Constitution establishes that no one is above the law, and to permit this project to go ahead without penalty would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

As a taxpayer, I am profoundly opposed to spending such an extra extraordinary amount of money on what is essentially an erasure of American history and a vanity project for an individual president. This is the people's house. The building was demolished without proper procedures and without following the law. To allow this project to move forward would be a reckless use of taxpayer dollars in a miscarriage of justice. The wing should be rebuilt to restore it to its former glory, a place of service to the American people, not to the ego of Donald Trump. No ballrooms. Do not reward this recklessness and lawlessness by spending our hard earned tax dollars on this vanity project. We want the east wing back.

I am opposed to the addition of a ballroom. It is not needed and is a waste of money we urgently need elsewhere. At this time of extreme wealth disparity it is also an insult to a majority of us--working Americans doing our best living paycheck to paycheck. In addition, I am horrified at the pictures of destruction and the lack of public involvement in any planning process, and the flouting of laws that apply to everyone else. Please halt this project. It should be preserved as a site of destruction, an exhibit of an administration gone rogue, a reminder that democracy is a participatory experiment.

I write to oppose this ballroom monstrosity which resulted in destroying the historic White House East Wing. The destruction was done without proper and legal authorizations,without any citizen input on the destruction of part of the “People’s House” (This President is only using it for 4 years. HE DOESNF OWN IT). The only project stinks of corruption and extreme hubris from someone who believes he is above every law and rule the rest of us are required to follow. No transparency as to the supposed “private” monies being collected. It’s an ongoing debacle and chaos from an administration which thrives on chaos and corruption. Stop it now.

I oppose this project. Its spending is too high and was not initiated with proper design review, authorization, or permits. It is not "modernization," it is one man imposing his preferences on what should be the people's house (and ballroom).

The White House needs a ballroom or similar event space. It should be designed in keeping with the rest of the building, even if that means it is a bit smaller than sometimes needed. It should only be approved after proper process. And it should not bear the name of the current or any other president.

The razing of the People's House without permission or any official review is an affront to the American people. Anyone with a hint of civic pride or patriotism ought to be horrified at the blatant disrespect of our nation's history. As an architect and former student of historic preservation, I am especially appalled. This project has nothing to do with modernization and everything to do with the bloated ego of the individual who is currently living there. The East Wing must be rebuilt exactly as it was, with no cost to the American taxpayer. Any and all expenses associated with rebuilding should come directly from the pockets of the man responsible for demolishing it without a permit, historical review, or any oversight. I would also like to note the lies involved in the demolition itself. We went from "it won't be touched" to "minor alterations" and then the next day it was gone with no apologies. Additionally, criminal charges should be brought against the architect and construction manager who allowed this to happen. At the very least they should lose their license to practice and pay a hefty fine.

The tear down of The East Wing without thought, without following laws and rules perfectly symbolizes what this administration is doing to our country. “Donors” to rebuild it as a quid pro quo to get favorable treatment by this admin. Building it bigger, better the likes of which no one has ever seen or whatever phrase the President uses to describe it is only done as a monument to himself. What despots throughout history have done. If allowed to be built to Trump’s standards, without historical and reasonable advice, it will be a stain forever on all of you who gave it a yes.

The massive changes to the White House are being pushed forward without the proper oversight. The White House belongs to the American people, and is a temporary residence for the current leader. It is critical that the building be respected for the history that it holds. It is essential that any changes to the structure are respectful to the existing building, and to the values that brought it into existence.
Destroying the East Wing without proper permitting, architectural plans or approvals was an aggressive maneuver designed to force the hands of those who provide approvals. To argue now that the current president is not safe in a partially demolished building is unsafe is pure evil. We cannot let them succeed with this lawlessness.
As an American, I would rather see the site remain as is until we can replace this administration. If the administration feels this compromises safety, they should be allowed to use the money they raised to REBUILD the East Wing to replicate the one they destroyed.
Please take this as an opportunity to restore the East Wing, eliminate the asbestos, and improve the internal technology...while honoring the traditional appearance of the Wing.
Americans are not asking for a Ballroom. I have lived in the DC area for my entire life and there are tons of ballrooms throughout the area that can host world-class events.
I work as an event producer and I know with 100% certainty that we can produce world class events in DC for Presidents and world leaders.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the Eat Wing Modernization Project. Once again, our president is breaking the law by proceeding on this project without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. This is our house, not his. He needs permission to make changes to historical architecture. He is not being honest to the American people about his intentions for construction which goes way beyond his ballroom pretext. He is lying to us again. Furthermore, the corporate funding of the project creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. This is not charity on behalf of the corporations. It is a payoff to access federal contracts. Once these companies provide the technology for the undisclosed basement base of operations, it will be impossible to extricate them.

The commission should reject this proposal until full legal and legislative compliance is achieved. Trump does not own the White House. He is a tenant who should not be destroying historical landmarks at will.

I am strongly opposed to the current $300 million proposed project to rebuild the East Wing. It was destroyed without appropriate reviews, permits, permissions and oversights. I do not trust the Administration to rebuild this with the necessary oversights and reviews, nor do I think the scale of the project appropriate. The East Wing should be restored to its former self and dimensions. It would also be appropriate to let the public know what has happened to all of the art, furnishings and other artifacts of the East Wing. This is part of the People's House, it does not belong to its current inhabitants.

I oppose using so much as one cent of tax dollars for this unnecessary construction project which was started without proper authorization or (clearly) proper advanced planning.

This is not how our tax dollars should be used, and the whole way they avoided pre authorization to do it was by saying they didn't need funding, which was clearly not true. As damage has already been done to the wing, I believe it should be restored to it's original design with ZERO alterations to the original blueprint, and the parties responsible for the damage should be the only ones responsible for paying to have it restored.

I fully support the construction on the east wing of the White House. Many presidents have made alterations to the building. The first lady can find alternative accommodations for her office in the meantime.

Apparently, it's being paid for with donations, which is amazing for the country and the American people because now they will have a modernized wing to the White House that will last another 150 or so years. The country doesn't have a proper banquet room to hold enough people. Since the project was on pause, maybe that new banquet room could be a little bit smaller in size than Trump proposed but to restore it to the way it was seems silly, shortsighted, and unnecessary. Buildings have to be modernized!

Most of the people who oppose the project probably have Trump Derangement syndrome. There's nothing wrong with updating the White House. Many who came before Trump have conducted modernization efforts. The current presidential administration should be supported in their effort to modernize the White House. At this juncture, there ought to be a way to find a compromise where we get a new state banquet room, and many of the features could be contained. Many of the old historical features could be contained in the new building plans. Three restore it to what it was is. dogmatic and unnecessary.

I object to the East Wing Project on the grounds that the Capitol is the People's House. No permits were sought before the destruction of the historic building. Building a Versailles style ballroom is a pure vanity project and the fact it's being financed by private donors is an immediate sign of corruption. Pay to play is illegal and must be stopped.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I'm disgusted that the East Wing has already been demolished and could not be saved in its original glory. It's an absolute disgrace that a section of the White House dedicated to the First Lady can be so easily discarded by an administration that continues to spit in the face of American women and try to roll back progress on gender equality (among so many other things). I'm vehemently opposed to "fixing" it by installing a gaudy, expensive ballroom that the White House doesn't need. As this project did not pass through the proper steps and approvals in the first place, I want this project cancelled and for the East Wing to be restored to its former design.

I am a landscape architect and as a law-abiding citizen, I follow all of the rules and get necessary approvals for my projects. It's extremely frustrating that the Trump administration thinks it is above the law and can proceed with this project without going through the same channels the rest of us are required to. The White House is the People's House, not Trump's vanity project, and it should be cancelled now and rebuilt according to the original design or go through the proper channels with design review and public input. The Trump administration should be penalized for breaking the law and held accountable.

I respectfully submit this comment opposing the proposed ballroom addition to the White House. The project does not comply with the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation—specifically Standards 2 and 9 (NPS Standards).

Standard 2 requires that changes avoid creating a false sense of historical development, yet the proposed design closely replicates the White House's neoclassical vocabulary—columns, Palladian windows, and classical detailing—making it nearly indistinguishable from the historic structure. This approach risks misleading the public about what is original and what is new, undermining the authenticity of one of our nation's most significant landmarks.

Standard 9 mandates that new additions be compatible yet clearly differentiated and visually subordinate. The proposed ballroom fails on both counts. At approximately 90,000 square feet, it dwarfs the Executive Residence and existing wings, disrupting the historic hierarchy. Its near-identical classical detailing provides little visual distinction, and its placement directly attached to the East Wing makes it appear as though it were part of the original design. Rather than complementing the historic building, the addition competes with it, compromising its integrity.

Historic precedent demonstrates that respectful additions to the White House have always been subordinate and clearly differentiated. Jefferson's colonnades, Monroe's South Portico, Jackson's North Portico, and the Roosevelt-era wings were purpose-built with restrained detailing and appropriate scale. Truman's reconstruction preserved exterior massing under strict oversight. These examples show that additions can meet functional needs without overwhelming or falsifying history.

The proposed ballroom violates these principles and sets a troubling precedent for the stewardship of our nation's most iconic historic property. I urge that the project be paused and redesigned to incorporate clear differentiation, reduce scale to ensure subordination, and undergo full review by the Commission of Fine Arts, the National Park Service, and the Committee for the Preservation of the White House. Preserving the integrity of the White House requires thoughtful, historically responsible design that honors its layered history.

Hello,
The following are my comments in reference to the proposed ballroom addition to the White House. I would like to have all construction projects proposed for the White House and White House grounds to be reviewed by the NCPC and the CFA and comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), then receive congressional approval. As an American Citizen I do not feel well informed of the proposed project, its scope, reasons why it is needed, associated costs and where the funding is coming from. I did not agree with allowing demolition to the White House to occur without approval of this project prior to demolition. Transparency from the administration and Congress is needed. I am a supporter of historic preservation and do not want to see the White House dwarfed by a large addition. I understand that some renovations may be necessary to update and preserve the building and such work has occurred over time by former administrations, however, the public has a right to know project details, its impact to the existing White House, the environment and costs. Thank you!

A place where momentous decisions were made, where great minds met. A place for visitors to think, to learn, to feel both the weight and the uplift of that history. Your mission is historic preservation, and you are behooved to preserve and protect this dwelling. The White House is the "People's House". No revisions of the building should be undertaken without a thorough mandatory review by the most experienced and noted historians, architectural historians, and historic preservation architects. Additionally, Section 106 and all applicable laws and processes should be followed.
The proposed plans for the "modernization" of the East Wing DO NOT follow the Secretary of the Interior Standards for New Construction. The scale of the building overwhelms the White House, the design is completely inappropriate, disregarding the fenestration pattern and other character defining features of the White House. The scale of the proposed "modernization" will dwarf the original White House, again this does not meet the Secretary of the Interiors Standards for Rehabilitation. The materials are not appropriate.

I adamantly oppose the proposed "modernization" of the demolished East Wing of the White House.

I oppose our spending millions of dollars on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a "modernization project," but instead completely razes American history, and replaces it with a garish, unnecessary, ill-conceived structure. I want this project cancelled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. President Trump has overstepped the bounds of his authority, and to allow this to move forward would be an affront to all Americans.

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project.
This project began without required National Capital Planning Commission approval, without environmental assessments mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act, and without congressional authorization required by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington.
The $400 million cost is funded by corporations holding billions in federal contracts with the administration approving those contracts.This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.
I urge the Commission to reject this proposal.

I am very upset with what they have done to the East wing of the White House. I would like to see it restored as it was prior to the destruction.

I do not want to see an ugly $300 million, gold filled ballroom.

Thank you.

I am against building a ballroom. The east wing needs to be rebuilt and restored to the way it was before Trump had the east wing razed. He destroyed a part of the people's house without permission and he needs to be held responsible for restoring it. He needs to be held responsible for paying for the restoration. My understanding is that he did not remove furniture or paintings or anything of historical value so that is gone forever. However, restoring the East wing as it was before as of utmost importance. This is the people's house, not Trump's house. It needs to be restored in fall and no ballroom should ever be built in its place.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

Having traveled many places in the world, I have always been struck by the modesty of our White House, that it truly was representative of leading with humility and the understanding that, while the president lived and worked there, it was the People's House. I naturally assumed that it was in a national registry of historical places. As with other such designated houses, it could not be altered without permission.

The fact that a president -- any president -- assumed they could make such substantive changes to our house without going through some sort of legislative approval or even review is appalling. I was sickened watching the demolition of the East Wing, as if our shared history had no meaning.

I deplore the idea of building up the White House into some pale variation of Versailles for one man's ego. I lament the denigration of this monument to restrained power that, by its very modesty, emitted power -- power that did not require ostentatious display to be known.

I humbly request that something be done to put a halt to this travesty and restore the concept of the People's House.

I fully support the East wing modernization. When a nation has an opportunity to have a fully funded modernization starting from scratch is far more cost-effective, takes far less time and means everything is up to a current building code. Half the reason people don't want the new East wing is because they have TDS – Trump arrangement syndrome. It doesn't matter what the man does they're going to write to you to say they don't want him to do anything or have any accomplishments or build anything new. I would relish seeing something new in Washington DC many of those buildings are old. This one included. We don't have a banquet room for state banquets. They put tents outside. I see nothing wrong with the project and fully endorse the entire possibility to modernize the White House.

I vehemently oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

Not only should the project be stopped, the President and anyone who encouraged or supported this should be charged with a crime.

The destructions of the East Wing and building of the Ballroom must be rejected. Trump had no approval of doing the destruction. The White House belongs to the people of the United States not his property to do what he wants. Building the Ballroom is just another trophy for himself. Its obscene. I feel that the cost will end up being bared by us citizens and the money should be used towards refunding SNAP, Head Start, Medicaid and so sons many of the much needed services that the People need and have been eliminated or funds drastically reduced. We certainly don’t need another of his variety projects.

The money should be used to rebuilding the East Wing

I was truly appalled when I learned that the East Wing of the White House had been razed. The action took place quickly and quietly without any sort of review process by historic preservation professionals. Now that the damage has been done, more action is required because the space can't be left open and exposed.

Please see that a proper review is done - and appropriate approvals have been secured - before any sort of replacement structure is built. Professional archaeology should be done in advance of construction and the replacement would replicate the structure that was removed.

I oppose this project as it was was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is a vanity project with dangerous precedence. Given the current administration's role in the destruction and erasure of our American history, I feel strongly that the project should be stabilized and mothballed untill the next voting cycle.. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing being rebuilt and restored as it was (with legitimate upgrades) would be a potential direction. No one is above the law and although we all know there will be no consequences to the perpetrators of this travesty, they should have no participation in the resolution.

This creates an unacceptable conflict of interest.
The White House is not private property. It belongs to the American people. No president should have unilateral authority to demolish historic structures and approve construction without following the law and allowing public input.

Trump is NOT a King. The Constitution, Rules and Regulations do apply to him. He did NOT have the Legal Authority to demolish the East Wing. He DOES NOT have the authority to build a “Ballroom “ on the grounds of the East wing.
I URGE THE COMMISSION TO REJECT THIS PROPOSAL.

I am writing to oppose the proposed "modernization" of the East Wing of the White House. President Trump, the current occupant of the People's House, demolished the East Wing without proper authorization, permits, or design review. The administration now seeks post hoc permission from the National Capital Planning Commission's to build a gilded monument disproportionate to the existing structure under the guise of modernizing the building. It is not a modernization project but, rather, an attempt to raze a physical manifestation of American history. Permitting this project to proceed without penalty is an affront to those of us who respect the rule of law.

I am a member of the National Trust for Historic Preservation (NTHP) and fully support its position with respect to the proposed White House ballroom. The destruction of the existing East Wing without public input was a travesty. A 90,000-square-foot ballroom is simply too big and out of scale with the rest of the White House complex. It would overwhelm the White House itself (at 55,000 sf) and permanently ruin the carefully balanced classical design of the White House and its two smaller, and lower, East and West Wings. The federally recognized Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation offer clear guidance for construction projects affecting historic properties. The Standards provide that new additions should not destroy the historic fabric of the property and that the new work should be compatible with existing massing, size, scale, and architectural features.

The White House is owned by and belongs to the American people, not a single President, who is simply a short-term and temporary occupant. The "taste" and preferences of a single President should not be deciding factors. All decisions of this scale should be non-partisan and vetted by qualified independent outside groups with historic preservation and design expertise. Any changes should respect the existing Georgian and neoclassical design. The White House is a National Historic Landmark, a National Park, and a globally recognized symbol of our nation's ideals.

A new, scaled-down plan should be presented to the American people and the expert groups. Plans for the proposed ballroom must go through the legally required public review processes, including consultation and review by the National Capital Planning Commission and the Commission of Fine Arts, with comment from the public, and approval by Congress. These processes provide a crucial opportunity for transparency and broad engagement, values that have guided preservation of the White House under every administration for more than 200 years. Doing so will help ensure that the project both honors the exceptional historic significance of the White House and acknowledges the investment that the American people have in the preservation of this beloved place, which will go well beyond this Presidency.

Finally, there must be full transparency of any private donations. The names of the donor and the amounts must be public along with any business they are doing before the US government.

The White House is owned by the American people, is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, and has been home to presidents since 1800. Whoever is currently president is not the owner of the property or its structures. The president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.
The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. It is also a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal.
I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.
This has clearly never been a "modernization project" but rather a complete razing of American history. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

To describe this project as a "modernization" is misleading. It is no such thing. The East Wing was destroyed in an effort to impose a ballroom described in the press as long needed and wanted. The proposed project is far beyond the scale of the building it sits next to. At a minimum, it should be made more modest in keeping with the other buildings that make up the White House. Further, the proposal has accelerated from one initially described at one scale, albeit out of proportion to the rest of the White House, to an even larger scale.

The Commission should only accept and approve a replacement for the destroyed building that maintains the scale and is in harmony with the White House currently. Unfortunately, the destruction of the original building places the Commission, and the American people, in an unfortunate position of having to replace, not modernize, the East Wing.

Greetings .

How historic buildings are cared for and preserved is one of the functions of a government for the people . Balls and ballrooms are for kings not our modern democracy. This should have been stopped in its tracks and not it's a sad pile of rubble .
Do not let us make a mistake by building a huge monument to excess and grandeur that is in bd state and not America,
Thank you
Gretchen

I oppose this project which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. The White House belongs to the American public, not the president. It reflects ideals of democracy, transparency, and public service. This so called 'East wing modernization project' is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history and of the People's House. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. It distresses me that the East Wing was torn torn down without the proper permits. As for building a ballroom which will be bigger than the White House itself, I believe it will be an eyesore that overpowers the beauty of the White House. I would find it distressing if any taxpayer money was used for this. The only solution that would satisfy me is if the money promised by benefactors would be used to rebuild the East Wing as it was.

I am deeply opposed to spending our money (and private money) on a project that disregards our historically legal claims to all the contents and structures that were so unceremoniously destroyed in service of an unrealized, unconsidered concept of a plan. A symbolic bomb was detonated and needs an equally strong response from any semblance of governmental norms and oversight we have remaining.. I consider the action short-sighted and hope we can find a legal and moral remedy.

I firmly believe that NO permanent structure should be erected , destroyed or renamed via the whims and winds of transitory vogue, vanity and or vulgarity of ANY administration .

We enter these public historic spaces as both guests and stewards .

I do not know the inner workings of the construction of something like The Kennedy Center but I do know of its effect . It became a public space of creativity, a space to gather and contemporaneously honor a living breathing history of our citizens work and art.. I would assume its construction was carefully considered. I do not yet know the purpose of a ballroom nor any consideration given it by us. I do not know how it would exult or benefit a citizenry or a government of and by humble people . We have not been told of its imminent purposes that would justify the removal of "sacred" and historic relics and the destruction of solemn and celebratory spaces. It (the Ballroom) appears to be a thoughtless separation from our legacy not a carefully integrated enhancement. Vulgar displays of wealth and empty ceremony has not , so far, been our calling card or our welcome mat.

We may very well be a country that reflects more often than not a history of elite capital and commerce but if we are going to continue to be a country of peoples with a primary place in its government we cannot destroy their footprints at will. The artifacts and spaces where ordinary and extraordinary humans alike have gathered is no small thing to sacrifice in favor of current private and political privilege.

Please preserve our history with the thought and care entrusted to you. Godspeed.

So much history was destroyed without our input when the East Wing was torn down. An oversized ballroom has a very Marie Antoinette vibe. It’s a colossal waste of money and it has no place in a democracy. It illustrates a huge disconnect between the people of this country and those in power.

I want to see the east wing reconstructed. Although it will never be the same as it was, it will be a testament to the people of this nation who stood up against power to do what is right.

I oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history.

The White House is a National Historic Landmark and a National Park, owned by the American people and home to presidents since 1800. The current president at any given time is not the owner of the property or the structures thereon; the president is a temporary tenant whose interventions are limited by law and by respect for the people of the United States.

The demolition of the historic East Wing without review, without permits and without Congressional oversight is clearly a violation of the law. In addition, it is a violation of the trust of the American people who were given no opportunity to comment on what should have been presented as a proposal and not as a violent fait accompli.

I urge the National Capital Planning Commission to require reconstruction of the East Wing in keeping with its historic design and size. Anything constructed on the demolition site going forward must be compatible in form and subordinate in scale to the original structure of the Executive Mansion.

I oppose the demolition of the White House East Wing because changes to a national historic site should occur through transparent review, not unilateral action. Additionally, this $300M project is being funded by large private donations at the behest of the sitting administration which creates at the very least the appearance of influence-seeking or preferential access, and undermines public trust.

The East Wing was destroyed to make way for a new state ballroom funded largely by private donors, with demolition beginning before review by the National Capital Planning Commission and amid unresolved preservation concerns.

I am asking for clear disclosure of donor funding, environmental and design review, and public accountability.

The White House is a shared civic symbol, not the property of any one administration, and major alterations should follow the same oversight standards expected of every other federally significant project.

To whom it may concern,

I oppose the East Wing Modernization Project. This $400 million construction began without National Capital Planning Commission approval, without required environmental assessments, and without congressional authorization mandated by federal law for construction on federal parkland in Washington. These violations should not be rewarded with after-the-fact approval.

The funding creates unacceptable conflicts of interest. Corporations holding billions in current federal contracts with this administration are funding a construction project at the residence of the president who controls those contracts. This is not charitable giving. This is an investment in access and favorable treatment.

The White House belongs to the American people, not any individual president. I urge the Commission to reject this proposal until full legal compliance is achieved, including congressional authorization and completed environmental assessments. No temporary occupant should possess unilateral authority to demolish historic structures without following the law.

May our voices be heard and our house preserved!

Daniel Hakala

I am opposed to construction of the massive ballroom proposed by the current administration. The destruction of the East Wing was done illegally, without any oversight by agencies congressionally authorized to ensure the integrity of the people's house. We are a proud and powerful nation, and we manage that power with dignity, restraint and responsibility. A massive, gold encrusted monument to one man is a symbol of authoritarianism, not the democratic ideals that have steered this nation for 250 years. The East Wing must be restored to what it was before it was demolished. Clearly something has to be constructed on this important site. Please ensure what is built represents the entire nation, not just the inflated ego of one man.

Thanks to the National Trust, we have until March 4 to submit comments about the ballroom to the National Capital Planning Commission. You can make a comment through the link below (click on Submit Comment). PLEASE NOTE, the project is called East Wing Modernization on the pull down menu.

I am writing to oppose the spending of $300Million plus on an unnecessary vanity building. It is not right to throw money into a project that is not needed while cutting funds from social programs that actually help our citizens. Not only is this East Wing Ballroom an illegal change to the White House complex it is an eyesore being so large as to overshadow the main home. The White House is a recognized historical building known around the world. Attaching a huge block building so close throws off the beautiful symmetry that is the People's House. While it is true there is no space within the current complex for large secure gatherings taking down a functioning East Wing is a poor choice. The East Wing was added in such a way as to not disturb the original homes appearance as was the West Wing. This vanity building was started with no oversite and no legal authority. The East Wing is gone but it should be up to the Park Service and other agencies to decide what is to be done with the ruins left behind. The People are begging for proper directions and oversight to secure their House. Please do not allow this huge monstrosity to become a part of the White House that would take away from the beautiful building known around the world. The DJT Ballroom will become the face of the Complex by being larger, taller, and more "out front" than the building to which it is attached. The White House is a symbol of the President and the United States. All previous additions have been made with careful planning so as to not take away from the original structure. Thank you, John McDole, concerned citizen.

Our government consists of elected persons, chosen by We the People, to conduct business on behalf of ALL American citizens. The White House, provided as temporary living quarters for the President, as well as the East Wing, are buildings provided by our tax dollars, for the conduct of business. Our Government, has no official need for a Ball Room, an edifice that the current administration is promoting. It is simply another way to add garish opulence to make the People's House a royal palace.

I respectfully oppose the spending of $300 million on this project, which was initiated without the proper authorization, permits, or design review. It is not a modernization project but rather a complete razing of American history. I want this project canceled, and the East Wing rebuilt and restored to its former design. No one is above the law and to permit this project to go ahead without penalizing those who broke the law would be an affront to all law-abiding Americans.

Sincerely,
Jena Matzen

The East Wing should be restored as it was before it was demolished. It was a piece of US history and now it is gone. Whoever authorized the demolition should be responsible for its restoration. We do not need vanity projects in our government.
Rebuild the East Wing as close to its original configuration as possble!

This is a vanity project that has not complied with existing regulations or timetables nor the community around it. Please do not let it proceed.

I'm writing to oppose the demolition of the East Wing of the White House, the people's house. It seems a temporary occupant believes he can ignore established policy. No authorization was given, no permits were granted, no input from the American people was solicited, no approval was given. This demolition does nothing to beautify the existing building; it is yet another vanity project for someone to put his name on. Please stop this wanton destruction of our beautiful White House and ensure that it will be restored to its former glory. Those who instigated this and allowed it to happen should face the full consequences of the law.

I strongly oppose the proposed ballroom addition to the White House. The White House does not belong to the president. It belongs to the people. The current occupant is temporary, and does not get to skip the review process for historic landmarks and slap an out of scale, incompatible, expensive monstrosity on our White House just because he feels like it. Please reject this project.

I am opposed to the destruction of the East Wing of the White House to build an extravaganza ball room. Trump should have nothing to do with any structure belonging to the US Government. The buildings are a trust for the citizens of the world, not for Trumps pleasure. Stop this steal! It's not in line with the visions of our country.
