

Height Master Plan for Washington, DC | Revised Public Comment Schedule

Due to the federal government shutdown, NCPC has extended the public comment deadline on its Height Master Plan draft federal interest report until October 30, 2013, and rescheduled the public hearing to accept oral testimony to October 30 at 4:30 PM. Public comments submitted to NCPC through October 30 or at the October 30 public hearing will be included in the public record and considered by the Commission in their final report and recommendations to Congress. Written comments received online, by mail, or at prior public meetings were transmitted to members of the National Capital Planning Commission and are included in the public record. Questions? Contact William Herbig at 202.482.7200 or william.herbig@ncpc.gov.
